DEMOCRATIC TIMES.

FRIDAY,........................MAY 21, 1880.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The TIMES has the largest circulation enjoyed by any newspaper published between Albany, Oregon, and Red Bluff, Cal. a distance of 500 miles---and therefore offers superior inducements to advertisers. Our list is principally confined to Jackson, Josephine and Lake counties. Business men should take note of this.

THE SUPREME COURT.

The following opinion from the Willamette Farmer, as to what a Supreme Court should be, expresses the sentiment of every honest man; and the well deserved and sensible compliment to the ability and integrity of Judges Prim and Kelly must find an echo in the heart of every true man in the State of Oregon. With this avowal from the Farmer every truly independent or non-political paper in the State has pronounced in favor of the Democratic nominees, while, on the contrary, every self-styled, brazen-lunged "independent" paper, whose editor is owned, body and soul, by some unscrupulous Shylock, has come out for the juveniles. We append the Farmer's article:

The judiciary of a State should not be subject to the caprice of politics or the schemes of politicians. If there is any department of government where the voter should judge for himself, independently and calmly, it certainly is in the exercise of suffrage for the election of a Supreme tribunal that will be the last resort for determining the rights of the people. Here, merely political considerations should be secondary; experience and legal attainment, purity of life, and excellence of character, should be the qualifications. for the judge whose decision is beyond appeal should be above reproach in private life and he should be a man in whose hands the people can know that their rights are absolutely safe.

We believe that corporations should be protected in every reasonable and proper right, and have no wish that unjust restrictions should be placed upon them. Capital and enterprise must be suitably rewarded; but while this is true it is also true that corporations need to be closely watched and held amenable to the highest principles of public policy.

The Supreme Court, more than any other, should combine legal experience with perfect probity and pure moral character. The man who ignores the claims of society and practices vice and intemperance in public is not fitted to be a judge, and if such are nominated they should encounter disastrous defeat. The man whose immoral life has been a shame and disgrace to society is not fitted for the Supreme Bench.

The Farmer is not in any sense a partisan journal, but it cannot ignore great public questions. These remarks are suggested by assertions made in a weekly paper that the Willamette Farmer opposes Judges Prim and Kelly, who are candidates for the Supreme Bench.

We not only do not oppose them, but sincerely respect them, and have no sympathy with the partisan warfare made upon them. We have no sympathy with the party that has placed them in nomination but looking at the question, as we have stated, from a standpoint superior to partisan politics, and having had an intimate personal acquaintance with both these distinguished gentlemen for many years, we do not hesitate to say that we honor their private lives, respect their experience at the bar and their connection with the Supreme Bench. The indiscreet reference to the Farmer by the journal referred to, has forced us to speak where otherwise we might have remained silent. We are satisfied that decisions already rendered by these gentlemen place them reliably on the side of the people—and that is a good deal in their favor.

When a Supreme Court has wisely deliberated and adjudged a case, after a careful consideration, it is of course possible for a few disappointed litigants to cry out "bribery" and denounce the court THEY could not bribe. It looks very much as if that was being done now.

There is scarce another feature of the coming election we should care to particularly criticise or condemn, but the election of a Supreme Court is of such great importance that we have no hesitation in recommending that in this connection the farmers of Oregon shall rise above partisanship and demand of candidates the legal experience and personal qualifications that can alone entitle them to popular support.

FROM THE MINES.—Capt. Ankeny returned last evening from Jackson county, where he has been attending to his mining interests. He informs us that the Sterling Mining Company reached the Sterling basin with a half mile flume on the 20th ult., through an open cut to the bedrock, and that everything is now in successful operation. The company expects to make the first clean up on July 1st, and the indications are that it will be a good one. The Blue Gravel and English companies are both in full operation, with good prospects. The Captain looks as fresh and happy as ever and appears to be greatly encouraged at the outlook. He will remain in the city a week or more.—Standard.

BETTER THAN SPEECHES.—Several of our Republican friends have asked us why Whiteaker does not come back and canvass the State with M. C. George. We answer that he was elected to represent Oregon in Congress, and as that body is now in session it is his duty to remain there. The news we get of his work back there is a greater recommendation to him than all the speeches he could make. The following appropriations for Oregon recently reported to the House for their approval shows that he is attending to his duty: Cascades canal, $100,000; Upper Columbia and Snake rivers, $15,000; Upper Willamette, $12,000; Lower Willamette and Columbia, $45,000; Yaquina Bay, $40,000; Coquille river, $10,000. —Democrat.

A WOMAN SUFFRAGIST.—The following endorsement of Mr. George is from the highest of the "High-kicker" organs, the New Northwest, and leaves no doubt of his election: "Mr. George is a fair-minded man—a Woman Suffragist—recognizing that every woman is an individual, and therefore entitled to personal liberty and freedom of voice and action. We must admit that the same cannot be said of Mr. Whiteaker, and therefore his defeat is desired."

POSTMASTER-GENERAL KEY has been appointed Judge of one of the Districts in Tennessee, and it is probable that First Assistant Tyner will be appointed to fill the vacancy caused by his resignation.
