

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

A Democratic Convention for Jackson County is hereby called to be held at the Court House in Jacksonville on at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating a Legislative and county ticket and transacting such other business as may come before the Convention.

Naturday, May 22, 1880.

Table with 2 columns: Precinct Name and Delegates. Includes Ashland, Applegate, Big Butte, Chimney Rock, etc.

THE RED MEN'S CELEBRATION.

For months past the faithful members of Oregonian-Pocahontas Tribe No. 1, Imp. O. R. M., had been making active preparations for the grand and appropriate celebration of St. Tammany's day, and since the first announcement to effect all our citizens had entered into the spirit of the affair, so that the 12th of May were the happy and unusual occasion.

The morning of the 11th dawned with a few scattering clouds perceptible here and there, but when the sun came out, it was as if a banner were unfurled, which gave assurance that if when we met it would at least not fail to afford an early hour a large number of vehicles filled with ladies and gentlemen, and headed by the Jacksonville Brass Band, formed in procession and started to meet the warriors of Ika Tribe No. 53 of Yreka, their squaws and ponies, and escort them to the burning of the Oregonian. Arriving at the grounds in the vicinity of Phoenix, they were met long awaiting the Ika, who appeared to the number of over thirty. Some had preceded them, for the whole number of visitors reached nearly forty, and comprised Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. Thea Young, Mr. and Mrs. F. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ranous, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. B. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Munro, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Niles, S. J. Soule and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Niles, Mrs. A. W. Hitters, Mrs. Thos. Orr and daughter, Misses Sophie and Adele Wilkinson, Minnie Dewitt, Emma Schlagel and Clara Hovey, and R. E. Gibbs, Chas. LeBeau, A. D. Terwilliger, L. Nordheim and P. G. Strickland and C. C. Dixon of Klamath Tribe. Refreshments, including the large procession, thus interchanged, reformed and proceeded toward Jacksonville, where it arrived at about 12 o'clock, and was received with the firing of anvils and other manifestations of a hearty welcome.

ST. TAMMANY'S DAY.

The long looked for 12th opened auspiciously, but a large number of people from every part of Southern Oregon had nevertheless assembled to witness the celebration of this anniversary of the Red Men's patron Saint, Tammany. By the time the procession formed the streets were filled with expectant spectators, who fully entered into the spirit of the occasion and were quite appreciative throughout. It was indeed an imposing sight to see the large procession of Red Men, decked out in their rich, handsome regalia, march through the principal thoroughfares of the town in the following order, under the direction of T. J. McKenzie, Great Mithenawa, and Milo W. In, Second Mithenawa; Jacksonville Brass Band, Colors of the Order, Oregonian-Pocahontas Tribe No. 1, Ika Tribe No. 53 of Yreka, Members of the Great Council of Oregon and California. Never before has a larger or more impressive scene of this kind been witnessed in this section. Arriving at the district school-house, which was crowded to overflowing, an excellent programme of exercises was observed, which commenced with a choice tune by the Brass Band. Next came a song entitled "Welcome, Tonight," by the Glee Club, composed of Misses Katie D. Swin, Tillie Miller, Isabel Young, Cora and Maggie Linn, Minnie Pape, and Messrs R. S. Dunlap, Henry Pape, Sr., S. Wise and R. H. Klippel, accompanied by Miss Ida Klippel, who gracefully officiated as organist. The prayer was delivered in a clear tone by the Prophet, H. K. Hanna, who also read the dispensation with effect. The Glee Club then favored the assemblage with another song, "Sunrise," when E. D. Fondray, Esq., the orator of the day, or in Red Men's parlance, Long Talk, was introduced. This gentleman's effort is highly commended, being a faithful and extended resume of Red-Manship from its inception down to the present time, and abounding in valuable information and statistics concerning the order. It was concluded in excellent language and left a good impression by those in attendance. Four laudable groanings with another song, "Sunrise," by the Glee Club, ended the vocal music, and was followed by the recitation of one of Samuel L. Simpson's sweetest and best poems, by Rolt A. Miller. It had been written expressly for this occasion, and the first-class style and elocutionary skill that characterized its rendition added to the effect. With so much favor did the poem meet, and so great has been the demand for it, that by general request we reproduce it here.

The Feast of the Flower Moon.

The circle of days is clasped and completed, And the flowers bring gold to the bridal of Faith. For the first time life is restored and repeated In the barrenness of the forest of death. When the blue-iris and violet come back together, Blown by the south wind, blue blossom and yellow, With the music and fragrance of Spring's first breath.

The flower will fade when its odor is wasted, And the heart must grow pale when its passion is spent. But the cup of the gods the great lips have once tasted, Is ever wreathed for the banquet awaiting them still. The daisies awake in the vernal adorning, And the dead that sleep under, so beautiful morning, Will greet the red sun on his orient hill.

In the robes of her queenhood the young moon of flowers Goes up to her temple of azure and pearl, And the incense of beauty awakens the hours. That salute her and pass in a gleaming swirl. And waiting for her in the gardens of pleasure And waiting for her in the gardens of pleasure And waiting for her in the gardens of pleasure.

'Tis a time we have chosen, the time of all others, For the feast and oblation of Tammany's day, And in the gold chain of the Totemic brothers With the chaplets that garnished the altar of May— In the beauty and mystery, dear and yet dying, When the waters sing low and the breezes are sighing, The refrain of a race that has faded away.

In the darkness of days when the hatchet was hid, And the crescent shone went mooning by, From a star that shone out when the cloud-rack was rifted, Our illustrious emblems were draped from the sky. Freedom, enriched with the blood of the dearest, Friendship, forever serene and clearest, And the gem in whose luster all sorrows must die.

And the brow of the soldier was suddenly lighted, And his strong hand was clasped on the shield, And the anguish of battle was strangely re-quieted, And dissolved like a cloud in the holy emprise; For so bright his plume to the circle fraternal Surrounding the gift of the Spirit supernatural— The reward of the true and delight of the wise.

On the star-tented fields of the blue empyrean There are circles in circles that gleam the night, As for us, in the vales of the meek Galilee, The historical orders, from vases of light, Scatter the perfume and treasure of heaven— Each in the orbit the Spirit has given, And serene as the stars in the tempests despite.

In the virtues we keep and the good that we do, The memorial traces of glory remain, For the Sackems sleep in the world's weary clatter, For a strange race, and wise in each praege and omen— As grand as the Greek and as proud as the Roman, And so proud and calm in all pleasure and pain.

O, the wild life they led, the imperial vagrance With its dilance of love and its banquet of war, Where the sycamores rustled and pines wafted fragrance, And the winds which were aglow with the rose and the star; But the grasses grow green, and the green grasses wither, And the winds which were the waves, and the waves are white, For they wander no more by the rivers afar.

After life's changing story, the brave and big-hearted Are scattered and encamped in some radiant vale, And they lightly resume the bright threads that were parted, And the echoes of song that enliven the tale, And we hunt the old forests with dreamy white firs, For the classic medallions and lost arts and graces Of the race that has silently passed from the pale.

In the tricky paraly of our conquests of learning, In the tangle of courts and the clamor of marts, There snatching at last but a desolate yearning, And a skeleton stalks in our gossamer arts, And we curse as we strike to a dusty golden, Curse with hot lips, as our tortures embolden, Till the ways of freedom has conquered our hearts.

On the trails of the Red Men, though fading, forsaken, It is left to gather the wild flowers of truth, And rekindle the camp-fire, and gently awaken The virtues forever refulgent in youth, Till the beautiful Triad, arisen and shining, Illumine the ways of our toiling and pining, With its brilliant twin stars in a crescent of ruth.

In the forests embathed, and mountains of splendor, Where the Siskiyous call to the stony Cascades, Surely Freedom shall find a strong arm to defend, And the temples of Friendship arise in the glades— And the mantle of Charity never be narrow, In the shadow of want or the chamber of sorrow, While the May moon returns with our tears on its face.

Another tune by the Band closed the exercises and the crowd dispersed, while the Red Men repaired to their wigwam in double-quick time to the patterning rain. We cannot close this chapter without making special mention of the excellent vocal music. The Glee Club had been assiduous in efforts, and we can truthfully say that never has a Southern Oregon audience been favored with better or more artistically rendered songs than were those sung upon this occasion. The band also outdid itself.

THE COLLATION.

At about two o'clock in the afternoon the members of the Tribes, with their ladies and a invited guests, including the presiding officers of the various benevolent societies and members of the press, assembled in the spacious dining-room of Holt's new hotel to partake of the splendid collation that had been prepared. This entertainment proved a delightful novelty and was duly appreciated by those in attendance. Four laudable groanings with another song, "Sunrise," by the Glee Club, ended the vocal music, and was followed by the recitation of one of Samuel L. Simpson's sweetest and best poems, by Rolt A. Miller. It had been written expressly for this occasion, and the first-class style and elocutionary skill that characterized its rendition added to the effect. With so much favor did the poem meet, and so great has been the demand for it, that by general request we reproduce it here.

The Feast of the Flower Moon.

The circle of days is clasped and completed, And the flowers bring gold to the bridal of Faith. For the first time life is restored and repeated In the barrenness of the forest of death. When the blue-iris and violet come back together, Blown by the south wind, blue blossom and yellow, With the music and fragrance of Spring's first breath.

The flower will fade when its odor is wasted, And the heart must grow pale when its passion is spent. But the cup of the gods the great lips have once tasted, Is ever wreathed for the banquet awaiting them still. The daisies awake in the vernal adorning, And the dead that sleep under, so beautiful morning, Will greet the red sun on his orient hill.

In the robes of her queenhood the young moon of flowers Goes up to her temple of azure and pearl, And the incense of beauty awakens the hours. That salute her and pass in a gleaming swirl. And waiting for her in the gardens of pleasure And waiting for her in the gardens of pleasure And waiting for her in the gardens of pleasure.

'Tis a time we have chosen, the time of all others, For the feast and oblation of Tammany's day, And in the gold chain of the Totemic brothers With the chaplets that garnished the altar of May— In the beauty and mystery, dear and yet dying, When the waters sing low and the breezes are sighing, The refrain of a race that has faded away.

In the darkness of days when the hatchet was hid, And the crescent shone went mooning by, From a star that shone out when the cloud-rack was rifted, Our illustrious emblems were draped from the sky. Freedom, enriched with the blood of the dearest, Friendship, forever serene and clearest, And the gem in whose luster all sorrows must die.

And the brow of the soldier was suddenly lighted, And his strong hand was clasped on the shield, And the anguish of battle was strangely re-quieted, And dissolved like a cloud in the holy emprise; For so bright his plume to the circle fraternal Surrounding the gift of the Spirit supernatural— The reward of the true and delight of the wise.

On the star-tented fields of the blue empyrean There are circles in circles that gleam the night, As for us, in the vales of the meek Galilee, The historical orders, from vases of light, Scatter the perfume and treasure of heaven— Each in the orbit the Spirit has given, And serene as the stars in the tempests despite.

In the virtues we keep and the good that we do, The memorial traces of glory remain, For the Sackems sleep in the world's weary clatter, For a strange race, and wise in each praege and omen— As grand as the Greek and as proud as the Roman, And so proud and calm in all pleasure and pain.

O, the wild life they led, the imperial vagrance With its dilance of love and its banquet of war, Where the sycamores rustled and pines wafted fragrance, And the winds which were aglow with the rose and the star; But the grasses grow green, and the green grasses wither, And the winds which were the waves, and the waves are white, For they wander no more by the rivers afar.

After life's changing story, the brave and big-hearted Are scattered and encamped in some radiant vale, And they lightly resume the bright threads that were parted, And the echoes of song that enliven the tale, And we hunt the old forests with dreamy white firs, For the classic medallions and lost arts and graces Of the race that has silently passed from the pale.

In the tricky paraly of our conquests of learning, In the tangle of courts and the clamor of marts, There snatching at last but a desolate yearning, And a skeleton stalks in our gossamer arts, And we curse as we strike to a dusty golden, Curse with hot lips, as our tortures embolden, Till the ways of freedom has conquered our hearts.

On the trails of the Red Men, though fading, forsaken, It is left to gather the wild flowers of truth, And rekindle the camp-fire, and gently awaken The virtues forever refulgent in youth, Till the beautiful Triad, arisen and shining, Illumine the ways of our toiling and pining, With its brilliant twin stars in a crescent of ruth.

In the forests embathed, and mountains of splendor, Where the Siskiyous call to the stony Cascades, Surely Freedom shall find a strong arm to defend, And the temples of Friendship arise in the glades— And the mantle of Charity never be narrow, In the shadow of want or the chamber of sorrow, While the May moon returns with our tears on its face.

BRIEF REFERENCE.

Rally, Democrats. Mining news scarce. Fine picnic weather. Roads improving fast. This is a Democratic year. Stages are making good time. Republican rally next Tuesday. Don't forget the party to-night. What has become of the Legion of Honor? The earth is covered with a mantle of green. Choice wool is rated at 27c in the San Francisco market.

Miss Dora Reames of Eden is paying Jacksonville a visit.

There are eight patients in the County Hospital at present.

A large variety of wall paper just received at the N. Y. Store.

M. Menor is preparing to enlarge his residence considerably.

Men's Panama straw hats sold at half-price at the N. Y. Store.

A fine oil painting of Rogue river valley will be raffled off at Groh & Ulrich's.

Newman Fisher received more new goods this week. Call and see them.

Mesdames Kreuzer and Bilger returned from the Willamette valley this week.

Our old friend Jas. Lawrence, now a resident of Ashland, paid us a visit this week.

The market is being supplied with fine salmon from Applegate by Cameron Bros.

The Champions of Honor are flourishing wherever the order has been introduced.

Campaign printing for all parties executed on short notice at the very lowest rates.

D. M. McMenamy started for Yreka this week with a load of bacon for that market.

A social party will take place at the Club Room this evening. Everybody is invited.

Egan & Co. have resumed work on their quartz ledge in the Willow Springs district.

John M. Payne has been appointed postmaster of Sam's valley P. O. A good appointment.

A large assortment of ladies' hats, flowers and trimmings just received at the New York Store.

Heaton Fox will retail a kilo of 200,000 bricks chiefly for the burn trade of Ashland this year.

Jack McLean painted the flag staff in front of the Court House from top to bottom last Saturday.

Max Muller and wife returned from San Francisco Wednesday, after an absence of several weeks.

Reames Bros. are in receipt of more new goods and are fully prepared to meet the wants of the trade.

J. C. Flood, Jr., who has been paying Jacksonville a visit, returning to Roseburg Tuesday.

Marshal Crosby this week received a hand some bill from San Francisco. The mischief one will take notice.

R. Koller will soon commence the construction of a neat residence on the north side of his present premises.

St. Reynolds informs us that the miners of Sterling are still busily engaged in piping and anticipate a favorable crop.

The students of St. Mary's Academy enjoyed a pleasant picnic on the banks of Rogue river, below Ilybe's ferry, yesterday.

Much local and other interesting matter will be found on the first page and in the supplement to this edition of the Times.

Eckelson, Chappel & Co. made a clean-up this week, obtaining 53 ounces of gold. This is the result of a twenty-day run.

Our Waddo correspondent says: Surveyor Howard is busy on the survey of the C. C. W. R. and reports everything favorable.

A number of ladies and gentlemen from town paid the Sterling, Eckelson, Chappel & Co., and otherwise busy yesterday.

Logg & McDonald cleaned up nearly 100 ounces of gold last week and have plenty more of the same kind of clean-up to do.

Annexation of Josephine to Jackson county is meeting with much favor in the former, and this subject will be agitated at the proper time.

Geo. Stephenson lost his valuable "Sir Walter" colt last week. This is a great loss to him, as it was one of the finest yearlings in the valley.

Geo. M. Love started for California this week to meet his sister, Miss Mammie, who is about returning home from Mills' Seminary, Oakland.

The county tickets will both be in the field next week and the successful aspirants should remember that Dillon keeps the best liquors and cigars.

The celebrated Walter A. Wood mower and other first-class agricultural implements for sale at Mrs. Bilger's hardware store. See advertisement.

Ben Haymond was in town Tuesday, from whom we learn that Hays & Magruder, who have an abundance of water and are piping uninterruptedly.

As the pleasant Summer days approach, the buggy riding season comes to hand, and don't you forget that you can get the best turn-outs at Cardwell's livery stable.

W. P. Kealy of Corvallis, partner of the late W. B. Carter at the time of his death, has been appointed State Printer by Governor Thayer during the interregnum.

The roads between this place and Roseburg are said to be in a worse condition than ever, owing to late rains. Some teamsters were obliged to turn back in consequence.

Sheep are being sheared and considerably wool has already been shipped below. The export will hardly be as good as last year, owing to the severe winter just experienced.

Dr. Coon is still engaged in organizing Councils of the Champions of Honor in Jackson county, with good success. He intended to institute one at Willow Springs last night.

John A. Boyer, representative to the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge Encampment from Jacksonville, left for Portland Sunday to attend the annual session which convened this week.

In the case of J. H. Miller vs. E. and W. D. Corpe, a Lake county case up for trial at Roseburg last week, plaintiff's motion to open default and set aside judgment was overruled.

Capt. Seton is without a boarder again, the Celestial confined in the jail having concluded to save the county the expense of keeping him until June and then sending him to the Penitentiary.

A Fine Thing for the Teeth.

Fragrant SOZODONT is a composition of the purest and choicest ingredients of the Oriental vegetable kingdom. Every ingredient is well known to have a beneficial effect on the teeth and gums. Its embalming or anesthetic property and aromatic fragrance makes it a toilet luxury. SOZODONT removes all disagreeable odors from the breath caused by carabid, bad teeth, &c. It is entirely free from the injurious and aerial properties of tooth pastes and powders which destroy the enamel. One denture will last for years.

Patterson & Co. of the Big Butte mill desire to let the contract for hauling 15,000 feet of lumber to Eagle Point and from forty to sixty thousand feet to Ashland. See advertisement elsewhere.

Hon. A. C. Jones returned from Roseburg Tuesday. He gives a favorable account of the political situation, and says that of all the flat failures he ever witnessed Sidney Dell's was the flattest.

J. T. Rainey has just sheared his band of sheep, obtaining 6,000 pounds of wool from about 1,400 head. He has been quite fortunate during the winter, losing only a small percentage.

A correspondent of the TIMES, writing from Lakeview under date of the 12th, says that Lake county will give Judge Prim 150 majority and that the other Democratic candidates will not be far behind.

While returning to Yreka E. H. Schofield's best friend sustained a fracture, which may prove fatal. The axle of the vehicle he was navigating broke near Ashland and seriously injured his back.

D. Reynolds of Table Rock was in town Tuesday and says that never before were the gallant Democracy of that precinct more united and hopeful. A convincing majority for the wool ticket may be expected.

The first assortment of ceiling cards ever brought to Oregon has just been received at the TIMES office. They include the beautiful gilded, plain white, chrome, etc., and are of the latest and most popular styles.

The party at Post's creek in aid of the district school was a grand success in every particular, fifty-six tickets being sold. The music by Orme Bros. could not have been better and the basket supper was beautiful and luxurious.

The Ashland primary meeting was well attended and harmonious throughout. Capt. Thos. Smith acted as chairman and E. J. Farlow as secretary. W. C. Daley, Thos. Smith, A. S. Jacobs and W. R. Jones were chosen delegates.

We notice that the "Editorial Note" in the "Sentinel" were all drawn in favor of the TIMES this week. However, if they are not endorsed by some one, they will not pass current in this county and we are no letter of them here.

The Singer is the best of all sewing-machines. It costs more than other first-class machines, and can be purchased on more favorable terms than any; but never do not deceive into buying any cheap worthless affair, but get a Singer.

Archbishop Seiders held services at the Catholic Church last Sunday. A large audience was present to hear the reverend gentleman, among whom were many from every portion of the county. The sacrament of confirmation was administered to many candidates.

The Democracy of Josephine county is enthusiastic and sanguine of success, while its opponents are divided and crestfallen. There are many Republicans and Greenbackers who will refuse to swallow the dose prescribed at Wilderville on the 8th, and will either go fishing or vote the Democratic ticket.

At the primary meeting held at Eagle Point Saturday John Daley was chosen chairman and M. Parlin secretary. T. E. Nichols, Peter Simons and H. C. Fleming were elected delegates to the County Convention. F. B. Inlow was nominated for Justice of the Peace of Little Butte precinct and John A. Shipley-Constable.

The R-publians of Lake county have nominated the following ticket, which will be held left in June: Representative, O. A. Stearns; County Judge, Wm. Denny; Sheriff, C. C. Stanley; Clerk, Harry D. Tompkins; J. Frank; Commissioners, G. H. Pauland, T. J. Brattain; Assessor, J. H. Hamner; School Superintendent, J. H. Clayton; Surveyor, C. H. Dyar; Coroner, Wm. Harvey.

Common sense and the science of chemistry, when applied to butter-making, reduce the time of churning one-half, increase the product 6 per cent, the quality of the product 20 per cent, and give a rich golden color to the butter the year round. All these improvements, together with many others, result from the use of Gilt-edge Butter Maker. Sold by druggists, grocers and general storekeepers.

NOTE OF THANKS.—At a regular council of Oregonian-Pocahontas Tribe No. 1, Imp. O. R. M., held at their Wigwam on the 15th Sun, Nov. 20th, G. S. D. 289, it was resolved: 1. That the thanks of this Tribe be extended to the Masonic and Odd Fellows organizations of this place for courtesies extended to us in our late celebration of St. Tammany's day.

2. That our thanks be extended to the ladies and gentlemen of the Glee Club who aided us so materially in our festivities. 3. That the thanks of the Tribe be also due to the ladies who so artistically arranged and superintended the collation and supper spread on the feast of St. Tammany.

4. That the thanks of this Tribe be hereby extended to the generous donors of this place and vicinity for the generous manner in which they joined us in our efforts to entertain our guests, as well as for their very liberal attendance at our festivities. 5. That these resolutions be published in our local papers.

HENRY PAPS, Sachem. CHAS. W. SAVAGE, C. of R.

RESERVOIR BURST.—J. T. Layton's huge reservoir gave way Monday and flooded his diggings, the water sweeping down the flames with great velocity and causing much damage generally. Mr. Layton had not cleaned up for some time and a greater portion of the gold he would have taken out is probably lost. We understand that his loss is estimated at several thousand dollars, something that is to be regretted, as Jack is one of our most enterprising citizens and is deserving of success.

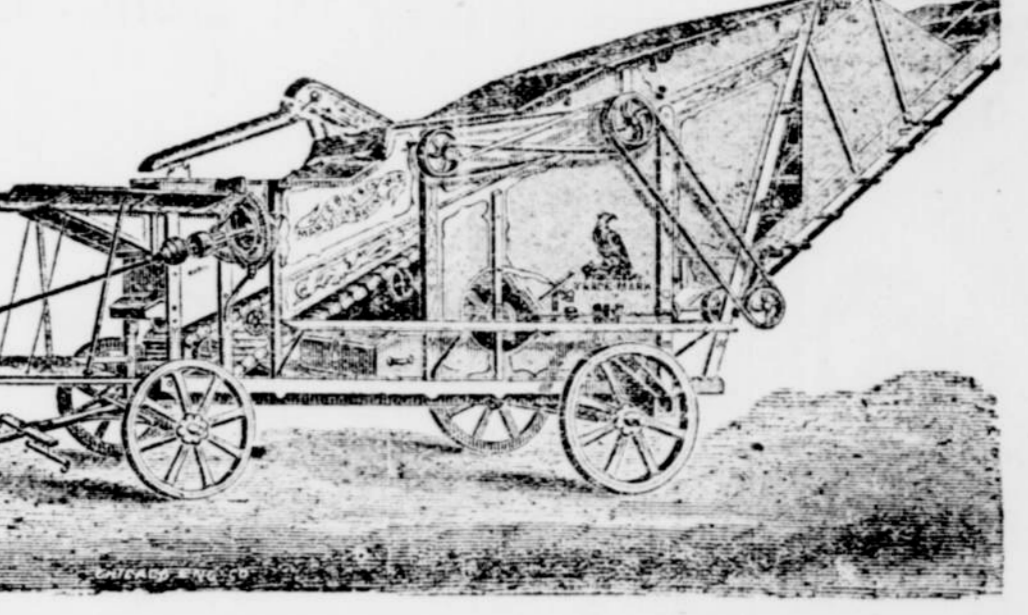

PERSONAL.—Lieut. Symonds, in charge of the improvement of the military wagon road over the Cow Creek and Grava creek hills now being made by the Government, is in town. He informs us that the work is progressing favorably, sixty men being employed and fifty more being desired immediately, who will be paid $125 per day. Lieut. Symonds will tarry with us a few days.

ON A PROFESSIONAL TOUR.—Dr. Will. Jackson, our dentist, started for Josephine county Monday and will be absent for several months. He will also visit Del Norte and Curry counties before his return. The Doctor is a first-class workman and goes well supplied with material and instruments, so that all who may require his services will be assured of satisfaction.

How to get Sick. Expose yourself in the sun and day, eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time, take all the vile nostrums advertised, and then you will want to know.

How to get Well. Which is answered in three words.—The Hop Bitters' name is on the wrapper.—I prefer.

Agency for the Celebrated J. I. CASE HEADER AND THRESHER.

AT G. KAREWSKI'S JACKSONVILLE.

THESE MACHINES have taken the lead in every State in the Union. They have been tried in Jackson county to the full satisfaction of every purchaser. Also the Agency for the best wagons on wheels of the of the following sizes: 3, 3 1/2, 3 3/4, 3 1/2, and four inch timble sking; also 1 1/2 and 1 1/4 iron axle wagons, with farm and California rack bed. Half spring demountable wagons, buggies, buckboards, side spring wagons, with and without tops. I will ENGLISH and do it more fair than any other runner, and purchasers can have the advantage of examining goods before obligating themselves. I will take all kinds of produce in exchange. Call and convince yourselves. G. KAREWSKI.

WM. ANSON WOOD'S MOWER. Fish Bros. & Co. Manufacture

FINE STOCK. REAMES BROS., CALIFORNIA ST., JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

AHEAD AS USUAL! BY ADOPTING A CASH BASIS!!

THE GREATEST REDUCTION IN PRICES Ever Known in a Regular Business.

LARGEST STOCK! GENERAL MERCHANDISE!!

GREATEST VARIETY TO SELECT FROM IN Any One Store in Southern Oregon or Northern California.

ALL FOR CASH!! OUR STOCK CONSISTS OF Spring and Summer Dry-Goods.

FANCY GOODS LADIES' DRESS GOODS, CASHMERE AND DIAGONALS, SILKS AND SATINS, BOOTS & SHOES, CLOTHING, ETC., LADIES' CALIFORNIA-MADE CLOAKS

WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE LADIES TO THE FACT THAT WE HAVE NOW ON HAND THE LARGEST AND BEST SELECTED ASSORTMENT OF LADIES' DRESS GOODS AND FANCY GOODS of every description in Southern Oregon, and we will honorably meet this line of goods on our specialty and sell them at

Cheaper than the Cheapest. To the gentlemen we say, if you want a No. 1 SUIT OF CLOTHES you must go to Reames Bros. to buy it, as we claim to have the best SUIT OF CLOTHES in Jackson county and will allow none to undersell us.

These goods were all purchased by a member of our firm from FIRST CLASS HOUSES in San Francisco and New York, and we will warrant every article and sell them cheaper for cash than as in any other store in Jackson county and will allow none to undersell us.

GROCERIES. HARDWARE, CUTLERY, GLASSWARE, CROCKERY. A FULL LINE OF ASHLAND GOODS.

Farm and Freight Wagons, Plows, Gang Plows & Sulky Plows.

In fact everything from the finest needle to a threshing-machine. Give us a call and judge for yourselves as to our capacity of furnishing goods as above. The way to make money is to save it. To save it buy cheap. To buy cheap pay CASH for your goods and buy of

REAMES BROS.

WOOL! WOOL! HIGHEST CASH PRICES!!

CARO BROS. of Roseburg, Oregon, will pay the Highest Cash Prices for Wool delivered at Roseburg. All correspondence will be promptly answered. Caro Bros., Roseburg.

Grand Opening S. F. CIGAR STORE

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS OPENED A general variety store next door to Schroy's barber shop where he will keep a full assortment of cigars, tobacco, smoking articles, candies, stationery, cutlery and toys. Give me a call. JAKE MARCUS. JOHN MILLERS.

THESE ASSORTMENT OF BROWN and White London's cutlery in the market. JOHN MILLERS.