

DEMOCRATIC TIMES.

Official Paper for Jackson, Josephine & Lake.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1880.

The Republican National Committee backed the repudiationists of the South.

Tax Tires does not deny any one his honest title, we would inform our solicitors cotemporary.

Mr. Garfield will make as good a President as his friends claim he will, no one can complain. We sincerely hope we have been disappointed in him, for the good of the country, at least.

The new House of Representatives will be very close, and the few Greenbacks elected will probably hold the balance of power. It is not certain that the Republicans will have a clear majority in any event.

From the great fuss the Republican press makes over Democratic charges of fraud and corruption in New York, any one would suppose there was some foundation for them. "A guilty conscience needs no accuser."

The Republican journals forget to inform us of the whereabouts of the 1,500 majority they boasted Garfield would get here. Had the Indiana election resulted favorably to the Democracy, it is safe to say a Democratic victory would also have been scored in this State.

The Republican managers complain that W. H. Barnum and John Kelly want to test the electoral vote of New York. Be that as it may, they are dumb on the fact that they did steal 19 votes from Mr. Tilden in 1876 in order to give Mr. Hayes the requisite majority of one.

How the Republicans can elect their Governor in Tennessee, come near carrying Virginia, and make substantial gains of Congressmen in the "Solid South," when they are not allowed to vote there, according to their own campaign literature, is a conundrum that perplexes us. There is a disagreement of evidence somewhere.

UMATILLA COUNTY, it seems, walks off with the banner Jackson has sturdily borne aloft for so long, giving Hancock and English 339 majority, or 17 more than we do. We are loath to part with it, but accord to the gallant Democracy of Umatilla the full meed of praise for their efficient work in the good cause. They gain 191 over the June majority, which is indeed a glorious result.

As an illustration of the lavish expenditure of money by the Republican managers, it is stated on apparently good authority that they spent about $2,000,000 in Ohio and Indiana in October. The profit of this investment was most plainly shown in November, for there is no disputing the fact that the result of the elections of the previous month had much to do with the success of Garfield and Arthur on the 2d. More's the pity.

It takes all the glory of a national victory to make up for the loss of California and Nevada, our Republican coast cotemporaries seem to think. The Chinese question will in time make the Pacific Coast solidly Democratic as the Southern States, for relief can be expected there from as long as the Republican party rules. Time will prove that Mr. Garfield's sentiments were expressed by the Morey letter, whether he wrote it or not.

The New York World thus comments on the result of the election in that city, by which the John Kelly faction gave the State to the Republicans and the Presidency to Garfield: "New York has secured a Democratic city government, which is so far a good thing, but it remains to be seen whether New York could not have secured this at less cost than 35 electoral votes, which, added to 133 from the South, 9 from New Jersey and 3 from Nevada, not to mention California, would have elected Hancock President."

The Republican managers of Oregon lay all the crimes in the category at the door of the Democracy, arrogating to themselves the virtues of a biblical saint. They neglect to tell that they printed the Greenback tickets for the State, however, (even getting the names of two of the candidates for electors wrong) in the hope of cajoling opponents of Garfield and Arthur into giving them half a vote. Republican rascality is always excusable in the eyes of the immaculate leaders, but Democratic chicanery in any form is perfectly outrageous.

It will be next in order for Republican demagogues to declare the Democratic party dead, because it was recently defeated at the polls. This has been the cry for the past fifteen years, during which time it has proven itself a remarkably lively corpse. Its eternal principles flourish even in the most adverse hour. On the other hand, whenever a Democratic President shall take his seat, the mission of the Republican party will be over. Held together by the cohesive power of plunder, it will drop to pieces whenever its hold on the public teal shall be broken.

We were misled by a telegram received just as the Times was going to press last week into announcing that California had gone Republican. The latest advices give the State to Hancock and English by at least 200. The Legislature is claimed by the Republicans, owing to their great majority in the hold-over Senate. The Democracy gain one Congressman, electing Rosenkrantz and Berry, and Leach may scratch in by a few votes, as he is but little if any behind Pacheco in the Fourth district as far as heard from. But for the Weaver ticket the Democratic majority would have been several thousand.

THE LOSS OF NEW YORK.

The Democracy of the United States were beaten by the loss of New York, the votes of which they had a right to expect. With the Empire State Hancock would have been elected, having carried New Jersey, Nevada and California, the votes of which, in connection with those of the States conceded to the Democrats, would have been six more than necessary. There are a multitude of causes why New York was lost to the Democracy. The infamous course of John I. Davenport in refusing registration to a large number of voters means before employed by the Republican managers in Indiana did the work in a great measure. The vote of many localities was altogether out of proportion with the returns of the late census and the Republican gain unprecedented. Local hickings in New York city and Brooklyn also had their effect, and it is openly charged that John Kelly and Hugh McLaughlin, the notorious political bosses, sacrificed the National ticket for the success of their local candidates and the patronage they control. Mr. Tilden received almost 30,000 majority more in those cities than did Gen. Hancock, and, as Gen. Garfield receives less than 20,000 plurality in the whole State, this shrinkage alone was sufficient to defeat our candidates. We did remarkably well outside of these large cities, where the Republicans claimed enormous gains on account of their colonization schemes. But their artifice was most successful where it was least feared.

The Democrats of the Union has for years objected to the consideration of the claims of John Kelly to the leadership of any portion of the Democracy, and he was ignored at Cincinnati. He defeated the Democratic ticket in New York last year to wreak a personal spite on Mr. Tilden, and gave the Republicans their first hold on that State. He is an ulcer on the Democratic party and the sooner it gets rid of him and his Brooklyn confederate, Hugh McLaughlin, the better. The Democracy can rely on New York State when it is rid of such marplots.

A CAMPAIGN OF SECTIONAL PREJUDICE.

The Times has all along deprecated the unwarranted abuse of the Southern people and the appeal to sectional prejudice by the Republican orators and press, which seemed to be the only stock in trade they had. To the discredit of the people of the North it may be said that these incendiary arguments had their effect. Any calm, dispassionate observer will bear witness to the fact that the Southern States never were more peaceable, prosperous and patriotic than they now are, and the onslaughts of the unscrupulous Republican politicians were not only unpatriotic and libelous in a high degree, but a gross insult to an enlightened portion of the Union. Instead of there ever being a liability of the South rebelling again, it would seem more likely that she would be expelled from the Union or converted into an American Poland by Northern fanatics if they believed one tithe they give utterance to. The whole truth is that the managers weak into the belief that Democratic ascendancy was synonymous with domination of actual secessionists, gaining a number of votes by the most questionable means, viz: The vitification of a large and respectable portion of our common country. They may think no more of their campaign against fraternal unity until the approach of another election shall be a signal for its repetition. We predict that before their ardent hypocrisy shall have been fully proven and the voting masses become more chary of and less susceptible to the artifice of the most accomplished political tricksters the world ever knew.

Frauds in New York.

There is no doubt but what fraud was practiced in New York to bring about the result of the recent Presidential election. But whether it can be proven strongly enough to warrant the reversal of the announcement made by the Associated Press dispatches that the Garfield electors had been chosen in that State, is a mooted question. The Democratic State Central Committee of New York has issued the following address in relation to this matter:

WHEREAS, it appears that at the recent election in this State a vote has been cast in certain localities, largely in excess of the legal vote as determined by the recent census taken under the direction of the general Government; therefore Resolved, That it be the duty of the several County Commissioners of this State, and they are hereby requested by the State Committee, to examine such census returns and make comparison with the votes recorded as having been polled in the various districts of their county, with a view of ascertaining the extent of fraudulent voting in this State, and forward immediately such examination to W. H. Fowler, Chairman Democratic State Executive Committee of New York. The unaccountable increase in the Republican vote in New York and Kings counties, and plain evidences of fraud in such votes, demand immediate investigation on the part of the respective Democratic organizations of these counties.

Resolved, That all citizens of this State in each and every locality, who favor the right of the people to popular government, and who believe a fair vote and honest count essential to the perpetuation of our institutions, are requested to aid by all means in their power ascertaining of this result.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to every Democratic organization in this State.

DEMOCRATIC GAINS IN OREGON.

Returns from the State show a large increase in the Democratic vote in every county in the State and that the average Republican majority last June has been cut down two-thirds. This is exceedingly complimentary to the gallant Democracy, who worked against great odds. Not a dollar but that subscribed by patriotic citizens of the State was used by the Democrats, and that only for legitimate expenses, while against them was arrayed the entire brigade of Federal office-holders, backed by a great election fund. Our substantial gains under these circumstances are more than gratifying and show that Oregon cannot always be classed as a reliable Republican State. To the Multnomah Democracy must be accorded the distinction of having "heard the lion in his lair." The Republican majority in that hotbed is only 492, while George carried it by over 1,100 in June. Linn and Umatilla also responded nobly, while gains in Marion, Lane and other counties are reported. Southern Oregon again achieves the honor of being the most reliable Democratic stronghold, giving the Hancock electors at least 550 majority. Taken altogether, the Democracy of the State have good cause for self-congratulation, and must be complimented for their good work in the interests of Reform and Union. Such patriotic efforts cannot but have their results, and we will not be surprised if Oregon is not entirely redeemed before 1884.

The following is a table of majorities as far as can be ascertained:

Table with 3 columns: Counties, Hancock, Garfield. Rows include Baker, Benton, Grant, Coos, Jackson, Curry, Douglas, Polk, Umatilla, Yamhill, Washington, Linn, Tillamook, Clatsop, Josephine, Columbia, Lane, Clackamas, Wasco, Multnomah, Marion, Union, etc.

Some of the returns are unofficial, but the estimates are carefully made and will not be much out of the way. We doubt that Garfield's majority will go over 500, and it may not reach 450.

SUCCESSFUL LEGISLATION.

The following additional bills were passed by the late Legislature and have been signed by His Excellency, Governor Thayer: S. B. 12—To provide the compensation of the sheriffs and clerks of the counties of Linn, Lane, Jackson, Benton, Yamhill, Marion, Douglas, Coos, Curry, Clackamas, Union, Umatilla, Washington and Polk, and to prescribe the manner in which such compensation should be paid. H. B. 103—An act to regulate the management and maintenance of cemeteries by private corporations. S. B. 95—For the protection of the Oregon State Agricultural Society, and for the promotion and encouragement of agricultural and horticultural societies. S. B. 105—To regulate the measurement of lumber in the log, and fix the compensation therefor. H. B. 100—An act to amend section 16, title 8, chapter 57, miscellaneous laws of Oregon, relating to the assessment of property and the levy and collection of taxes. H. B. 4—An act to provide for the construction of a brick insane asylum building for this State, to levy a tax and appropriate money therefor. H. B. 58—An act to authorize each of the several circuit judges of this State to hold courts and take oaths to be enforced in all the judicial districts thereof. H. B. 94—An act to create and organize a school for deaf mutes. H. E. 48—An act to prevent the spreading of contagious and infectious diseases among sheep. S. B. 44—To define and establish the boundary lines between the counties of Josephine and Curry. S. B. 29—Requiring county clerks, sheriffs and district attorneys to make semi-annual returns to the Secretary of State of all fees and emoluments earned by them, and of the expenses of conducting their offices. S. B. 22—To protect salmon. S. B. 26—Granting the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, its successors and assigns, the right of way through lands of the State of Oregon, and necessary grounds for stations, depots, side tracks, turntables, and water stations. S. B. 113—To amend sections 14 and 15, title 1, chapter 47, miscellaneous laws of Oregon, relative to the purchase of supplies for the penitentiary and reducing salary of the superintendent of the penitentiary. H. B. 127—An act to prevent the sale of spirituous or malt or other intoxicating liquors upon or within four miles of any premises in this State upon which or over which the general government may be engaged in canals or locks or works of a similar nature. S. B. 2—To amend sections 106 and 107, chapter 16, title 1, of the code of criminal procedure.

How Hancock Took It.

The New York Times (Republican) says this of the manner in which General Hancock took his defeat: "He seemed the least concerned of any man on Governor's Island over the result of the election. He had retired at the usual hour the night before. After breakfasting with his family, yesterday morning, he went to the Army headquarters, and busied himself with his official correspondence. McClellan called to express his sympathy, and Hancock's reply was that he was sorry for the people and the party. To other gentlemen who called, he said he was willing to abide by the decision of the people."

WASCO, Minn., April 8th, 1879. DR. R. V. PIERCE, M. D.: Dear Sir:—I feel that I should be neglecting my duty were I not to give my testimony as to the value of your medicines. For years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of chronic diseases which our physicians treated in vain. I am now using your Favorite Prescription and find myself almost well. Your medicines have done me more good than anything I have ever used. I remain, gratefully yours, Mrs. E. B. FAIRMALRE.
