A Practical Financier.

That Gov. Tilden is an able, practical financier, there can be no question. In his letter of acceptance he shows the people how the whole national debt can be paid off in the comparatively short period of thirty-eight years, simply by adoption of a financial policy which should secure to the country the highest credit. By wisely availing ourselves of this, says the Sun, he estimates that a reduction of one per cent. on the interest of the loans could be effected; and this saving, invested at the low rate of four and a half per cent. interest, would cancel our entire national debt in the course of thirty-eight years.

This is no chimera. It is no wild, visionary scheme. It is the careful calculations of a practical business man, who knows how to put it in operation and who will carry it into effect if any opportunity is afforded him.

We put it to the voters of the country, the sensible men, whether the payment of the national debt is not a consummation devoutly to be wished? The heavy burden of taxation which rests upon us would at least be removed from the shoulders of our children.

Tilden, Economy, and the reduction of the National debt—let this be the war cry?

Why Don't They?

Why don't the Republicans answer the facts of Tilden's great letter? There isn't a single one of them that dares attempt a controversion of Uncle Samuel's charges that during the past eleven years the people of the United States have paid, in the form of Federal taxes, no less than four billions, five hundred millions of dollars; that within the same period fully two-thirds as much more has been paid by them in shape of local taxation, and that the aggregate of Federal and local taxation, to which the country has been subjected during the period named, has been seen billions, five hundred millions, or more than three times as much as the whole national debt. Think of it, fellow-citizens, and then ask yourselves whether anything else than the long protracted hard times, through which we are passing, are anything else than a legitimate result? And while you are thinking, please do not forget the fact, during those eleven years, the Republican party has held undisputed sway in the government of the country.

A Centennial Army.

An army of ninety thousand office holders is one of the great features of our Centennial year. Suppose they receive an average salary of only one thousand dollars each. This aggregates the snug little sum of ninety millions of dollars annually. And supposing each is assessed the modest sum of thirty dollars for political purposes during the campaign, we have a political expense fund of two millions seven hundred thousand dollars. And all this comes from the hard earnings of a people nearly impoverished by an administration that seems to care only to build up its pets at their expense.

More and More.

Alabama gets more and more on-sided like the handle of a jug, as the full returns come in, remarks the Philadelphia Times, Independent. Nothing but an immediate peace with Sitting Bull, by a liberal payment to him and his braves for the Custer butchery, and the prompt transfer of the whole army and a full complement of Gatling guns will give Hayes more than a township here and there in the South; and, what is worse, the North doesn't look much more promising.

POLITICAL NOTES.

John S. Mosby, the guerrilla chief, supports Hayes and the whole Republican reformers.

The New York World is compiling and classifying the lies of the New York Times. It has got its hands full.

Gov. Tilden distinctly represents the principle of reform in politics; but can the same thing be said of Governor Hayes?

So far, we have yet to hear of the first German whom Carl Schurz has turned around and carried with him in this campaign.

According to the Milwaukee Times, ninety-nine out of every hundred Germans in Wisconsin will vote for Tilden and Hendricks.

The Hayes campaign is in Zach Chandler's hands, and, if he is elected, he will have Hayes in his palm. It's a nice reformer for a leader.

Hon. Henry Clay Dean, who "went off" with Brick Pomroy after the St. Louis Convention, has finally squared around and announced his determination to support Tilden and Hendricks.

Isn't this word "Rebellion" getting pretty well worn out now in the mouths of the Republican party? Suppose the word "plunder" was substituted for a change. This would suit admirably in Washington, if not here.

The only hope of the Republicans in this campaign is to carry their points by misrepresentation and downright lying. In California their State Central Committee have forbidden any of their speakers to discuss the political issues of the day with persons representing the other party.

The Republican party has been in power for a period of fifteen years, and has inaugurated all the corruption that curses the country. The people come forward and demand reform, and lo! and behold the architects of corruption present themselves as model reformers. Could anything be more ridiculous?

If you elect Tilden, Tilden will be the President, remarks the Syracuse Courier. If you elect Hayes, the Lord only knows who the President will be. It may be Cookling, or Morton, or Blaine, or old Simon Cameron, or even "Boss" Shepherd, or possibly a regency composed of the whole gang. The people should take no chances in such a lottery.

When such men as Columbus Delano, W. W. Belknap, Babcock and "Boss" Shepherd fall into line and shout themselves hoarse for Hayes, is it any wonder that honest men get out of the Republican party? Honest men feel as did the Irishman who had a horse that commenced kicking when he was in the buggy. "Neighbors," said he, "if you are going to get in, I'll get out."

Notwithstanding the vociferous denials of the Radical telegraph it is authoritatively announced by mail that Robert Lincoln, son of the late President, is supporting Tilden and Hendricks, and has joined a Democratic Club in Chicago. Also Herndon, Lincoln's old law partner, has agreed to stump Illinois for the Democratic ticket. What an unreliable engine that Radical telegraph machine is anyhow.

"Uncle Sam" may not be "rich enough to give us a farm," but if elected he will soon reduce taxes enough to take off the mortgage that is now upon our property in the shape of bonded indebtedness. What long faces there will be among the thieves when he takes his seat in the White House. No subsidies, no more land grabs, no more credit mobilities, no more sales of post-trader-ships. What a hard time the rogues will have!

Joseph Pulitzer, late editor of Carl Schurz's paper, and for sometime his associate in business, publishes a letter in the New York Sun, in which, among other things, he says that over two-thirds in number and nine-tenths in real circulation and influence of the German newspapers in the United States are supporting Tilden and Hendricks, notwithstanding Mr. Schurz' Hayes and Wheeler somersault. Our Radical friends would do well to make a note of this.

Give Us a Rest.

The Oregonian wants Gov. Tilden to come to the front and deny certain telegraphic charges which have been made against him. If Gov. Tilden were to take the trouble to deny every charge made by irresponsible newspaper reporters and telegraph operators, he would have no time for anything else, and they would keep him busy from now until election. The best evidence that the Radicals are lying about Gov. Tilden now is in the fact that they themselves have declared him to be a pure and honest man in the past, and the false stories now put in circulation for the purpose of covering up the rascalities of the Radicals will not draw the attention of the public from the real issues before the people. Why, says the Standard, if these Radical papers are so anxious for explanations, has not Gov. Hayes, who has been repeatedly charged with stealing from a dead soldier $400, exonerated himself from this and other charges? We can assure our Radical friends that Hayes and Wheeler have their hands full, not only for themselves but for their party. Gov. Tilden has so far refused every charge which has been gotten up to injure his name, which is more than can be said for the Radical candidate.

More Charges Against Hayes.

A Chicago dispatch of September 30th says a Times correspondent at Toledo telegraphs that he has examined the records where Gov. Hayes' assessments of taxable property are entered, and finds that he has underrated his income and estates in every case and has never paid more than the smallest part of the tax which his ample fortune calls for.
