Bananas, oranges and lemons can always be found at Wetterer's.

The Boers captured seventy men from Gen. Elliott's column, operating in Orange Colony, August 23d. British casualties were one killed and four wounded.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has a world-wide reputation for its cures. It never fails, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by City Drug Store.

To swim from Boston to New York is the feat that Peter McNally will attempt, making the start next Sunday, the entire distance to be covered within 30 days.

A large quantity of newspapers, suitable for wrapping, pasting on walls, putting under carpets, etc., can be obtained cheap, in quantities of suit, at THE TIMES Printing House.

A man with 75 cents in his pocket was compelled to raise $1. He pawned his 75 cents for 50 cents and then sold his pawn ticket for 50 cents, thus securing the dollar needed. Who lost money by the transaction?

The celebrated Snap Shot, the best medicine in the world for allaying inflammation in man or beast, can be found at Dr. Robinson's drug store, also at Dr. Hinkle's, Central Point. Try it.

The S. P. Co. has been sprinkling its tracks in Arizona with crude oil, in order to lay the dust of that desert stretch of country, and finds that the work has proved a great success. The first cost of the work has been about $50 per mile.

Plans are announced to secure the opening of the Spokane Indian Reservation to mineral locations. The reservation is 25 miles northeast of Spokane and contains about 200,000 acres. The mineral wealth is unknown, but surface indications are said to be promising. The reservation is now occupied by about 350 Spokane Indians.

Henry Flagler, multi-millionaire and Standard Oil magnate, has secured a divorce from his insane wife under the Florida statute that four years of continuous insanity is sufficient for a decree. He is 72 years of age and has already married a young woman. It is another case of "the old man in his dotage," and may turn out badly, for such is usually the way.

Don't be satisfied with temporary relief from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure permanently and completely removes this complaint. It relieves permanently because it allows the tired stomach to rest. Dieting won't rest the stomach. Nature receives supplies from the food we eat. The sensible way to help the stomach is to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which digests what you eat, and can't help but do you good. City Drug Store, Jacksonville, and Dr. J. Hinkle, Central Point.

The drain of population continues and the loss to Ireland is relatively greater, owing to the impaired vitality of the nation through the unparalleled loss of young men and women during the last fifty years. Other racial deteriorations are going on as a direct result of the drain of youthful manhood and womanhood from the country, and the gravest of all the dangers which now menace Ireland is the continued drain on its youth. England no longer forces them away. She is, on the contrary, rather selfishly alarmed at the extent of the drain.

A TRYING POSITION

"My position is a trying one" was the joking remark of the cloak model of a fashionable firm. But there is less jest than earnest in the statement. It is trying to be on the feet all day, to be reaching and stooping hour after hour from morn until night. And that is a very meager outline of a business woman's day. With many such women the ordinary strain of labor is intensified and aggravated by a diseased condition of the delicate organs, and they become victims of that terrible backache, or blinding headache, which is so common among business women.

If you are bearing this burden, bear it no longer. For the backache, headache, nervousness and weakness which spring from a diseased condition of the womanly organs there is a sure cure in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Half a million women have been perfectly and permanently cured by this wonderful medicine.

"My niece was troubled with female weakness for about four years before I asked for your advice," writes Mr. J. W. McGregor, of 643 St. and Princeton Ave., Chicago, Ill. "You advised her to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription which she did faithfully for nine months, and now we must acknowledge to you that she is a well woman. We cannot thank you enough for the cure."

Sick women can consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. Address, Buffalo, N. Y.

A STORY OF A NOSE

It was at the masquerade. Weary with dancing I threw myself into a seat. A pretty hand accidentally touched mine.

"I beg your pardon."

"The pardon is granted," I said, smiling. I had taken off my mask on account of the oppressive heat and did not object to revealing my identity to the charming person at my side.

"How I love poetry!" she exclaimed, toying with her fan. Fancy Titania with a fan! "Will you make me the subject of a sonnet?"

The question came so coquettishly, those eyes gazed into mine so beseechingly, that I involuntarily said, "Yes, certainly, but I must know your name."

"My name?" she repeated. "How stupid! Can't you invent one which will suit your fancy? Call me Verona or Jessica."

"Or Titania," I suggested. "But, dear Titania, lift that hideous mask and let me gaze into your countenance. Let me know who it is that honors me with her society."

"No, you will not thank me for showing my features. I assure you I am very ugly."

"Impossible!" I cried. "Were a man to venture such an assertion I swear I would punch his head. You ugly? It cannot be."

"Believe me, sir, I am a sight to behold. If you saw my face, you would flee from my presence. I value your company too highly to drive you from my side."

"What consummate cruelty!" I exclaimed. "I am sure you are beautiful. I have seen all your features but your nose. Well, I ask in the name of all the powers is it possible for a nose to destroy the combined effect of so many charms? Please remove the mask."

"Well," said my fairy, with a merry laugh, "I shall do as you desire. Receive as your just punishment the task of untying my mask."

I was aware of a surprising nervousness as I bent over that delicate head and untied the strings. Then for the next few moments I stood transfixed.

What a nose! It was a wonderful freak of nature. The height of our Bunker Hill monument, the immensity of our Niagara falls, the magnitude of our last river and harbor bill, all dwindled down into insignificance when compared with that nose. It was a sphinx, a pyramid, a monster of such hideous aspect, that I shuddered.

I felt discomfited, and suddenly reflecting an engagement with a friend, I hastened off without daring to gaze upon my enchantress, who in the meantime was laughing in the most unconcerned manner possible. This female Cyran de Bergerac had evidently become reconciled to her misfortune. On reaching the foyer I fell into a seat and tried to reflect. "Is the government powerless," I thought, "to prevent such outrages, such terrorism?"

A waiter approached me and asked me if I would have something to eat. Mechanically I gave him an order, which was soon served. While eating I tried to forget the monster I had excoriated. Good heavens! It approached me, the nose, faithfully backed by Titania, leaning upon the arm of a man disguised like an Indian. It was too late to slip under the table, for she had already seen me, and, approaching me with a bewildering smile which took in all her features except her nose, she said:

"How quickly you deserted me. I feared something had happened to you."

She laughed. Oh, if the Indian had but laughed! I should have vented my feelings on him, but he was as sober as an owl.

After the first shock was over I felt sorry for the unfortunate creature and rather ashamed of my abrupt conduct.

"Will you forgive me," I asked, "for deserting you so unceremoniously?"

"Certainly," she replied. "Did I not predict it? You will admit at all events that I am hideous."

"I will admit nothing of the kind," I replied gallantly as I caught a glance of her bright eyes, "but I would suggest an operation."

"Oh, that is simple!" she said merrily. "You see it is a detachable nose. I have merely to pull, see, and off it comes."

Titania gave a gentle pull, and the nose remained in her hand, revealing her true features as pretty as the rest of her face.

Before I had time to recover from my astonishment she had taken the Indian's arm and had disappeared.

I sought for her in vain during the entire night, but every trace of her was lost. I returned home disconsolate, chiding myself for a fool, and all night I followed her in my dreams, a fleeting vision of loveliness, with a perfect nose.

How we met again might form the subject of another and more romantic story, for Titania is now quite happy as Mrs. Soby.—Boston Traveler.

A Worthy Institution.

The following extract from a letter just at hand shows the confidence of school boards in the State Normal at Drain: "We want a thorough and strong lady teacher—one who has had several terms outside experience, as well as the advantage of your training department."

The president of the school was able to recommend a teacher for the position.

That class of teachers is being sought, and this fact is turning students towards the Normal. The Normal aids its graduates in securing positions. The TEACHERS' REVIEW CLASS will be found of great benefit to those needing review work for examinations.

Address the President, Drain, Or.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
