

DEMOCRATIC TIMES.

Official Paper for Jackson, Josephine & Lake. FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1880.

A GREAT many failures are reported from the East. Has the business boom promised by the Republican managers set in?

THE writing desk presented by Queen Victoria to the President of the United States should have been sent to Gramme Park or Greystone, where he resides.

GIVE us a law forever disfranchising a man who will barter or offer to sell his vote. The Democracy can then cope with the Republican managers and their huge money-bags.

THE Democratic party is not dead nor is it dying. It is alive, alert and courageous, and means to fight the battle for free government on this line if it takes all the century.

WEAVER did his utmost for the Republicans in the recent campaign, and how he shall be rewarded is a question that will demand the early attention of Garfield's administration. He must be provided for in anticipation of 1884.

THE Republican party at the South bolstered up the Democratic repudiationists; but in every instance their measures were defeated. This is something the Republican press at the North has failed to give the Southern Democracy credit for.

THE State Line Herald, which was destroyed by fire some time ago, reappears in its old form. It looks well and seems none the worse for its past experience. We hope the proprietors will not be so unfortunate again. The Times passed through the same ordeal some eight years ago.

THE situation in Ireland becomes more perplexing. Parnell, in a speech at Waterford, last Sunday, openly avowed himself in favor of a revolution, if he saw a chance to win, and he thought the chance would come. The Irish have become thoroughly aroused and some radical reforms in the affairs of Ireland must be inaugurated at once, or blood will be spilled.

OUR Republican contemporaries notice that while Missouri has considerably more population than Indiana, the latter cast at least 60,000 votes more than did the former. That is easily explained. Had it been necessary that the Hoosier State should have cast 100,000 votes in excess of more populous Missouri, in order to assure Republican success, the managers would have furnished them.

MR. HAYES, returning from his electioneering trip to the Coast, is reported as expressing great astonishment at the audacity of the Pacific States in voting for Hancock, his grounds being that "the Pacific States belong to the Republican party." This seems to be the impression of the Republican leaders generally in regard not only to the Pacific States, but to all the States, says the Jackson (Ohio) Herald.

DAKOTA is knocking for admission into the Union. She has not the population and lacks other qualifications of a State. The Republican managers are favorable to the scheme, as the last vote of the Territory shows that they can rely on her. The Democracy will be careful not to repeat the blunder made in the case of Colorado in 1876, without whose votes the Presidential steal could not have been consummated.

It is rumored that Gen. Garfield has offered the portfolio of the State Department to Senator Blaine of Maine. The President-elect could go farther and do much worse. We consider Blaine the ablest of Republican leaders, superior to Conkling in every respect. The Senator from New York only excels in petty factional quarrels and subservience to one-man power, while Blaine has more the elements of a statesman than those of a demagogue.

SAYS an exchange: "To the New York Tribune it looks like a permanent partnership between Providence and the Republican party." This is the first intimation we have received that Providence is leagued with corruption in every form. The general impression has always been to the contrary. But the Republican managers having revolutionized the politics of the country in devious ways, may next endeavor to get out a new patent on Christian ethics to confirm the righteousness of their course.

Tax amendment of the usury law by the last Legislature is severely condemned by the Eastern Oregon press, which claims that it is calculated to drive capital to Washington Territory, where a larger rate of interest is obtained. The law is apparently in favor of the borrower; but it will soon be found that while money can hardly be obtained here now at 12 per cent., it will be still scarcer when the new law goes into effect. The demand should regulate the price of money in any country.

THE popular vote at the recent Presidential election was over 9,000,000, and seems to have been equally divided as between Garfield and Hancock, the other candidates hardly figuring in the result. In many of the Southern States the vote is light and Hancock does not get the majority Tilden did in 1876; and this fact, together with the stampede at the North, may give Garfield a bare plurality. The Republican vote was very full everywhere, while many a Democrat, demoralized by the Indiana election, did not turn out at all. Garfield is a minority President by several hundred thousand votes at least.

OUR PLATFORM.

A truly Democratic creed to fit and meet the wants of the times should cover the following points:

- 1. No slavery of the mind. Free thought, free speech and free votes—fairly counted.
2. One term of six years for the President and Vice President. No re-election.
3. No reparation in any form. An honest dollar worth a dollar, everywhere and at any time.
4. A bi-metallic standard, with enough paper money to meet the wants of commerce.
5. A tariff for revenue. The immediate reform of the tariff. Free ships. Free trade as soon as the financial needs of the country will allow. No steps backward.
6. No monopolies. No subsidies. No corporation has a right to wrong the people.
7. Civil service reform. Capable and faithful officers to hold office during good behavior. No politics in public business. No assessments for party purposes. No appointments as rewards for political services, unless attended by worthiness.
8. Universal education as the safeguard of universal suffrage. The States to be aided by the national government, in proportion to the amount expended by them and the results obtained.
9. Works of public improvement of general value and importance to be undertaken by the national government. The public revenue comes from the people, and, when needed, should be providently used for their benefit.
10. With such a platform as this—understood, believed in, expounded everywhere and always acted upon—the Democratic party will retrieve its losses and grow stronger every hour. Defeat will not weaken it.

Southern Progress.

That the South has, within the last few years, made rapid progress in enlarging her field of business and enterprise, is shown in the interest which has been manifested in manufacturing pursuits. Throughout the entire South factories of different kinds have been established, and have generally met with marked success; and the prospects are that in a few years many of the Southern products which have heretofore been sent elsewhere to be manufactured, will be retained and made up at home. Much attention is paid in the cotton and other of the Southern States to the manufacture of oil from cotton seed, which, by process of refinement, is made as sweet as olive oil. It is not only used as such in this country, but is shipped to Italy, and is there used in adulterating the pure article. Of the six million gallons manufactured in 1879, by far the greater quantity went to Italy, and the Italian government, in order to check the adulteration of the native oil with it, has imposed a heavy duty upon its importation. There are at present forty-two of these cotton seed oil factories in the United States, using four hundred and ten thousand tons of cotton seed, which yield thirty-five gallons of oil to the ton. The seed, after it has been extracted, is largely used for fattening cattle.

A Self-Constituted Censor.

Under the plea of economy and justice the Sentinel of the 8th rears up a straw man and then knocks him down with its own missiles. With unjournalistic propriety he proceeds to discuss the Covert case, making District Attorney Kent the scapegoat of its attacks. The article is a series of contradictions of its own testimony, insulting to the juryman sitting in the first trial and not particularly eulogizing with truth. Unfortunately for the foundation of the Sentinel's observations, Judge Hanna presides over the Circuit Court, and not District Attorney Kent, as it would have the people believe. This knocks the underpinning from under the article and shows how utterly frivolous it is. It would be superfluous to notice the matter at greater length. The general opinion seems to be that the article was produced solely for the purpose of creating a prejudice in the community.

A Shrieking Farce.

The last Legislature, which found enough time to pass the insane asylum law and authorize other raids on the State treasury, neglected to make any provision for the protection of game. The law as it now stands is almost a dead letter and should have been swept off the statute books. The wholesale slaughter of deer for their hides will go on unmolested until some one is indicted by the Grand Jury and punished. At the rate the killing is now going on, it is self-evident that deer will be a curiosity in localities in which they used to abound. This should be prevented, if possible, and some parties threaten to appeal to the law, if it cannot be done otherwise.

Garfield in Washington.

Gen. Garfield could not go to Washington from Mentor without stopping at Harriburg to dine with Don Cameron. Of course that fact had no significance. Oh, certainly not. The first man to welcome his arrival at the capital was Bob Ingersoll, and the first woman was Mrs. Spencer, a noted woman's rights agitator. He starts well under these benign influences. Hayes sent his carriage to the station with a pair of horses that have been well kept at the public expense. This cheap civility was the first fraudulent President ever extended in a public form to this man, without whose vote on the Electoral Commission he would not have been put in the White House.

Bets on California.

This may be of interest to those having wagered on the result of the late election in California: GRIMLEY, Nov. 22, 1880. EDITOR SPIRIT OF THE TIMES—Dear Sir: A bet Hancock carries the State of California. B claims a draw, owing to one Republican Elector being elected. The matter referred to you for decision. Please state whether A wins all or five-sixths, or according to rules would it be a draw? CHAS. J. WEAVER. ANSWER—A wins the whole of the State on the above proposition.—S. F. Spirit of the Times

Josephine County Mines.

A Walden correspondent of the Del Norte Record has this to say of some of the mines of Josephine county: Dossell & Co., who were working on "Scott's Gulch," have deep gravel mines with a bank of 50 feet. They have a pump pressure, and elevate the dirt about 25 feet. This is an old claim that has always paid its owners, and indications point towards similar results for years to come. Mr. Dossell's superintends the mine. Wimer & Simmons, on "Butcher Gulch," have beyond a doubt the most extensive mine in Southern Oregon. They use an eleven-inch giant, have an abundance of water and luckily very few rocks. They have a bank of 60 feet and some of it very rich. This is a new mine, having run but for four months and a-half on open days. The owners have been three years opening the mine, and I might say will not have it in good running order before the last of next summer. This is the only hydraulic claim now in operation. Six men are employed in both of the above named claims, and both of them use the locomotive head light. Wimer & Simmons have moved more dirt in the past two years than any other three mines in the county combined. Their cut is one-half a mile in length and about 60 feet deep. Mr. Simmons is now superintending. Quinn & Little are running an incline. They have excellent dirt, and will surely succeed if they have good luck hoisting. As this is the first attempt to drift here, we want to see them succeed.

The Tariff.

Frank Hurd of Ohio has introduced strong free-trade resolutions in the House of Representatives, with the intention of committing the Democratic party to a tariff for revenue only. It is also announced that a strong effort will be made to draw lines between Democrats and Republicans on this question during the session. The Democracy should have made a square fight for free trade in the last campaign, instead of trucking to the protective tariff of the monopolist in a measure. A tariff for revenue only is what the people want, and as the Democratic party is the party of the people, it should have taken a decided stand on this point. We are decidedly in favor of making the next campaign with the tariff question as one of the most important involved.

GREAT DISTRESS.

is often suddenly experienced from a stick of cramp in the stomach, colic or other painful affections for the relief of which nothing is superior to Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, or Water-Berger, compounded from the best French brandy, Jamaica ginger, smart weed, or water-pepper, and anodyne gums. For St. Vitus' dance, hysterical fits, cholera morbus, its warming, soothing, astringent and heating properties render it a perfect specific, unsurpassed as an anodyne and stimulating, cathartic or emetic. Should be kept in every family. Sold by all druggists at fifty cents.
