New Editor.

The Portland Standard of January 29th announces the accession of Mr. Sidney Dell, lately of Georgia, to the tripod. Mr. Dell is highly spoken of as a fluent writer of much ability, and will doubtless be a valuable accession to Oregon newspaperdom. We have always considered the Standard the best newspaper in the State, and, but for the Associated Press monopoly, it would compare favorably with any on the Coast. In this connection, we would urge the Democracy to rally to its support, and thus firmly establish a Democratic daily at the metropolis. Such sheets as the Record. Union, Chronicle and like ilk, should be discarded, and Democratic support given to Democratic journals. This failure on the part of Democrats to support their own papers has made the establishing of a leading Democratic daily in this State heretofore impossible. way it ought to be done, and they wil not regret It.
