Beauty

Is desired and admired by all. Among the things which may best be done to enhance personal beauty is the daily use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. No matter what the color of the hair, this preparation gives it a lustre and pliancy that adds greatly to its charm. Should the hair be thin, harsh, dry, or turning gray, will restore the color, bring out a new growth, and render the old soft and shiny. For keeping the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, there is no better preparation in the market.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

"I am free to confess that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor has convinced me that it is a genuine article. Its use has not only caused the hair of my wife and daughter to be but it has given my rather stunted mustache a fine, stable length and appearance."—R. Sutton, Oakland, Ohio.

"My hair was coming out (without any assistance from my wife, either). I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, using only one bottle, and I now have as fine a head of hair as any one could wish for."—R. T. Schmitton, Dickson, Tenn.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."—Benjamin M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo.

"My hair was becoming harsh and dry, but after using half a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it grew black and glossy. I cannot express the joy and gratitude I feel."—Mabel C. Hardy, Delavan, Ill.

The Forum for March.

In "The Forum" for March Senator Dawes writes a review of the first year of President Harrison's administration. Prof. A. B. Hart, of Harvard, from a non-partisan point of view, considers the progress that has been made by reformers, and the hinderances that lie in the way of reformers. Judge A. W. Tourgee reviews the post-bellum amendments to the constitution as they bear upon the rights of suffrage. Gen. Henry L. Abbot, of the United States Army, points out the changes that have been made in the manufacture of firearms, to show the development of new conditions of warfare since our civil war. Prof. James Wilts, formerly of the university of Kansas, who has, perhaps, had as large an experience as any man in the banking of western mortgages, writes an explanation of the causes of the "boom" in that country. Rev. Dr. A. K. Fiske, with all the reverence of an orthodox believer, writes a protest against dogmas in the Protestant churches, and an appeal for a church organization based not on creed but on conduct. Another religious essay is by Archdeacon Farrar, who writes of the good and of the evil done by monasticism. Frederic Harrison, the distinguished English critic, who is now, we believe, for the first time in an American periodical, makes a comparison between the condition of the French peasantry of to-day and of one hundred years ago. The concluding article in this number is an essay against vivisection, by Mrs. Caroline Wilde, of Philadelphia, the organizer of the anti-vivisection society in Philadelphia.

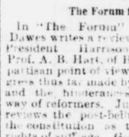
THE QUESTION SETTLED.



This cut is a faithful picture of the well known establishment of Thomas Price & Son, at 824 Sacramento street, S. F. As the leading chemists of the west, they were asked to settle the question as to what sarsaparillas were in fact purely vegetable. We present their report

"We have made careful chemical analyses of several well known brands of sarsaparilla, and have found them all with the single exception of Joy's to contain a Iodide of Potassium. As a result we are enabled to pronounce Joy's to be the only purely vegetable sarsaparilla now on the market, which has come under our observation."

Modern medicine has proven that all ordinary face eruptions are not caused by diseased blood, but by indigestion and sluggish circulation, which call for vegetable alteratives, instead of mineral blood purifiers like Iodide of Potassium. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla being the latest, is the first to discard the old notions and proceed under the modern theory. Its cures attest the soundness of the theory. It is the talk of the hour.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing, with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 149 Power's Block, Rochester N. Y.

Southern Oregon Mails.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Representative Hermann to-day presented to the department a petition from citizens of Douglas county, Oregon, requesting the establishment of a daily mail service from the town of Myrtle Creek to Glendale, via Canonville and Galesville, Douglas county. It is represented by him that this proposed route is largely along the old traveled stage road to Southern Oregon, and that the mail service this way will very much convenience the people en route.

CHICAGO AND THE FAIR.

Some years ago, when a sectional debate was raging in the Senate, Justice Lamar, then senator, warned the senators from the Northeast that the time was at hand when they would find the little finger of the West heavier than the thighs of the South. The selection by the House of Chicago as the location for the World's Fair indicates that that time has arrived.

The selection of Chicago means, in the first place, that the center, not only of population, but of all the great industrial and political forces of the country, is in the West, and the people of the West do not intend to cross the continent to the Atlantic Coast in order to attend the fair.

And then, too, Chicago is the greatest thing the United States has to exhibit to the world. It is not simply that a city of a million inhabitants has grown up in less than two generations, but that the greatest railroad center of the country, the greatest market of the leading products of the country, and the most thoroughly typical great American city has grown out of what was only an Indian trading station within the memory of men now living.

Less than 18 years ago the city was devastated by the greatest of the world's conflagrations. It is now three times as populous and at least six times as rich as it was before it appeared for a few days to have been destroyed. This was not due wholly to the pluck of its own people; it was due in great degree to the pluck and capital of the East. But this is only one of the facts that go to make Chicago the most thoroughly national of all our great cities. All America is represented in Chicago as it is not elsewhere.

New York is cosmopolitan, Boston is New England, Philadelphia is old American in distinction from new American, New Orleans is French, Milwaukee is German, St. Louis is both, Chicago is American.

A handful of German anarchists have made a great noise in Chicago and created many erroneous impressions about the city. The truth is that there is no other city in which so large a foreign element is so thoroughly Americanized.

There is one climatic reason for Chicago's selection. No other of our large cities has so much cool weather during the summer. There is a geographical reason, enhanced by human enterprise, for its selection. There are more ways of getting to Chicago than of getting to any other city in the country.

But the people of New York wanted the fair, and the metropolis of the country was justified in expecting it. The people of the state and city of New York know whom to blame for their disappointment. Republican politicians like Tom Platt, Matt Quay and Bill Chandler decided last summer that there should be no fair in New York in 1892 unless it was to be a Republican political machine. They were unable to accomplish the latter, and so they defeated the aspirations of New York. The Empire city of the Empire state might have had the fair but for the fact that the Republican bosses were bent on rule or ruin. The original fair bill contemplated a non-partisan management of a great national enterprise. Rather than submit to that the Republican bosses decided that New York should not have the fair, says the National Democrat.

AMERICAN ABILITY TO BUILD SHIPS.

The Chicago Journal of Commerce says: Irving M. Scott, general manager of the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, the leading shipbuilding firm on the Pacific Coast, was before the Naval Affairs Committee of Congress quite recently, and made some interesting statements with regard to the ability of this country to produce all kinds of war ships. He said that when the Charleston was built the steel works in this country were unable to supply the hollow shafts needed, and these had to be procured abroad. The policy insisted upon by Congress of compelling the purchase of American materials as far as possible had, however, encouraged capital to invest money in the expansion of works in this country, with the result that the shafts for the San Francisco, begun not long after the Charleston, were procured at the Bethlehem Iron Works in Pennsylvania, and not at the Krupp Works in Germany. The American shafts were superior to the foreign make, the shafts in the San Francisco showing 73,000 pounds' tensile strength and 33 per cent. elongation against 68,000 pounds' tensile strength and 28 per cent. elongation for the shafts in the Charleston. The Union Iron Works can now furnish all the steel castings needed in the construction of a first-class war vessel, with the exception of the plates and shafts, which have to be secured from the Bethlehem Works. These latter works are in many respects the most complete in the world and capable of the highest work. At Bethlehem there are larger hammers and more powerful compressing machines than at Whitworth's or Crook's in England, or Creuzot's in France. Bethlehem has a 125-ton hammer, while Whitworth's largest is 98 tons.

MRS. CLEVELAND'S REBUKE.—During the evolutions of the Palestine drill I observed a nice instance of that kindness of nature for which Mrs. Grover Cleveland is so justly celebrated. The evolutions of the knights were more intricate this year than usual, and this difficulty, added to the slipperiness of the highly polished floor, wrought a series of amusing mishaps in the ranks of the plumed gentry. At the tail end of the squadron was a gentleman so exceedingly short and so amazingly corpulent that his appearance was greeted with universal laughter from the boxes. When, however, the little man, now rapidly growing embarrassed by the hilarity he had unwillingly occasioned, toddled past the Vanderbilt box, Mrs. Cleveland leaned forward and clapped her little hands in kindly approval of him. It was a direct reproof of the unmannerly conduct of the assembled guests; and after being thus personally complimented by the principal lady of the company the pigmy knight ended his evolutions amid general applause.—New York Truth.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING.—Mr. Green Gay, of Siuslaw, was in town the first of the week, and from him we learn a tale of hardship and suffering caused by the recent flood. George Soverns and family, living on the south side of Wolf creek, were driven from their home to the hillside with but little food and a pair of blankets. Their suffering for food became so agonizing that they killed their dog and ate the flesh without salt or bread. In a few days they managed to cross the creek and started in the snow for a neighbor's a few miles distant, but were so weak and exhausted they would have perished had not the neighbors, fearing for their safety, came to the rescue, says the Eugene Guard.

THE directors of the Western Union declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. William Waldorf Astor was elected director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father. The statement shows net earnings for the quarter ended December 31, of $2,000,000; estimated net earnings for the quarter ending March 31, $1,550,000.

MUTINOUS NEW ENGLAND.

The New England States in 1888 gave thirty eight electoral votes to Mr. Harrison on the platform of high protection, and only six for the Democratic platform of free raw materials. At the same election, when the tariff was the distinctive issue, and so plainly and constantly declared that no voter could make a mistake, the New England states sent twenty three high tariff men to the present house of representatives and only three men favorable to free raw materials. That is to say, New England, on a defined issue deserted it by both sides with singular plainness, declared almost unanimously against free raw materials and for a high protective tariff. All right—this is a free country; the people have a right to declare their will at elections, and when they have declared it their representatives are bound to fulfill it. To argue otherwise—to contend that, having voted for a policy, men shall then turn about and demand the opposite—would bring confusion into public affairs and offer a prize to the most unscrupulous demagogue. New England sent an almost solid delegation of high protectionists and opponents of free raw materials to the present house. And now certain New England Republican capitalists, discovering that free raw materials would put money into their pockets, have begun to demand that congress shall not do what their party promised and what they voted and fought for, but the very opposite. That is rank dishonesty. But worse yet, we see in some New England papers the beginning of an attempt to bulldoze the New England representatives to vote against the platform, against the pledges of the party and for free raw material. New England wants free raw wool, free iron ore, free coal, free scrap iron and a strong reduction in the duty on pig iron. Why did not the men who now clamor for this vote the Democratic ticket? The Democrats offered those things, but the offer was contemptuously rejected by New England. In the present house there are only three Democrats—three friends of free coal, free wool, free iron ore—from all New England. If New England really wanted free raw material, that action ought to have and would have sent twenty-six Democrats to congress. Then free raw materials would have been a natural and sure result. It will not do. Let us have honest politics. If New England really wants free raw materials, her people can say so next fall in the congressional elections. The attempt now making in New England papers, on the inspiration of manufacturing capitalists, to bulldoze New England congressmen into bolting from their party on the tariff question is dishonest to the last degree. Let us have honest politics.—New York Herald.

OREGON STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The fifth annual convention of the Sunday-school workers of Oregon will be held in the Christian church, McMinnville, commencing Tuesday, April 15, and closing Thursday, April 17, 1890. While this is a mass convention, and all interested in Sunday-school work are most cordially and earnestly invited to be present, yet, to insure representation, each Sunday school in the state is requested to select two or more persons pledged to attend. The friends of the work at McMinnville will open their homes and hearts and take care of all who may attend the convention. All that are expected to be present will confer a favor by sending their names to Rev. J. Hobert McMinnville, that places may be assigned them. Friends of the work will notice the change of time of holding the convention from June to April. This is done that Oregon may fall into line with our sister states in a chain of conventions arranged by the International Executive Committee. Mr. William Reynolds, president of the last International Convention, will be present at the convention and take a prominent and active part. Arrangements have been made with the S. P. R. R. in Oregon, and O. P. R. R. for the usual reduced rates. That we may know
