

The Democratic Times.

Official Paper for Jackson & Josephine Counties.

FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1875.

AN EVASIVE REPLY.

The Sentinel last week, in replying to our remarks regarding the article in which it criticizes Senator Mitchell for his action in the Alsea Reservation matter, not only loses sight of all journalistic courtesy and legitimate and gentlemanly discussion, but it also makes several assertions which it cannot make good. We at first intended to pass it by with silent contempt, but as the Sentinel author admits of being poorly posted on matters in this State, we write these lines for his benefit. If the Sentinel did not mean to leave the impression of Mitchell's dishonesty in the matter, the Oregonian, from which the article was taken, did mean it, and the average reader would have understood the Sentinel as meaning the same. The public is too well acquainted with the Times to believe such reckless language, and consequently the malicious and silly assertions that "the Times is, and always has been, a servile tool in the hands of a few demagogic politicians, and is as subservient to their commands as the hound is under his master's leash," need no refutation at our hands. These remarks come in very poor taste from a paper of which it is an undisputed fact that it is run solely for the interests of its proprietor. We alone stand responsible for what appears in the Times as being written by us, and nobody but us has anything to do with those articles. We have not yet become so hard up for material as to father leading articles and local items taken from other sheets without any credit whatever, and endeavor to palm them off on the enlightened people of Jackson county and the public at large as our own, as the Sentinel has very recently and repeatedly done.

Even So.

The following frank and truthful article by the San Francisco Alta, the leading Republican paper of that city. It admits the fact that the New Hampshire election was a Democratic victory, and not a Republican one, as some small-fry Grant organs, hard up for capital, would have us believe: "The Whigs beat us in their great meetings but we beat them at the polls, said a Democratic journal a long while ago. These days it may be said that in their first reports the Republicans are almost always given as victorious, but as the reports come in later, somehow the Democracy has a nasty habit of creeping up on the flanks and rear of the Republicans, and before we know what is the matter, they are in the front. Something like this seems to be the case with the New Hampshire election. At first the Republicans had the State, Governor, Members of Congress, Legislature and State officers. Later reports give a somewhat different prospect. The Democrats were crawling up rather disagreeably. As usual a third party, so-called, a set of incompatible, irreconcilable, who persist in doing all the evil possible, have stood between the two principal parties to prevent either from winning. Of all drunken people the Temperance people in political campaigns are the greatest of inebriates. They exercise no sense at all, and learn nothing from continuous defeats and continually diminishing voters."

More Taxation.

The New York Sun charges that the empty state of the Treasury is the result of "that compound of incompetency, extravagance, and downright public robbery which is known as Grantism. It will not be easy for the people, already exhausted by taxation, to furnish the additional millions that are now wanted; but the taxes must be imposed, nevertheless. Economy in the expenditures of the Government is not to be expected. Instead of curtailing, it is much easier for Grant and his agents to pile on new taxes. They must run the machine at high pressure, no matter how hard it is for the masses of the country to furnish the money."

The Civil Rights Bill.

The following are the more important features of the Civil Rights bill, which lately passed Congress: That all persons within the jurisdiction of the United States shall be entitled to the full and equal enjoyment of the accommodations, advantages, facilities, and privileges of inns, public conveyances on land or water, theaters, and other places of public amusement, subject only to the conditions and limitations established by law, and applicable alike to citizens of every race and color, regardless of any previous condition of servitude. That no citizen possessing all other qualifications which are or may be prescribed by law shall be disqualified for service as grand or petit juror in any court of the United States, or of any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS.

The latest Cabinet rumor is that Ben Butler is to be Attorney-General. Since the passage of the civil rights bill many theaters in Southern cities have been closed. A brother of the famous dwarf, Commodore Nutt, is a well known resident of Coos county. The Masonic Order in Oregon have, up to this date, forwarded $1,000 to the Kansas sufferers. More atrocities reported in Cuba. Twenty-two young men were shot without even a farce of a trial. A late London dispatch says that most of the European wheat markets show a rise of one to two shillings. The North Carolina Legislature has expelled a member from his seat because he said there was no God. A bill has been introduced in the Delaware legislature to offset the effects of the Civil Rights act in that State. Josephine Mansfield has at last recovered a judgment against the estate of Jim Fisk for $25,000. An effort is making to secure a new trial. The Pittsburg Post says Grant will require another increase of salary if Congress persists in raising the tax on whisky to ninety cents a gallon. From the reports received, a Walla Walla paper thinks that from thirty to fifty per cent. of cattle in Montana, Nevada, Idaho, Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington, will die. The wheat crop of Oregon has not been a failure for thirty years, never since first settled by the whites. What country elsewhere on the globe can show a better record than that. Pinchback's case has been postponed to next session of Congress. The Radicals are aiming to hold him as a check against the possible election of a Conservative Senator from Louisiana. Gen. Applegate, says the Eugene Guard, has invented a new kind of wagon hub, which mechanics pronounce a success, and a decided improvement upon anything of the kind now in use. The latest returns from New Hampshire give Cheney (Rep.) 29,225; Roberts (Dem.) 39,163—a majority of 62 for Cheney. Two of the three Congressmen elect are Democrats—a gain of one. A militia company has been organized at Marshfield, Coos county, and the following officers elected: Morton Tower, captain; T. G. Owen, first lieutenant, and Wm. Saunders, second lieutenant. The Oregonian, through its local columns states that soldiers of the late war are to receive $8 50 per month additional pay, minus all bounties. As we understand it, this bill failed for want of the President's signature. It is rumored that Plymouth Church has "passed around the hat" to the extent of $125,000 to defray the expenses of the suit, between Bowen and his brother, and says that Bowen is said to have protested savagely, and declared that he would not be a party to it. The New York Independent characterizes the passage of the force bill through the House and the civil rights bill through the Senate as "destructive victories," and says they are likely to lead to the destruction of the Republican party. The Coos Bay News says a man actually tied up his left arm in a sling in Empire last Sunday, and played himself off for a Modoc war veteran. About 10 p. m. he had no more use for that kind of a sling, but invested the proceeds of charity in a sling made of gin. There will be seven members of the next Congress named Williams; no Washburns, two Smiths, one New, one Wike, one Tarbox, and one Stillikson. Now, if Attorney General Williams was only in the penitentiary, the Williams family would be appropriately provided for.—Idaho World. In the Beecher-Tilton trial last week the testimony of Jos. Richards, brother of Mrs. Tilton, created some sensation when he mentioned his entering the parlor of Tilton's house and saw Mrs. Tilton hastily and with a flushed face leaving a position beside Beecher as he entered. Mrs. Moulton, a most respectable and leading lady member of Plymouth Church, also testified to Beecher having confessed to her his guilt, alleging that the fault was all his and no blame attached to Mrs. Tilton. Mrs. Moulton says he several times threatened to kill himself in consequence of the great shame and scandal which his crime had brought upon his church and family. It is universally admitted by the newspaper world that Tilton has made a very strong case against the great preacher.

The Difference.

The Radical press of the country paraded with a great deal of pomp the fact that the House voted to censure Mr. Brown of Kentucky for having characterized everything that was mean and despicable in politics, as Butlerism! Nast, says the Mercury, made it the subject of one of his "fine frenzy" cartoons in Harper's Weekly. But a few days afterwards when Poland, in the debate on the Coburn bill, said to Butler "you are a liar, a damned liar," the House failed to censure their Radical brother. The Radical press was silent, it had no howling censure to fulminate upon Poland's head, nor did Nast find in the circumstance a sufficient subject for his pencil. It does make all the difference in the world, when one's own ox is being gored.

Singularly Impertinents.

The London Times closes a long article condemning President Grant for his course in regard to Louisiana as follows: "He may be impeached, it is true, by a vote of the Democratic majority of the House of Representatives which will first meet for active work several months hence, but the Republican majority in the Senate will survive even his own power, and so he is safe against any effective rebuke. The verdict of the nation has its moral weight, of course, but Gen. Grant is singularly impertinent to any influences that cannot be measured by the coarseness."

LETTER FROM JOSEPHINE.

WILLIAMS CREEK, March 6, 1875.
TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:
Inasmuch as you have had no communication from this section for some time, I will try and give you a few items of a local character. It would be greatly to my accommodation, and no doubt to yours, did I have something of a startling or sensational nature to transmit for publication. In the absence of anything extraordinary or sensational, I am compelled to treat of commonplace incidents. I need hardly make mention of the fact—in view of recent discoveries—that "benighted Josephine" is hopefully looking out again, and, if present prospects hold out, will soon be in a position to ask no odds of her sister counties. She has struggled long and bravely against adverse circumstances, unfriended by either near or distant neighbors. In the days of her prosperity she was courted by adventurers from all parts of the world; in the hour of adversity she became an object of sublime indifference. Having mountains chiefly to boast of, permanent population has extended to her an undue proportion of cold shoulder. But, after all, our mountains may prove our most valuable possession. Nature is said not to waste any material, and to what other use besides bearing precious metals could such mountains as these be put? I presume, like a sensible editor, you give it up. As an additional evidence that "benighted Josephine" is becoming unbenighted I cite the fact that we have now, (what we did not have for several years,) a traveling preacher. Rev. Mr. Haines, M. E. Church South, recently arrived in this county from Tennessee, having been transferred to this State as his future field of labor. Mr. Haines is quite a young man for the ministry, but enters upon the discharge of his duties with energy and confidence. We have also had the benefit of a phrenological lecturer in our midst, recently—scrutinizing the physiognomy and feeling for the bumps and purses of our people. His advent was signalized by the astounding discovery that many of our old bachelors, in spite of their rigid adherence to single blessedness, are absolutely on the marry, and that many of our young ladies are pre-eminently fond of hash, as well as of the opposite sex. What precise effect these stunning discoveries will have upon the market value of Southern Oregon "bonanza," I will not attempt to compute. Although he charged a good price for his charts, he usually gave good ones—under the wise supposition, no doubt, that nobody wishes to pay a high price for an inferior article. As a lecturer, he is a failure, being "no orator" as Brutus is supposed to have been. You have probably been otherwise advised of the fact that we have now a flourishing Grange organized on Williams Creek. This makes the third in the county—enough to form a Council. Farming prospects are very favorable at present. Stock have done well this winter. Mining in placer diggings has proved a failure this season. Quartz prospecting is our only alternative. Work on the Horsehead lead will probably commence now shortly. A new silver lead has been discovered lately. Jack Layton has his big hydraulic once more under way, though with but a small head of water. Williams Creek is a good place for a saw-mill. A blacksmith shop is also needed. Settlers can find cheap places to buy, or tolerable fair ranches to take up in this county. X. Y. Z.

Arkansas.

Notwithstanding Gen. Grant's recommendation to Congress to throw the State of Arkansas again into anarchy and confusion, a resolution was passed by that body recognizing the existing government in accordance with the report of the Congressional committee, and declaring further that no interference in that State by any dependent of the Government was advisable. All the Democrats voted for the resolution, and enough Republican votes were obtained to secure its passage. Mr. Poland, who was chairman of the Investigating Committee, says the Sonoma Democrat, declared that the general government had no more right to interfere with the government of Arkansas, as proposed by Grant, than one foreign nation had to interfere with another. He denounced the attempts of the railroad bond jobbers of Arkansas to upset the government and involve the people in turmoil and difficulty. Mr. Poland was frequently interrupted by Ben. Butler, who led, as usual, the cohorts of Radicalism. Hands off, Mr. President!
