

TO ADVERTISERS.

The TIMES has the largest circulation ever attained in Southern Oregon by any newspaper and therefore offers superior inducements to advertisers.

ALL SORTS.

The boy who was kept in after school for bad orthography said he was spell-bound.

The excitement about rich placer mines supposed to be found in the Palouse country doesn't seem to be well founded.

Salesmen will tell you that there is very little sitting down in a store that keeps a standing advertisement in a newspaper.

We see by an exchange that Bonner's racer, Rara, has beaten the fast time recently made by St. Julian in California.

A young lady was heard to remark in regard to her father's snoring, that "the neighbors all set out their wash-tubs, thinking that a thunder storm was coming up."

She was an Albany lady who informed a visitor who came to see her new house that she was having "ticks" made in the walls in which to place statues, and in one of them a burst of her husband's.

Spain meditates carrying out numerous reforms in Cuba, but will probably be a hundred years about it. If there is anything a Spanish official requires plenty of, it is leisure. He takes his time.

At Galesburg, Ill., some one in a crowd of about 15,000 threw an egg which struck Gen. Grant on the side of the head. A reward of $500 was offered for the miscreant, but he could not be found.

It is roughly estimated that the next census, the taking of which will be begun on the first of June next by the twenty thousand enumerators, will show the population of the United States to be over fifty-five millions.

A man out West has sued a newspaper for libel, because it said he killed a man. The newspaper wants to compromise and advises him to make the report true by killing somebody. He has accepted the advice and is hunting for the editor.

Did you ever notice a poor chap that stands in the first picture of the almanac with fish and sheep and a scorpion and a bull and a twin, etc., around him? Did you ever notice that he was naked and had nothing in his stomach? Well, that poor fellow used to edit a paper.

Charles the Simple once remarked to his fool, Jean, that he thought they had better change places. As Jean did not seem well pleased with the proposal, Charles asked him if he was not content with the idea of being a king. "Oh, content enough," was the reply. "But I should be exceedingly ashamed of such a fool."

One Saturday late, at the old horse sale of Wells, Fargo & Co., at Portland, a young man purchased a black valise for a dollar or two. He opened it and found it filled with clothing; also a gold watch and chain, a silver cup and some very fine jewelry of a miscellaneous character. Another man paid $86 for a box of that year's almanac.

If a young lady appears on the street with her hat battered in, the general exclamation is, "Oh, how pretty!" or "What jaunty style!" But just let a young man make his appearance with his hat either knocked out of shape or set upon the side of his head, and every lady met will go straightway home and proclaim to the household: "I saw Mr. So-and-so down town drunk."

San Francisco is probably the most cosmopolitan city in the United States. An English traveler lately visiting there, writes: "I had my boots blacked by an African, my chin shaved by a European, and my bed made by an Asiatic; a Frenchman cooked my dinner, an Englishman showed me my seat, an Irishman changed my plate, a Chinaman washed my table napkin, and a German handed me my bill."

In speaking of the capture of John Flanel in this place, by Sheriff Bybee, of Jackson county, Oregon, the Roseburg "Star" says that the sheriff deserves great credit for bringing the criminal to justice in the face of so much danger. The same paper says that about fifteen or twenty of our citizens banded together to resist the sheriff, alleging that the prisoner should not be taken without a requisition from the Governor. This is new to us. If the editor of the Roseburg "Star" should ever be compelled to flee from justice, let him not come to Crescent City in the hope that our citizens will resist an officer who holds a warrant for his arrest.—(Crescent City Courier.)

EFFECT OF MOUNTAIN AIR.—A young lady from one of our valley towns, disappointed in love last spring, pined and pined to a shadow, and to save the necessity of ordering a pine coffin, her friends sent her to Hood River. After feasting on the mammoth vegetables and luscious fruits of that region, breathing the mountain air and drinking snow water through the Lunar months, she returned home weighing 150 pounds, and is now watching for a chance to whip the man who threw off on her.

THE DAY'S WORK.—Rev. J. R. N. Bell is a worker, as the following will explain: Last Sabbath, after a hard week's work in the Teachers' Institute, he rode some forty miles, preached two sermons and married two couples in different localities. All this work was performed between "sun and sun," altho' the roads were in a terribly bad condition. Bro. Bell appeared to enjoy it, as he was "frisky" as ever on the morning following, and says he enjoys those kind of things.—[Plainsdealer.]

HOW THEY SEE IT.—The Yreka "Journal" sees an advantage to be gained by the farmers of Northern California in the building of a good wagon road from Jacksonville to Crescent City that has not been mentioned prominently heretofore. The fact of our farmers finding a much better market for their produce than Siskiyou county offers will relieve the Siskiyou farmers of the "routin competition," which they now complain of at the hands of Southern Oregon farmers.

Matine News.

Hop Bitters, which are advertised in our columns, are a sure cure for ague, biliousness and kidney complaints. Those who use them say they cannot be too highly recommended. Those afflicted should give them a fair trial, and will become thereby enthusiastic in the praise of their curative qualities.—[Portland Argus.]

Castoria

Millions of Mothers express their delight over Castoria. It is nature's remedy for assimilating the food. Unlike Castor Oil, it is pleasant to take, and unlike Morphine Syrup, it is harmless. Castoria regulates the Bowels, destroys Worms, Cures Sour Curd and Wind Colic, and allays Feverishness. What gives health to the Child, promotes rest for the Mother. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is the most reliable, effective and popular article dispensed by Druggists.
