

THE RESULT IN THE STATE.

Official returns from the State have been received, and, although they have not as yet been canvassed, enough is known to leave no doubt as to the result. Whiteaker has 1,170 majority; Thayer, 51; Euhart, 294; Hirsch, 1,062; Carter, 497; Powell, 33. The total vote will reach 34,000, which is about 4,135 larger than that cast in the Presidential election, when it was as follows: Hayes, 15,206; Tilden, 14,149; Cooper, 510. Total, 29,865.

Comparisons as between the vote of 1876 and that of 1878 show that the Democracy has gained heavily by the immigration of the last two years, for, while Beckman received 893 votes more than Hayes, Thayer leads Tilden 1,914. The Greenback vote is also heavier (though figuring very insignificantly even now), Wilkins receiving 843 votes more than did Cooper.

It is also apparent that while internal dissensions deprived the Democratic party of a sweeping victory, the Greenback movement also drew a sufficiently greater ratio from our ranks to enable the Republicans to carry off what they did.

The recent election has also demonstrated that, with two parties in the field, Oregon is Democratic beyond peradventure. That party has gained a splendid success in the election of Congressman, Governor and a U. S. Senator, and when we revert to the Presidential election, with its 1,190 Republican majority, this fact is especially gratifying.

And now, with the prestige gained, let the Democracy prepare for the future and strengthen itself for the conflicts hereafter in store. We have implicit faith in Messrs. Thayer and Whiteaker, and know that their careers will be of credit to themselves and to the party. But we must cement the differences that have heretofore prevailed and may still be nurtured. "A house divided against itself will surely fall." Let us profit by the lessons previously presented, and when the Presidential election of 1880 shall roll around the Democracy of Oregon can add three votes more to the phalanx which will secure to us the successor of him who so fraudulently governs the destinies of the Nation, and condemn in unmistakable terms the means resorted to in placing him there.

The Indian Situation in Lake.

There may be no immediate danger of an uprising among the Indians on Klamath Reservation, but certainly there appears to be cause for grave apprehension. The troops at Fort Klamath have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to move at a moment's notice. In consequence of this order, and the suspicious behavior of Indians on the eastern end of the Reservation, the settlers of Sprague river valley and adjacent country have brought their families into Linkview and Lakeview. It can hardly be said that this is a causeless alarm. The removal of the troops from Fort Klamath would most certainly endanger the peace and safety of Southeastern Oregon, leaving exposed to massacre and pillage a large and thriving section of our State. Indian character is not so highly respected here as elsewhere. The unprotected settler on the frontier has occasion to fear it. But it can safely be said that, should the Indians on Klamath Reservation break out, Jackson county would speedily furnish men and arms sufficient to "stamp out" the last of the red devils. It is, however, the duty of the General Government to protect its citizens by the use of the regular army, and this can in no wise be so thoroughly and cheaply done as by the retention of the troops at Fort Klamath. The settlers in that isolated region have a right to demand this in the name of a common humanity.

Made a Splendid Run.

Although defeated by a small majority, the vote T. G. Reames received for Secretary of State must be a source of gratification to the friends of that gentleman and to himself. It was conceded by all that his opponent was the most formidable candidate on the Republican ticket by reason of his general acquaintance and great popularity. The flattering majority Mr. Reames received in this county and district well illustrates the estimation in which he is held at home.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

SOLITARY and alone is Jackson county's "independent" delegation to the Legislature. It is the only one of that character elected in the entire State. We condole with the members in their solitude, but find sympathy in the confidence of knowing that they will find congenial company in the Republican minority that will grace the ensuing session.

CONGRESS has adjourned. It will meet again in December for a short term ending March 4th. It cannot with candor be said that the session just ended has been one fraught with great results, though it is above the average of those which have recently preceded it. The silver bill was undoubtedly the most important measure that was ushered into existence; yet, had Wood's tariff bill become effective, it would have been in many respects a commendable one.

THE howl that comes up from the interested partisans of Mr. Hayes over the Potter investigation is significant. The disclosures made by it are dark and very damaging, which accounts for the milk in the oceanant. That the people have been robbed of their President is admitted, and this deliberate attempt upon the part of Republicans to throttle an investigation of this outrage is disgraceful, to say the least. Their cry of "Mexicanizing" the government is somewhat diaphanous.

THE election for delegates to the Constitutional Convention, which occurred in California on the 19th, resulted in a triumph for the Non-partisan ticket. This was supported by voters irrespective of party, and the motive in originating the movement was to defeat the advance of Kearneyism, which put forth a ticket and threatened to elect a majority of its delegates in case the old parties made straight nominations. Democrats and Republicans did nominate candidates of their own, but failed to cast any considerable number of votes, although they gave San Francisco to Kearney. The people of California are to be congratulated upon the result. Their Convention will comprise much ability and character, and the constitution to be framed will doubtless be a model one. While we would have preferred to see the Democratic party select the delegates, it is gratifying to know that that marplot, Dennis Kearney, will not figure extensively in the deliberations of the Convention.

Another Job.

The U. S. Senate Committee on Claims has reported to pay $526,789 to Ben Holladay in satisfaction of his bill for losses by Indians and otherwise while carrying the overland mails in 1862-63. This scheme has been before Congress for several years past, being under the special care of the senior Senator from Oregon, the illustrious Mitchell. It is to be hoped that the Senate will summarily annihilate this measure. It is a job of the most aggravated character. There are plenty of claims against the Government that are fully as valid as this one, and to allow it would be to establish a dangerous precedent. It is an amusing spectacle to perceive Republican papers in one breath inveighing against the payment of Southern claims and in the next strongly advocating the payment of Ben Holladay's little bill. It may be in their province to distinguish as between their justness, but a disinterested person would certainly not be inclined to coincide with them as a mere matter of honesty more than anything else.

Locality of the War.

The scene of the Idaho Indian war is about fifty miles a little west of south of Boise City in that Territory. The country is very much broken by deep and rugged canyons, and bears, in many parts, much resemblance to the "lava beds," made famous by the Modoc war. The Bannock Indians, on this account, will have much greater advantage than that which the hostile Nez Percés enjoyed; though, when once driven from their present locality, it will be much easier to follow them up and get at them than it was in the campaign last Fall.

SPLENDID RESULTS.—The proprietors of the Fort Lane quartz ledge are crushing some of their ore in a hand mortar and realizing about $10 to the pound. They have a small quantity of rock on the dump, from which they expect to thus realize several hundred dollars. The company has organized and will sink down fifty feet on the ledge.

INDIAN WAR NEWS.

SILVER CITY, I. T., June 24.—The advance troops of Gen. Howard attacked the hostiles Sunday, 45 miles from Harney. Bernard bore the brunt of the engagement; three killed on our side. The battle took place at Curry creek. Howard has sent all troops possible to the front. Colonel Robbins and two soldiers were killed. Couriers rode two hundred miles to furnish Howard news of the battle and asking for reinforcements. Maj. Egbert at Camp Lyons has been notified to protect the Winnemucca road and give battle to the hostiles fleeing in the direction of Owyhee. The probabilities are that the hostiles have met with a severe repulse.

Senator Mitchell informed Governor Chadwick that if he was in actual need of arms and ammunition he could secure next year's quota for Oregon by applying to the Secretary of War. Governor Chadwick immediately telegraphed that official, and it is expected the order for the arms will arrive this evening.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A Palisade dispatch says 25 well armed Indians crossed the railroad track at Arcata this morning going north. War. Governor Chadwick immediately telegraphed that official, and it is expected the order for the arms will arrive this evening.

PORTLAND, June 25.—The following news is received here at military headquarters from Malheur City under date of the 22d: Bernard and his command reached Harney yesterday noon and go to reinforce this forenoon. The Indians are making westward with a large trail south of Malheur Lake. Stewart was at the Indian Agency this noon. The Agency buildings are not burned. The forces at Fort Klamath have been notified to keep a sharp lookout for hostiles.

Small parties of Indians and traces of large bodies are daily discovered in the country bordering on the overland stage roads. These Indians are no doubt scouts and straggling reinforcements on their way from the east to join the main body, now in the neighborhood of Stein's mountain. They are keeping up a regular line of communication between the lava bed region and the place of rendezvous, and watching the movement of the troops.

Jack Campbell, one of General Howard's scouts, arrived at Boise City on the 24th from Bonanza City in Lemhi county. He reports that on Thursday last the mail carrier between Salmon City and Bonanza brought the intelligence that the Indians had murdered the herders of Shoup and others who were herding stock on Crimmins creek, near Salmon City, about 60 miles distant from Bonanza. Two of the bodies of the men murdered had been found, and there were several others who were missing. This news created intense excitement, and the mines and ranches of that section were being abandoned. Ten Days' band numbers several hundred warriors, belonging nominally to the Lemhi reservation, but having their lands and hunting grounds among the settlers on the upper salmon river, and in the adjoining sections of Montana. These Indians have been foraging till discontented. Though professing friendship for the whites, they are now probably all on the war path, which will seriously complicate matters and add to the difficulty of the situation.

Big Battle Items.

Our regular correspondent, under date of the 19th, sends us the following: Cattle flourishing like the green bay horse.

Thirty-four scholars in attendance at our district school.

Marsh & Co. are rushing the wheels of their steam saw-mill.

Mr. Bland's family at the steam-mill have the whooping-cough.

Obchain & Cameron's lightning express brings saw-logs in lively.

We have not been "salmoned." Jim Mann's fish-trap will not let them come up the stream.

Election passed off quietly. No fire-water. Our Judges and Clerks looked as dry as smoked salmon. Twenty-seven votes cast—15 Republican and 12 Democratic. Fourteen patriots did not go to the polls to exercise the right of suffrage.

ESCAPED.—Bargemen, alias Schultz, and Chas. Wilson, two convicts confined in the penitentiary, who were considered "trusty," took leave of that institution on the 8th. They had been at work for George Collins, on his brick-yard, and went that day to take dinner at his house, forgetting to return. Their time was almost out. There is a reward of $300 offered for their capture. Wilson was sent from this county for horse-stealing.

In the whole history of medicine, no preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERUB PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary coughs, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in the throat and lung disorders of children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the CHERUB PECTORAL exclusively in their practice, and Clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure when cures are possible. For sale by dealers.
