DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

Portland was crowded on the occa sion of the State Convention, which convened on the 10th. It is generally conceded that it was better attended, and by a more representative gathering of Democrats than ever assembled at any convention in the history of the State. Proxies were comparatively few, and, though the contest for nominations was very spirited, a more harmonious and orderly assemblag certainly could not be conceived. It is scarcely necessary to add that the Convention did its work nobly. The ticket speaks for itself, and further commendation of the labors of the body is superfluous.

John Whiteaker, our candidate for Congress, is a representative Oregonian in every sense of the term. No eventful epoch in the history of the State has missed his presence in the position of a foremost citizen. He is closely identified with our every interest, and we truly are not amiss in ex pressing the universal sentiment that at his hands will Oregon receive her just deserts. A true Democrat, honest and capable, he comes up to the Jeffersonian standard, and we hail him as the successor of Dick Williams, who never did us an injury and yet not a service.

The unanimous nomination of W W. Thayer for the important position of Governor is a fitting tribute to a highminded, deserving citizen. He was wholly unware of the compliment that was thus bestowed upon him, and under no other circumstances would he have accepted it, being a great sacrifice of business interests upon his part. Mr Thayer needs no commendation at our hands. He has long been known as one of the brightest ornaments to the legal profession, a dignified, honorable gentleman, and one who will grace the office to which he will be called by the people of Oregon.

Once more has Jackson county, the banner county of the State, been complimented with a place on the ticket an honor acknowledged to be due her. And it is with pride that we announce that our fellow-townsman, T. G. Reames, has been selected as such representative. He is peculiarly fitted for the arduous duties of this import. ant place, and combines good financial acumen with a thorough conception of all that may be required of him. From boyhood a resident of our State, against whom nothing can be said, and, on the contrary, much in his favor, Tom man in the right place. Southern Oregon fully appreciates the compliment -a fact that will be made apparent in June next.

The re-nomination of A. H. Brown is a meritorious indorsement of a deserving officer. Although strenuously opposed, we are pleased to see that his opponents gracefully acquiesce in the decision of the Convention. No on the Umatilla Reservation the siwashes one can say aught against Albert H. ran a horse race for a wagon load of blank-Brown. He has made an honest, ca- ets. place cannot be more acceptably filled. His administration has been characterized by all that goes to commend a first-class administrator. He will poll a strong vote among our natural opponents, a matter not to be overlooked in the approaching election.

The old Democratic war-horse, A. Noltner, is the nomined for State Printer, a position he is abundantly quallified to fill. His attributes are all that may be considered fortunate for the dark hours of Democratic prescription and presisted in holding up the glorious principles of our party when imhim in the face. His triumphant election should be the desire of every true Democrat.

py in its choice for Superintendent of Public Instruction. Prof. Emery, the nominee, is at present connected with the Corvallis College-a gentleman of fine culture and qualifications unexcelled. Our school system will be in good hands, for he is closely identified with our educational interests and thoroughly acquainted with the requirements of the office.

With our nominees for District officers all our citizens are fully acquaint- age of Wasco. ed. Judge Prim has for many years held the position for which he has been re-nominated and none can say that he has not always discharged his duty, faithfully, impartially, and with an ability unsurpassed by any Judge upon the Bench. A first-class lawyer, a gentleman of irreproachable character, and a man of long experience in the duties of his position, he will carry the full strength of his party and draw to his support the better class of the opposition. His election may be looked office will be satisfactory to all alike, w thout reference to party division

Jas. R. Neil is also well known as an able and conscientious attorney and worthy citizen. He has before held the position of Prosecuting Attorney and will bring experience to the aid of good judgment and legal attainments.

It is seldom that a ticket, so strong every way, is presented. Its opponents acknowledge its eminent worth and great strength and will be forced to neutralize its popularity with the people or abandon the field. The Democracy started out at a disadvantage, but this has been entirely overcome. The miserable Greenback farce and the splendid work of our Convention has encouraged the Democracy and gives renewed hope. Republi cans are stricken with fear, and if Democrats do their duty to their party and themselves, the victory is signally

THE STRAITS OF THE ENEMY.

The Democracy of Southern Oregon have too often been called upon to meet and thwart the wiles of their hydraheaded enemy to be deceived or daunted by the false representation of disaffection so industriously circulated just before election. At each recurring election we are regaled with a batch of "disaffection," originating from a common source, and cooked up for a com mon purpose; but it is so well understood that those engaged in breeding discord, and in giving currency to re- fices. ports of disaffection, belong to the enemy that it has ceased to excite com-organize and weaken our party. The opposition is worse than the cuttle-fish. It's true, its a link of the same old sausage, but every time you come in contact with it it has a different smell. It fights first with the butt end and then advances to the attack like a craw-fish. The fact is, it adopts its new departures with such facility, report: and shrouds itself in such disguises, and blunders into such ludicrous alliances, that it is always utterly swamped in the marshes of its own folly. It is like Issachar, the strong tion: Reames is pre-eminently the right ass, crouching down between two bur-
