Still More Counterfeiting.

The Secret Service has unearthed another band of counterfeiters and secured a large quantity of bogus bills, which are so cleverly executed that the average person would never suspect them of being spurious. Things of great value are always selected by counterfeiters for imitation, notably the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which has many imitators but equals for indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, nervousness and general debility. The Bitters set things right in the stomach, and when the stomach is in good order it makes good blood and plenty of it. In this manner the Bitters get at the seat of strength and vitality, and restore vigor to the weak and debilitated. Beware of counterfeiters when buying.

Cancer

There are never any external signs of Cancer until the blood is polluted and the system thoroughly contaminated by this deadly virulent poison. Then a sore or ulcer appears on some part of the body; it may be small and harmless looking at first, but as the cancerous cells form and are deposited by the blood near the sore, it increases in size and severity, with sharp shooting pains. No matter how often the sore is removed by the surgeon's knife or flesh destroying plasters, another comes and is worse. The real disease is in the blood, and the treatment must begin there. The poisoned blood must be invigorated and purified, and when this is done cancerous cells can no longer form and the sore will heal naturally and permanently.

Mrs. Sarah M. Keesling, of Nashville, Tenn., writes: "I am 41 years old, and for three years have suffered from Cancer on my jaw, which the doctors said was incurable, and that I could not live more than six months. I accepted their statement, and had given up all hope of ever being well again when my druggist, knowing of my condition, recommended S. S. S., after taking a few bottles the sore began to heal, to the surprise of the physicians, and in a short time made a complete cure. I have gained in flesh, my appetite is splendid, sleep is refreshing—in fact, am enjoying perfect health."

S. S. S. overcomes this destructive poison and removes every vestige of it from the system, makes new, rich blood, strengthens the body and builds up the general health.

If you have a suspicious sore, or have inherited any blood taint, send for our free book on Cancer, and write to our medical department for any information or advice wanted; we make no charge for this service. Your letter will receive prompt and careful attention, and will be held in strictest confidence.

THE S. S. S. SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

IN MEMORIAM.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas McAn drew, at the Catholic church in Jacksonville, Wednesday morning of last week, was one of the most solemn and impressive functions ever held here. In the presence of a large concourse of friends and sympathizers Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Father Berthiaume. The church was profusely and tastefully draped in mourning, the main altar especially presenting a solemn appearance. The music and singing under the able direction of Sister Inez, supported by Miss Laura Snelling on the violin, were fully equal to the occasion. Miss Sophie Muller's effective part in the singing was greatly appreciated. She sang touching the beautiful and appropriate hymn "Jesus, Savior of the world, we beseech thee hear our prayers, and grant thy servant eternal peace and rest."

After holy communion Father Berthiaume delivered a most suitable address, applying to the deceased lady these words of St. Paul: "I am not ashamed of the Gospel, for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth. (Rom. 1:16.)"

Father Berthiaume spoke feelingly on the inestimable value of the Christian religion for our mutual edification, and with regard to our esteemed friend who, having laid down the burden of life was to be hidden from those who love her so dearly in her last earthly dwelling—the grave. He dwelt on the remarkable Christian character of the deceased:

1st. She found in the faith of Christ a burning lamp, an unerring guide for her faltering footsteps, and true happiness in the practice of virtue.

2d. The thoughts which mostly consoled her and brought her refreshment in her long illness and suffering were those derived from a consideration of the Gospel precepts. Her religion taught her that God sends suffering in love as a tender father for the benefit of the soul and the promotion of eternal salvation. Therefore she bore them most patiently, in union with Jesus suffering and dying on the cross for her own redemption, and she felt assured that if she suffered with Him she would be glorified also with Him.

3d. The Christian religion brought her hope and strength in her supreme and dying moments. The burden of sin, which would have borne down the soul on its journey to eternity, was taken away in the sacrament of penance. "Whose sins you shall forgive," said Christ to His church, "they are forgiven them." Holy communion had strengthened her. "I am the living bread which came down from Heaven," again said Christ, "if any man eat of this bread he shall live forever." "He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood shall abide in me, and I will raise him up at the last day," again the sacrament of Extreme Unction, the blessings and prayers of the Holy Mother Church, had assisted her departing soul into heaven.

Finally, at the grave, the sorrowing family, the sympathizing friends and relatives, found consolation only in the Gospel, in the Christian religion. The true and faithful wife, the kind and loving mother, the dear friend and ever obliging neighbor, had finished her pilgrimage here below and been taken away; she had returned home to her heavenly Father; she had exchanged a miserable habitation in this vale of tears and sorrows for an everlasting dwelling in Paradise. In the other world, before long, they would behold her again, radiant in her garment of immortality. To many, alas! who do not love to believe, who live in sin and do not wish their consciences to be awakened, lest they should be disturbed in their sinful life, the Christian religion is a heavy yoke and burden; but to our deceased sister that religion was a lamp and guide in life, a source of consolation and strength in her sufferings and death; and therefore we do hope through the mercy and
