

HUMBOLDT'S CORRESPONDENCE.—The late translation and publication of Humboldt's letters have produced a profound sensation in literary circles, and the admirers of the great traveler are desiring him by hundreds. The religious critics are very severe upon the glowing felicitous style in which the author appears in all his great works is really marred by the exhibition of ill-nature and testiness which his private correspondence shows to have been characteristic. A late copy of the New York Evangelist thus comments:

When his death was announced, Europe and America, with the characteristic fondness of our age for hero worship, vied with each other in amiable strife as to the honors which should be paid to his memory; and by grave divines, learned historians, eminent scholars, and brilliant litterateurs, eulogies were delivered to his memory as one of the greatest and best of men. His works and the utterances of his last hours were tortured to extract from them the evidence that he died in the faith of the Christian.

A few months have passed, and his confidential correspondence with his life-long friend, Yarnaghen Von Ense, is given to the world—a culpable piece of imprudence, we admit, yet we question whether we should mourn very deeply after all, that one of the world's idols is cast down from his lofty pedestal. The correspondence demonstrates most conclusively that the philosopher was quarrelsome, captious and contemptuous, even in regard to those who had sought to do him favors, or to honor his scientific services; that the American Union, which he professed to regard so highly, was the subject of his frequent and bitter gibes—but most of all it shows, beyond a doubt, that he was an utter disbeliever in Christianity, an admirer of Strauss' Leben Jesu, whose conclusions he was quite ready to except, and in fine, a Paganist who recognized no Divinity except nature.

THE REMARKABLE SPRING OF 1869.—From all parts of the civilized world accounts are received mentioning the late Spring as one of the most remarkable on record. It has not only been backward, but the changes of the weather have been sudden, severe, and accompanied in many places by extraordinary phenomena and calamitous visitations. The floods in some of the districts of France and Germany, as well as in England and America, have been disastrous. In the Western United States there have been fearful storms of hail and fragments of ice, a fall of the latter, of unprecedented character and violence, having occurred in Kansas. The tornadoes which have swept Illinois, Ohio and adjacent regions, have been terrible and destructive of human life. That which carried away entire villages in Illinois may be classed among the most mournful and wonderful events in history. Showers of meteoric stones have taken place in different parts of the country, accounts of some very remarkable ones being contained in our last Eastern news. The same atmospheric condition seems to have prevailed generally over Europe, accompanied in some places by comets and aurora, and other visitations. In Bagin, February 19th, there was an unprecedented fall of snow, and twelve churches were struck with lightning—the account says "simultaneously, at places wide apart, comprising nearly the whole breadth of the country." These were at Liege, Courtrai, Malines and Antwerp. Some of them were completely destroyed. Meteorologists in England are collecting with anxious care the seasonally backward Spring, to compare with the records of past years with reference to the cycle theory changes.

LINCOLN BY WORDS.—An exchange, speaking of the rumor which some of the mild Republicans have given circulation to, that Lincoln is a conservative Republican, remarks: "If anybody expects conservatism from Lincoln, or any modification of the intensity of Seward's irrefragable conflict, he will be disappointed, for the testimony of Thurlow Weed, in the Albany Journal, on this point is to the following effect:

"Conservation, in its modern and odious sense, has no representative in Mr. Lincoln. He was against injustice, immorality and slavery in the most irrefragable sort. He has been consistently with those who would whip epistles against unjust laws in any form. He has been a rough, direct, and sound one. As he holds things in contempt, and would as soon 'blow' to a pickpocket as to a 'daughter'."

"This is his attitude now. If he be as wise as he is thorough, he will permit no timid friend to shove him from his position, and will take no 'soft' death," to conciliate those whose touch is deadly."

TOY MEN.—In the eastern part of Ohio there resides a man named Brown, now a Justice of the Peace, and a very sensible man, but by common consent, the ugliest individual in the West, being long, gaunt, tall, and awry, with a gait like a kangaroo.

One day he was on a hunting, and on one of the mountain roads he met a man on foot and alone, who was longer, gaunter, by all odds than himself. He could give the figure fly and beat him. Without saying a word, Brown raised his gun, and deliberately leveled it at the stranger.

"For God's sake, don't shoot," shouted the man in alarm.

"Stranger," replied Brown, "I warn ten years ago that if I met a man uglier than I was, I'd shoot him, and you are the first one I have seen."

The stranger after taking a careful survey of his rival, replied:

"Well, captain, if I look any worse than you do, shoot. I don't want to live any longer!"

THE EMPRESS OF FRANCE AND THE DRESS OF DIANA.—A Paris letter, describing the preliminaries to the late wonderful fancy costume ball in that city, says of the Empress, who was anxious to appear as Diana: "But the Empress found the dress of Diana, the huntress, was to have a lion in the tail. In vain was the artist led down so that little more than two inches above her Majesty's ankle was visible. On presenting herself to the Emperor, the whole costume was found impossible. Her Majesty coaxed and wheeled, but Napoleon was immovable. The dress was altogether impossible; and so, at last, in that kind of fever to which even the goddesses of empresses are amenable, her Majesty determined on appearing simply in domino."

DEATH OF LADY BYRON.—We learn that, on the 17th of May, Lady Byron, the widow of the great poet, died at London, in the sixty-sixth year of her age. She was born in 1794, and was the only daughter and heir of Sir Ralph Milbanke, Noel Baronet. In 1815 she succeeded to the barony of Wentworth. She was married to Lord Byron in 1815, the union proving, as is well known, most unhappy to both husband and wife, and he lived with his wife, only some 13 days. Their only child, "Ada, sole daughter of my house and heart," was married to Earl Lovelace, and died eight years ago.

MEMORIALS.—Brother Kimball addressed some missionaries who were about starting on a proselyting tour, as follows:

"Brethren, I want you to understand that it is not to be as it has been heretofore. The brother missionaries have been in the habit of picking out the prettiest for women before they get here, and bringing on a great lot for us. Hereafter you are to bring them all here before taking any of them, and let us all have a fair shake."

At an Eastern Toasters' Festival, recently the following toasts were offered:

"Wine."—Second only to the Press in the dissemination of news."

UNION HOTEL, JACKSONVILLE, OGN.

BY LEWIS H. ZIGLER.

THIS newly known and established House is now kept by LEWIS H. ZIGLER. Under his superintendence it will be entirely re-fitted, re-furnished with and in every way placed in first order. The accommodations for guests have already been largely attended to, and the proprietor can safely promise that the table, comforts and luxuries superior to any provided elsewhere in this section, and not surpassed within the State.

The Table

will be plentifully supplied with the best of every thing the market affords. Excellent and experienced cooks have been engaged, who will cater for the tastes and enjoyments of the epicure, as well as for the lover of plain, substantial fare.

In every department the UNION HOTEL will be made and maintained a FIRST CLASS HOUSE in which excellent French, Italian and permanent boarders can alike secure and enjoy every creature comfort and obtain cheerful repose from the fatigues, cares and labors of the day.

The proprietor respectfully solicits a continuance of the patronage which has formerly been bestowed, and assures the public no effort upon his part will be spared to deserve the support of the travelling as well as of the permanent community.

The Stages to and from Yreka, Crescent City, Kerkville, and Northern Oregon all arrive at and depart from the Union Hotel.

A supply of latest papers from all parts of the Atlantic States and this coast always kept in the Reading Room.

Jacksonville, November 5, 1859-421f

ADAMS' Hotel, At Dardanelles.

THIS established, favorite House is kept by CHAS. ADAMS & Co., who are in every way prepared to receive and accommodate transient guests and permanent boarders.

The House is situated near the creek bank of Rogue River, eleven miles from Jacksonville, and about one mile from Gold Hill, upon the main Oregon road.

A fine, spacious Hall is kept in readiness for Parties, Balls and other festive, every arrangement for which can be made in short notice.

Attached to the premises is a fine, luxuriant Garden and Fruit Orchard, with ample scope of pleasure grounds.

The proprietors intend shortly to fit up commodious Bathing Rooms for the accommodation of guests.

The Larder and Bar is supplied with all the choicest varieties of Wines, Liquors and Beverages, which foreign or domestic markets can furnish.

A good stable is attached to the Hotel, and attentive hostlers will keep care of horses entrusted to their charge.

In short, every thing calculated to conduce to the comfort of guests and their animals will be abundantly furnished. TERMS MODERATE.

'EAGLE' Hotel, KERBYVILLE.

OLIVER J. EVANS, (LATE OF THE STATE CREEK HOUSE.)

DESIRETULIN informs his friends and the public in general that he has purchased the Eagle Hotel, Kerbyville, and is now permanently located in Kerbyville, where he will be happy to see all his old customers and as many new ones as may be pleased to call. He hopes by a constant attention to the comfort of his guests to merit a continuance of the very liberal patronage bestowed upon him at the State Creek House, and trusts that none may go away dissatisfied.
