

The Ohio Democracy.

The Ohio Democrats have nominated P. M. Bishop, of Hamilton county, for Governor, and General Jabez W. Fitch, of Cuyahoga county, for Lieutenant-Governor. They adopted a long platform, the chief planks being the financial ones. They regard the installation of Hayes as a dangerous precedent, but praise his Southern policy, which is only Democratic doctrine put into practice by a Republican. The rag-baby is still fuddled and inflation winked at, which is the only objectionable feature in the platform. They denounce the demonization of the dollar; demand that silver shall be remonetized; that the resumption law shall be repealed; that contraction shall be stopped; and that the green-back shall be retained. The ticket nominated is a strong one, and the Democracy is sanguine of its success. Extra endeavors will be made to elect a majority of the Legislature, which chooses a successor to Stanley Matthews, Hayes' chief fustianer and boss.

Indicted.

Stiles, the scoundrel who attempted to swear away the character of Senator Grover, has been indicted by the U. S. Grand Jury. His trial commenced Tuesday last. If justice is done, he, in company with several others, will find employment under Superintendent Burch for a term of years. The following is the closing paragraph of the indictment:

And so the jurors aforesaid, upon their oaths aforesaid, do say that the said W. H. N. Stiles then and there before the said sub-committee of the standing committee of the Senate of the United States, known as the committee on privileges and elections, at the session of said sub-committee held on the 9th day of July, A. D. 1877, at the city of Portland, in the district of Oregon, and within the jurisdiction of this court, as a witness aforesaid upon the examination and investigation as aforesaid upon his oath aforesaid, the said sub-committee then and there having lawful and competent power and authority to administer said oath to the said W. H. N. Stiles as aforesaid, by his own act and consent, and of his own most wicked and corrupt mind in manner and form aforesaid, lawfully, knowingly, wickedly, willfully, feloniously and corruptly did commit willful and corrupt perjury, contrary to the form of the statutes of the United States in such cases made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the United States of America. Dated at Portland, Oregon, the 26th day of July, 1877. A true bill: W. D. HORTON, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

Witnesses—L. E. Grover, H. H. Gairy, W. H. Watkins.

Disenfranchisement.

The N. Y. World of July 27th says that the enrollment of Republicans opposed to the custom house party and favoring the present administration and its policy began the night before in each of the assembly districts. The banner district so far reported is the eighth, which enrolled 673. The average was about 100. This means practical disenfranchisement of the Republican party; for Hayes' policy is in direct contravention with Republican principles and platforms, and nobody but Democrats can support it. Whoever then supports it is practically a Democrat. Perhaps that is the best way for the friends of good government to get out of the Republican party. Then they will be free to join us. Tex is first left Mexico and set up the "Lone Star" Republic, and then very shortly afterwards applied for and received admission into the Union. We recommend to all friends of constitutional government, now in the Republican party, who are in favor of Hayes' policy, to organize systematically into clubs as they are doing in New York.

Got an Endorsement.

Hayes has finally received an endorsement. Ohio Republicans have given it to him, and he certainly has a right to it. Has he not appointed an Ohioan to almost every vacant position, and why should not his Ohio brethren be gracious enough to accord him an endorsement for being so accommodating, if for nothing else? Sherman, Noyes and the host of pap-patriots saw the opportunity and made the best of it. Ohio has sounded the hew-gag, and maybe the factious opposition inaugurated by Iowa Bourbons will be headed off. Blaine, Wade & Co. may rave and resolute, but Hayes has captured them at home. The Republican bear-fight is becoming interesting and the Democratic side of the house is enjoying the sport hugely.

Explanatory.

If our cotemporary cannot understand plain English we are sorry, but we can't help it. Anybody else can readily see in what connection our article spoke of Senator Morton's Chinese mission and the Presidential election in California.

THE CAUSE.

Our first comments on the labor riots traced their cause to the financial policy of the Government in carrying on a contraction policy and forcing unduly a return to specie payments, whereby commerce was dampened and cut off—the railroad as the great commercial pulse being the first to indicate it. Now the great free trader, John Bright, of England, attributes it to high protective tariffs; and there is no reason why both these causes should not have operated together to produce the labor riots that endanger our country. Free trade is a policy of vast importance and is of controlling influence on our prosperity. A significant statement in the resolutions of the St. Louis workingmen is that their lack of prosperity has been in the last fifteen years during which a high tariff has obtained. However, following is the statement of John Bright:

To John Bright's address at the unveiling of the Cobden Memorial Statue at Bedford recently he referred to the disturbances in America as a local insurrection. He said, regarding the strike, it is one of the most deplorable and discreditable events that ever happened in the Northern States, so far as his knowledge goes. Bright continued, saying he attributed these disturbances to the evil produced by the policy of the United States in locking itself up from the rest of the commercial world by onerous duties levied upon every class of manufactured articles which, if competition was open, would prevent labor from becoming unruled. He declared the prostration of the great iron industry was owing to a collapse arising from general impoverishment of capitalists, which of itself would necessitate a great fall in wages, and concluded by saying he believed the excessive system of tariff heretofore levied for the protection of labor in America has received a death-blow, and nothing could avert a change.

Goldsmith's Affidavit.

In the recent Senatorial investigation B. Goldsmith was made much of a hugbear by the Republicans, who alleged that he had distributed money among legislators in the interest of Senator Grover. Of course this libel is on a par with the myriads of others promulgated by Federal hirelings and effectually set at rest by the testimony before the Committee. Mr. Goldsmith was absent in New York at the time of the investigation, but his affidavit has subsequently been received, of which the following is a copy:

CITY OF NEW YORK, State and county of New York, ss. This 12th day of July, 1877, before me, the undersigned, appeared B. Goldsmith, who under oath deposes as follows: My name is B. Goldsmith; place of residence Portland. I am here at present with a son, who is under medical treatment, and am therefore unable to proceed to Oregon to give verbal testimony in the examination now pending before a congressional committee in relation to the election of L. E. Grover to the United States Senate. I am the B. Goldsmith of whom reference is made by Hon. J. W. Nesmith, United States Marshal Waters, and J. M. Johns, in their testimony before said committee, as having furnished or used money to influence or procure the election of said Grover to the U. S. Senate, and further state that I was in Salem, Oregon, during the session of the legislature at which the election of U. S. Senator was pending, and the day said election took place, and I, under oath, declare that I have not furnished or used any money either directly or indirectly to influence the vote of any member of the legislature either for caucus nomination or for voting for U. S. Senator in joint session, and I further declare that in conversation with said Grover prior to his election he told me that he had no money to spend for his election and that he did not wish any of his friends to use any for him, and that I have no other motive in making this declaration than that justice be done. B. GOLDSMITH. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of July, 1877. J. B. JONES, Commissioner of the State of Oregon in New York, No. 91 Duane street, corner of Broadway.

The Same Old Story.

The Radical press, having been disappointed in finding any material for their next campaign in this State through their investigating Committee, have turned their attention to manufacturing false charges against the different State Departments. The same thing was done just before every election since the Democrats have had power. In 1872 the Legislature was Republican, and they failed to sustain the charges which had been made; in 1874 the Legislature was strongly adverse to the State Administration, and it found the charges in the main to be false. The last Legislature, while it was Democratic, there were on each of the committees Republicans, says the Standard, and yet not a single minority report is placed on file by the great number of smelling committees which were created. These charges were used to the best advantage by the Radicals before each election, and three successive Legislatures having pronounced them false, it was hoped that some aid would be given them for the next campaign by the Senatorial Committee; but having failed in that they are thrown back to old tactics, and now have to howl about the State officials.

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS.

The State Teacher's Institute will convene at Salem August 21st.

The race for the Speakership of the next House is now said to be between Randall and Cox.

The Ohio Republicans have nominated Judge West for Governor. He was Hayes' first choice.

Mrs. A. W. Fenner, daughter of J. C. Flood, of Roseburg, and grand-daughter of Gen. Lane, died of consumption at Roseburg on the 21st inst.

Rich bar diggings have been found six miles above Canyonville, on the South Umpqua. As high as $6 per day has been obtained with a rocker.

With their usual magnanimity, the O. S. N. Co., the O. & C. R. R. Co., and the O. C. R. R. Co., have tendered half rates on their lines to the State Fair Grounds next Fall.

The carrying of Ohio, in October, for the Republican party, says the Cincinnati Times, is serious business. This is no time to let political tools show off their antics on the platform.

A Wisconsin Congressman is credited with saying that the Republican party is in a very bad fix, and its future success depends upon having enough negroes killed at the south to make a solid North.

Within six months 32 railroads representing nearly $50,000,000 of stock and over $5,000,000 of debt have been sold; and receivers have been appointed for 16 roads, with stock and debts amounting to $150,000,000.

Nearly 20,000 shares of Lucky Queen mining stock was sold at auction in Portland July 31st, the assessments of which had become delinquent. The price averaged sufficient to cover the assessments, and the stock was mostly bought in by the company.

Capt. Ramis' little band, over in Montana, held Lolo Pass for nearly a week against Joseph's band, waiting for his pursuers to come up; and in their anxiety kept inquiring, "where the devil is Howard?" He had perhaps stopped on Canas Prairie to hold prayers.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the Secretary of State's office for the Blue Mountain and Columbia River Railroad Company. The capital stock is $200,000. The business of the company is to construct and operate a narrow gauge railroad from Grand Ronde Landing, on the Columbia River in Umatilla county, to La Grande, in Union county.

E. Y. Chase, Superintendent of Division S, Oregon State Fair, desires those interested to prepare and forward specimens of minerals and samples of ore that may be worthy of exhibition. The mining interests of this State are assuming such large proportions that a creditable exhibition is greatly desired this Fall. Forward specimens to E. M. Waite, Secretary, Salem.

It is asserted by the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette that two of the Hayes electors in Louisiana voted blank, and positively refused to sign the certificate, and that others present signed the names of the objecting members. It is alleged that this fact is well known to Packard, and that Kellogg's private secretary, H. Conquest Clark, will testify to it under oath.

Some idea of the immense increase in population of the State of Oregon during the past eight months may be gathered from the following figures from the Oregon Steamship Co.'s passenger list. There arrived in January, 603; February, 557; March, 1,332; April, 1,990; May, 1,997; June, 1,631; July, 1,254. Total, 9,334. This list does not include soldiers and Chinamen, neither does it comprise any of those who have arrived overland by stage or private conveyance, which, included, would materially increase the number.

Helena (Montana), August 7th.—Advices from Missoula to the morning of the 6th say: Gibbon, with 200 regular infantry in wagons, left the Missoula post to follow the hostiles at 1 p. m. Saturday. He designed making 35 miles a day. The hostiles were at Doolittle ranch on Friday night, 75 miles from Missoula, and within ten miles of the Ross Hole. Charles declined to lend his warriors to General Gibbon, but will fight the Nez Perces on his own account. The hostiles were moving with more celerity Friday. Stevensville had advices Saturday that 100 or 150 men were coming from Bannock to intercept the Indians. Howard is not yet heard from. Lent, the courier, had not returned on Sunday, and anxiety was felt for him.

A Turkish Victory.

The Turks and Russians have finally had something more of a skirmish than usual, fighting quite a battle near Plevna on the 30th ult. About 60,000 troops were engaged on either side, and the Turks, who fought on the defensive, after a desperate encounter defeated their foe with considerable slaughter. The Russian loss was about 3,000 killed and 5,000 in wounded. The Turks not losing so heavily. The former retreated to the Danube, where they will doubtless be reinforced and try the march on Constantinople over again. This Turkish success cannot but prolong the war. The Mussulmans have proven themselves of better material than they were supposed to be composed of, and will give their opponent more trouble than bargained for.

New Volume.

The Yreka Journal, a standard local paper, has entered its twenty-fourth volume. The Journal stands in front rank among the interior journals and merits the success it is meeting with under the management of Bobt. Nixon, a pioneer newspaper man and first-class printer.

Hayes as a Hypocrite.

The N. Y. Sun prints fac-similes of two certificates of deposit of $5,000 each in the N. Y. Second National Bank, in the Fifth Avenue Hotel building, indorsed: "Pay R. B. Hayes or order —Z. Chandler." Then "R. B. Hayes," and two others dated Sept. 12, 1876. The said money was raised for election purposes by assessment on Federal office-holders.

R. B. Hayes received this money from Mr. Chandler, and drew it out through a bank in Ohio, as it appears by the fac-similes of two of the certificates of deposit and the endorsements thereon. The Second National Bank, where the money was deposited, is in the corner of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where Mr. Chandler's committee had their headquarters.

Of course Mr. Hayes paid this money out for election purposes. If he did not do that, he embezzled it; and nobody suspects him of embezzlement. If he paid it out for election purposes, he paid it out to promote either his own election or that of Mr. Tilden. Does any one imagine he paid it out to promote Mr. Tilden's election?

Under his own hand the great civil service reform stands convicted of hypocrisy. The halo of honesty popularly supposed to surround his head has all disappeared, and, like the unveiled prophet of the poet, he stands forth revealed in the deformity which belongs to false pretensions.
