THE SMACK IN SCHOOL.

The following incident in a district school is told by Mr. William Pitt Palmer, of New York, President of the Manhattan Insurance Company, in a poetical address before "The Literary Society," in Stockbridge, Mass., his native home:

A district school, not far away,
Mid Berkshires hills, one winter's day.
Was humming with its wonted noise
Of three score mingled girls and boys;
Some few upon their task intent,
But more on futile mischievous bent;
The while the master's downward look
Was fastened on a copy-book;
When suddenly, behind his back,
Rose sharp and clear a rousing SMACK!
As were a battery of bliss!
Left off in one tremendous kiss!
"What's that?" the startled master cries;
"That, this," a little imp replies.
"With William Willifit, if you please—
I know him kith Thuanham Peatle!"
With frown to make a statue thrill,
The master thundered "Hither, Will!"
Like wretch overtaken in his track,
With stolen chatties on his back,
Will hung his head in fear and shame,
And to the awful presence came—
A great, green, habish simpson,
The butt of all good-natured fun—
With smile suppressed, and biret upraised,
The threatenor faltered—"I am amazed
That you, my biggest poul, should
Be guilty of an act so rude!"
Before the whole set school to boot—
What evil genius put you to it?"
"Twas she, herself, sir," sobbed the lad,
"I didn't mean to be so bad—
But when Susannah shook her curls,
And whispered I was 'fraid of girls,
And durstn't kiss a baby's doll,
I couldn't stand it, sir, at all.
But up and kissed her on the spot!
"Boo-hoo—boohoo—I ought to not—
But, somehow, from her looks—boohoo—
I thought she kind o' wished me to!"

MURDER WILL OUT.—Gansey, a slave negro, aged about seventy years, is now on trial, in Washington county Superior Court, for the murder of Mr. Collins, who was found hung to tree in Washington county some twenty-five years since. Suspicion for no time rested on this negro, and some other parties, but no revelations were sufficiently developed to cause their apprehension. Eventually, however, Gansey was overheard to make a confession in regard to the murder, and was some two years ago apprehended and confined in jail. Until this time he is reported to have had an interview with his son Gansey, who informed that a Mr. Davenport was the only person who knew anything to convict him, and if Davenport were dead, he had nothing to fear. Very soon after this, Gansey killed Davenport, which crime was explained in this country last spring—Old Gansey will, in all probability, share the same fate.

ALLEGED FULFILMENT OF TWO DREAMS.—A correspondent of the Missouri Republican relates a singular instance of the alleged fulfillment of dreams. A Mr. K.—of this city, about a year since, had a dream that there was a spring near Alton, or Altona, in Illinois, that would cure him of a painful disease with which he had been afflicted for five years. On the morning after the dream Mr. K.—'s wife told him she was much troubled not recollecting something that she had dreamed would cure him. Struck with this coincidence he wrote to the postmaster of Alton, of which place he had not heard before, to make inquiries into the matter, and the result was he learned there was such a spring, on the farm of Major Long, at a place once called Altona, and long known for the virtues of its mineral waters. Thither the invalid went, and by a judicious use of the waters, diet, and exercise, he improved so rapidly in health, that in the course of five weeks he could walk ten miles, and was speedily restored to a state of robust health.

ADVANTAGE OF A LONG FOOT.—An Iowa paper reports a ladies' foot race which came off on the 20th of September, at Iowa City, the prize for which was a very handsome silver cake basket. The distance was one hundred yards, and there were seven entries. Miss Handy and Mrs. Cross led the field handily, and they ran so even, bright and breast that when they came in the judges were of opinion that it was a dead heat. Indeed, on measuring their tracks as imprinted at the score, the heels of both were found exactly parallel, but Miss Handy's foot, extending by reason of its length four inches in advance of that of Mrs. Cross, the prize was given in her favor.

DOMESTIC DISEASE.—A couple (not long married) were contending about what should be the name of their first and only child. "William, my dear, I want to name him Peter." "Oh! no, my love; I don't like Peter—he denied his Master. Let us call him Joseph." "Why, William, I can't bear Joseph—he despised his mistress."

Staffordshire, England, is the greatest seat of the porcelain and pottery manufacturers. No less than six thousand persons are employed in the manufacture of the various kinds—porcelain manufacturers of one kind—amounts to ten millions of dollars—three fourths of the manufactures being exported.

The Indianapolis Journal, Indiana, of Nov. 23d, says N. P. Bolton, late U. S. Consul at Geneva, Switzerland, died at his home in that State the evening before. He was the husband of Mrs. Sarah T. Bolton, the poet and author, and was for many years connected with the leading press of Indiana.

SOC. NIGHT UNTO DEATH.—The Atlantic Cable is about defunct. It was a feeble cable at the best—only spoke in whispers at any time—and is now even less inclined to talk than its wet nurse, the sun.

We like the men with whom a distinguished physician has associated at the mode of life and treatment, in equal proportion, and is to be met with cold water treatments a day."

We live in a portion of life, and who has ears to the ground can plainly hear the inmates at work below.

The very moment we close our eyes, Death is at the door, and only waits for a fair mark.

True West, they divorce husband and wife, gather partisans, so that the other enters the house.

Who has the greatest power of endurance in these days?—the ladies, of course. Don't they stand still against all evolution?

When you speak to a man, look them in the eye.

THE KELETOS CLOD CRUSHER ON FIELD ROLLER.

This is an implement long wanted by the farmers of this country, to whom it will be of value.

It is composed of 3-wheel actions, which operate independently of each other, and will thoroughly break up every lump of earth, leveling the land, and leaving a sprinkling of loose earth on the surface to protect the germinating grain in its early stages, and secure and protect it from drought, greatly increasing the yield, besides preparing the land for the better operation of the reaper.
