

The Democratic Times.

SATURDAY, APRIL 21, 1877.

TRICKS ON A TRAGEDIAN.—John McCullough was once playing the part of the Prince of Morocco in the "Merchant of Venice" at the old Metropolitan Theatre, when the boys put up a j--on him. You know they put three caskets on a table, one of which the Prince opens. Some wag got the caskets from the property man and fixed a jack-in-the box inside, so when the lid was opened the jack would fly up. John walked up, bent over the box and turned the key, when up flew one of those elongated jacks with a red wooden head, and hit John on the nose. You never saw such an astonished man since Balaam's ass attempted to draw his master into a conversational debate, and, of course, the whole effect of the scene was lost amid the roar of the audience. As soon as McCullough got behind the scenes he suspected poor Jack Billings, who had no hand in the trick, and blackened an eye for him.

When Little Mac, the minstrel, first came to "Frisco" he was totally unknown, and one night the boys put up a job on McCullough as usual. He was playing Rolla, and there is a scene where he rescues a little child, and while he is holding him on his shoulder, cuts away a bridge. They dressed up Little Mac as a child, and when McCullough attempted to raise him on his shoulders it took all his strength and made him stagger a good deal. Suddenly Little Mac whispered in Big Mac's ear: "If you let me drop, I'll bust h--t out of you." John was so astonished that he let the dwarf drop, and the scene ended in a farce. —Virginia City Chronicle.

SEVEN HOURS' SLEEP NECESSARY.—For farmers and those who live in localities where people can retire at eight or nine o'clock in the evening, the old notion about early rising is still appropriate. But he who is kept up till ten or eleven or twelve o'clock, and then rises at five or six, because of some old ditty of "early to rise," is committing a sin against his own soul. There is not one man in ten thousand who can afford to do without seven or eight hours' sleep. All the stuff written about great men who sleep only three or four hours a day is apocryphal. They have been put upon such small allowance occasionally, and prospered; but no man ever yet kept healthy in body and mind for a number of years with less than seven hours' sleep. If you can get to bed early, then rise early. If you cannot get to bed till late, then rise late. It may be as proper for one man to rise at eight as it is for another to rise at five. Let the rousing bell be rung at least thirty minutes before your public appearance. Physicians say that a sudden jump out of bed gives irregular motion to the pulses. It takes hours to get over a sudden rising. It is barbarous to expect children instantly to land on the centre of the floor at the call of their nurses, the thermometer below zero. Give us time after you call us to roll over, gaze at the world full in the face, and look before you leap.

FANATIC RESOLUTIONS.—We give below the resolutions passed by the New England Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held at Boston on the 4th inst., in which it will be seen they do not appreciate the manner in which President Hayes has been conducting himself in regard to the Southern question:

Resolved, That we are alarmed and filled with apprehension for the future when we contemplate the practical sale of one of the great political parties of that party who have held and now hold very intimate relations to the President, thus sacrificing the principle and party, and righteousness for the sake of temporary success.

Resolved, That we protest most earnestly against the action of the new administration in making terms with the chief of the Ku Klux and instigator of the Hamburg massacre, M. C. Butler; and still more earnestly do we protest against the official recognition by the administration of that arch enemy of the Republic who long since ought to have been hung for treason, Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, and who now by threats and intimidation under the very roof of the White House, as well as on railroad platforms and in other public places, defies the power of government and bullies the President into compliance with his traitorous and wicked usurpation.

The farmers in the north-western States are rapidly reconstructing their methods of farming. They find that exclusive grain growing is exhausting their lands, and are now more and more mixing stock farming into their plans. The manure from this source is found both profitable and necessary.

The editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel is enthusiastic about blue glass. He laid his ears under a pane of that article for a few moments, and, as a result, rejoices in a supply of the most juicy vegal for family use, enough to last a six month.

For smart girls commend us to Illinois. At Alton, in that State, recently, a widow who was only fourteen years of age took unto herself a second husband.

THE BEGINNINGS OF ILLNESS.—If mothers would watch for the first symptoms of illness in their children, and take things in time, they might often save themselves from great anxiety, their little ones from pain, and their husbands from the doctor's bill. Nearly every ailment proceeds at first from a cold. Sometimes a child droops and seems heavy and languid for days, going to school unwillingly, and dropping asleep over lessons. At such times, instead of chiding and spurring the weary one to exertion, it would be far better to give the child a vacation. True, the teacher would not tell you so, but then you must remember that the teacher is obliged to take a very partial view on the situation. He or she has undertaken to bring the pupil to a certain point in his education, and, except to the very best teacher, children are often very much like the hopper of the mill—they are cups into which the grain of grammar and geography and arithmetic are to be poured. Mothers must often act quite independently of teachers. Never mind whether your little girl or boy stands first on the roll of honor or not. See to it that no honors for rewards are gained at the expense of vigor or health. Often a week's rest from school duties will save a child from a fit of sickness. Never slight the beginnings of a cold. In the earlier stages a cold is easily managed. Simple herb teas, blankets, and soaking the feet may ward off an inflammation of the throat or lungs. If you find that these make no impression, send speedily for the family physician. It is an error to wait for his advice until the patient is very ill indeed. The part of wisdom is to look out well for beginnings.

MOVING OUT.—On the 10th inst., at noon, the United States troops were marched out the State House at Columbia, South Carolina. While this is a step toward allowing the people of that State to assume control of their own affairs, the reformer in the White House deserves no credit for it at this time. Had he made this order thirty-four days sooner he might have been entitled to and received some praise for it, though no great amount of praise ought to be lavished on any one for doing a simple duty that requires no sacrifice or hazard in its performance.

ENGLISH AGRICULTURE.—In England the farmers generally grow larger crops than we do. In answer to the question, "How do you do it?" an Englishman replied: "We feed our land before it is hungry, let it rest before it is weary, and weed it before it is foul." American farmers cannot follow this system, unless they keep more live stock than they now do; but they must increase their stock or let their farms become impoverished.

The crystal palace at Sydenham, England, has the largest clock in the world. The dial is forty feet in diameter. The hands, with their counterpoises, weigh nearly a quarter of a ton; the minute hand measures nineteen feet in length, and moves half an inch at every beat of the pendulum. The distance travelled by the point of the minute hand is nearly four miles a week.

GREASE SPOTS.—To take grease spots out of carpets mix a little soap in a gallon of warm, soft water; then add half an ounce of borax; wash the part well with a clean cloth, and the grease or dirty spot will soon disappear.

A HOBOKEN woman is so cleanly that she uses two rolling pins—one for the pie crust, and the other for her husband's head.

"EARLY to bed and early to rise,
Makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise;
But early to ryes and tardy to bed,
Makes a man's nose turn a cardinal red."

A Remarkable Cure.
WEST TOWNSEND, VT., May 14, 1860.
MESSRS. S. W. FOWLE & SONS:
Gentlemen—Several years since I took a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, where it remained without relaxation. I was then in Massachusetts, and growing worse and becoming unable to attend to my business I returned home and commenced searching in earnest for some medicine which would restore my lost health. I consulted physicians, I tried many remedies, but obtained no help, but daily grew worse. I had a terrible cough, and passed a good deal of blood. I had profuse night sweats, and severe pain in my side. I continued in this state for months, and became so weak that I was with great difficulty able to walk, when I was advised to try Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and to my great joy I soon found that this remedy had arrested the disease. I continued to use the Balsam to the extent of five bottles, and have since then experienced no difficulty of the lungs. I believe the Balsam saved my life, and I shall ever hold it in high estimation.
Yours truly,
LEWIS PHELPS.

From a Distinguished Jurist.
"I have tried the Peruvian Syrup and the result fully sustains your prediction. It has made a new man of me, infused into my system new vigor and energy. I am no longer tremulous and debilitated as when you last saw me, but stronger, heartier and with larger capacity for labor, mental and physical, than at any time during the last five years." Sold by all druggists.

CENTAUR LINIMENTS.

One Kind for the Human Family; the Other for Horses and Animals.

These Liniments are simply the wonder of the world. Their effects are little less than marvelous.
The White Liniment is for the human family. It will drive Rheumatism, Sciatica and Neuralgia from the system; cures Lumbago, Chillsblains, Lock-jaw, Palsy, Itch and most Cutaneous Eruptions; it extracts frost from frozen hands and feet, and the poison of bites and stings of venomous reptiles; it subdues swellings, and alleviates pain of every kind. When sprains or bruises occur, it is the most potent remedy ever discovered to heal the injured parts. The Centaur Liniment is used with great efficacy for Sore Throat, Toothache, Caked Breasts, Earache and Weak Back. The following is but a sample of numerous testimonials:
"INDIANA HOME, JEFF. CO., IND.,
May 28, 1873.
"I think it my duty to inform you that I have suffered much with swollen feet and chafes. A few bottles of Centaur Liniment has done the work for me. I have not been free from these swellings in eight years. Now I am perfectly well. The Liniment ought to be applied warmly."
BENJAMIN BROWN.

The proof is in the trial. It is reliable, it is handy, it is cheap, and every family should have the White Centaur Liniment. The Yellow Centaur Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles, cords and flesh of horses and animals. It has performed more wonderful cures, in three years, of Spavin, Strain, Wind-galls, Scratches, Sweeney and general Lameness, than all other remedies in existence. Read what the great Express-men say of it:
"New York, Jan., 1874.
"Every owner of horses should give the Centaur Liniment a trial. We consider it the best article ever used in our stables."
H. MARSH, Supt. Adams, Ex. Stables.
"E. PULTZ, Supt. U. S. Ex. Stables, N. Y.
"ALBERTS, OLIN, Supt. Nat. Ex. Stables, N. Y."

The best patrons of this Liniment are Farriers and Veterinary Surgeons, who are continually using some Liniment. It heals Galls, Wounds and Poll-evil, removes Swellings, and is worth millions of dollars annually to Farmers, Livery-men, Stock-growers, Ship-raisers and those having horses or cattle.
What a Farrier cannot do for $20 the Centaur Liniment will do at a trifling cost.
These Liniments are sold by all dealers throughout the country. They are warranted by the proprietors, and a bottle will be given to any Farrier or Physician who desires to test them.

HONEY.

Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to treating and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. Few remedies are as efficacious for Flatulency, Cramp, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a scientific and purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil and neither gas nor gripes. Prepared by Messrs. J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dew Street, New York, from the recipe of Samuel Pitcher, M. D., of Barnstable, Mass.
