Notes on Feeding Stock.-The feed which is given to our domestic animals is of two classes, one producing fat, and the other building up muscle and fibre. The condition of an animal depends not so Vermicelli lace is the newest lace for much in what is eaten as upon what is digested, and assimilated. The two operations constantly going on are the destruction of exhausted portions of the body and the building up of new tissues, in their place. What may be wholesome food for one kind of animal, or for one individual, may not be so for another. Workinghorses and oxen must be fed with the most digestible food, and that most capa-
