

The Democratic Times

Oregon Historical Society

VOL. XXXIV.

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, JULY 20, 1904.

NO. 29

THE TRAINED NURSE

HER STRENGTH SOMETIMES TAXED BEYOND LIMIT.

A Graduate of the New York Training School Tells How She Recuperates After Heavy Strain.

The trained nurse plays a very important part in the modern treatment of disease, greatly to the relief of both doctor and patient. Because she is well disciplined she is able to perform difficult service and to endure fatigue in a manner that excites admiration and wonder. She is human, however, and in trying cases the demands upon her strength prove excessive. She fulfills her duty nobly to the last moment but, as soon as she is relieved she is compelled to build up her own weakened powers. She naturally wants the remedy that will restore her efficiency in the shortest possible time, and, as her knowledge of medicine is wide, her choice is likely to be a sensible one and a remarkably good guide for everybody else.

Every word of the following careful statement of Mrs. Jessie M. F. Cummings, of 61 Whitmore street, Hartford, Conn., a graduate of the New York Training School for Nurses, is entitled to the weight which attaches to the utterance of an expert:

"Several months ago," said Mrs. Cummings, "I was completely worn out as the result of a very serious and trying case I had attended. I needed a tonic, and so I got six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and took them faithfully. I obtained the good results I expected, and I can say with truth and pleasure that the remedy is a splendid tonic for women's nerves."

Another Survey.

J. A. McCall of Ashland, the well-known civil engineer, has gone to Big Butte to make another preliminary survey from the falls to the most direct point on the S. P. for W. F. Entrop and his associates, who are heavily interested in timber lands in that section and wish to engage in the manufacture of lumber on a large scale.

As announced by this newspaper a short time ago, a survey that ended at Medford was made. The line was 344 miles long and the grade much less than expected. This second attempt will be for the purpose of finding a shorter route.

Mr. McCall has had much experience in this line and is considered an expert in his profession. His assistants are A. L. Heiman, F. L. Low and H. McGrath. At Big Butte his force will be considerably increased.

Hood's

Sarsaparilla is unquestionably the greatest blood and liver medicine known. It positively and permanently cures every humor, from Pimples to Scrofula. It is the Best Blood Medicine.

Perfected its Organization.

The Medford Driving Club has been organized with a membership composed of a number of the prominent citizens of Medford and its vicinity. The officers are Geo. L. Davis, president; J. W. Lawson, secretary; J. E. Hoyart, treasurer.

An excellent half-mile track has been built on land leased from Mrs. S. E. Ish, that adjoins the northwest boundary of Medford. This, together with the grounds on which it is located, will be still further improved, so that a splendid driving park is assured.

LEVI STRAUSS & CO'S
copper riveted
overalls

The Money Question Dead.

The Portland Journal aptly says that even a universal affirmation of the gold standard would in no wise destroy or upset the quantitative theory of money. The gold standard may be safe and best now, but this does not prove that it would have been safe or best, or even long possible, if the world's gold had decreased, or if it had not greatly increased. Admitting that under existing circumstances the free silver question, as discussed in 1896, is entirely out of sight, yet the demand for a gold standard, under all circumstances, and entirely regardless of the quantity of that material for use as money is absurd. It is a sort of fetish worship.

The reasonable and right declaration, extended to make it complete, is that the gold standard should be maintained as long as thereby a sufficient volume of money can be obtained. That volume appears to be fairly sufficient now, and the prospect is that it will continue to be so, or at least to come. But such was not the prospect, nor the fact, from 1893 to 1898. Not only was the amount of gold standard money in existence insufficient, but as a consequence of that fact a great portion of what was in existence was in hiding, being hoarded, and the consequence was an enormous depreciation of property.

There is no money standard question now. There may not be again in a decade, or a generation, or a century. On the other hand there may be. Declaring for the gold standard now, henceforth and forever can do no harm; it is like a legislature passing a law including a declaration that it cannot be repealed or amended by any subsequent legislature. The money question will be decided, or declared to be, from time to time, as occasion may arise. There is no need to worry about the declaration in favor of the gold standard now, nor about the future position of parties on this subject. The future will take care of itself.

What is Happiness?

The Hartford Times, in discussing the question as to whether Russell Sage is really happy, although he has reached a ripe old age with a tremendous large fortune, concludes that "he does not know that real happiness is a relative term. It never means anything definite. Who can tell whether one man is happier than another and how can it be told?"

One man whose position is such that his neighbors are filled with envy as they consider his good luck, himself is in a measure miserable as he beholds the many desirable things some other man possesses, but of which he is unfortunately deprived.

In one sense of the term no man is happy. Many a woodchopper in the Oregon foot hills enjoys fully as large a degree of happiness as does Saxe with his millions. Some men are positively unhappy with their millions, while others are fairly well contented with their scanty hundreds. The word happiness cannot be specifically defined. It is a condition of mind that is governed altogether by temperament. Some men can be measurably happy in a hovel while others are often immeasurably unhappy in a palace.

Oregon Game Law.

For the information of sportsmen the game law of the State is given below. Male deer, antelope and mountain sheep, open season July 15 to November 1. Female deer, August 15 to November 1. Killing of spotted fawns, elk or beaver prohibited at all times of year. No one is allowed to take more than five deer in a season. Night hunting or with dogs, the purchase or sale of hides without tags, or of venison, prohibited.

Open season for silver grey squirrel, October to January 1. Quail, grouse, native pheasants, prairie chickens, open season October 1 to December 1; limit 10 birds per day. Ducks, geese, swan, open season from September 15 to January 1; limit of ducks, 100 per week or 50 in one day.

A Murderer Captured.

The wretch who murdered the fallen woman Grant's Pass July 13th, brutally cutting and beating her, has been apprehended. He had a good start, but for some reason skulked along the line of the railroad and was captured at Roseburg by Harry T. McCallen, sheriff of Douglas county. The fellow gives his name as J. R. Williams, and it is said that he cut off the sleeves and other portions of his shirt to hide the places which had been smeared with the woman's blood during her death struggle.

Williams arrived in Roseburg Saturday night, coming from the south aboard the railroad track. He stopped at the house of Jos. Mitchell, late grand master of the I. O. O. F., and asked for supper. His host recognized him and telephoned to the sheriff, in the meantime entertaining his visitor at a brickyard near by until the officer arrived.

Williams was identified by the description sent out by Sheriff Lewis of Josephine county, who obtained it from the little girl who saw the man at the house of the deceased when she delivered milk to Florence Wells the last time she was seen alive. The story he tells since arrested is that he was at the woman's house, but left Grants Pass the day before the murder.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This remedy is certain to be needed in almost every home before the summer is over. It can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is especially valuable for summer disorders in children. It is pleasant to take and never fails to give prompt relief. Why not buy it now? It may save life. For sale by all druggists.

Crops and Weather.

Nearly a half of an inch of rain fell in the Willamette valley during the latter part of last week, and greater amounts are reported in the coast counties. Frequent rains also occurred in the eastern sections of the State. The rains west of the Cascades have done an immense amount of good. They will help all growing crops, especially potatoes, corn, oats and late spring wheat. Hops also will be benefited, as well as gardens and pastures. The grain harvest has been interrupted by the wet weather, and in the coast counties and plateau sections some out lay will be more or less damaged; but these losses are insignificant compared with the great good the rains have done. A sharp frost occurred Wednesday morning in portions of the Willamette valley and in some of the coast counties, but the damage was not serious, notwithstanding the lateness of the season.

Fall wheat is filling nicely, the heads being large and the berry plump. Although very little wheat has yet been threshed, correspondents generally report the yields to be better than expected. In Sherman county some complaint of smut is made, but generally the quality of the wheat is reported above the average. Hops are doing nicely, but it is not expected that the yields will be quite so heavy as last year, on account of the long spell of dry weather.

Stock continues in excellent condition, but pasture is setting short, as is usual at this season of the year, and the milk supply in the dairy herds has decreased slightly during the week. Peaches are ripe and plentiful; but many apples have dropped during the week, although the prospects still continue favorable for a good crop of apples.

Judgment is Reversed.

The Supreme Court has reversed another case appealed from Judge Hanna's court, and the lawyers for the appellant claim that under the decision handed down Monday the respondent has no chance to win in the lower court again.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature

BRIEF MENTION.

John N. Miller of Trail Creek district spent several days in Medford this week.

J. N. Kirkpatrick arrived from Fort Klamath this week, accompanied by B. L. Grigby.

F. A. Chamberlain, of Siskiyou county, Calif., the claim miner, was here the forepart of the week.

John E. Polton of Ashland, the stock-buyer, former sheriff of Jackson county, was in our city Sunday.

E. C. Fassett and M. A. Watkins of Big Applegate were among our visitors during the past week.

Fred Cook of Grants Pass and his sister, Mrs. Alice Carlton, have been visiting at Portland and other points.

J. B. Welch of Meadows precinct and his son Ed, were in Medford lately. They are manufacturing a large quantity of excellent lumber.

The Ashland peach crop this year is going to be a record breaker, and the prospects for its disposal at good prices are exceedingly bright.

Wilner, who pitched for Jacksonville the forepart of the season, left for the north Tuesday evening, accompanied by his wife and Mrs. L. Faucett.

Governor Chamberlain has issued his proclamation against setting out fires in the woods and forests of the State. The fine is $20 to $1000.

Tuesday was one of the warmest days of the year. The thermometer is said to have registered at 100 degrees in the shade in many places.

Mrs. Burrell Miller was in our city Monday, en route to Applegate. Her husband is keeping a restaurant at Montague, Calif., and doing well.

J. W. Wiley, the well-known hog buyer, while in Douglas county lately invested in a band of 400 hogs, which he is pasturing in the foothills.

The Ashland Meat Company advertises that it gives patrons the benefit of declining prices on livestock by reducing the price of meats in proportion.

M. A. Wertz, the successful manufacturer of lumber, has purchased of August Bretsch of Grants Pass a large farm lying in the vicinity of Hogue river, in Josephine county.

The enterprise little town of Gold Hill will soon have a bank, we are informed. Robt. H. Moore, Chas. F. Young, J. L. Hammersley, W. A. Carter and others will be the stockholders.

Important To Oregon.

In Portland on August 21 will be held a meeting that is of importance to the entire state. We refer to the meeting called for the purpose of organizing the Oregon Development League, an organization that is intended to be permanent, and will have for its purpose the encouraging of enterprises of all kinds that will tend to build up the resources of the state.

Such an organization, if composed of representative citizens from every part of the state, can and will do much for the upbuilding Oregon and the development of its resources. Through it there can be a concert of action—a general working together—a combination of interests, as it were—whereby more can be accomplished than by individual effort.

Next Saturday, July 23d, is the day set for forming a society of the Ohnans living in Jackson county. The meeting will be held in Medford, at the office of J. A. Perry, the warehouseman, and will doubtless prove an interesting one. It is proposed to hold a reunion of natives and former residents of the Buckeye State, of which there are quite a number in Southern Oregon, at an early date.

PERSONAL MENTION.

R. U. McClanahan is again on the road for the Portland Cigar Co.

E. C. Wells of Gold Hill and his family spent Monday in Medford.

Prof. A. O. Freel, of the Jacksonville school, and his wife are at Colistin.

Al. Helms came down from his mountain ranch today with a load of wood.

Peter Applegate, county assessor-elect, was a Medford visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Cantrill of Applegate are among the many at Ashland this week.

J. W. Ingram and G. T. Salisbury, the miners, were in Medford Tuesday, also B. W. Houston of Willow Springs.

Mrs. O. Gilbert, who sustained severe injuries in falling some time ago, is able to attend to her business again.

Kola Nels, manager of the Albany Brewing Co., interviewed his numerous customers in Southern Oregon this week.

Prof. E. E. Washburn, former principal of the Jacksonville public school, has secured a like position at Silverton, Marion county.

Henry Pape of Salem is in Medford, looking after an advertising scheme that has proved quite popular in the Willamette valley.

G. M. Hyland, formerly with Olds, King & Wortman and Woodard, Clarke & Co., Portland, has been in the valley lately, looking after his business interests.

Ben Haymond of Rock Point, the well-known pioneer, was a Medford visitor Monday. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Morris and Miss Lottie Morris.

LOCAL NOTES.

Miss Clara Rader made Medford a visit Wednesday.

There will be no services at any of the churches Sunday.

Mrs. Thos. Carr of Footh Creek is visiting in Jacksonville.

Chas. Dunford was in Medford Wednesday, after a load of freight.

E. P. Dunlap of Tofo was in Medford Wednesday, on land business.

A. Throckmorton of Applegate did business in our town Wednesday.

J. A. and Walter Clark spent a few hours with us one day this week.

M. Pernoll of Applegate was among the many in Jacksonville Sunday.

Miss Lulay Wetterer has returned from a several days visit at Ashland.

They are Non Est.

Prof. A. B. Cordley of the Oregon Agricultural College was in our city the forepart of the week. He came for the purpose of examining the work done by the ladybirds he last year placed in a thicket belonging to Peter Britt, near Jacksonville, which was badly infested with San Jose scale. The professor saw nothing of them, however, as they had gone far into the bush and he would at present be next to impossible to discover their whereabouts. There is no doubt but what they have already disposed of much of the insect pest at their disposal and will do all that is claimed for them. The result of the introduction of these ladybirds is being looked for with much interest by our horticulturists, for it can destroy the scale they are certainly a very valuable auxiliary to fruit-raising.

That Artificial Lake.

The Tidings says that surveyors were at work most of last week, running elevations, preparatory to finally deciding on the feasibility of the proposed big artificial lake, north of Ashland, which capitalists are interesting themselves in. Lines were run from the proposed dam at the old placer diggings, near the Wyant place, to a point 300 yards south of where Ashland Creek empties into Bear Creek, and the engineers on the job pronounce the enterprise entirely practicable. Since the publication of their plan in these columns there has been much interest manifested in the project. The utility of the lake for irrigation purposes is generally recognized.

The states of Washington and Idaho are enforcing their laws against peddlers. Those states are throwing proper safeguards around the permanent enterprises of their cities and towns by making licenses so high that non-resident, non-paying concerns cannot invade the field to the detriment of home industry. Oregon counties are lacking in this protection. This state is a fertile field for peddlers, grafters and humbugs. The license question should be taken up by county courts and home industries protected. The farmers themselves who wish to buy as cheaply as possible suffer even greater injury from peddlers than the home dealers. Goods sold at low prices by irresponsible transient peddlers are sure to be of an inferior grade and after the foreign peddler receives his money and disappears the innocent victims of his frauds have no recourse.

SEVERAL MONTHS AGO we predicted that another era of "hard times" was approaching. Nothing has happened to change our opinion. At least on the surface the report of commercial insolventcies for the six months ended on June 30 is distinctly unfavorable. The liabilities involved amount to $75,500,000 against $68,800,000 for the corresponding period of 1903 and the number of failures amounts to 6,214, as against 5,628 for the first half of last year. However, most of the great crops promise to be abundant. Industrial corporations and business concerns in general have adopted a policy of conservatism, carefully eschewing anything savoring of taking chances, and working people show less of a disposition to plunge into disputes with employers. In these circumstances there is reason to believe that business is not likely to get so bad, after all.

THE American horse and cow is finding their way to the Philippine Islands, the transport Dix having left San Francisco with 250 head. Plenty of American whiskey and literature have gone on ahead and all that is needed now to make combinations complete whereby the Filipino standard is to be elevated to the level of our own. Of course the American schools we have established there will educate the Filipino head, but they will not quicken the conscience, or lack of one, like the presence of political tricksters.

LOCAL NOTES.

Miss Clara Rader made Medford a visit Wednesday.

There will be no services at any of the churches Sunday.

Mrs. Thos. Carr of Footh Creek is visiting in Jacksonville.

Chas. Dunford was in Medford Wednesday, after a load of freight.

E. P. Dunlap of Tofo was in Medford Wednesday, on land business.

A. Throckmorton of Applegate did business in our town Wednesday.

J. A. and Walter Clark spent a few hours with us one day this week.

M. Pernoll of Applegate was among the many in Jacksonville Sunday.

Miss Lulay Wetterer has returned from a several days visit at Ashland.

Interesting to Teachers.

Attorney-General Crawford holds that applicants for second and third-grade teachers' certificates are not entitled to have credit for standing secured by them in any branch if they fail to pass the examination. The provision that where a teacher has, in two successive examinations, received 90 per cent in one or more branches, the applicant may at the next examination be credited with the standing earned applies only to first-grade certificates.

Zur Erinnerung am Februar, 1904.

Gestern hats geregnet,
Heute regnet auch;
Morgen regnet wieder,
Übermorgen auch.
Und wenn sich denn nicht anders wild
So bleibst halt noch dabei;
Das Wasser aus den Wolken fällt
Und hülst solch spritzler.

—H. HOLZER.

Artificiality in the Face.

Artificial eyelashes and eyebrows are now worn by countless people in society as well as on the stage. It is almost impossible to tell they are not real. These little additions will often transform a plain woman into a pretty one.

CONTINUE

Those who are gaining flesh and strength by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion should continue the treatment in hot weather. A little cool milk with it will do away with any objection which is attached to fatty products during the heated season.

Eagle Point Meat Market

The undersigned takes pleasure in notifying the people of the Butte Creek Section that he has opened a butcher-shop in Eagle Point, in the building next door to Heckathorn's Confectionery Store and opposite the WATKINS HOTEL and will keep a good assortment of the BEST MEAT, Hams, Lard, Etc.

Prices Reasonable and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

GIVE JAKE A CALL.

JAKE WETZEL.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

The undersigned having been duly appointed administrator of the Estate of Clarence Morrison, late of Jackson county, Ore., deceased, persons having claims against said Estate are hereby notified to present them, with the proper vouchers attached, to me at Jacksonville, Oregon, within six months from the date hereof.

Dated this 14th day of July, 1904.

CHRIS GIERA WYDRO, Administrator of the Estate of Clarence Morrison, deceased.