BRIEF MENTION.

Bananas, oranges and lemons can always be found at Wetterer's. A man in Calaveras county, Calif., is hatching pheasants in incubators.

Only 9 per cent. of the soldiers actually engaged in war are killed on the field of battle.

Joe Wetterer makes a specialty of light drinks, fresh candies, nuts, tropical and other fruits, etc.

King Edward of England has already won $100,000 on horse races this season. The king is a great gambler.

The celebrated Soap Shot, the best medicine in the world for allaying inflammation in man or beast, can be found at Dr. Robinson's drug store also at Dr. Hinkle's, Central Point. Try it.

"Oh, you cruel boy, to take those eggs out of the nest! Think of the mother bird when she comes!"

"The mother bird's dead miss."

"How do you know that?"

"I see it in your hat."

A Great Bend, Kan., correspondent of the Kansas City Journal writes: "Standing wheat in the field at noon to-day, harvested, threshed, ground into flour, baked into bread in large quantities by a bakery and sold around town for 6 o'clock supper was a record breaker in this county this afternoon in quickness of conversion of standing wheat in the field to the bread plate."

P. T. Thomas, Sumterville, Ala.: "I was suffering from dyspepsia when I commenced taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I took several bottles and can digest anything. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only preparation containing all the natural digestive fluids. It gives weak stomachs entire rest, restoring their natural condition. City Drug Store, Jacksonville, and Dr. J. Hinkle, Central Point.

A. J. Cottingham went to Washington county, Ark., to see his sister, and while there was taken with flux (dysentery) and was very bad off. He decided to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and was so much pleased with the prompt cure which it effected that he wrote the manufacturers a letter in praise of their medicine. Mr. Cottingham resides at Lockland, Ark. This remedy is for sale by City Drug Store.

Canaries, which are originally green and gray in color, were native to the islands from which they take their name, and were first taken to England on ships plying between English ports and the south of France. From this stock have been derived a number of distinct varieties, such as the crested, the green, the lizard, which imitates the reptile in its variegated markings, and the Belgian, which has a strange, hump-backed appearance.

Mrs. Hearst of San Francisco, widow of the late Senator Hearst, has caused the ground to be broken on the McCloud river, Calif., for a half-million dollar summer resort, including residence, outbuildings and enclosed park. Her grounds are situated between the Wheeler and Waterhouse tracts. The home of the aborigines is being transformed into the mansionary habitation of California's millionaire classes. The McCloud river for its entire length is now owned by private parties.

Farmers can hardly give too much attention to the cleansing of their fields from noxious growths. The laws require this to be done, but the laws on this subject are generally ignored. Every man who has an acre of ground and tills the soil has a personal interest in keeping the land clean. One of the greatest pests that can get into the farmers' fields is the Canada thistle. It is a most persistent grower, spreading chiefly under ground and defying all ordinary methods of destruction.

H. A. Corliss and Mr. Boynton, accompanied by their wives, left Grant's Pass for the upper valley last week, and may extend their trip to Klamath county.

J. Wolke, the well-known hardware dealer, while hunting in the vicinity of A. Fetsch's ranch in the southern part of the county, lost his way and was lost 24 hours.

H. L. Truax has been telling the Oregonian that southern Oregon has been troubled considerably by forest fires this season. The atmosphere is dense with smoke on account of fires in the woods along Rogue river, near Merlin, and two saw mills, those of Hefling and Nice, have been shut down, the crews being compelled to fight fire in order to save valuable timber. The Southern Pacific Co. has issued a circular to its employes, urging them to use their efforts as far as possible toward stopping the fires.

A Worthy Institution.

The following extract from a letter just at hand shows the confidence of school boards in the State Normal at Drain: "We want a thorough and strong lady teacher—one who has had several terms outside experience, as well as the advantage of your training department."

The president of the school was able to recommend a teacher for the position.

That class of teachers is being sought, and this fact is turning students towards the Normal. The Normal aids its graduates in securing positions. The TEACHERS' REVIEW CLASS will be found of great benefit to those needing review work for examinations.

Address the President, Drain, Or.

He sails through the air with the greatest of ease." But this time it isn't on "his flying trapeze." M. Santos-Dumont, the Brazilian aeronaut, who is in Paris trying to win the Deutsch $20,000 prize for a flying machine that will travel at least ten meters a second and be under the control of the operator, has made several very interesting and partially satisfactory trials. He has sailed his machine from the Aero club grounds at St. Cloud to and around the Eiffel tower and part of the way back, when his power was exhausted. Santos-Dumont is confident that he will soon be able to exceed all former tests and that before the year ends he will have won the prize.

Cheese.

The doctors say that cheese will digest everything except itself, and why it does not digest itself may be guessed when it is known that after a certain treatment it becomes like leather.

How John Fell From Grace. Chinese servant stories are epidemic. Here's one, and it's true:

A west side woman a few days ago was boasting to a caller of the virtues of her Mongolian cook, and she emphasized the latter's systematic methods as his special strong point.

"John finishes his work at precisely the same minute every evening," said she proudly. "I always know exactly where he is and what he is doing at any time of the day."

"Well, what is he doing now?" was asked.

"Let me see. It is 7 o'clock. Well, he has just finished putting the dishes away and at this moment is sweeping the kitchen. Come, let's go out and see if I'm not right."

They started through the dining room and found everything in its place, as prophesied. In the pantry the dishes were neatly arranged in their customary place. Then they opened the kitchen door.

There in the center of the room was John, and he was complacently washing himself in the dishpan!

The embarrassed mistress and her convulsed guest retired in haste, and the servant problem was dropped.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Andersen's Childlike Vanity.

"Hans Christian Andersen," said one who saw him often, "was the most charming egotist I ever knew." When the Danish crown prince brought home his Swedish bride in the summer of 1859, a great assemblage of people stood in the streets of Copenhagen to see the royal couple pass.

In one group were several distinguished women and the great story teller, Hans Christian Andersen. The women occupied front seats at the window and received marked attention from the court dignitaries in the procession.

Some one in the company remarked that this particular window seemed to possess peculiar attractions.

"Oh, yes," said the aged poet, pleased and happy in his seat, where he had been seen by nobody. "Everybody knows me."

The quiet smile that went round the group had no trace of unkindness. His childish vanity was one of the amiable traits of the gentle old man. Everybody knew and loved it.
