Rev. J. R. N. Bell, editor of the Roseburg Review, has been appointed as clerk of the railroad corumiscion, and the claims of Jackson county to recognition by the State or Federal governments again shamefully ignored. We have nothing to urge against Mr. Bell, and hope he will fill the expectations of his friends to the fullest extent; but we must nevertheless protest against the outrageous manner in which the gailant Democracy of this section is being constantly treated. Jackson county has always been the banner Democratic county of the State for many years, rolling up heavy and evar-increasing majorities, and to her vote has the election of several candidates on the Democratic State ticket been solely due. She had every reason and right to expect that one of her several eligible Democrats would be appointed and the late of the clerkship, and this disappointment is keenly feit by all, with a very few notable exceptions.
