Guggenheim and Mack of southern California, who in the past two years have purchased and bonded about 15.000 acres of land in the foot-hills of the Siskiyou, have incorporated under the laws of California a company with $1,000. 000 capital, called the ashland Oil Company, with offices in the Crocker building, San Fran-cisco. Its officers are: President, A. J. Mack; vice president, J. J. Mack; manager, L. Gug-gerheim; superintendent J. C. Hill. A light rig for prospecting purposes will reach Ash-land during the present week, and the heavier machinery will follow. The extent of the Alaskan gold imports this year it is believed will exceed those of last year. A conservative estimate of last year's total receipts would be $12,000,000. This year the receipts ought to be $15,000,000. and perhaps more.
