MR. WARE, Commissioner of Pensions, has subjected himself to considerable deserved criticism in his manner of handling claims for Indian war pensions.

The statement by Congressman Dail, that Congress has nothing to do but pass the appropriation bills and reform, may be taken as foreshadowing somewhat, the policy of those who control affairs in the national halls of legislation.

As soon as the legal machinery can be set in motion, preparations for beginning work on the Panama canal will be made.

To this day all Japanese speak of the great uprising which put an end to the Shogunate as the "Earthquake," while they term the new era, which has now lasted thirty-six years, as "Meiji," "Beginning of Order."

COLE YOUNGER, who was released from the Minnesota penitentiary a year ago, is now in Washington, D. C., serving as a lobbyist in the interest of the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as a single state.

SENA TOR HANNA left a fortune of $3,000,000, but gave none of it to charity. His will was made several years ago, and provides for the division of his property among his children and also for the continuation of his business partnerships.

It is doubtful if there is any class of men in Oregon, scarcely omitting those who are actively engaged in exploiting the advantages and opportunities which the state affords through the medium of commercial bodies and the like, who are doing more for the material advancement of Southern Oregon than the men who are engaged, who are interested in mining. Few people realize the efforts these gentlemen are putting forth in this direction.

THE Russian address upon the war asking the people not to expect prompt victories is taken to mean that the Bear plans a waiting campaign, hoping to lure the Japanese onto the interior away from their ships and supplies and to harry them later in another "retreat from Moscow."

Supreme Court Against War Veterans. The plaintiff made his claim under the act of 1903, which made an appropriation of $100,000, and provided that claims should be filed with the adjutant-general, who, if he approved the same, should file with the secretary of state proper vouchers showing the amount due, whereupon the secretary should issue warrants upon the treasurer.

BRIEF MENTION.

Mrs. Mary Haskins, of Gold Hill, has been visiting in Ashland. Stewart Porter, who has been north for some time past, returned to Table Rock Friday.

A. B. Saltmarsh, of Applegate, and his family have been visiting relatives in this section. Pay your taxes on or before March 15th, if you wish to get benefit of the 3 per cent rebate.

Geo. Briner, one of the oldest and best-known residents of Talent, is in a critical condition. The Holy Rollers have invaded Dillon, Mont., and their leader, Brighton, was given a coat of tar and feathers.

The price of flour has been advanced $1 per thousand pounds, which manufacturers charge to the advance in wheat rates. J. L. Whitliss and D. H. Harrell have located three placer claims in Elliott creek district, the Pittsburg No. 1 and 2 and Terribles.

The Douglas County Fruit Co. has placed order with the Iowa Lumber and Box Co. for 50,000 boxes, to be delivered next fall. A. M. Ford, of Central Point, who was nominated for representative by the Socialists, last Saturday, has declined the honor.

Thos. Grigby has gone to Nell creek, to resume his position in the saw mill, which has been idle on account of high water. I. N. Lewis, of Forest Creek, the expert miner, was in town not long ago, on his way to Eagle Point, to visit his father, who is quite feeble.

Taylor Bros. and J. J. Soale, who are operating the Star Gulch mines, are doing good work. They have been bothered somewhat by high water. J. F. Rodgers has sold his farm of 60 acres, situated in Antioch precinct, to George Stacy for $1000. He and his wife have become residents of Medford.

A very heavy shower of rain, of several minutes duration, fell Thursday evening. It ceased raining after that and a springlike weather has since been prevailing. The final transfer of the Fred Downing ranch, a fine property, located in Lake Creek district, to J. W. Slinger, the enterprising stockman, has been made. The price paid was $4000.

Lucius W. Hubbard of Springfield, Mo., has been in Southern Oregon, looking up soldiers who have not taken all their homestead rights. He found very few in this section. I. W. Harper is the "Gold Medal" winner of the world. Highest awards at Paris, 1900; Chicago, 1893; New Orleans, 1883. Debeaton and Unbeatable! Sold by E. H. Helms, Jacksonville.

P. H. Tynan, the S. P. Co.'s traveling conductor, has been at Ashland lately, visiting his brother Ed, who has been quite sick with rheumatism. The latter has since gone to San Francisco for treatment. Dr. A. C. Stanley of Gold Hill and R. A. Cook of Forest Creek, veteran Democrats, were among those who attended the meeting of the Democratic county committee held at Medford Wednesday.

J. A. Gotcher, M. Yarbrough, A. L. Blodgett and H. Messinger of Williams Creek were here a few nights ago, having driven 30 head of fat steers to Astoria and Cox. It was as fine a band of hovers as we ever saw. Eagle Point will soon have a saloon. F. C. Miller will apply to the County Court, at the April term, for a license to retail liquor in that town, which will doubtless be granted, as he has a petition that contains the names of a large number of residents thereof.

It is announced that Olwell Bros. have purchased the Amy place, bordering on Bear creek and situated northeast of Central Point. There are 182 acres in the tract and the price paid was $12,000. The new owners will plant hops, fruit and alfalfa, if they do not dispose of it before fall. Late advices from Klamath county indicate that the storms of the past several weeks have had a serious effect upon the stock interests of Southern Oregon, and that in certain sections there has already been a considerable loss, largely of horses, on account of the scarcity of food. Range stock is generally in a weakened condition on account of the bad weather, so long continued.

Miss Johanna Blecher died at her residence in Poorman's creek district, Thursday night. She was a sister of the late Henry and Hein Blecher, who were well-known citizens of Southern Oregon. For many years Miss Blecher had been afflicted with a disease that baffled the skill of physicians; but the immediate cause of her death was nervous prostration incident to her young brother's untimely death. She was liked by all who knew her and a lady of many excellent qualities.

The Klamath Falls Republican is authority for the statement that W. L. Jerome, one of the biggest sporting men and bookmakers of Sacramento, wrote to Louis Gerber that he had already bid $2500 and wanted to place anywhere from $1000 to $10,000 more that W. R. Hearst would receive the Democratic nomination at St. Louis for president of the United States. If any party or parties want any part or the whole of this bet let Mr. Gerber know and he will secure even money for them. There ought to be plenty of takers.

Under the new interpretation of the school law there are a number of teachers who will find themselves unlawfully employed in high schools. The decision of the Attorney-General applies only to districts where separate high schools have been established and not to districts where a ninth or tenth grade has been added. One effect of the Attorney-General's opinion is that while a Harvard graduate, for example, may teach in an Oregon high school upon his diploma, he cannot teach upon such diploma in the common schools.

J. A. McCall, the civil engineer, has been called to Yreka, Calif., by the management of the Klamath River Railroad, for consultation in regard to the proposed extension of that road from Pookagama to Klamath Falls.

SUPREME COURT AGAINST WAR VETERANS

Secretary of State Cannot Issue Warrants—Legislature Must Make Provision. J. R. Boyd, respondent, vs. F. I. Dunbar, Secretary of State, appellant, from Seaside, County A. P. Sears, Jr., Judge; reversed. Opinion by Justice Bean.

This was a proceeding by mandamus to compel the secretary of state to draw a warrant on the state treasurer in favor of plaintiff for $129.50, as compensation for services in the Indian Wars of 1856-56. The lower court decided the case in favor of plaintiff and the secretary of state appealed, securing a decision in his favor.

The plaintiff made his claim under the act of 1903, which made an appropriation of $100,000, and provided that claims should be filed with the adjutant-general, who, if he approved the same, should file with the secretary of state proper vouchers showing the amount due, whereupon the secretary should issue warrants upon the treasurer.

The supreme court, in its opinion, says that the secretary's duties and powers in auditing claims are prescribed by the constitution and statute, and he cannot go beyond them. "The general language of the act of 1903, that upon the filing of such a claim in the office of the secretary of state he shall issue his warrant for the amount due the claimant, does not repeat or modify the general statute in relation to auditing claims or issuing warrants thereon, nor was it intended to empower the secretary of state to issue warrants for the payment of the claims mentioned, in excess of the appropriation. If, as is probable, the legislature was mistaken as to the amount necessary to pay and discharge the claims of the Indian War veterans, the remedy lies with the legislature and not with the secretary of state.

The constitution provides that no money shall be drawn from the treasury but in pursuance of appropriations made by law. The object of this requirement is to secure to the legislative department the sole and exclusive power of determining how, when and for what purpose the public fund shall be expended, and that upon that question it is mandatory on all the other departments of the government.

It is also held that the act of 1903 is the only existing provision of law for the payment of the Indian War veterans. "If there ever was a legal obligation on the part of the state to assume and pay the debts of the territory of 1856-56, the present statute has long since been barred by statute. From 1859 to the present time the statute has provided that all persons having claims against the state shall exhibit them with evidence in support thereof to the secretary of state, to be audited, settled and allowed within two years, and not afterward. As plaintiff's claim was not so exhibited, the secretary could not audit or approve it without legislative authority, even if it be a legal obligation of the state."

There is nothing in the act of 1903 to indicate that the legislature intended to authorize the expenditure of any greater sum than the amount appropriated for the purpose stated, and whatever may be the moral obligations of the state to Indian War veterans whose claims were not paid from such appropriation, the authority of the secretary is limited to the terms of the act, and he cannot go beyond its provisions, nor to do so by its compulsion or authorize him to do so.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who writes: "I was afflicted with a severe cold, cough and croup, which I could not get rid of. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by all Druggists.

Living a Century. Many lives are laid down by which to accomplish the feat of living a century. Some of these come from people who have rounded out the one hundred years. Each deems his method the only reliable one, although the methods are various and conflicting. The abstemious ascribe longevity to temperance. The antique wags are certain that for every boon of old age was pickled in alcohol.

Observation by the individual who neither expects nor desires to live a century is that the ambition to prolong existence leads to as many follies and injurious practices as it does to sensible schemes for conserving the health. People have to live in accordance with their constitutional equipment. By study and the exercise of moral courage they may do this, but they do not understand the constitutions of neighbors.

Among the Mexicans and Indians of Southern California have been a number of the most remarkable examples of longevity. The Mexicans smoke cigarettes from the time they are tall enough to toddle, drink much, which is more than whisky, and violate every sanitary law known to mortal. Indians are filthy in all their habits, will eat meat an ordinary dog would reject, drunk when they can obtain "fire-water," and they vie with Mexicans in lingering long.

It is of more importance to learn how to make life enjoyable while it is lasting a normal span than how to snatch an extension of time. The last twenty years of anybody's century is bound to be lonely and usually a profitless season.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon to find a child to be afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of this important organ.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy, to shield any further attack of any Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet letter. Home of Swamp-Root, 233 North Second St., Philadelphia, Pa.
