DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

SEPTEMBER 17, 1875.

FOR CONGRESS,

LA FAYETTE LANE.

OF DOUGLAS.

PUBLIC SPEAKING. HON. L. F. LANE, Democratic candidate

for Congress, will address his fellow citizens at the following times and places: September 16th Eugene City.. Corvallis Dillas. Lafavette... Hillsboro. Oregon City Portland Astoria. The Dalles Pendleton. Weston. La Grande Union. Baker City 21st Opposing candidates are invited to join

Republican Consistency.

Our cotemporary, in speaking of free schools, says Portland and Salem are the only places where free schools are maintained in Oregon, and they are under Republican administration, claiming much credit for its party in this relation. Yet this same paper, in its next issue, proclaims that the "authorities of Portland employ Chinese on the public works in preference to white men who are willing to do the work at the same price," and seeks to make a point against the Democracy by asserting that the aforesaid authori. ties are Democratic. Such is Republican consistency, and is a fair sample of the argument used by that party in the present campaign. The truth of the matter is that the Republicans can claim no credit for the public school system in Portland, and, secondly, it is altogether improbable that Chinese are employed in preference to white men at the same rates. I shows to what straits the Republicans are driven, when they attempt to make a point with such small argument as this.

School Question in California.

A great howl was made in California by the Radicals against the Democrats on the school question, as they tion, shows an overwhelming defeat in almost every county and township in the U. S. District Court at Portland. that State. In fact the victory for the Democracy is sweeping and unprecedented, thus showing that the numerous lies told by the Radicals on the school question in our sister State have acted as a boomerang to strike down the inventors. So it will be in Oregon. The school question in this State, as in California, does not enter into the campaign except as brought in by the lies of the Radical party and press, and the result on the 25th of October will show as glorious a re-California.

The Tide Can't be Turned.

Since Oregon in June, 1874, fired the first Democratic gun by the election of the lamented La Dow to the 44th Congress, says the Mercury, victory after victory have perched upon the Democratic banner. Even old Radical Massachusetts contributed to the glorious result. A few days ago Kentucky responded by a Democratic gain of about 10,000 votes, and California has covered herself all over with glory. In fact, the tide in favor Democracy turned in 1874 in Oregon, has run over the entire nation, has increased in volume and power, and it cannot be stayed. It will sweep over Oregon in October, as in California. And all those who wish to be with the popular current should vote for Lane.

Warren's Honesty.

We hear of "poor, but honest War ren," and we are asked to believe all such nonsense. Warren was a member of the State Legislature of Oregon in 1864, and the only work he was known to perform during the session of that body was in behalf of the outrageous "fee bill" of the Republican party's concocting, which afterwards robbed the people of thousands of dollars in the different counties, says the Journal, and gave Multnomah county into the hands of the Independents and Democrats at the next general election. No man should claim any distinction as to honesty when he assisted in perpetrating such a wholesale robbery upon the people.

A MAIL BOBBER CAPTURED.

About last October a mail sack was missed on its transit between Portland and San Francisco. This sack contained several thousand dollars in gold-dust, most of which was shipped by persons living in Eastern Oregon, besides currency and registered let. ters, and was mysteriously lost trace of after leaving Portland. The mat. ter was kept quiet at the time, to unravel the mystery, and met with so little success that it was almost abandoned. But the efforts of Postal Agent Underwood and his assistants in that direction received a stimuluthrough the well-directed attacks of the press, which had become acquain ed with the circumstances. About two months ago, a clue was discovered, which finally terminated in finding the mail sack. Suspicion pointed to one Dan Smith, a stage driver, who day. had left the State a short time before, with the wife of his friend Jack Montgomery, as the sack had been traced to Roseburg, from which point he drove. This suspicion was finally confirmed by the confession of Wiley Cardwell, the hostler at Oak Grove station, and an accomplice in the robbery, who divulged the whereabout: of the sack upon promise of escaping punishment. According to Cardwell's story, it appears on a rainy night last Fall, when the only passing r was or the inside of the stage, Smith alighted at this station with the aforesaid sack in his hand, and with his (Cardwell's) assistance, cut it open and succeeded in abstracting three flasks of gold-dust when they were disturbed by the movements of the passenger who was in the act of getting out of the stage. Putting some rocks in the sack they dropped it into the river, which ran some twenty yards from the sta tion, and where it was found, together with one flask of dust and the other mail matter. Postal Agent Underwood, accompanied by J. M. Fuller. ton, traced Smith to San Francisco, thence to his old home in Iowa, where it transpired that his real name was Hamiston. After this, they fol. lowed him to Philadelphia, where it was found that he had sold his gold. dust, which amounted to some $3,000. Here it was discovered that he had gone South, and he was successively tracked from place to place until captured somewhere in Texas.

Smith was well-known in this sec and will doubtless ere long are doing in Oregon, and the result pass through here, in charge of the officers, on his way to await trial in

We were cognizant of the discov ery of the missing sack soon after it was made; but upon request of the authorities have withheld the matter, in order that the ends of justice might not be frustrated.

"What Does It Mean ?"

Under this caption, our cotemporary last week seeks to create the impression that Mr. Whitney is in collusion with Mr. Lane and the Democratic parsult for our cause as at the election in ty, by asserting that "while here Thursday evening they were closeted together for at least two hours." These gentlemen were not in Jacksonville at all on Thursday evening, hence they could not then have been closeted for two hours. All the candidates were on their way to Kerbyville at that time. Moreover, it is untrue that there is any collusion whatever between the Democratic and Independ. ent candidates. We must give Mr. Whitney the credit of being an hon. est, straight-forward man, and is in the field as the Independent candidate, running as such, and expects to poll the full vote of his party. As regards Mr. Lane, he would not stoop to such knavery, and besides does not stand in need of any such means to elect him. Try again, neighbor.

A New Dodge.

The Radical organs of this State have been engaged in the effort to manufacture political capital against their opponents by charging that Lane was a Catholic, Whitney a some other denomination. The latest dodge in this line of political engineering, says the Mercury, was developed in Salem, the other evening, by one of our local preachers introducing Mr. Warren, the Radical candidate for Congress, to the audience assembled at a union prayer meeting, as "the next Representative in Congress receive a hearty welcome. from Oregon." The audience very properly evinced its disgust at this proceeding by afterwards voting to virtually discontinue the meetings.

THE WINNEMUCCA & OREGON R. R.

The following we clip from the Winnemucca Silver State of Septem-

A party of civil engineers arrived here yesterday, and, under the direction of S. F. Lauterne, will proceed immediately to make a preliminary survey of the Winne mucca and Oregon railroad route. Teams and camp equipage for the corps are expected to arrive to-day, and the party will proceed at once to take altitudes and look out the most favorable route. We are inbut detectives were set to work formed that they intend to start near the depot, and proceed south of Winnemucca mountain, running in a northwestly direction to the northeast corner of California: thence to Klamath lake, where the road will intersect the California and Oregon railroad, now completed to Shasta, California. The distance from Winnemucca to Klamath lake is about 300 miles, and it will take three or four months to make the preliminary survey, after which the locating sur vey will be made as soon as possible. This is conclusive evidence that the company mean business, and that a railroad from this point to Oregon will be built at an early

We learn further, from other sources, says the Oregonian, that this surveying party from the Central Pacific railway was joined next day, September 4th, by D. L. Bridges, the First Assistant Engineer of the corps. C. P. Huntington, the Vice President, accompanied the surveying party as far as Winnemucca from San Francisco, in the cars, and left there for New York the next day. We understand also that the second surveying party from the Central Pacific railway, twelve in number, is making surveys from Redding northwest to the Klamath lakes, where they expect, in two or three months, to meet the first sur veying party from Winnemucca, after their labors are completed, and both the parties return to Sin Francisco before Christmas with their joint surveys and reports. The second surveying corps from Redding is under charge of Mr. Montague, the Chief Engineer of the Central Pacific, who was in Oregon with Mr. Hunting. ton and General Colton, the directors who made our city a visit a few weeks ago. We have reasons to believe that in a few days important particulars will be made public in connection with the Winnemucca road, and a proposition submitted, which, if accepted in Oregon, will cause the Central Pacific directors to commence the construction of the road from Winnemucca to Portland in February next.

One argument advanced against Mr. Lane is that his ideas are those of a fossil. Nothing could be more incorrect. He is the representative of Young America, progressive and progressing all the while. Unlike Warren, whose only stock in trade is a repetition of stories of the war which existed fifteen years ago, says the Portland Journal, Mr. Lane admits the changes brought about by the war, and to-day stands the representative of a party whose aim is the restoration of the country to its former prosperity and happiness-to that enviable state which has made our nation the pride and glory of the civilized world, when Democracy governed in the interest of the people. With such a disposition, Mr. Lane stands first and foremost in the present canvass, so far ahead of his competitors that they will never reach him, the choice of the people of Oregon by at least fifteen hundred majority.

Want to Know.

The Lafayette Courier, published at Warren's home, submits the following pertinent observation:

Warren says the Democracy advised | cessful practice. the boys in blue not to go into the late Warren on the contrary advised the boys in his county to go into the war, but was careful to keep his own carcass out of danger. It may be well for him to render an account of the amount collected in this county as soldier's bounty, and tell what he did with it. Some of the "boys in blue" would like to know what become of it.

Luttrell Coming.

We learn that there is a probability of Hon. J. K. Luttrell, Congressman of the Third California District, visit-Campbelite, and Dimick a preacher of ing Oregon ere long, and will doubtless deliver some speeches in the interest of the Democracy. Mr. Luttrell is a logical and forcible speaker, and will be listened to with interest wherever he may go. He has just been re-elected to Congress by a large majority over both his Republican and Independent competitors. He will

The Radical party is seeking to smirch the Democratic party with its own shame, remarks the New York World, as a party of rag money and inflation, because Democrats in the single State of Ohio have fallen out of line, and by the words of their platform have indorsed the financial policy which the Radical party has put into public

The tax-payers of the city of New York are beginning to see their way out of the wilderness of debt in which they have been living for so many years. The exhibit sheet of the State Treasurer, on the 13th ult., shows that the balance of debt unprovided for on the 1st of January, 1872, was $20,260,-755.91; that the balance now unprovided for is only $305,887.17, and that a quarter of mill for the next year will wipe out the indebtedness. It says the whole State tax need not exceed three or three and a half mills. Such is the benefit of good Demoeratic administration.

Ashamed of It.

The News says Mr. Lane is the worst overstimated man in Oregon.

The above item is going the rounds of the Republican press. Now, there s no paper in Oregon named the News, excepting the Coos Bay News, and that is a staunch Democratic sheet, not liable to say such things. The fact is, no Radical organ desires having such dur credited to it, though they will all publish any untruth calculated to is-i-t them even so little.
