JOSEPHINE COUNTY ITEMS.

A. C. Hough, the attorney, is in Grant's Pass.

Mrs. Geo. H. Kelly of Eugene has gone to Southern California for the benefit of her health.

Geo. W. Meek of Missouri Flat, a first-class mechanic, is conducting a bicycle repair shop in Missouri Flat district, near Davidson postoffice. He understands the different kinds of wheels thoroughly, as all those who have tried him will attest.

The Oregonian of the 18th gives this information, which is startling, if true: "Attorney Robert G. Smith, the erstwhile Republican leader of Southern Oregon, but now a prominent Democratic politician, is in the city, registered at the Imperial."

Three white and one black hobo were arrested at Grant's Pass Tuesday, for breaking into Chiles' grocery store the evening before. The negro rushed out, and covering the party with his revolver ordered them to run. "Kit" Baber, one of the arresting party, had a gun and attempted to run around the corner from which he could slip upon him, but the darkey was too quick for him, and, poking his pistol in Baber's face, ordered him to replace the gun, which he quickly did. Afterward the city officers arrested the men.

A Popular Work.

The reader may make up his mind to be pleasantly overwhelmed by the opulence and vivacity of "Around the Pan" published by the Nutshell Publishing Company, 1059 Third Avenue, New York. The wonders begin with the frontispiece picture of President McKinley, drawn in a single line beginning at a point on the cheek tone and going round and round in a constantly widening circle, with waverings and downbearings of the pen in the proper places to secure detachment and shading. We are told that this portrait is considered the most unique work of the kind in the world, and if there are degrees of uniqueness we are willing to believe that this is most the thing of which there are no duplicates. Of course there is a text in addition to the pictures, and we should be surprised indeed to hear from any purchaser the opinion that he had not got his money's worth ($2 00).—N. Y. Sun, Jan. 11.

Fastest Boat in the World.

The submarine boat recently built for the Russian government is supposed to be the fastest in the world. It is claimed that it will cross the Atlantic ocean in two and one-half days. The secret of its extraordinary speed lies in its peculiar construction. The secret of the marvelous success of Hostetter's Bitters lies in the scientific compounding and extraction of the curative properties of certain roots and herbs. It is a family medicine and can be relied on in cases of belching, flatulency, sick-headache, dizziness, indigestion and dyspepsia. It is also an excellent appetizer and nerve-strengthener, and as a preventive of malaria, fever and ague it is unequaled. Give it a trial, and you will feel its beneficial effects from the start.

A New Departure.

FARM AND HOME, elsewhere advertised as a premium in connection with THE TIMES, with its nearly half a million subscribers, has inaugurated a new departure in agricultural journalism. It takes hold of matters by the business end. It not only tells its readers how to raise the best and largest crops, the best treatment of stock, etc., but devotes special attention to the marketing of crops. It shows how farmers may co-operate to secure a larger share of the price which their produce brings in market. This is the dollar mark that every farmer is striving for. A fine Art Calendar for 1902, with weather forecasts for every day in the year, and five beautiful pictures, 9x13, each a gem of art, is included in each subscription. All for $1.50.

THE TEST OF DEMOCRACY.

Easy For All Men to Tell Whether They Belong to the Party.

The Richmond Times does not know "where it is at," says the Atlanta Constitution. It is so badly befogged that it believes "nobody knows how the Democratic party stands on the great questions of the day" and that "thousands of men do not know whether they belong to the Democratic party or not."

But perhaps things are not actually in so bad a way as all that. We have the authority of Longfellow, in fact, that sometimes "things are not as they seem" and as they must undoubtedly seem to Democrats who have been straying from the procession and potlucking with the opposition for the past five years. Everything is apt to seem out of place to the fellow who is off his base himself.

The Times might easily help itself back to right relations with the party by frankly considering a few simple and significant facts. "The great questions of the day," to employ its phrase, are the proposals and purposes of the dominant Republican party. Its policies as they are being exploited by the administration and the majority of congress furnish the live issues of the day and prophesy the salients of the next campaign.

No man who believes in the constitution as it was interpreted by its makers and by the popular voice for the first hundred years of our history can doubt that he is a Democrat. No man who believes that wherever the flag floats the great doctrines of the constition should be applied and enforced can doubt to which party he belongs. No man who is opposed to a fixed colonial system, to far foreign possessions and people in vassalage, can hesitate about proclaiming himself a Democrat. No man who believes in the fundamental axioms of Democracy as declared by Jefferson and who opposes imperialism, militarism, trust control of legislation or corporate control of governmental functions can be other than a Democrat.

Really there is no great hurry up necessity for the Democratic party getting out this month a new national platform for the battle of 1904. On the contrary, it has everything to gain and nothing to lose in just standing in the middle of the national highway and sounding the slogans of assault upon the insidious, unconstitutional and imperialistic aggressions of the party in power. In that line of duty every Democrat can find a fighting place, and the man who does not feel sufficient to be on that firing line has reason to suspect his own Democracy.

The McGovern-Sullivan Fight.

Terry McGovern and Dave Sullivan will fight before the Southern Athletic club of Louisville instead of before the Yosemite Athletic club of San Francisco. Jim Kennedy withdrew his offer on behalf of the Frisco club because of friction in the matter of securing a license.

Sam Harris, for McGovern, and Tom Sharkey, for Sullivan, at a conference in New York accepted the offer of Tim Hurst on behalf of the Louisville club of 60 per cent of the gross receipts. The date for the bout was fixed for the afternoon of Washington's birthday, Feb. 22.

Terry McGovern and Dave Sullivan were both present when the new arrangements were made, and McGovern is now training at Hempstead, N. Y. As the fight was put off three weeks from the time originally scheduled, Jan. 30, Terry did light work until a few days ago. Sam Harris does not want McGovern to do more than three weeks' hard work. Sullivan is doing his work at Spike Sullivan's, Homecrest, near Sheepshead Bay, N. Y.

Mr. Wheeler Got Rid of His Rheumatism.

"During the winter of 1898 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked steadily all the year.—R. WHEELER, Northwood, N. Y. For sale by City Drug Store.

PRANKS OF CUPID.

Some Celebrated Men Who Married Their Domestic Servants.

Many celebrated men have married their domestic servants. Sir Henry Parkes, premier of New South Wales, is an example. One night when dining at a friend's house he was struck by the appearance of a servant girl who waited upon the table and persuaded his host to allow her to enter his employ. This she did and for a short time held the position of cook in Sir Henry's household. Then he made her Lady Parkes.

But more illustrious than this is the case of Peter the Great. One day he was dining at the house of Prince Menshikoff. He noticed one of the servant maids particularly, and, though she was not handsome, she caught his fancy. Her name, the prince told the czar, was Martha. She had been a servant in the house of a Lutheran minister of Marienburg, and when that city was captured by the troops of Russia she had been taken prisoner by General Bauer, who had passed her over to the prince, whose servant she was. The count politely made a present of her to the czar, who eventually married her.

William Cobbett, the great writer, when he was only twenty-one years of age one morning chanced to see a buxom servant girl busily engaged in washing the family linen. The girl was pretty, so Cobbett spoke to her, learned her name and the same evening called upon her parents and said he would like to marry their daughter. The parents of the girl informed the young man that they had no objections to him as their son-in-law, but that he would have to wait until their daughter was of a marriageable age. Five years later Cobbett, true to his early love, married her.

Barnum's Monkeys

"All well—all happy—lots of fun". That is the regular report from the monkey cage of Barnum's Circus ever since the keepers began dosing the monkeys with Scott's Emulsion. Consumption was carrying off two thirds of them every year and the circus had to buy new ones.

One day a keeper accidentally broke a bottle of Scott's Emulsion near the monkey cage and the monkeys eagerly lapped it up from the floor. This suggested the idea that it might do them good. Since then the monkeys have received regular doses and the keepers report very few deaths from consumption. Of course it's cheaper to buy Scott's Emulsion than new monkeys—and that suits the circus men.

Consumption in monkeys and in man is the same disease. If you have it or are threatened with it can you take the hint?

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.

Did you ever compare a delicious, flaky, delicately browned loaf of bread made from

Snowy Butte Flour

With the sad results achieved from the use of cheaper flour? The one, the highest triumph of cookery—the most useful of all the arts; the other, a monument to wasted energy, blasted hopes and poor judgment. But why continue the comparison? If you have made the mistake in the past, trying to exist on inferior flour, redeem yourself by ordering Snowy Butte flour only in future.

ALL CASES OF
DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.
F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

BALTIMORE, Md., March 30, 1901.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.
