OFFICIAL PAPER OF JACKSON COUNTY, OREGON.

FRIDAY ..... JUNE 13, 1890.

At a meeting at Marshfield, Oregon, last week, $40,000 of a required $50,000 subsidy were subscribed to build the Coos Bay and Roseburg railway.

CALIFORNIA race-horses seem to be getting their share of the stakes on the eastern circuit this year. Hearst's filly "Gloaming" won the St. Elmo stakes at Westchester last week.

THE Boston wool market shows firm sales. New spring California sales were made at 17@23c; new territory sales were made at 19@23c, for fine medium; Oregon wool steady at 17@22c, for eastern.

JACKSON COUNTY has at last lost the Democratic banner, that it has carried so long. Umatilla county, which gave Pennoyer nearly 1,00 majority, is in the lead, with Union county a close second.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY COLVIG'S majorities are: Lake, 207; Jackson, 47; Klamath, 55. Total, 309. His opponent, C. B. Watson, has 294 majority in Josephine county, leaving Colvig a net majority of 15 in the district.

THE new Democratic sheriff of Baker county owes his election to one voter, as that was all the majority he had. There will probably be scores of persons asking favors upon the strength of casting that one vote, says an exchange.

GEN. J. M. SHIRK, who would have made the best representative Coos and Curry could send to the legislature, was defeated by A. H. Crook, who holds the position now. Curry county alone gave the latter 140 majority in 455 votes cast.

FOUR years ago the Oregonian was against the Republican candidate for governor and he was defeated. This year it was for him and he was again defeated, says the Capital Journal, Rep. The Oregonians have again rejected the political dictatorship of the Oregonian.

A TERRIBLE train accident occurred at Warrenton, Mo., on the 9th, in which eight men were killed and twenty-five badly injured. Several cars in a train-load of fine race-horses were wrecked and most of the horses killed. The accident was the result of a collision between two freight trains, and the loss to the company will be at least $200,000.

THE Dakeview Examiner says the Republicans of Lake county were badly worsted in the recent election, having elected only the surveyor. The Democrats have at least fifty majority in the county, taking the vote of supreme judge or printer, as these two offices alone will show the political vote, after so much "scratching" on other candidates.

SAN FRANCISCO is having quite a sensation over proven charges of stuff and rotten walls in her new city hall. There seems to be little doubt that the contractors have been grievously imposing on the commissioners and, the exposure will mean not only rebates on contracts but criminal prosecution as well. Such crookedness is not of rare occurrence in large cities but the exposure before thoroughly consummated is very unusual.

BECAUSE an exhibition sparring contest, otherwise a prize fight, under the rules, at the Golden Gate club in San Francisco on last Monday evening, between two pool sellers, Harry McBride and Frank LaRue, the former burst a blood vessel in his brain, as the result of a blow from LaRue, and died from the effects of his injuries, LaRue had an arm broken and was otherwise badly injured. The club officials "greatly regret the occurrence."

SIMON HAMMEL was convicted of obtaining 10,500 from F. M. Parker under false pretenses, and sentenced to imprisonment in jail one year, and to pay a fine of $15,000, or remain in all one day for each dollar fine. The Supreme Court of California has affirmed the judgment as to the term of imprisonment, but struck out the imprisonment for non-payment of the fine. Parker changed his farm in this county to lots of land in San Francisco, to which Hammel had to title.

THE deadlock between the house and senate on the pension question is still unbroken. One of the points of difference relates to the compensation of pension attorneys. The two houses are unable to decide whether these patriots should get $5 or $10 for each claim. As the attorneys furnish the motive power for all pension legislation, it is plain that they must be satisfied before the two houses can begin to let the wheels go round. The government now deducts the fee of the claim-agent from every payment it makes to the veteran. This shows for whose benefit the authorities believe the pension system to exist.

GOVERNOR PENNOYER, in answer to the assertion made by Congressman Hermann, in a dispatch in Sunday's Oregonian, to the effect that during the campaign he was silent on the tariff question, most emphatically denied it. He said: "In my speech at Lebanon, which was published in the Oregonian, I denounced those twin sisters of monopoly—protective tariff and subsidy grants—while in every full speech I made during the canvass I ever went beyond my party platform and favored the imposition by congress of an income tax, by which the wealth of the country would be compelled to help bear the burdens of the government, as well as the removal of all tariff taxation from the necessaries of life."

FOSTER and encouraged by a Democratic administration, the Union Iron Works of San Francisco have developed into one of the best ship-building institutions in the world. All of their work, so far, has been satisfactory; the "Charleston" is performing well, the "San Francisco" is almost ready for her trial trip, and it is highly probable that the same company will secure the contracts for building the 8,500-ton battleship, No. 2, and the 5,700-ton cruiser, No. 6, bids for building which were opened at the navy department at Washington last Thursday. This cost has much to be grateful for to the late Cleveland administration, and not the least of its benefactions was the policy which permitted and fostered the upbuilding of an institution which affords employment to hundreds of men, and through whose means many millions of federal money will be expended in the Pacific states.

THE recent decision of the California Supreme Court at San Francisco, releasing the 60,000 barrels of sugar held by the American refinery, had the effect of temporarily "flooring" the local market for sugar on this coast, and of affording relief to the canning interests; but it also had the effect of booming sugar-trust stock in the east, and of tightening the grip of the great monopoly on the public. In both Philadelphia and New York sugar is steadily advancing, because the trust has absolute control of the eastern market. So great is their power that even the Spreckles are about to succumb to the pressure and have incorporated their two refineries into a stock company, evidently with the intention of soon joining the trust. Pending the decision the American refinery case, sugar trust stock went down from 85 to 74c, in New York, creating a panic, since the decision the stock has been steadily rising, and was quoted at 85c the day after the decision, and it is freely predicted that it will at once go to $1 25. In view of the fact that the decision does not go to the extent of justifying the existence of the trust, nor does it do more than show that even the courts are subject to its all-pervading influence, there is something very significant in the effect of this judicial straw upon the speculative element. The public is now anxiously awaiting the decision of the New York court of appeals relating to the legality of the trust. Should that court also decide in favor of the true principle, it will sound the key-note of the fall campaign. The people are becoming alarmed at last.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

CLOUDBURSTS and cyclones have been devastating the states of Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska during the past week, causing great loss of life and property.

THE required bonus having all been subscribed, it is said by those in a position to know that work on the Roseburg and Coos Bay railroad will be in full blast within six weeks.

THE usual summer diversion of the regular army, chasing Apaches in Arizona at a safe distance behind the Indians, is now in full blast, and will probably continue without interruption until snow flies.

THE Farmers' Alliance and Knights of Labor have closed their last day's session at Huron S. D. They decided to organize a new party. A platform was adopted which includes a state and national declaration of principles.

THE election in Nova Scotia, on May 21st, resulted in an overwhelming majority for the party that favor annexation to the United States. Commercial union was the foremost issue of the canvass, and was boldly advocated by the successful candidates.

IT IS now thought that the shortage in sugar will cause serious detriment to the canning interests on this coast. The release of the tied-up stock of the American refinery at San Francisco affords the only hope of relief from a very threatening situation in one of the chief industries of the Pacific coast.

WOOD DAVIS, whose recent articles in the Forum on the condition of the farmer have attracted wide attention, makes an estimate, in the June number, of the small remaining tillable land supply. He shows that the quantity of tillable land not yet reduced to cultivation is so small that it will all be occupied in a very few years. Then he argues that home consumption will overtake production; but we are very much afraid that by that time a number of people will be so poor that they will be unable to tell whether production equals consumption or not.

THE history of the range business for the past ten years has taught that stockmen cannot depend upon the ranges to support their stock in winter. The losses have been so severe, says the Montana Stock Journal, as to render profits impossible, except in rare instances. Stockmen must then prepare for winter by securing sufficient hay and other feed to keep the stock from dying or even retrograting in the winter. This means the learning of greater expenses; but to make up for this the losses will be greatly reduced. It will require foresight and steady work for cattlemen to adjust their business to the changed condition of the ranges; but we have no doubt they have the qualities of mind and business training to do so without loss.

BITTER SWEETNESS.

No better illustration could be presented of the ease with which the public can be talked on tariff questions than is afforded by the present condition of the sugar market. As a general proposition it is easily conceded now that no very radical changes are ever made or even contemplated in the tariff schedules, by leading Republicans, only at dictation of capital. It may be taken for granted that robbery is at the bottom of every effort of theirs to tinker with the subject. Events are conclusively proving that there was a very big job in the boasted cheapening of sugar by the removal of the duty and the payment of bounties to the sugar planters. No sooner had the McKinley bill passed the lower house of congress, virtually removing the tariff on that commodity, than refined sugars advanced in price all over the continent. The rise created much surprise among small dealers and in the minds of the general public, until the fact became noised about during the time of the agitation before the McKinley bill was passed, the trusts and large independent refineries had cornered all available stocks in sight and had the public at their mercy. Anticipating a decline in prices consequent upon the great reduction in duty, the smaller jobbers had delayed stocking up for the summer trade until the trusts had gotten absolute control, and the advent of the canning season gave them license to clinch consumers to an alarming degree. The fact of the tariff being in existence enabled the trusts and great independent refineries to get control of the market, and now the removal of the sugar duties will simply enable them to pocket the government's revenue, without benefiting either consumer or producer one cent's worth. The shrewd capitalists fully realized the fact that the few sugar producers in this country residing south of the Mason and Dixon line or on the remote Pacific coast would put them outside the pale of any purely "protective" consideration at the next Republican party north, and the tariff having subserved their interests to the extent of giving them unquestioned control of the sugar market, they had no further use for "protection" for the manufacturers. It came too high, added to the cost of their raw material, and they were able to clinch the consumer without regard to the duty. So the tariff had to go, at their behest, and the government is out many millions in revenue annually, while the consuming public pays a higher rate than before for its sugar. It's a fine thing to be a sugar trust with a boodle majority in congress back of it.

MINING NEWS.

Notices for the location of placer and quartz mines, etc., for sale at the TIMES office.

The American Mining Code, standard authority on all subjects pertaining to all mining, water-rights, etc., is kept for sale at the TIMES office.

E. Sanderson Smith, superintendent of the Steamboat quartz mine, was in town during the week. He reports good prospects, and says the ledge is paying its way.

Ennis & Cameron are now engaged in repairing the damage done to Butte Gulch creek properly by the February floods. They find it necessary to do more or less damming.

The Montague "Herald" estimates the gold output of Siskiyou county, Cal., at $500,000. We may be guessing wildly, but from the best sources of information available we think there will be taken from mines in Josephine county this season not far from $400,000, says the "Courier."

Poisoned With Malaria.

Mr. S. D. Price, a native of this State but now a prominent and influential citizen of Dallas, Texas, writes under the date of April 12, 1890: "About three years ago I was living in a malarial district of Georgia, and while there frightful sores broke out all over my body. The poison in my blood was so bad that it ruined my health and prostrated me. I was at length so ruined in health, and apparently incurable after taking large quantities of different medicines prescribed by my physicians, that they, as a last resort, advised me to go to Hot Springs, as it was the only chance of recovery left, and in this they expressed their serious doubts that I would derive any benefit from the trip. I went to Hot Springs, and while there took a thorough course of medicine under the physicians, which seemed to benefit but did not cure me, for in one month after my return the malady re-appeared. I immediately began taking S. S. S., which made me permanently well—well from 1886 until now."

Newspaper Law.

For the benefit of all who may seek to swindle the newspapers out of their just dues, we publish the following which is kept standing at the head of the first editorial column in many of our exchanges:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publisher may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect to or refuse to take their periodicals from the office of which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their bill and ordered their paper discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for "prima facie" evidence of intentional fraud.

6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has subscribed for it or not, is held in law as a subscriber.

7. The postmaster who neglects to give the legal notice of the neglect of a person to take from the office the newspaper addressed to him, is liable also to the publisher for the subscription price.
