O'MEARA & FREANER, Jacksonville, Sept. 10, 1859.

The Smith and Bush War.

In the irreparable personal controversy now waging between these two editors in their respective papers we do not intend to become involved. From the outset both have dignified and wondrously gone beyond the legitimate latitude of their quarrel in order to drag us into it, by the republication of abusive and creditable paragraphs and extracts copied from former numbers of the Statesman, and which were either written by Mr. Bush or anonymously contributed by Mr. Smith during the campaign of '58.

Mr. Smith also names Gen. Adair, Col. Jas. K. Kelly and Jas. O. Meara, among those who have been abused and calumniated by Mr. Bush. It is true that Mr. B. did assail and wantonly slander each of these persons. But in contrast with what Mr. Smith on a single occasion, after he was chosen U. S. Senator, anonymously published against them in the Statesman, all the attacks of Mr. Bush were mild as a morning zephyr when compared to a siren.

Neither of these individuals were in direct antagonism to Mr. Smith in the struggle for position; yet had they been, how much nobler is it to act generously with a defeated rival than to persecute him? But no such gracious treatment did they receive at the hands of Mr. Smith. He attacked them without provocation, in the most brutal, savage manner.

With most Democrats, we condemn much of the past political course of Mr. Bush. We severely censure his conduct in the last campaign, and would subject him to deserved party punishment for his serious party delinquencies. Of all men in Oregon, Mr. Bush should be the last to desert the Democratic ticket, or to show lukewarmness in the cause.

But while we are resolved to hold aloof from this bitter personal warfare, justice to ourselves and others demands that we should properly notice any serious misrepresentation, unaccountable attack, or perversion of known facts, made by either of the disputants. It is a quarrel of their own making, and neither of them have a right to involve innocent, unconnected parties into the "filthy pool," in specious justification of their present course.

In the Oregon Democrat of Nov. 22d, its editor devotes a long article to comments upon the past bad conduct of the editor of the Statesman, particularly animadverting upon the abuse, denunciation and proscriptiva which Mr. Bush has uttered, published and exercised against gentlemen more or less prominent in Oregon, most of whom are Democrats.

It is a strange accusation to come from the quarter it does, to say the least. The great bulk of these vituperative assaults were uttered and published during the period in which the so-called "Salmon Clique" was most formidable, and whilst, from his own confession, Mr. Smith was a leading member of that cabal.

It is known to every person in Oregon, who has even a passing knowledge of the political history of the country, that such abuse as Mr. Bush poured out against each and every one of the above named gentlemen, he was not only seconded in it by Mr. Smith, but the Justice to Gen. Harney.

When this brave and gallant officer first assumed command of the Pacific Division of the North, almost every eye of the leading journals in California enquired him, some of them going further than good taste or truth warranted. His daring exploits and valorous conduct in Mexico were instanced, and it was predicted that should the hostile Indians North discover any fresh cause for proper chastisement of all Generals in the service, Brig. Gen. Harney was the man to whip them into peace and subjugation.

Very Musical.—Those who have ever seen that wandering fiddler, John Kelley, (and who on this coast has not?)—he of the portly figure, rufous face and balding nose—who has paraded, sung and fiddled from San Diego to Walla Walla since '49, will appreciate the following "announcement" which we find in the Humboldt Times.

HOLIDAY BALL.—There is to be a Ball given on Friday, 30th instant, at the Union Hotel, by Mr. Louis Ziegler, the Proprietor of this established and favorite house. The time selected is most fitting the occasion, being just between Christmas and New Year's—in Holiday week—when all the world joins in celebrating these two initial days of Christianity.

OPENING BALL.—The Empire Hotel at Williamsburg is completed, and now open under the superintendence of the proprietor, Mr. C. H. Barthall. To better celebrate the opening, a grand Ball will be given on Tuesday, Dec. 20th, and every preparation is made to ensure a merry pleasant time to the attending guests.

More Gold Discoveries.—But a short time ago we chronicled the discovery of very fair diggings near Harleyville, at the Canon, and this week we learn from Mr. John Anderson, our enterprising townman, who has been on a journey to Scottsburg, that near Jimmy Toopwood's at Grave Creek, prospects have been found which indicate deposits that will pay good wages.

TERRIBLE RIOT.—Baltimore city has again been disgraced by a bloody and fatal election riot, which spread throughout the city. The combatants were classed as "Reformers" and "Rowdies." One man was killed, two fatally wounded, and six others badly wounded by shots.

ALL RIGHT.—The New York Tribune speaks approvingly of the manner in which we conducted the late canvass in Oregon. The above is copied from the Argus. It must be gratifying to those who called themselves Democrats in the last June election, and who voted for Mr. Logan, to learn that the Tribune, the leading paper of the Black Republican party, approves of their action.

INCENDIARIES ABOUT.—The Portland Times says that several attempts have been made to fire buildings in that city recently. Among other buildings some wretch attempted to burn the City Hospital, but a police officer fortunately discovered the ignited mass of combustibles, and succeeded in quenching the flames before they had communicated to the building.

SALEM WOOLEN FACTORY.—We are informed by Mr. Pratt, the superintendent of the Salem woolen factory, that the company find no difficulty in procuring wool sufficient to run their factory through the year, and also that a market is readily found for all the wools they can make, which average between four hundred and four hundred and fifty yards per day.

BY TELEGRAPH.

To Yreka for the Oregon Sentinel. O. A. Thomas, the attentive and obliging Telegraphic Agent, sent us the following by last night's stage:

YREKA, Nov. 30th. EDITORS SENTINEL.—A Mrs. Morton was burned to death in Weaverville, on Thursday night, by her clothes accidentally catching fire. The house was also consumed. She leaves a husband and family.

On Saturday last in Weaverville, a Mr. Langdon was shot dead by one Pat. Phillips. Phillips was living in a cabin owned by Langdon. The latter attempted to kick in the door and Phillips shot him. He was examined before a Justice of the Peace, and acquitted.

The missing steamer Cortez arrived at San Francisco on Saturday, the 26th Nov., with the mails and passengers, all right. The detention was caused by the North Star on the other side.

The steampship Sonora arrived on Sunday, and the steampship Uncle Sam, with mails of the 5th November, on Tuesday, Nov. 29th. The mails by the Cortez will reach here tomorrow. [This should enable us to get them by to-day.—Eos. SENTINEL.]

Severe Punishment. A fellow named Otterbury, who has been loafing about town for some time, was served with a dose on Tuesday evening which will most likely long remember. On several occasions the Indians camped on an adjacent hill have been given whisky, and the closest scrutiny failed to discover by whom this was supplied.
