GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS.

Congressional election next Monday.

Angora goats are becoming plentiful all over Oregon.

Counterfeit half dollars are abundant on this Coast. Look out for them.

Senator Mitchelle is stumping Eastern Oregon for Warren. Comment is unnecessary.

Theodore Tilton has started out on a lecturing tour, and has engagements at many cities.

Potatoes are scarce in the Willamette, commanding $1 per bushel at Albany and other points.

Ten million dollars were thrown into circulation by the reopening of the Bank of California.

There are now thirty ships on their way to the Columbia river to carry away the Oregon wheat crop.

A man in Corvallis offers to wager $100 that he can saw more wood in ten hours than any other man in Oregon.

Warren is said to be no politician by his partisans. He has only been in office sixteen years, and he is no politician!

Hon. R. S. Strahan, of Corvallis, a leading lawyer of this State, has gone to California, to practice his profession there.

Silver is said to be so plenty in Arizona that when a man gets paid off for a six months' job he has to hire a wagon to take him home.

There have been quite severe earthquake shocks in San Francisco and other sections of California, though no serious damage was done.

The Catholic leaders at Washington, with Mrs. General Sherman at their head, are organizing a permanent Indian Catholic Missionary Society.

The Linn County Fair was rather a failure. It is supposed the Agricultural Society will not hold a fair next year, as it came out about $500 behind this time.

At a fair recently held in Boulder county, Colorado, a blind horse driven by a deaf man won a trotting race, mile heats, best two in three, in 2:47, 2:46, 2:47.

In Philadelphia, Westervelt, convicted of being implicated in the abduction of Charley Ross, was sentenced to the Penitentiary for seven years' solitary confinement and a fine of $1.

The Peace Commission at New York on the 13th was addressed by Commissioner A. B. Meacham and others, and a resolution was adopted demanding Congressional investigation into Indian troubles.

Commodore Perry's flag-ship, the Lawrence, sunk in Erie Harbor sixty-two years ago, has been recently raised and the bottom found to be in a good state of preservation. She is to be exhibited at the Centennial.

In Philadelphia, on the 13th, a high wind blew down the unfinished Agricultural hall in the Centennial grounds, injuring three laborers fatally and five seriously. The building was about one-third completed and entirely of wood.

Dr. Bunnell, who is in charge of the Nonpareil cinnabar mine near Oakland, Douglas county, says that the company have everything on the ground ready to complete their works as soon as the masons arrive. Their tunnel has been extended into the mountain near 200 feet, and everything bids fair for this to be a good paying enterprise.

At Rochester, on the 14th, Lulu trotted against time—2:14—accompanied by a running mate, and made the following time: 2:16 1/2, 2:14 1/2 and 2:16, the fastest three heats on record. Some suppose that if a strong wind had not been prevailing during the second heat she would have beaten Goldsmith Maid's famous time.

The New York Sun, (Independent) edited by Chas. A. Dana, Lincoln's Assistant Secretary of State, says upon greenback inflation: "Nineteen Democratic States are for hard money, and yet the Republicans who made our paper money and appointed two Judges of the Supreme Court expressly to decide in favor of that money, are bold enough to say that the Democratic party is in favor of inflation."

The result of the wise and honest administration of Gov. Tilden of New York is very gratifying to the honest men of the country throughout the Union. From the time he was first inaugurated there has been incessant war waged against Tweed and his friends, and we find a Democratic Governor doing the work that the Republican Dix refused to do—prosecuting Democratic and Republican thieves without fear or favor. Let others say what they will, but the Democratic party of New York is a credit to his party and an honor to the Nation.

SPEND YOUR MONEY AT HOME.

An exchange gives the following ten reasons why people should spend their money at home. They are so forcible and well put that we cannot refrain from presenting them to our readers, hoping that they will give them the consideration which they deserve:

1st. It is your home; you cannot improve it much by taking money away to spend or invest.

2d. There is no way of improving a place so much as by encouraging good merchants, good schools and good people to settle among you, and this cannot be done unless you spend your money at home.

3d. Spend your money at home, because there is where you get it generally. It is your duty.

4th. Spend your money at home, because when it is necessary for you to get credit, it is of your town merchants you have generally to get it, and they must wait for the money. Therefore, when you have the cash in hand spend it at home.

5th. Spend your money at home. It will make better merchants of your merchants; they can and will keep better assortments and sell at lower rates than if the only business they can do is what is credited out, while the money goes to other places.

6th. Spend your money at home. You may have sons growing up who some day will be the best merchants in town. Help lay the foundations of them now. It is your duty. It may be your pride in after years to say: "By my trading at the store I got my son a position as clerk, and now he is a proprietor." Then you will think it hard if your neighbors spend their money out of town. Set the example now.

7th. Spend your money at home. Set the example now. Buy your dry-goods, groceries, meats and everything at home, and you will soon see a wonderful change in a short time in the business outlook of the place; therefore deal with your home merchants.

8th. Spend your money at home. What do you gain by going off? Count the cost; see what you could have done at home by letting your merchant have the cash. Strike a balance and see if you would not have been just as well off, besides helping your merchant.

9th. Spend your money at home. Your merchants are your neighbors, your friends; they stand by you in sickness, are your associates; without your trade they cannot keep your business. No stores, then no banks, no one wanting to buy property to settle on and build up your place.

10th. Merchants should do their advertising at home. They should get their bill-heads, circulars, cards, letter-heads, envelopes and all their printing at home, of their own newspapers, who aid them in many ways, and advertise them hundreds of times without any pay whatever. Merchants should set an example to their customers by patronizing liberally their home newspapers. Men and women are imitative animals and are prone to follow examples set them. How can merchants expect their neighbors to trade with them if they set the example of going away from home for their printing and advertising? Let merchants and people all patronize home enterprise, and home industry and home trade. So shall they all be prosperous and happy.

EXTRAORDINARY RACE.—At Hartford, Connecticut, September 2d, a race was run which is certainly the best ever seen in the United States. It was a flat race, for a special purse of $1,000, for all ages, mile heats, in which Kadi, a comparatively unknown horse, Spindrift, Lorena, Burgoon, Warrior, Leamingtonian and No Name participated, which resulted in the exceedingly fast time of 1:41—half a second faster than any previously recorded time for a mile. Before the race Spindrift was a great favorite in all the pools sold. Much to the astonishment of the assemblage present, Kadi won in two straight heats in the extraordinary time of 1:42 1/2, 1:41 1/2, thus covering himself with glory. When this was announced from the stand the welkin rung with vociferous vivas from eight thousand throats.

"My son wouldn't steal peaches from Mr. Gammon's orchard, I hope?" "No, ma, I wasn't in that crowd the other night." "That's right, my boy. Keep out of bad company, and you'll never do wrong. Let your conscience be your guide in all things," and the fond mother patted her son approvingly on the head, and went about her duties with a light heart. Left to himself, the noble boy thus soliloquized: "You don't catch me foolin' around old Gammon's. My conscience can guide me to lots of better orchards than his, where there ain't no dog, nuther."—Missouri Brunswick.

THE TWO ORGAN GRINDERS.—

On Saturday there was sitting in front of the residence of E. B. Brush, on Randolph street, an organ grinder who had been blinded by fire. His face bore dreadful traces of the calamity which deprived him of his eyes, and there was still a pitiful lack of nickels in his box. Still he hopefully ground out his dismal tunes, nodding now and then as he heard the chink of coin dropping into his little "bank," and at each sound spurring himself to fresh exertion. Poor fellow! It was his only way of testifying his desire to give his patrons their money's worth, and one could not withhold a sentiment of respect for his honesty of purpose. Presently there came that way another organ grinder. He carried his instrument on his back. He had only one leg, and that was a good one, but he thanked fortune for as good a pair of eyes as ever did duty in a poor man's head. As he came abreast of the blind organist he paused, unslung his own organ, and, thumping his crutch down on the sidewalk, looked long in silence. Finally he dived into his pockets, raked up a handful of pennies, five-cent pieces and other small coins, and deposited them in the blind brother's box. Still without a word he picked his scratched and battered old instrument and stumped away. The incident was witnessed by several gentlemen, who as if in repentance of their own thoughtless neglect of the poor blind wretch, looked at each other an instant and then doubled and quadrupled the gift of the man with the crutch, filling the poor fellow's box with a harvest of shin-plasters, the like of which in quantity he had not received in many a day.—Detroit Free Press.

THE FIRST CHINESE VOTER.—

We have repeatedly warned the white working men of California and the Pacific Coast that the inevitable result of radical teachings and legislation would be to elevate the Chinese in full peondom with them, and besought them to be guided in their political action by such consideration. But year after year they retained the Radicals in power, by their votes, and the evil consequences of their conduct will ultimately be realized by the admission of the pig-tailed heathen into the ranks of the voting population, and the still further humiliation of the white working classes. For the first time in the history of the State, a Chinaman deserted the ballot-box, at the late election, by depositing his vote therein. This pioneer Celestial elector was Tim Wong, of Monterey, and he voted the Radical ticket, of course.—S. F. Examiner.

A FUTURE FOR THE SOUTH.—

The editor of the Pittsburg Iron World, who has been traveling in the South, has come to the conclusion that the South is the home of cheap iron, and that Southern pig can undersell that made in any other State in the Union. He says:

Most persons in the Northern States who have seen these figures giving the cost of iron making in the South, having doubted the statements, but we believe after
