VALUE OF HYPNOTISM.

Professor Quackenbos Calls It a Universal Panacea.

AID FOR MENTAL AND MORAL ILLS

Columbia University Lecturer, Who Says He Has Treated 3,000 Cases, Claims That Thieves, Gamblers, Drunkards, Liars and Others May Be Readily Reformed.

Mental, moral and physical shortcomings are capable of elimination by hypno suggestion. Better natures can be brought to the surface and conscious sensitiveness substituted for moral anesthesia. Young culprits and castaways can be redeemed, criminal inclinations and desires removed and, above all, generations yet unborn can be influenced for the better by this same means.

Summed up, this was the general conclusion reached the other night by Professor John D. Quackenbos of Columbia university in an address he delivered before the members of the Men's club and women guests at the April meeting of the organization, says the New York Herald. The meeting was held in the rooms of the club in the Lenox Avenue Unitarian church in New York, and the subject of Professor Quackenbos' address was "Hypno Suggestion; Its Present Uses and Future Possibilities."

"The conclusions which I have reached," said Professor Quackenbos, "are derived from some 3,000 experiences with hypnotized patients. These subjects sought my aid for almost every conceivable malady, mental and moral, some for ethico spiritual, many for literary or dramatic inspiration. I have thus been brought into the closest touch with the human soul, first objectively and subsequently in the realm of the subliminal life, where, practically liberated in the hypnotic slumber from its entanglement with a perishable body, it has been open to approach by the objective mind in which it elected to confide, dynamically ab-sorptive of creative stimulation from that mind and lavish in dispensing to the personality en rapport the suddenly apprehended riches of its own higher spiritual nature.

"Thus is effected a perfect agreement between the law of right and the intelligent creature, with which neither the will of the operator nor the will of the subject has aught to do. The popular idea that supposes subjection to the will of another is a mistaken one, that a person who has once been hypnotized is thereafter an automaton in the hands of his suggestionist; that an actress made adequate to the touches of Bernhardt is a soulless Trilby.

"Personally I am incapable of doing anything so contemptible. Ingenuous ethico-spiritual inspiration cannot be mere lip work or rote lesson. It implies a sincere belief in the suggestions offered, control by lofty principles, an eloquent and incisive manner born of the courage of conviction. In short, it is a transfusion of personality, accompanied with a reciprocal uplift.

"Cases of moral import successfully treated by me may be classified under the following heads: Cigarette addiction and the disturbed mentality of nicotine poisoning, drink habit, morpho-mania, cocaineism, kleptomania and hopeless dishonesty, mania for gambling, willfulness, disobedience and habitual falsehood in children, suicidal and homicidal manias and general moral imbecility.

"Dipsomania is singularly amenable to treatment by hypno suggestion. In fact, some of the popular cures are in reality mere suggestion cures, there being no specific virtue in the drugs administered, certainly not in the hypo-dermic injection of Croton water and of apomorphin.

"Views advanced here tonight regarding the outlook in the treatment of dip-somania by suggestion are based upon an experience with some hundred cases extending over a period of three years.
Of these cases about 80 per cent have been permanently cured.

"Thieves desirous of reform and kleptomaniacs, especially if young or appreciative of the seriousness of their abnormal propensity, may be radically cured by hypno suggestion.

"Suggestions may further be used to regulate fecundity and so control the population of the earth. Such promises to be the development of the twentieth century, while hypno science seems to be destined to demonstrate immortality on philosophical principles, to discover the laws that govern telepathic intercourse and perhaps to determine the possibility or the impossibility of humana communication with disperse souls—a question left open by the New Testament writers."

Shield For Fair Automobileists.

Instead of goggles women automobilists are going to wear mica masks this spring, says the New York Press. In a fashionable millinery shop the newest automobile hat exhibited is a "Petit Capora" of white felt cloth. This Na-poleanic bonnet has a band of white satin ribbon, which is fastened under the chin, and also long streamer strings of white chiffon, which can be wound around the neck with artistic effect.
From each of the two points of the hat over the ears comes a slender nickel chain, which fastens the isinglass face shield to it.

Plant Vaccination.

Vaccination of plants is the idea of a French botanist. He proposes to raise suitable cultures of parasitic fungi and inoculate the plants in order to make them proof against the attacks of those parasites.

Be Sure It's Dead.

It may be dangerous to assume that there may be no chance of passing the ship subsidy bill through the house or to infer from the present apparent indifference to the scheme that there is no disposition to push it. Both these conclusions may be right, and we trust they are. At the same time the safer plan is to keep up the fire on the bill and to make congressmen understand that the people are against it.—Indianapolis News.

"Ed's No Farmer."

A friend of Edward Lauterbach, a gentleman from a rural district, came to the city recently to present a legal matter to the lawyer. The rural client had never consulted Mr. Lauterbach before, and he had never been to New York before. He sought 22 William street, in which building Hoadly, Lauterbach & Johnson have an office. The rustic saw the sign carved over the entrance to the building, "Farmers' Loan and Trust Company."
"Do you know whose office Edward Lauterbach's office is?" he asked a man coming from the building.
"Why, it's in there," said the man.
"Oh, no, it isn't," replied the rustic.
"Ed Lauterbach's no farmer?"—New York Times.

He Liked It.

As soon as the victims of a recent automobile accident were sufficiently recovered to deny the truth all of the truth about them came out.

The matter was far more serious to Mr. Gerry than was at first supposed.
While he lay unconscious one of the

SHE TENDERLY WIPED HIS FACE.

ladies, who had come from the Mend-oxbrook Hunt club, lended over Mr.
Gerry and tenderly wiped his face with her handkerchief. Presently the doctor said:

"He is regaining consciousness." The lady started to move.

"No, no," said Gerry weakly. "It's only for a minute. I'm going off again.
I assure you. Don't go."—New York Times.

Wants Others to Know.

"I have used DeWitt's Little Early Risers for constipation and torpid liver, and they are all right. I am glad to endorse them, for I think when we find a good thing we ought to let others know it," writes Alfred Heine, Quincy, Ill. They never gripe or distress. Safe, sure pills. City
