Bright's Disease.

The largest sum ever paid for a prescription changed hands in San Francisco Aug. 30, 1903. The transfer involved in coin and stock $115,000 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes without incurable disease.

They committed the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 18, 1903. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on their merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also 40 physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physician or judges. Up to Aug. 25 eighty-seven per cent. of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent. of failures the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free application. Address JOHN J. FULTON CO.

MARIE WARE knew better—her training for years as a deputy county clerk and notary public was such that she knew exactly what she could be made of her seal of office. That she has done what she ought not to have done may probably be attributed to the weakness of woman when subjected to temptation by the man she loves. The world has heard so much of Eve tempting Adam that we are too liable to overlook the fact that Adam is tempting Eve on every hand. And Adam may not resist when the right Adam does the tempting—Eugene Guard.

The working people of London are as a whole the least turbulent, the least criminal, and the most assiduous in their industry, of any of the world's great capitals. In bringing about this marked improvement the church schools, night schools, ragged schools, public schools and technical schools are the most powerful agents. The various voluntary schools established previous to 1870 brought 150,000 poor children under educational influences. This number has been increased to $20,000 under the London school board.

Milennium in 1912.

The statement is made by a prominent divine in the west that the millennium will arrive in the year 1912, and bases his claim on the prophecies of the Bible. Whether his prophecy is correct or not time alone will tell; but in the meantime we should make the most of our lives, and the first essential of this is good health. A sickly person cannot enjoy life, because he lacks the vigor and vitality necessary for such enjoyment, and consequently always feels downhearted and depressed. It was for such persons that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters was first introduced fifty years ago, and many persons today can ascribe their good health to its use. It positively cures indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness and liver and kidney troubles. Don't fail to try it.

The Barred Plymouth Rock is the best all-round chicken known; matures early, grows large—a good layer, and unsurpassed for the table. First come, first served. Order now, and thus make sure of a start in these superior fowls. There is money in them, whether raised for the market or for home use. It costs as much to keep a "scrub" chicken as a pure-bred, and it is not worth half as much for any purpose. Call at the farm, or write.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE FOR JACKSON COUNTY.

A Large Attendance and Much Interest—A Number of Prominent Educators Participate.

WEDNESDAY.

The annual institute at Jacksonville was opened Wednesday morning by Prof. Mulkey on the subject of "Civil Government." Prof. Mulkey's plan is that the town government should be the unit. The pupil should know it in all its details. He should know the executive, the legislative and the judicial. The plan of county government and the real, true way of teaching it. Have all county officers elected out of the class. One pupil may be elected sheriff and another assessor, etc., until all the officers are represented. Each pupil's experience in searching for the information and in carrying out the principles will impress the pupil till he thoroughly understands exactly his duty. This is practice, and the only true way in which it should be taught.

State Superintendent Ackerman is coming into the subject "Promotes of Rural Schools." Village schools are not keeping up with the city schools. The question to be solved by the teacher is, How to bring the village schools up to the level of the city? It can be done in time. There are no more studies now than formerly, and there are a less number of books to be studied. The subject of agriculture is coming into the schools as one of the chief studies, because there is no better way of teaching the pupil to observe than by real experiments.

Prof. E. E. Washburn then spoke a few minutes on "Arithmetic." The subject, Ackerman next took up the subject of "Programs in Rural Schools." He said he hoped the time would never come when the old recitation bench would be a thing of the past, because attention is better work done quicker. No time need be lost, as one class can stand while another is being seated. Supt. Ackerman advised teachers not to dwell too much on written analysis in Arithmetic.

After recess, Wednesday afternoon, Pres. E. F. Mulkey addressed the teachers on "Human History, Natural Philosophy and Agriculture." Next on program was a lecture by Dr. Woods Hutchinson, secretary of State, with literature. The object of reading should be to build up a reading habit. Reading must be good in its way. It must have its effect. It must be the kind that the child can understand. Literature should be good in form and there should be melody in poetry.

After recess Miss Chase of the Ashland Normal favored the teachers with two recitations. Miss Armeta Kaiser of the same institution gave a talk on "Nature Study." Nature study teaches kindness and protection to plants and animals. Many times pupils will be brought to overcome that dread of going to school when he begins to watch the development of insects and plants. The poet is the real naturalist.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Discussion on "Arithmetic" by E. E. Washburn. It is a mistake to get pupils through school with as little work as possible. Begin percentage by using common fractions. In reckoning interest one good method ought to be used. The purpose of analysis in mental arithmetic is to get clear logical reasoning. It is a good practice to write down an analysis for an example occasionally.

Pres. W. H. Dempster of the Drain Normal School gave a short but interesting and instructive address. Pres. P. L. Campbell then took up the subject of "Information for the Teacher." The most important thing is the specific directions in which to do a thing. Don't depend on others. If you have a problem, solve it. Do your own work. The greater the difficulty, the greater is the opportunity. The injurious class people are those who can do nothing but simply talk about the ones who go ahead and accomplish something. We should be

THURSDAY.

The first on the program Thursday morning was "Music in the Public School," by N. L. Narregran. The greatest need is more practical music or singing, and not so much technical music. More time should be spent on scale practice and songs which pupils like best.

Pres. B. F. Mulkey then lectured on the subject of "History." He impressed the fact that history should be taught by cause and effect, and that the pupils should learn the cause and effects, and not so much dates and details. He spoke of the three great stages of American history: First, 1763, the end of the British flag floated over the colonies of America unopposed. It made all the people English. Second stage was when the Declaration of Independence was signed. This made the people all American. (1776) Third stage was the great Civil War, which made the people supreme. The first was the unification of the colonies; the second was the Declaration of Independence, which made the people supreme; the third made the people more supreme; and the last incident in history made the people of this country entirely supreme. The large history might easily be discarded from the school, because what general history any of us know we learn after leaving the public school.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

P. L. Campbell lectured on the subject, "Higher Meaning of Teachers' Work." It is the noblest of all arts. A teacher should put all his power and energy into his work, and be willing to do anything. The teacher's aim should be to supply all the needs, if possible, that he may see in the school. His aim is to remedy anything that is out of sorts, whether it be to make a slandering dog; close noisefully or to teach a lesson on points in order to help a pupil.

pronounce certain letters of sounds. His aim should be to study out how to do things which he does not know. A teacher's wages is not the supreme motive. His aim is to develop the child, care for the interests of the people, society and do all the general good he can.

Chas. H. Jones then instructed and drilled the teachers on music and singing for a few minutes.

B. F. Mulkey discussed "Orthography." There are more words spoken incorrectly than are spoken correctly.

P. L. Campbell next ably lectured on the subject of "Language."

THURSDAY EVENING.

The first part of the program was given by the Medford High School band, followed by a lecture on "The Development of the Ancients."

FRIDAY.

First on the program Friday morning was "Music" by N. L. Narregran. "The Star Spangled Banner" has been adopted as the national hymn. The reason why so many cannot sing it is because in tone it goes very low and very high. It is impossible for all to learn it.

Next came a discussion on "Arithmetic." Analysis should be taught in Mental Arithmetic. There is no better way to discipline the mind. Reasoning can only be taught by the spoken word. The best logical thinkers are those who have studied examples in mental arithmetic by analysis. In mental arithmetic never allow the pencil.

FRIDAY FORENOON.

P. L. Campbell lectured on the subject of "Reading and Literature." We should speak plain, simple words. When we say retire, instead of going to bed, arise, but never get up, do our duties, but never wash our faces, we have a tendency to become muddled. We should speak plainly. Reading should be clear and plain enough to get the thought. Pupils must be taught to do more silent reading, because of so much reading to do today. We should know the meaning of the author before we try to read. In reading we should understand the meaning of the first and last parts of a selection, because the best part of the story is left until the last. The main object of teaching reading is to gain a rapid way of getting thought. The newspapers are helping us read by printing large type headings. Great readers read by having a great knowledge. They grasp words no faster; but can grasp the meaning with little reading. The public school library is the best way of helping the pupil in reading. Reading should be connected with literature. The object of reading should be to build up a reading habit. Reading must be good in its way. It must have its effect. It must be the kind that the child can understand. Literature should be good in form and there should be melody in poetry.

After recess Miss Chase of the Ashland Normal favored the teachers with two recitations. Miss Armeta Kaiser of the same institution gave a talk on "Nature Study." After adoption of resolutions, which were read by S. P. Robbins, Pres. E. F. Mulkey closed the institute by remarks, which contained much good advice for the teachers who go back to their respective schools.

The institute was well attended, not a teacher being absent during the three days' session. All teachers were perfectly satisfied with the institute, and voted one of the best ever held in Jackson county.

THEFORD'S BLACK DRAUGHT

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE

Theford's Black-Draught has saved doctors' bills for more than sixty years. For the common family ailments, such as constipation, indigestion, hard stools, bowel complaints, chills and fever, biliousness, headaches and other like complaints no other medicine is necessary. It invigorates and regulates the liver, assists digestion, stimulates action of the kidneys, purifies the blood, and purges the bowels of foul accumulations. It cures liver complaint, indigestion, sour stomach, dizziness, chills, rheumatic pains, sciatica, backache, kidney troubles, constipation, diarrhea, biliousness, piles, hard stools and headache. Every drug-gist has Theford's Black-Draught in 25 cent packages and in monthly size for $1.00. Never accept a substitute. Insist on having the original made by the Chattanooga Medicine Company.

I believe Theford's Black-Draught is the best medicine on earth. It is good for any and everything. I have it handy to relieve children, and for four years I have kept them on foot and healthy with no doctor but Black-Draught. A. J. GREEN, Hilewa, Ia.
