Death of Three Pioneer Citizens.

After a lingering illness, during the past four weeks of which the patient was confined to her bed, Mrs. Julia Ann Hull, relict of the late Levi J. Hull, peacefully expired at the residence of her son John W. Hull, in Jacksonville, last Sunday afternoon, and her remains were interred in the Jacksonville cemetery on Monday at 3 o'clock P. M. Deceased was a native of New Jersey, her birth-place being near Trenton, and she was entitled to the distinction of being a pioneer of three states, having removed as a child to the wilderness of Michigan, and after her marriage there removed to Mills county, Iowa, where she and her husband resided for several years before removing to the Willamette valley in 1853, and finally to Rogue river valley in 1855. Her four children, John W. Hull, S. B. Hull, P. D. Hull and Mrs. C. W. Savage all survive her and live in this county. Few among the pioneers endured the hardships and exposure which fell to their lot with patience and resignation that distinguished the life of deceased. She died highly respected by all who knew her.

News reached this section last week of the death at Dycusburg, Ky., on July 18th last, of Freeman Yandell, a pioneer of Rogue river valley, who left here in 1855 to end his days in the home of his youth in the States. He was well known in Jacksonville, having been at one time jailer of the county. Mr. Y. was for sometime engaged in the nursery business south of Ashland. Like so many of pioneer days, he remained single to the day of his death. He will long be remembered as a most excellent man, who was appreciated at his true worth.

George Yaudes, an old and respected resident of this county, died at Sterlingville yesterday morning of consumption, aged about sixty-five years. He will be interred at Sterlingville cemetery to-day. Mr. Y. had many friends, who will miss him from his accustomed haunts. He was strictly honest and a good citizen and neighbor.

Arrested.

Fred Schultz, a resident of Sterlingville precinct, who has hitherto borne a good reputation, was last Saturday arrested and brought to town on a charge of attempt to commit rape, preferred by a married woman living in that vicinity. The complaining witness avers that she was asleep with her two children, her husband having gone away from home, when she was awakened by a masked man in the room, who assaulted her, and after a desperate struggle she succeeded in freeing herself from him and snatching the mask or kerchief from his face; after which he dashed out through the door and escaped. On rousing the neighbors and searching the premises, it was found that the intruder had effected an entrance through an unfastened window and that he had left his boots and socks on the premises. The boots were identified as belonging to Schultz, hence his arrest. At the preliminary hearing before Justice Plymale he was bound over to await the action of the next grand jury, giving bonds in the sum of $400. It is alleged by Schultz that his own cabin was robbed the same night of several hundred dollars, of which only one other man knew the whereabouts; and his friends think the fellow stole Schultz's boots at the same time in order to throw suspicion upon him for his own rascality.

Fine Millinery.

Ladies attending the fair should visit Mrs. P. P. Prim's tent while at the grounds. There will be found a full supply of the latest novelties in millinery, hats, ribbons, etc., during the entire exhibition, from and after Thursday, September 19. Especial attention is called to a line of Good kid gloves at $1 per pair; also to a large line of 25-cent ribbons which will be closed out at 15 cents per yard. Trimmed hats of every style for sale, and the latest fall novelties in all lines. She has in use and for sale the new style plaiting machines, the practical workings of which will be shown on the grounds. Ladies will do well to call and inspect them. Ribbons, velvets, fancy trimmings, etc., such as are kept in every first class stock, will be shown in large variety.

Jackson County Trotters.

McDonough & Swan's black mare "Altena," by "Altamont," won the 2:30 trot at City View Park at Portland on Wednesday of last week, taking the second, third and fourth heats in the very good time of 2:28, 2:29½, and 2:29½, and defeating such good ones as "Alta A," "Lady Maud," "Princewood" and "Kitty Ham." After the race Mayor DeLashmut of Portland bought "Altena" and her stable companion "Stemwinder" from McDonough & Swan, paying $5000 for the span. Both were sired by "Altamont," and from mares of the "Old Kate" stock, which has made James McDonough famous as a successful breeder. Southern Oregon is destined to be one of the great sections noted as producers of the trotting horse in America before many years.

An Incident of the Trip.

A laughable incident occurred after the Jacksonville pioneers boarded the train for Ashland last Thursday. There were on the train two through passengers, as their coupon tickets indicated. They had turned their seats facing each other, and when the crowd got in and filled up all the seats and the aisles, and hung on the brakes and peeped into the windows, one of the passengers looked at the other and asked, in a tone of exquisite despair, "Who are they all?" The other replied, in equally lugubrious tones, that he couldn't form an idea. The first speaker, with a heave of satisfaction, said: "I know; it's the Salvation Army."

Cabin Burned.

A few nights since the house and contents, outbuildings, etc., of J. W. Baker of Willow Springs, were burned by some malicious miscreant, while the owner was working on the fair grounds, involving a loss in excess of $500. The guilty party is known and may be brought to justice sooner or later. It is said that the deed was done through pure malice and spite.

Extension of Exchange.

The school-book publishers have granted an additional month's time for the free exchange of readers, owing to their inability to supply the demand fully heretofore. The exchange can be effected at Dr. Robinson's drug store until Nov. 1st. Terms of exchange of older text books will be made known there on application.

D. R. Jones of Lakeview is manufacturing superior salt for the local market from the salt marsh residuum left by the declining waters of Warner lake. He scraps up the crude salt by the wagonload, grinds, sacks, and sells it to the local merchants.

The train was over an hour late yesterday evening, and the stages consequently did not leave until after dark. While between Medford and this place Plymale's wagon upset, bruising the occupants somewhat, but fortunately no serious injury resulted.

Our citizens should be on the lookout for thugs, fakirs and pickpockets during the fair, for there is always a large contingent of this class that follow the circuit for purposes of swindling, pilfering and confidence operations. Forewarned is forearmed.

For the best turnouts for all occasions call at the Excelsior livery stable in Jacksonville. Plymale's prices are quite reasonable and he never fails in giving satisfaction. You will also do well to patronize his stage line running between this place and Medford.

Don't forget the fruitgrowers' exhibit on Monday. Everybody should bring something for exhibition. There will be an interesting programme, a basket dinner and racing on this day. All the gates are open and free on Monday. It promises to be one of the biggest days of the fair.

Owing to this changeable climate, it is difficult to preserve a fair complexion and our fair sisters are annoyed at the roughness of the skin, chaps, red nose, etc. If Dutard's Specific is applied to the face and hands night and morning, a clear and healthy complexion can be preserved. Sold by E. C. Brooks.

See the new advertisement of Messrs. Luderman & Carter of Ashland in this week's TIMES. This enterprising firm is preparing to move to Baker city, and mean just what they say when they offer goods at cost. The stock on hand must be closed out, and now is the time to invest with them. Give them a call.

There is nothing uncertain about the effects of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. The fact is, it is the only preparation in the market that can always be depended upon, and that is pleasant and safe to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at City Drug Store, Jacksonville, and Engel Bros., Phœnix.

Thousands are afflicted with diseases of the kidney and urinary organs, who suffer in silence, rather than make known their troubles. To those afflicted we would offer a safe and speedy remedy in Oregon Kidney Tea, which is composed of herbs, selected with great care in Oregon, and warranted not to contain minerals of any kind. A few doses afford instant relief. Sold by E. C. Brooks.

F. J. Smith, editor of the Ft. Abercrombie, Dakota, "Herald" says: "The most wonderful medicine I have ever met with is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. In case of colic it gives speedy relief. On hunting trips I have found it indispensable. Put in alkali water and it imparts a pleasant taste and prevents the painful diarrhœa which alkali water produces. I could not feel safe without it on my house." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at City Drug Store, Jacksonville, and Engel Bros., Phœnix.

Have you heard what Mr. G. L. Weast of Cambridge city, Ind., says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy? If not, here it is: "During last summer I was troubled very much with severe pains in the stomach and bowels, and was induced by a friend to try this Remedy. I took one dose, as per directions, and it gave me also at in tant relief. I cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at City Drug Store, Jacksonville, and Engle Bros., Phœnix.

The work done by Logan, the Ashland photographer, has never been surpassed in southern Oregon for finish or excellence of detail, and as he keeps thoroughly up with the times in all the late discoveries connected with his art, the productions of his gallery are deservedly popular. No more acceptable token of affection or love than a crayon or cabinet photograph of the giver from his finishing touches can be imagined. A call at his gallery will convince those unfamiliar with his work, of its excellence.

Let us give the readers of the TIMES a little timely advice. Hot weather is coming and with it colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. The only safe way to combat these diseases is to keep some reliable remedy at hand, and all who have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy will admit that it is the most prompt, reliable and successful medicine known for these complaints. It costs but 25 or 50 cents, and may be the means of saving you or your family much suffering, if not life itself, before the summer is over. For sale at City Drug Store, Jacksonville and Engel Bros. Phœnix.

J. S. March elsewhere advertises his farm in Sam's valley for sale.

J. J. Rowland of Sam's valley made us a pleasant call last Saturday.

J. Nunan is shipping a large amount of produce to Josephine county.

Butter and eggs are still scarce in this market and command a good price.

A. A. Tharp, who now lives in Siskiyou county, was in the valley this week.

Several hacks will run between Jacksonville and the fair grounds next week.

The nights are cool and there has been some frost along the different streams.

W. V. Jones, the popular merchant, is building a neat residence at Woodville.

R. A. Fellows has sold his farm in Pleasant creek precinct to a Californian for $2000.

Cress & Fischer have lettered the big windows of the S. F. Variety Store and did a good job.

A big fire is raging on the hills northwest of town, and the atmosphere is again filled with smoke.

A special train will run on the O. & C. railroad during the fair, leaving Ashland at 7 o'clock each morning.

For the best grade of photograph work go to the Winter Photo Co., who will remain a few days in our city.

J. M. Payne, formerly of this place, was secretary of the recent amalgamated convention held at Salem.

Frank Smith is pumping water for sprinkling streets with horse power, and thereby saves much labor.

There were forty-nine residents of Jacksonville, by actual count, at the pioneer celebration at Ashland, last Thursday.

The forest fire a few miles northwest of town threatened the safety of the farms of Wm. Bybee and P. Britt for awhile.

Riley Smith of Siskiyou mountain, a former resident of the valley, called on his old friends the forepart of the week.

Street Commissioner Eaton has laid some new sidewalks on the south side of California street, which were badly needed.

The new Coos bay and Douglas county wagon-road will soon be completed, much to the satisfaction of people living along the line.

Don't neglect your opportunities. Fine, life-like pictures are made by the Winter Photo Co. Call early, as their stay with us is short.

Thos. Collins, who arrived from Klamath county last week, says that there are plenty of fat cattle in Sprague river valley for sale.

It is rumored that Jas. Drum has gone to San Francisco for a stock of goods and has rented the building formerly occupied by A. H. Maegly.

Thos. Mee of Thompson creek called last Saturday and states that he will trade lumber for flour or for wheat to be delivered at the Medford roller mills.

M. C. Rogers and Miss E. Durkee of Ashland precinct were married a few days ago and have since departed for Yolo county, Cal., their future home.

Woodville reports substantial progress in common with the other railroad towns of southern Oregon, and is getting to be a shipping point of importance.

It seems probable that the Gilrey planing mill at Ashland will be purchased by Dolarhide & Co., who agree to pay off the liabilities at the rate of 50 on the dollar.

Work has been commenced in earnest on O. Ganiard's brick block in Asuland, which will be one of the finest south of Eugene. Billings & Thompson are also building a fine brick structure there.

Unlike most traveling photographers, C. L. Winter, of the Winter Photo Co., Eugene, is giving the very best satisfaction in portrait work. Call at once, and have a really good likeness taken.

The most natural and life-like photographs are made by the Winter Photo Co. of Eugene. They will be at Central Point during fair week, and those desiring good pictures should give them a call.

Steps have already been taken to appeal the case of Beekman vs. Hamlin, recently decided in favor of plaintiff, also the case of Anderson vs. Hammon, in which a decision was rendered for defendant.

Work on the county jail building is progressing nicely, and it will not be long before the structure will be ready for occupancy. It will be one of the strongest and neatest in the state when completed.

The Ashland public schools re-opened for the season last week under most favorable auspices, with nearly four hundred pupils and a strong corps of teachers, under the able superintendency of Professor Getz.

Jos. Robinson and M. L. Pellett of Wagner creek were in Jacksonville yesterday. They inform us that there have been several fires in that vicinity lately, which have killed most of the vegetables that were not matured.

Some miscreant damaged one of Klippel & Curtis' big saws by shooting at it with a pistol or rifle and injuring it considerably, so A. D. Naylor, the sawyer of the mill, informs us. The penitentiary is the proper place for such rascals.

R. H. Moore, assignee of the estate of Bashor & Williams, insolvent debtors, made a final settlement with the circuit court this week. The assets are 35 per cent. of the liabilities, after deducting legal expenses.

J. H. Griffis, the live builder and contractor of Gold Hill, who is associated in business with J. W. Walker, called on us last Saturday to procure stationery supplies, etc. This firm is now operating their sawmill in fine timber on Sam's creek.

Mrs. O. S. Pollock, teacher of elocution and English literature in the Albany college, witnessed several recitations and chapel exercises Monday. She came with Miss Mamie Day, daughter of Judge S. J. Day of Jacksonville, who registered here for a thorough business course, says the Salem "Statesman" of the 4th inst.

It is generally conceded by physicians that about one-half of the population of the United States are suffering from indigestion and dyspepsia. Hurried eating and improper mastication and insalivation of food are the principal causes. Dr. Hensley's Dandelion Tonic strengthens and invigorates the digestive organs, and enables one to enjoy a hearty meal without any unpleasant after effects. Sold by E. C. Brooks.

A fair is looked upon as an annual exposition of the resources and activities, the growth and prosperity of the people who live within a patronizing distance of it. It is a reflex of the sentiment and thrift of the community where it is located, and any individual who is mindful of his own reputation will never allow a fair season to approach without preparing something to exhibit; nor permit the fair to go by without giving it a substantial support.

Portland, Oregon, March 25.

Having tried the effects of the concentrated extract of Oregon Kidney Tea, we cheerfully bear witness to its beneficial agency in affections of the digestive organs. It is simple, safe and sure; it is easily taken and restores healthy vitality to the organs it is intended to operate upon with assured success. Sold by E. C. Brooks.

Joe Longinotti and family departed on Tuesday last for the Willamette valley, where they will make their future home. It has been long since a citizen left this place concerning whose departure there was such unanimity of sentiment. Even those who hold Joe's promises to pay rejoice to think that he has found a home among another and a distant people; perhaps a more hospitable, guileless and trusting people, but still a good distance away. Remoteness is the chief reason for gratulation in such cases, and we sincerely trust that Joe will not reduce the distance now existing between the places that knew him and those that will soon find him out. And the chickens and hogs are gamboling merrily over the event.

Sudden Death.

Heart disease is developed by modern civilization, and is increasing to an alarming extent. Let him who suspects the existance of this cause of sudden death take Dr. Flint's Remedy, and get all persons to read his treatise on "heart disease," which will be sent on application by Mack Drug Co., N. Y.

Don't Experiment

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, but be sure to get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Do not be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottles free at all drug stores, large bottles $1.00.

SOUTHERN OREGON PIONEERS.

The 13th annual reunion of Southern Oregon Pioneers was held at Ashland on Thursday, Sept. 12th. The day was delightfully cool and pleasant, and the morning train was perfectly jammed with pioneers and their friends from the different parts of the county.

At Ashland many resident pioneers were waiting the arrival of the train, and cordial greetings met the visitors on every hand. The various hotels, to which the multitude at once repaired, extended every courtesy possible to the guests, and a most enjoyable hour was passed by the older pioneers and their Ashland friends before the time of public exercises had arrived. At 10 o'clock the procession, headed by the Ashland Band and under direction of the president of the day, Hon. J. M. McCall, marched to Roper's grove, where every arrangement for the enjoyment of the day had been perfected by the committee. The meeting was called to order by J. M. McCall and exercises began by music by the band. Rev. M. A. Williams offered an earnest prayer, beautiful in its invocation on the aged men and women whose number is growing perceptibly smaller at each recurring reunion. The reading of memorial resolutions on members deceased in the year just past by R. A. Miller was done in his usual felicitous style, and brought the benedictine flow of tears that ever follows this sad retrospect of time's inevitable changes that are fast decimating the ranks of the Southern Oregon pioneers. Music by the band was followed by the oration delivered by Dunn of Ashland. His address, which had been carefully prepared, was delivered without reference to notes, in an easy, unembarrassed manner, most happy in style and pleasant in effect to the aged members of the society. His introduction was a brief outline of the migrations of the people of the Orient, who had preceded with restless spirit the star of empire, until Oregon pioneers had found their progress stopped forever by the broad waters of the Pacific; "and back across the rippling tide comes the whispering song of the ocean." He paid a beautiful tribute to the pioneer town of Jacksonville, which in historic interest must ever be of greater import
