THE LATE MR. LICK'S TRUST.

The death of Mr. Lick reminds us that his munificent charities—his donation made in his lifetime for literary, scientific and benevolent purposes of nearly five millions of dollars—hardly brought him either the honor or the self-satisfaction which he might reasonably have anticipated.

Meanwhile, the California public must wait for the largest so profusely promised it—wait for the great telescope, the technical schools, the various charities, and the monument to the memory of the author of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

THE campaign against the Sioux is over, and the Sitting Bull, proud of the result, walks off pawing up the ground, to the admiration of the smiling squaws, and boastfully following: "I'm your howling hyena of the hills and your patent old he-hair-lifter of the per rairies—I'm your rip roaring ragoon of the mountains—your Sitting Bully boy with the glass eye, and your gaul-darned and double-fisted son of a steam engine—I'm the high pressure, iron-jawed sassage machine to chew up your Crooks and Terrys—you heered my horn!"

A TRAIN in India recently encountered a herd of elephants that were advancing along the track. The leading elephant, a huge tusker, was apparently only enraged by the whistle, and charged the advancing train.

It has been discovered that a hen held up by one leg will not squeak half as much as when both legs are grasped. The American mind is ever marching on.

A SUDDEN DEATH.—Mary St. Clare,

[formerly of this section,] is dead. She breathed her last on Sunday evening, October 22d, 1876, at her residence in Canyon City, Grant county, Oregon. Mary St. Clare was a nom de plume she assumed when coming to California in early days and choosing a life of ill fame. Her real name, as we have been informed, was Mary E. Eckard.

By her force of character and public life during the early days of California, we doubt whether there is another public woman on the Pacific Coast so generally known as Mary St. Clare. Her death was so sudden that a Coroner's inquest was held over her remains.

HOW MANY APPLES DID ADAM AND EVE EAT?—Some say Eve 8 and Adam 2, a total of 10 only. Now we figure the thing out differently. Eve 8 and Adam 8 also. Total 16.—Boston Journal.

WRONG AGAIN; what could be clearer than if Eve 8-1-2, the total would be 893.—Lawrence American. If Eve 8-1-1st and Adam 8-1-2, would not the whole be 1,623?—Boston Journal.

AN ATTEMPT TO ROB LINCOLN'S GRAVE.—A dispatch from Springfield, Nov. 8th, says a most dastardly attempt was made to steal the bones of President Lincoln from the cemetery vault there.

THEY attempted to take one of Barnum's new giraffes across Rhode Island last week, but just as it was on the Massachusetts line it reached over and ate up about half of a hay stack in a farmyard in Connecticut, and when the farmer came out with a club and attacked the Connecticut end, the Massachusetts end got mad and kicked a man in Boston and nearly killed him.

PHILADELPHIA advices report an improved demand for wool, with but a light supply in the market. California fine and medium fleeces are quoted at 22@25c; coarse 18@12c.

THE MAN WHO CROSSED THE ATLANTIC IN A CANOE.—William Baxter, of Lowell, says the Cape Ann (Mass.) Advertiser, recently returned from Liverpool, England, brings us intelligence that Capt. Johnsen and his dory are the lions of the day. The exhibition fee is one sixpence, and the room is thronged day and evening by those who wish to see this daring voyager and his little craft. The crowd are not allowed to tarry long, but pass in at one door, taking a look at Johnsen and his boat, then, after purchasing a photograph, are requested to pass out.

INTELLIGENT FARMING.—If there is one thing more than another that puzzles the mind of the farmer, it is as to what he shall do to make money. If any new source of making money by farming were found, it would not be long before everybody would be going into it, and it would soon be overdone.

MILTON SHEPARDSON SENTENCED.—At the late term of the circuit court in Baker county, Milton Shepardson, who was tried here last summer in the U. S. District Court, on the charge of robbing the mails in Antelope Valley in July, 1872, for which offense Tompkins, Hanson, Braumette and White were convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary, was tried for robbing Wells, Fargo & Co's Express. He was found guilty as charged in the indictment, and sentenced to hard labor in the penitentiary for ten years.

A HAPPY WOMAN.—Here is something for the fair sex. A happy woman! is not she the very sparkle and sunshine of life? A woman who is happy because she can't help it—whose smile even the coldest sprinkle of misfortune cannot dampen.

DISPATCHES announce the sudden death at Galveston, on the 27th ult., of Gen. Braxton Bragg. He was born in Warren county, North Carolina, in 1815, and graduated at West Point in 1837.
