

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—A regular meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held next Tuesday evening, April 20th.

RESUSCITATING.—We learn that some of our prominent citizens joined the Temperance Lodge in Jacksonville last Wednesday, and that the Order shows favorable signs of renewed vigor and energy again.

CIRCUIT COURT.—In the Circuit Court this week, the cases of S. Bowden vs. J. T. Glenn and Jacob Ish, and L. J. C. Duncan et al, vs. John Cimbersky et al, both for injunction, were referred to the Clerk to take depositions.

LARGE NUGGET FOUND.—H. Kelly, Esq., informs us that he learns that Samuel Stockton found a nugget of pure gold near his claim on Cayote creek the other day, which weighed two pounds. Henry Smith paid $17 an ounce for it, or $498 in all, which is a very nice sum to pick up now-a-days.

MILLINERY.—Attention is called to the advertisement of Mrs. Brown, of Ashland, who keeps constantly on hand a complete and elegant supply of the latest styles of millinery, ladies' goods, ribbons, etc. All work in her line executed with neatness and dispatch and at reasonable rates. Give Mrs. Brown a call.

ARRESTED.—Albert Johnson, a mulatto, was this week arrested by Deputy Sheriff Kent and Marshal McDaniel, for breaking open Horace Rice's house, on Rogue River, last October, and taking some firearms, etc., therefrom. He sold a shotgun to parties in Crescent City, where it was identified by D. H. Hudson, son-in-law of Mr. Rice, which led to Johnson's arrest. He will have a preliminary examination to-day.

FIFTY-SIXTH ANNIVERSARY.—The Odd Fellows of Jacksonville and vicinity will, on Monday, April 26, 1875, celebrate the Fifty-sixth Anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship in America by a social reunion at the Hall in Jacksonville, at 2 o'clock P. M., and supper at nine—the latter free. All members of the I. O. O. F., with their families, are requested to participate. By order of the Committee. S. J. DAY, R. S. pro tem.

FOR PORTLAND.—G. Karewski, who during the past Winter cured a large number of hogs, has received offers from Portland and San Francisco for the same. He accordingly this week shipped a portion by teams to Roseburg, where he will perhaps store it until definite arrangements can be made for its disposal. We trust Mr. Karewski will be eminently successful in his undertaking, as this is a matter that is not only of importance to him, but the county at large.

FLAX CULTURE.—The cultivation of flax is attracting much attention throughout the State, and many sections are preparing to enter quite extensively upon its culture. Now, that the transportation of wheat and other cereals is not a profitable investment, would it not be well for our farmers to consider the matter of engaging in flax culture? It seems to us as though it would prove a paying article. We will in the future publish some articles in relation to this matter.

PERSONAL.—Jay Beach, of Fort Klamath, and H. M. Thatcher, of Linkville, were in town a few days ago. Wm. Kreuzer, an old resident of this place, left for California this week, where he proposes engaging in business. While we regret his departure, we trust that he may be successful wherever he may go.

Walter Sutton, formerly of this place, but now of Ellensburg, Curry county, was in town on a visit this week.

Major Glenn left for his home in Oakland the other day.

Col. W. S. Stone, Superintendent of the O. & C. Stage Line, favored us with a call this week.

Our young friend, G. A. Winckler, of Yreka, is sojourning with us for a few days.

We are pleased to see that Sheriff Manning has so far recovered from his recent indisposition as to be about again.

E. H. Autenrieth and lady, (nee Miss Emily Plymale) of Yreka, are in the county on a visit to their friends and relations here.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Read the new advertisements. Eggs plenty at one bit a dozen.

A correspondent of the Portland Bulletin is in town.

The road over the Siskiyou is said to be simply terrible.

Spelling schools are raging everywhere. Can't Jacksonville have one too?

The interest due on all school moneys owing to the State must be paid without delay.

We learn that L. Herling has disposed of his farm and intends removing to San Francisco ere long.

An important communication to Gov. Grover, on swamp lands, will be found on our first page.

C. W. Savage last week put in a large area of alfalfa on his lot in the southern portion of Oregon street.

Some wagon loads of emigrants from Kansas passed through town last Saturday, bound for Josephine, we believe.

The apportionment of the public school money, as reported by Superintendent Fleming, will appear in our next.

The bills audited by the last term of the County Court approximate $3,000, instead of $2,000, as mentioned in our last.

Some work has been done towards improving Bybee's race track. Several horses may be seen exercising there every morning.

The weather has changed rather suddenly, and we are now enjoying warm days and delightful nights. Their advent is appreciated by the country in general.

Advertising will tell. L. Herling advertised a sewing machine for sale in the TIMES during the past few weeks, and the consequence is he disposed of it the other day.

Cos Bay has a company of militia called the Ross Rifles, named in honor of Gen. John E. Ross, of this county. T. G. Owen, formerly of this place, is one of the lieutenants.

John L. Carter & Son have commenced the Spring campaign, and are now prepared to execute all branches of painting in the best of style and at most reasonable rates. See ad.

The Albany Democrat says: "Mrs. J. L. M. Plymale delivered the address at the installation of the officers of Jacksonville Grange. It is printed in the TIMES and is neat, elegant and able."

S. J. Day this week demolished the old shanties in the rear of Odd Fellows' Hall. The land belongs to the Odd Fellows and will be fenced in for the present, with the possibility of a building being erected thereon at no distant day.

The Odd Fellows have procured a handsome tomb stone for the grave of Geo. P. Funck, formerly a respected member of the Order, who died of small pox during its prevalence here. The work was executed by J. H. Russell, of Ashland.

GRANGE RESOLUTION.—At a regular meeting of Phoenix Grange, held April 9, 1875, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That we, the members of Phoenix Grange No. 104, P. of H., of Jackson county, Oregon, are decidedly opposed to the action of our National Grange in recommending Congress to aid in the construction of the Texas-Pacific Railroad by an appropriation of $80,000,000 to a private corporate monopoly.

The above resolution was unanimously adopted and ordered sent to the county papers and Willamette Farmer. J. M. HOXIE, W. Sec'y.

RELIGIOUS.—The third quarterly meeting for Jacksonville Circuit, Columbia Annual Conference of the M. E. Church South, will be held at Ashland, embracing the first Saturday and Sunday in May ensuing. All the official members of the Church are requested to be present. J. W. STAHL, P. E.

NEW REGISTER.—Samuel B. Cranston, formerly of Ashland, has been appointed Register of the Linkville Land Office. We have not heard whether Mr. Small, the former Register, has resigned or been removed. Perhaps Senator Hipple's guillotine has been in operation again.

THANKS.—Webb & Jones, the gentlemanly proprietors of the Eagle Sample Rooms, have our thanks for a bottle of about the best white wine ever brought to town. The favor was duly appreciated.

MINING NEWS.

Persons bound for the mines are constantly arriving.

The cinnabar furore has almost superseded prospecting for quartz, and several first-class discoveries are reported.

James Mann this week recorded a claim of 1,500 feet on a cinnabar lode on Big Butte creek, which he says is very rich.

M. Caton, who has just returned from the cinnabar district on Evans Creek, reports matters progressing finely there. Considerable work is being done and several rich ledges discovered. He returned yesterday.

A rich cinnabar deposit was some time ago discovered about three miles south-east of town by Messrs. Bilger and Coates, since which time considerable work has been done on it. Late developments are very favorable. Several citizens of this place are interested.

J. J. Moore, of Applegate Creek, Josephine county, states that there are now sufficient mill facilities in Josephine county to give the different Galice Creek quartz ledges a fair test, and a mill might be put up at the ledge for about five or six hundred dollars. Capt. A. W. Pressley is booting supplies down Rogue river. He takes from four to five tons at a load.

Late and reliable advices from Galice Creek state that new discoveries have been made, and that free gold is plainly visible in some of the rock. A late assay of quartz from the Yank ledge yielded $60 to the ton. Little work has been done on any of the ledges as yet. Capital is all that is necessary to open out the great wealth of these ledges, and this will be done sooner or later.

ANSWER TO "CITIZEN."—Our Sam's Valley correspondent asks us whether "a discoverer can hold a claim on lands entered as agricultural." The following decision by the Register of the Sacramento (Cal.) Land Office will doubt fully answer his query:

The question you ask me is this: "If A. obtains a patent for land, supposed at the time to be agricultural in character, and B. afterwards discovers a mine on it, can the former prevent the latter from working the mine?" The question is to my mind a very easy matter to answer; and, therefore, as a lawyer, I say that most clearly, in the case you put, A. has the power to prevent B. from working the mine, or from trespassing on it in any manner. The patent vests A. with the perfect fee simple title to the land, subject only to such easements and reservations as appear on the face of the patent itself—and these include nothing but water rights. If B., therefore, should undertake to go upon the land and dig up the soil, he would be simply a naked trespasser. Yours, truly, T. B. McFARLAND.

TO FARMERS.—The Immigration Commissioners, consisting of W. S. Ladd, Henry W. Corbett, B. Goldsmith, C. Linenweber and Wm. Reid, have issued the following card, to which they invite the special attention of farmers and others: "Immigrants are arriving in the State by every steamer in search of employment, and the Board find difficulty in getting vacancies for them. We therefore earnestly request farmers and others who require farm hands or labor of any kind, to immediately communicate with us, and we will gladly supply them with such labor free of charge on our part. Please state the wages offered, the class of men you want, and for how long employment will be given. The assistant secretary is in daily attendance at the Board rooms, Ankeny's building, Portland, from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M., each day, to whom all letters should be addressed."

BUYING CATTLE.—The Albany Democrat of last Friday says: Gen. S. and Wm. Miller have recently returned from Lake county, where they have been engaged in the stock business for the past five years and they are now engaged in the purchase of a band of cattle to drive to Fort Klamath. They intended buying 1500 head in this valley, but find that the price asked is higher than they anticipated and will consequently only buy about 500 here and proceed to Ochocho for the rest required to make up the 1500. We are glad these boys are flourishing and prosperous, as they got their start in "Old Linn."

PROBATE COURT.—In the Probate Court this week, the report of the referees in the case of John Fritz vs. J. N. T. Miller, Administrator of the estate of W. Nus, awarding a judgment of $919 for plaintiff, was set aside by the Judge, and a decree of $88 given to plaintiff.

The Moralists of Jacksonville.

I have never believed in fighting through the public press, but the cowardly and villainous attack made upon the Public School by a small party of smaller men compels me to speak.

It is not my intention, at this time, to refer extensively to the past acts of any of those who would cast a stigma upon me, and the directors of this District. No; "He who would steal your purse would steal trash, and he who would rob you of your good name would take that—which you never had."

In your preamble, you refer to the condition of the school. Not one of you has ever showed his face in the school; much less have you been patrons; and, as you have spoken, let the truth be told!

I ask M. Hanley, if he has ever sent to a teacher with whom he was satisfied? If so, it dates back far beyond my acquaintance with you, and beyond the acquaintance of the people of this community.

If I saw fit, I could refer to many harsh things which you have said about the various schools which you have patronized.

Don't try to shift the responsibility of the training of your children upon the teacher! There is a mightier influence nearer home! If your boy visits saloons, don't charge it upon the teachers. Stop your little whisky games yourself, and probably your children will not follow in your footsteps. Don't attend school meetings, talk temperance, introduce and pass temperance resolutions, and then walk from the school house to the saloon, call up the crowd to drink and take your regular whisky with them. I did not intend to be personal, but a nip from a cur is sure to make us turn on our heels.

Let us look a little further into the matter. You state that there are 356 scholars reported. Out of that number, how many are not attending any school whatever? About one third of them.

When and where are the prosperous times which you speak of? Were they under Prof. DeWitt, who spent more hours in the saloons than I have spent minutes? Were they under Mr. Fidler and Miss Beach? Or were those past days, under Baron DeBoushay, who left the town with whisky bills to the amount of $1,000. Were they under Prof. Robb, when you were the investigators in getting up a temperance school of 80 scholars, taught by Prof. J. B. Farley. I have all due respect for the teachers mentioned, believing that some of them at least were good and efficient. During none of those years had you a larger attendance than you had last year.

But how about this year? I will tell you: There was a certain class of you commenced grumbling long before school opened. You stated that it was through political favoritism that I obtained the position, and you would not patronize the school. You not only grumbled at me, but you grumbled and found fault with every move which I made. You found fault with my assistants and again found fault when they were discharged. You boasted months ago that your object was to break up the school and you had nearly succeeded. You had your opposition school from the first. You worked and labored to keep scholars out of the school. Some of the scholars attending school were told falsehoods and lies, and were much harder to control. I had to be patient and expulsi. You finally closed your glorious career by your preamble and resolutions, which you passed at the school meeting; and one J. P. Nell, a noted lawyer and standing candidate for office, who studied the dead languages so much that he has been a deadhead ever since, saw fit to change that immortal document after it had passed out of the hands of the Clerk. Yes, he appointed himself a committee of one to revise and amend.

Who are these men who would set such a moral example before the young and rising generation? If you will visit our saloons often, you will find that after night, after playing their little game of chance where they pay for the whisky or not.

I remarked before that some of them felt so well that they walked from the school house to the saloon a few days after M. Hanley sat for hours playing a whisky game at one of our saloons. I have also been informed that even the ex-Prosecuting Attorney has a small whisky bill unsettled, which he has not long since.

Now, I am not disposed to find fault, only to show that you could not have been acting in good faith.

Before casting the mote out of thy brother's eye first cast the beam out of thine own eye." Don't give employment to drunkards and gamblers; keep them off your farms and loons yourselves, and we will begin to think you are in earnest. The parent's influence is or should be far greater than that of the teacher, and some of you have more than once lain like a warrior taking your rest with your whisky crowd around you.

You mention games of chance. I would like to know if some of you did not take a chance besides a whisky game when you thought you could win on the last election. Not only $20 pieces, but ricks of wood were bet, and some of you threatened to bet your farms. How much easier to preach than practice! "O, consistency thou art a jewel!"

Your resolutions are fatherless and motherless, though some of you say that Mr. A.—got them up. If such is the case, we will not yet "smile our face in our mantle" though even a Brutus stabbed; far from the shouts that went up from the multitude, we can say: All save he alone did what they did through spite, envy and malice.

Custom long established becomes law, and I have only been falling in with the customs of nine-tenths of the people of this community.

How many voted for your preamble and resolutions? Twelve out of 168 voters, and those who did vote for them, enemies of the school.

Those who are living here must remember that we have quite a large German population, and as good citizens, too, as you are. Many of them are shrewd business men, but few drunkards among them, though they are not cold water men and you can not expect to make them such.

There are those living in our community that can see plainly the faults of others; they can lie, slander and tattle, and then claim that they are moral, and setting moral examples. I think that a drunkard or even a thief is not equal to you, because you would try to blight, wither and blast the happiness of all. You enter the school-room, the church, and even the home circle, and, if you accomplish your hellish designs, you exult like savages over the miseries you have inflicted. I will conclude by saying: If you were in earnest, we hope we may see a change at once. If you were not, we trust you will not again blame others for doing what you do yourselves. W. J. STANLEY.

LAKE COUNTY ITEMS.

LINKVILLE, April 11, 1875. County Court is slowly grinding.

Beautiful weather, which is duly appreciated.

The people hereabouts are catching wagon loads of splendid trout in West-tass Creek.

Geo. Conn, Receiver of the Linkville Land Office, has returned from a protracted visit to the Willamette. We were somewhat surprised to see George return without her, but "such is life."

A "Heathen Chinese" was asked in regard to the matrimonial prospects of a certain prominent individual of Linkville, and made the following reply: "Pletty soon mally; heep like 'em; all time too much lick 'em face."

It is supposed by some that there is in this locality a regularly organized band of horse thieves; all of which is certainly a very unjust charge and without any foundation whatever; and further, I do not think that Col. J. N. T. Miller, Samuel Colver, or any one else, has lost any horses by being stolen.

The entertainment given here on the 7th inst., by Lake Lodge, I. O. of G. T., was, in every respect, a pleasant affair. Good music, good supper, and the ladies, to say the very least, were, as they ever are, just splendid. I. D. Applegate was chosen speaker for the occasion and acquitted himself in a commendable manner; after which the lovers of Terspichore revelled until "rosy morn."

REJOINDER.—W. J. Stanley in another column replies to the resolutions adopted at the School meeting. It is always our aim to give both sides of a public affair a hearing, and one side having already spoken, it is no more than just that the other should also be heard. However, being in no ways concerned in this controversy, we are consequently not in the least responsible for views expressed therein.

IMPORTANT.—Endorsed by the Medical profession. DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS cures Coughs, Colds and Consumption, and all diseases of the Throat and Chest. DR. TOWNSELY'S TOOTHACHE ANODYNE cures in one minute.

NEW IN THIS WEEK.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Life is Sweet.

The blood is the life of the human system. Keep it pure and all is well; for this purpose no standard medicine has had so uniform and amazing success as Dr. Henley's Celebrated Life-Sweet Bitters. This is a pure stimulant, medicated with the finest tonics and alteratives which the vegetable kingdom affords; and is the only preparation at present known which thoroughly meets the emergency. The effect of this popular restorative is continuous. Each dose taken invigorates the vital energies and the brain, and its prolonged use will unquestionably cure any case of debility, or morbid acidity that does not arise from organic causes beyond the reach of medicine. It is in the strictest sense of the word, an invigorating and regulating cordial. If the nerves are tremulous and relaxed, it braces them; if the liver is torpid it promotes activity in that organ; the appetite is poor and digestion a slow and painful operation, it creates a relish for food and enables the stomach to convert it into healthful aliment. Moreover, it is a specific for a large number of ailments, some of which are particularly prevalent in the damp and chilly weather which we so often experience in mid-winter. Among these may be mentioned rheumatism, chills and fever, and all the morbid conditions of the digestive organs. By insuring perfect digestion and a proper flow of bile, it insures pure blood, a vigorous circulation, and the prompt discharge of all waste matter from the system.
