EUREKA MILLS. NEGROES EMIGRATING TO KANSAS —It appears that a good many colored people are emigrating from the S. Utah to Kansas. They do not go to New England, luckily for themselves, where the long range admirers of the race do not wish them. If they can withstand the rigors of a Kansas winter, of deep snow and intense cold, the emigration may largely increase in coming years, as there are vast tracts of land in that State to locate upon, for farming purposes, and it is good for corn—a crop the negroes generally know how to cultivate. It will be interesting to watch the effect of this emigration in two or three years, for it will somewhat tend to solve the problem of the colored people to manage for themselves in agricultural pursuits, away from cities, and not as hands in the employ of white men.

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS.

New York, April 23.—General John A. Dix died to-night at 11:30. Maud Miller, daughter of Joaquin, is now playing at the Portland theater.

The American horse, Parolo, won the city and suburban handicap at London on the 22d. Failure follows failure in San Francisco, until they scarcely attract more than a passing notice.

Twenty per cent. of the claims already made under the new pension bill are said to be fraudulent. The opposition line will immediately supply the place of the wrecked Great Republic with a new steamer.

Grover has re-introduced the bill of last session to reimburse the State of Oregon for expenditures during the Modoc war.

The sheriff of Benton county offers a reward of $200 for the arrest of W. F. Rayburn, who escaped from the jail at Corvallis recently.

Citizens on the Mather river, Grant county, are preparing to give the Indians a warm reception should they show light this summer.

Immigration is rapidly flowing into Southern Oregon. Every train that arrives in Roseburg brings with it settlers, visitors and prospectors.

A whale was seen with a line and a buoy attached to it. The crew of the Bobolink gave chase, but failed to capture it.

The seat of Congressman Whiteaker has been contested by Dr. McDowell of Salem. He received, we believe, one vote, and we suppose that he cast that for himself.

The Pioneer oil mills, at Salem, are now running on full time. They are daily turning out about 200 gallons of oil, of superior quality. The company find good demand and ready sale for this production.

Grant and Wheeler vs. Tilden and Hendricks, the Chicago Times (Ind.) thinks the ticket will be in 1880. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.) believes that the people will have to choose between Tilden and Grant.

The Astorian says steamers pass over the bar, both in and out, very often in the night time, and will continue to do so. It charges the Great Republic disaster on the inattention of the government and its niggardly policy.

The Potter committee made voluminous reports, both majority and minority, the former clearly setting forth the frauds by which the Presidency was secured to the defeated candidate, and the latter mainly distorting the facts concerning the elpher dispatches not stolen and burned by the Radical managers.

Another Chinaman was admitted to citizenship last week, in New York City by a local judge. He professes to be a Christian, a member of the Protestant Episcopal church, and has resided in this country five years. It is a comfort to know that none of the race can be naturalized in this State and any who are, in other States, cannot vote here.

There is an immense tide of immigration westward this Spring. Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, as well as fascinating Oregon, are attracting many of the best people of the middle and eastern States, as well as a large foreign element, to follow the setting sun in hopes of bettering their fortune. In a few years the center of population promises to be many hundreds of miles west of where it is now located.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune at Leadville, Colorado, writes that miners are flocking to the rich fields of that region at the rate of eight hundred a week. Ore is taken out worth three dollars a pound. It is thought the locality of the present camp will yield $36,000,000 of precious metals per year, and there are valleys and ranges adjacent to the camp ever more rich in mines, which have not yet been fully explored.

THE CABINET IN CONGRESS.—Senator Pendleton has introduced a bill in the Senate which deserves early attention. It provides that the members of the Cabinet shall be entitled to occupy seats on the floor of the Senate and House of Representatives, with the right to participate in debate on matters relating to the business of their respective departments, on terms such rules as may be prescribed by the Senate and House respectively.

THE SECRETARY OF WAR directs that hereafter all horses and mules inspected and condemned as unfit for military service will be advertised for sale, and be disposed of within ten days from date of advertisement; and if not sold within the ten days will be shot on the eleventh day.

AN EXPENSIVE BABY.—The most expensive baby of which we have any record at present, is his little Imperial highness, the Grand Duke Michael, of Russia. He is but four months old, and yet he has a household of fifteen people, and $14,000 a year allowed for his expenditures.

BLACKBURN AND GARFIELD.

The Radical press association took special pains to telegraph Garfield's speech to this coast, but never so much as gave intimation what Democrats said in reply. The following extract from Blackburn's speech was a clincher for the Ohio statesman, and places him and Hayes in a very unenviable predicament before the country. Blackburn said:

Garfield himself has a record on this question. He cited the cases where, time after time, Garfield had acted against the very position he now assumes. On March 2, 1867, Andrew Johnson had signed an army appropriation bill under protest. Was there no coercion then? He had found that in the Thirty-ninth Congress that had occurred which would never fade from the minds of the American people. He referred to the effort which was made, which came so high resulting in the impeachment of the chief executive of the country. There were two principal counts in this indictment, on which it was proposed to impeach the executive. One was the exercise of the veto power, and the other his interference, not in elections, but to prevent the interference of the army power in elections. The counts have been voted on more than once, and the gentleman from Ohio was on record every time as voting in their favor, and he had been supported in his action, and had standing by him, voting side by side with him to impeach the President for the exercise of the veto power, one the comparatively obscure, and who, for a combination of accidents, would have remained in this day, and until his dying day, in that obscurity for which nature and his Creator seemed to have designed him. Side by side with the gentleman from Ohio had stood and voted Mr. Hayes, of the same State [Applause on the Democratic side and in the galleries], and now what sort of authority had the gentleman from Ohio come to threaten the House with a probable and possible action of the Executive? Let one take the darkened pages of his country's history for the last seventeen long years, and read it carefully, and I tell me then whether it lies in the mouth of his leader of this "new party," but new name party, to whom the score of revolutionary legislation or the extraneous introduction of legislation on appropriation bills. Better far, in the face of the record which they have made; better to dwell on a confirmed inebriate as he listens to the virtues of temperance; or better let the queen of the demi-monde elaborate on the beauties of female virtue; or let the devil prate of the scheme of universal redemption—that that honilies on good morals, and lectures on revolutionary legislation, be delivered from such sources.

SEND ALONG THE MINERAL WATER.—At the meeting of the Oregon State Medical Society last year, says the "Oregonian," a committee was appointed to report at the annual meeting, next June, upon the locality, chemical and medical qualities of the various mineral springs of Oregon and other sections of the northwest. Any person who may know of any valuable mineral waters will confer a favor on the committee by sending a specimen of the same, not less than a quart in amount, together with a statement of the locality, accommodations for strangers, etc., to R. G. Rex, M. D., Portland. A chemical analysis will be made, the results submitted to the State Medical Society, and a copy of the transactions of the society containing the report forwarded to all those from whom such specimens are received. The specimens should be sent as soon as possible, and not later than the 1st of June.

THE SALT LAKE TRIBUNE says that Brorsen's comet is now visible in the Western sky through a good telescope. Its diameter is four times that of the earth, and its tail 500,000 miles in length. It will attain its greatest brightness about the 30th of April. No estimate has been made of its speed, but it is presumed to be the swiftest tramp in the heavens. Its distance from the earth is estimated at 60,000,000 miles by those who are supposed to be acquainted with comets.

A MAN in St. Paul took out a life insurance policy for $5,000, one of the printed conditions being that the company need pay nothing if he committed suicide. He became insane, and killed himself. His widow sued for the $5,000 on the ground that, being driven to self-destruction by insanity, a disease does not constitute a violation of the suicide clause, which can be applied to criminal self-destruction only. The Minnesota supreme court decided for the widow.

SILVER MINES IN OREGON.—From present indications, Baker county, Oregon, will soon become as celebrated for the production of the precious metals as Nevada or Utah. No country in the world has ever produced richer developments for the same amount of labor expended, as can be seen at the several places now being worked, particularly at one known as the Rye Valley, or old Gre-n discovery, which is now being carried on by a company of some of the most prominent citizens of Portland.

SHOULD AID THEM.—In common justice to many of the brave men who fought in defense of the early pioneers of Oregon, we think our Senators and Representatives might turn their attention to the introduction of, and work for a bill extending land warrants to the volunteers in the Rogue river wars of 1855-6. There are but few of the survivors of the many battles then fought in behalf of the miners and settlers of Southern Oregon now left, and as the volunteers furnished the greater portion of the arms and equipments used at the time, and many of them lost the little fortunes they possessed by Indian raids, it would not only be an act of justice on the part of the government to give them a home in their declining days, or help them to make one by the issuance of a land warrant, but also prove that the country feels grateful for the deeds performed by its defenders. —Roseburg Independent.

THE COMMIS-IONER OF PENSIONS is sending out circulars to pensioners informing them of the provisions and how to make application for the payment of arrears of pension. He advises all such to avoid agents and attorneys, and to file their cases with the department direct, assuring them that they will receive attention quite as early, and save a great expense.

It can be said that what is true in this case is true in all others. The Departments at Washington will attend to any legitimate business brought to their attention, and will protect the interests of correspondents quite as well, on application, as if important to do so by a claim agent. All that is necessary to do is to address the head of the Department or Division to whose care the class of business to which attention is to be called is entrusted.

BIG FEET.—In one of the recent heavy snow storms on the Central, a train of cars was blockaded ten miles from the nearest dwelling, and for a time it was feared that the most disastrous consequences would ensue. The engine was powerless, the children were crying for food, and mothers commenced to grow pale when a brave hearted Buffalo girl came forward and with a quiet determination pulled off her shoe. For a moment the people stared in amazement, and then as her intentions gradually dawned upon their minds, a wild shout went up, hurling back a defiance in the teeth of the raging storm. With all possible speed the shoe was attached to the front of the engine, the engineer gained fresh courage, and turning on the steam, the locomotive shot forward, while the novel snow-plow threw the snow in high masses to the right and left. It was a desperate chance, but it succeeded, and the story of the size of the heroic girl's foot will be handed down to the succeeding generations of those who were on the threatened train.
