

The Democratic Times.

Official Paper for Jackson & Josephine Counties.

FRIDAY, APRIL 2, 1875.

The Bulletin's Senatorial Roorback.

The Portland Bulletin, of last Friday, says the Mercury, contained a leading editorial of the sensational order, after the style of O'Meara, in his days of high feather, in which it is startlingly disclosed that a number of Democrats are conspiring to do some terrible things in relation to the Senatorial election which is to occur in 1876. The cooking of the article shows considerable steam on the brain of the writer, but the fiction is too poorly framed to deceive anybody. The roorback is a failure. Why not, for employment, keep on forging articles from Southern newspapers showing that all the negroes are massacred, that the public debt is to be repudiated and that rebellion is now just to be entered upon; of course this kind of writing is harmless like the other, but it gives a broader field for expanding genius of the sort available with the Bulletin.

We have already notified the Democracy to be on their guard against this class of political literature, and it will be much less available in future than it was when used to defeat our party in 1872. Let the Democracy stand together and elect a sound reliable Democratic Legislature next year, and that body will attend to the duty of electing a Democratic United States Senator, without Republican roorback aid.

The New Paper Money Party.

The last and most visionary political move is to have a party based on paper money. Paper money that shall be money because a government says so without being liable to redemption in gold coin at any time or by anybody. This paper-money-mill party won't last long enough even to be heard of at an election, says the Record, for the people are not fools and know that money must have intrinsic value in something more than an idea. To flood the world with an article which government shall denominate "money," would be an evil of the greatest magnitude. All the use the world has for money is to facilitate the exchange of values. Make money out of nothing, and it represents nothing. The man who raises potatoes won't trade them off for irredeemable paper, but will swap them direct for whatever he wants. Such a party is the Republican organization.

Oregon.

Upon our table we find a neat 43-page pamphlet, containing facts regarding the climate, soil, mineral and agricultural resources, means of communication, commerce and industry, laws, etc., of our State. It is intended for the use of immigrants, says the Gazette, and just such a document as should get scattered broadcast over the Atlantic States and Europe. It bears the imprint of Rand, Avery & Co., Boston, 1875, but is, undoubtedly, issued under the auspices of the Oregon Immigrant Aid Society. It contains maps of Oregon and routes from Atlantic sea ports to this State. From a hasty perusal, we think it is entirely reliable. We do not know to whom we are indebted for the pamphlet, what the price, nor where they may be obtained.

Twice as Much.

Somebody has figured out the interesting fact that the total amount of State, county, city and town taxes collected in the United States in 1870 was $280,591,000, which was about $7 dollars a head for the entire population. The total amount of these taxes collected in 1860 was $94,186,000, which was about $3 a head for the entire population. It cost, therefore, more than twice as much to take care of a man in his State, county, and municipal relations in 1870 as it did ten years before. This does not include Federal taxation.

Newspaper Change.

Thos. B. Merry has sold the Coos Bay News to Messrs. J. M. Siglin, H. H. Gale and Jos. Bennett, and it will hereafter be issued from Empire City as a Democratic paper. While we regret Tom's retirement from Oregon journalism, in which he was ever in the front rank, we wish the new enterprise all success. Mr. Siglin will be the editor, and will make it a lively Democratic paper.

LETTER FROM SAM'S VALLEY.

ANTIOCH, March 19, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

Since my last, there has been a rich cinnabar deposit developed. Houston and J. Rodgers are the lucky owners. They have run an open cut some eight or nine feet in the deposit, and found it rich. They also sunk a shaft 20 feet from the end of the cut, and found the ore just as rich. The cut and shaft are supposed to run immediately across the lead, cutting it the entire width. So you will perceive that the vein or deposit is some 25 feet wide. The lead runs along the summit of a high mountain. The length of the claim is 1,500 feet, with a visible cropping the entire way. If this huge vein runs the entire length of the claim, it is certainly a very valuable discovery. This deposit was struck on the top of the mountain, a few feet below the surface. The company has already extracted about four tons of rich ore, which Mr. Houston thinks will assay 50 per cent., which I think is a very low estimate from the appearance of the ore. He showed me some quicksilver he had smelted out with a temporary retort constructed by bending an old gun-barrel and putting a little of this ore in one end and placing it in the fire and the other end in a basin of cold water. By this process he procured about five ounces of quicksilver. The company is making preparations to develop the extreme south end of their claim. The development already made is near the north end of the claim. J. B. Rodgers owns the ground adjoining Houston & Co.'s on the south, which is thought to be just as good. These claims are situated in what is known as the Dickenson Mountains, south of the Meadows, near the public road running from Antioch to Thomas' mill on the west side of said road, about two and a half miles from the Antioch School House. It will take very few of such leads to make this section one of the best on the Coast, which will amply reward a long-suffering and patient community who have always had to labor under inconveniences and embarrassments unknown to other portions.

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS.

Two Portlanders "struck oil" in the Louisville lottery.

The O. S. N. Co. have bought off the opposition between Portland and Dalles. 'Twas ever thus.

Grand Master Daniel Clark, Master of the Oregon State Grange, has returned from the National Grange.

The Good Templars of this State have increased their membership about 600 in the last three months.

The admission of Colorado makes 28 States which will be entitled to vote in the Electoral College.

At Marshfield, Coos Bay, there are two schooners on the stocks, and the keel of a third one is about being laid.

Albany is growing faster than any town in the State. It is predicted that the census soon to be taken will give a population of 3,000.

Eastern Oregon comprises a territory of 58,000 square miles, nearly two-thirds of the entire area of the State, and has nearly 15,000 inhabitants.

Ankeny's new theatre, just finished in Portland, is said to be a palace of beauty and art, and none but first-class talent will be permitted to appear in it.

The Interior department will, as soon as possible, send a competent geologist to examine the Black Hills and ascertain accurately their mineral wealth.

A man at La Grande recently killed 91 snow birds at three shots, killing 60 of them at a single discharge of his carbine. The Sentinel is responsible for this.

The aggregate sum of the twelve general appropriation bills passed during the last session of Congress is about $175,000,000, apart from other bills containing appropriations.

A dispatch from New York says there has never been the least ground in truth for the report that Beecher proposes to address the jury in the present trial, other than as a witness.

The late evidence in the Tilton-Beecher trial is regarded in the East as having injured Tilton's case materially, particularly that of the colored servants and Bessie Turner.

A long and somewhat romantic account of the Black Hills country is given by General Sheridan; the question of abundance of gold there is yet to be determined by exploration.

The Postmaster General has instructed postmasters that on all mailable matter of the third class postage must be prepaid at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.

A settlement of the Louisiana difficulty has been postponed until next December, by the postponement of the case of Pinchback, the Senatorial applicant from that State, until that time.

Geo. Coggan, of La Grande, Union county, has purchased the fast "Rifleman" mare "Nell Flaherty," a celebrated California racer, and intends putting her on the Oregon turf. Mr. Coggan also owns "Osceola," the fast "Norfolk" stallion.

From present appearances the "leading statesmen" of the Administration party regard the sustaining of the Kellogg fraud in Louisiana as the last issue upon which to make the next Presidential campaign. We don't want anything better.

It is rather amusing that, whereas every woman in Plymouth Church is ready to pledge her life that Beecher is innocent, every woman of them all is quite suspicious that Mrs. Tilton is guilty. Just how they reconcile the thing no feller can ever find out.

Coos county has some sections of government land as yet almost untouched, to which the attention of settlers is called, and which will, we think, when properly examined, prove to be the very best portion of Coos county, having access to the bay.

A letter from Goose Lake to the Advocate, says stock of all kinds look well and have wintered with little or no feed. The snow has not fallen at any one time more than eleven inches, and only remained about a week. At the present time there is no snow in the valley.

General Butler's proposed trip to Europe is pronounced gammon by the Louisville Courier-Journal, since "his plan is to run for Vice-President on a ticket with Grant." That would be a combination! The same newspaper is convinced that the "President will never quit the White House except upon a stretcher."

The St. Louis Republican wisely says: Let the Southern people leave the Administration and the Radical party to the angry North, with nothing to divert or distract in the reckoning; let them remain silent and passive while the reckoning goes on, and the next Presidential election will be to the Radical party simply a day of judgment.

Vasquez, the bandit, expiated his crimes on the gallows in the jail yard at San Jose, Cal., on Friday before last. He died with great show of physical courage, neither rare nor especially creditable. As claimed, he shed no human blood, he did it possibly, worse—he prompted murder in others. We have neither inclination or space to publish the sickening details of his execution, nor do we believe it would interest our readers.

A provision for enabling the Indians in certain cases to enter public lands under the homestead laws of the United States, secure possession of and title to them, became a law as an amendment to the Deficiency bill. The Indian must have been born in the United States, must be the head of a family or have arrived at the age of twenty-one years, and must have abandoned his tribal relations before he can enjoy these privileges. By possession of land he shall not forfeit his share of all annuities, tribal funds, &c.

Death of John Mitchell.

John Mitchell, the Irish Patriot, who had recently been twice elected to the British House of Commons, died on the 20th ult. His countrymen in this country and elsewhere have had grand funeral demonstrations in honor of his memory.
