That would be a nice detract from the awful destruction of Mr. and Mrs. W. Severance, who are advertise the State's resources. It wrand adjutant, Samuel Stanton: trust to pay a big subsidy to under the lives and property, it is of interest to note that in no place outside of the creek banks was the water more than six feet deep at its highest, and at no place where houses stood over five feet deep. This seems remarkable in view of the statement of reliable eyewitnesses, who claim to have seen fifteen to fifty feet of water.

The area of rainfall seems to have been a strip down Balm creek, eight to ten miles long and two to four miles wide. Assuming that twothirds of the entire precipitation passed through Heppner, the total amounts to about 1600 acre feet. Taking the area of the storm as 20 square miles (it can hardly be less), this amounts to 11 inches over the whole area of rainfall. This, though a very heavy precipitation, is by no means unprecedented in most any region in the United States. It seems the high water and the re-sown Balm creek with the flow of the vater in the valley. It is of interest to note that with a fall of over 50 feet to the mile, which Heppner has, a channel 70 feet wide on the bottom, 100 feet wide on top and 10 feet deep would have carried the maximum flood, provided it were not dammed by drift. In any case, with such a channel, the flood would have done very little, if any, damage.
