since our last report:

ANOTHER STAGE ROBBERY .- The stage going south last Tuesday night was stopped on the summit of the Siskiyou mountain at about nine o'clock by two masked men, who demanded Wells, Fargo & Co.'s box and the mails. There was nothing for the driver (Nort. Eddings) to do but disgorge, after doing which he was allowed to proceed. The express box contained about $400, which the robbers secured. The mail sacks were also cut open and the contents rifled, but how much was obtained from them is not known. It so happened that the registered letters had been put into the Yreka sack, which was unmolested, and they escaped. There were seven passengers aboard at the time, but they were not disturbed. Had the highwaymen searched them, they would have made a big clean-up. J. Nunan, who was ou the inside of the stage, alone had a few thousand dollars in his valise. The box, sacks and such other matter as could be gathered up, were brought to Ashland the next morning. We learn that several parties have gone in pursuit of the criminals.
