TOO LATE. "Has a Reno sufferer any chance in this 'ere town?" remarked a bleary-eyed, crimson-nosed, whisky-soaked individual, pensively addressing a picture on the wall, but really aiming his speech at the bar-keeper.

"Not here," interposed the pained dispenser of spirits; "not here, young fellow. Any man who can walk from Reno to Eureka in three days is a concentrated, double-distilled daredevil for stopping here. Go right along to Colgate and make a match with O'Leary; that's what you want to do, and just commence passing one foot before the other now, or I'll—"

"What he would have done is hard to tell, for the bumper lit out at a remarkably fast gait until he reached the middle of the street, where he paused, sighed, shook his head sadly and said quizzically to himself:

"I thought I was crowding the mourners a little. Four into four hundred is a hundred miles a day. That game won't work until next week, but who would have thought the shrimp of a bar-keeper was a lightning calculator?"

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.—There is nothing that is calculated to discourage the publisher of a good local paper it is to have accounts preferred to him and to notice that the bill-heads on which the charges are made are printed at some point a trifling distance from the town.

BOYS AND TOBACCO.—Physicians, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, are well agreed that the use of tobacco by growing boys is full of danger.

KEEP YOUR APPOINTMENTS.—If the failure to keep an appointment is not really a crime, it very nearly approaches one.

MOVED.—Pete, of Memphis, was a great exhibitor in camp-meeting, and always concluded his exhibition by saying that whenever the Lord called for him he was ready to go.
