The cost of the Philippine war up to the present time is $170,000,000. Secretary Root has filed an itemized statement with the Senate, showing the exact cost, which goes slightly over the sum named.

A cheap and simple method for the destruction of the brown apricot scale, an injurious insect pest, has been discovered and patented by G. W. Harney of Sutter county. In a general way it may be said that the patented discovery consists of a summer pruning of the trees and the spraying of them with a boiled solution of California crude petroleum and caustic soda.

Geo. H. Himes, assistant secretary of the Oregon Historical Society, has been investigating the facts pertaining to the erection of the first saw mill between the Cascades and the Rockies. It was built by the U. S. Government under the direction of Major Tucker. U. S. A., in 1850, and at the instigation of Col. John C. Bell, father-inlaw of County Judge Gray of Portland, says the Oregon Timberman. Tucker was about to make a mule-power mill, when Col. Bell insisted on using water power. Indignation runs high at Tacoma over the story of a mother and her boy who claim they were kept prisoners in a free-love anarchist colony across Puget Sound from that city, and escaped at the risk of their lives. The party in question, Mrs. L. E. Levison, joined the colony and gave her earnings amounting to $250, upon the representation that she could make a fortune. She turned her money into the common fund, and was forced to work for her living. Attempts to regain any portion of the sum failed, and she wrote home to her brother. He sent money, which she did not receive, and finally in desperation she escaped with her boy in a small boat and passed the night in drifting about the Sound. Upon reaching Tacoma she again communicated with her brother, who sent her transportation. If any representatives of the colony visit Tacoma they are apt to be pretty, roughly handled

SENATOR HOAR'S GRAND SPEECH.

A Powerful Indictment of His Party's Course-He Warned It Three Years Ago-Two True Apostles of the American Gospel of Liberty Who Differ on Other Questions.

Among the many men of light and leading in the United States who have opposed the policy of this government with reference to the Philippine Islands there is perhaps none who is more intelligent, more determined or more conscientious than the Hon. The supervisors of Mr. Bryce, who more thoroughly than Sacramento county had a large body any other foreigner understands the of pasture land, on which the insects genius and purpose of the American nested, burned over. The theory is government, Mr. Hoar realized that "probably no task has been presented to the English in India or in any of the colonies during the last fifty years so difficult as that to which Americans will have to address themselves when they become responsible for these [the Philippinel islands" > ferred Mr. Hoar emphasized the idea that was first enforced by Mr. Bryan at the close of the Spanish-American war. "If we enter upon a colonial policy," said Mr. Bryan in January, 1899, "we must expect to hear the command 'Silence' issuing with increasing emphasis from the imperialists. When the discussion of the fundamental principles is attempted in the United States, if a member of congress attempts to criticise any injustice perpetrated by a government official against a helpless people, he will be warned to keep silent lest his criticism encourage resistance to American authority in the Philippines. * * * If we adopt a colonial policy and pursue the course which excited the Revolution of 1776, we must muffle the tones of the old when we praise the patriotism of our political opponent of Mr. Bryan both in 1896 and in 1900, the Massachusetts senator and the eminent gentleman from Nebraska stood on the same platform respecting imperialism.

In the speech to which we have re

It is now more than three years since Mr. Hoar thundered into the ears of United States senators and through the United States senate into the ears of the world his solemn admonition. He warned his listeners that they were imperiling everything that had made the United States great and kept it so and that in doing this they could not reasonably hope for any adequate compensation. If imperialism should be adopted, the wealth of Indus would, in his judgment, be but as dust in the balance when weighed against the tremendous loss in character the nation would certainly suffer.

History has abundantly justified Mr. Hoar's prediction. "What have your ideals cost you?" inquired Mr. Hoar in the United States senate. "For the Philippine Islands you have had to repeal the Declaration of Independence. For Cuba you have had to reaffirm and give it new luster. For the Philippine Thee." Islands you have had to convert the Monroe doctrine into a doctrine of mere selfishness. For Cuba you have acted on it and vindicated it. In Cuba shoot them. It has been done. It is to you have the eternal gratitude of a free send out scouring parties and simply people. In the Philippine Islands you slaughter everything above ten years have the betred and sullengated and s

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT. of a subjugated people. From Cuba you have brought home nothing but glory. From the Philippines you have brought home nothing of glory."

These are smiting words; yet who may deny that they are absolutely true? Who that knows the record of this three years' war in the Philippines, the end of which may not soon be expected, may say that this indictment by Mr. Hoar is not justified by the situation? What American who has studied the history of his country does not realize, subconsciously perhaps, that the position now held by the United States in the family of nations is unnatural, hypocritical and false? Imperialism has already been sufficiently expensive both in money and in morals. For the United States the colonial experiment is economically Johnnie Schmidt. unwise and ethically wicked. It has left a scar upon the nation's soul. How long shall the American people permit the American flag to be made "the emblem of sacrilege and of the burning of homes and of the horror of the water torture?" Is it possible that the conscience of this republic may be so seared by this new doctrine of militarism that it cannot respond to appeals for justice? "We cannot tear from the heart of the human race." said Mr. Bryan in 1899, "the hope which the American republic has planted there." How saddening it is to reflect that this nation of all governments of the earth should attempt to shoot to death the principles upon which it was founded and by which it has waxed and prospered! Mr. Bryan and Mr. Hoar, whatever may be their political differences, are true apostles of the American gospel of liberty .-New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The case is exactly reversed. He is disloyal to the flag who would trail it through the mire. He is hostile to the soldier who would make him a mere machine, and a machine of oppression at that. He is a traitor to his country who would debauch its institutions and dishonor its history.

McKinley set out upon a mission of Dies from the Injuries He Sustained "benevolent assimilation." Roosevelt has converted it into an expedition of blood and terror. We went to the Philippines with words of peace and friendship on our lips. We are laying waste whole provinces and destroying entire peoples. We carried the Bible in one hand, the constitution in the other. We have flung the Bible into the sea, have put foot upon the constitution and are burning houses and cutting throats. And the jackals who, having no other sense of accountability than the hope of a sop of offal from the back kitchen of the man on horseback, call this "expansion."

It is piracy. It is freebooting. Never was the like before attempted, never before in the remotest degree contemplated. From the purchase of Louisiana to the annexation of Hawaii there was popular acquiescence if not consent. This is our first war of conquest. We had Mexico. Why did we not retain it? We held Cuba. Why did we not retain it? Obviously because that ours is not the genius of subjugation. Why disgrace ourselves, desecrate our flag, belie our institutions, foul our history by an orgy of blood and terror and corruption in the Philippines? Why?-Louisville Courier-Journal.

C. Magruder, a pioneer of Southern Oregon and one of its best and most favorably known citizens, died at his residence, near Central Point, Sunday ing this meeting and not won, purse morning, from the effects of the injuries he received in being thrown from a wagon some days before. He was for many years engaged in the mercantile business in his chosen town and active in its welfare. For a long time he took a lively interest in the public affairs of the county and community in which he lived, being commissioner for one term and holding other positions of trust. Magruder was a good citizen in every sense of the term, and had the esteem of all who knew him. He leaves a wife and several children and many friends to mourn him. The remains were buried in Central Point cemetery, under the auspices of Banner Lodge No. 23, A. O U. W.; of Jacksonville, of which he was long a member.
