

Senator Douglas on the Crisis.

A comparatively small number of the people of Southern Oregon, with a larger number of their brethren north of the Columbia range, gave their suffrages to Mr. Douglas in the late Presidential contest.

Senator Douglas on the Crisis. A comparatively small number of the people of Southern Oregon, with a larger number of their brethren north of the Columbia range, gave their suffrages to Mr. Douglas in the late Presidential contest.

Senator Douglas on the Crisis. A comparatively small number of the people of Southern Oregon, with a larger number of their brethren north of the Columbia range, gave their suffrages to Mr. Douglas in the late Presidential contest.

Senator Douglas on the Crisis. A comparatively small number of the people of Southern Oregon, with a larger number of their brethren north of the Columbia range, gave their suffrages to Mr. Douglas in the late Presidential contest.

Senator Douglas on the Crisis. A comparatively small number of the people of Southern Oregon, with a larger number of their brethren north of the Columbia range, gave their suffrages to Mr. Douglas in the late Presidential contest.

Senator Douglas on the Crisis. A comparatively small number of the people of Southern Oregon, with a larger number of their brethren north of the Columbia range, gave their suffrages to Mr. Douglas in the late Presidential contest.

Senator Douglas on the Crisis. A comparatively small number of the people of Southern Oregon, with a larger number of their brethren north of the Columbia range, gave their suffrages to Mr. Douglas in the late Presidential contest.

Yet he expresses no such emotion in regard to his smothering from existence his own Popular Sovereignty, which he created and reared and brought to mischievous vigor.

We would ask the many honorable supporters of Mr. Douglas in the late canvass, whether they can longer consistently or honorably link their fortunes to so changeable and unscrupulous a leader.

Luck.—Like with honors, some people have good luck thrust upon them. Wampler as they please. Fortune will come in their way, and force her favors upon them.

A "STEAMBOAT."—Our friend of the Corvallis Union has been subjected to the operation of what the people out this way characterize as a "steambot," or "sell," to a very considerable extent.

Senate Proceedings. Senate, January 11th.—Crittenden's resolutions were taken up and Trumbull proposed an amendment approving the conduct of Major Anderson.

Senate Proceedings. Senate, January 11th.—Crittenden's resolutions were taken up and Trumbull proposed an amendment approving the conduct of Major Anderson.

Senate Proceedings. Senate, January 11th.—Crittenden's resolutions were taken up and Trumbull proposed an amendment approving the conduct of Major Anderson.

Senate Proceedings. Senate, January 11th.—Crittenden's resolutions were taken up and Trumbull proposed an amendment approving the conduct of Major Anderson.

Senator Baker's Speech.

The speech of this gentleman in the Senate of the United States, on the 2d and 3d of January, in reply to a speech delivered by Senator Benjamin of La., is published entire in the Sacramento Union of January 31st.

The Oregon Senator is Republican—very Republican, and is very far from representing the sentiments of the people of this State.

The following dispatch has been received by E. B. Lamar, President of the Bank of the Republic: "CHARLESTON, Jan. 14th.—Sir: Please have it authoritatively published that no flag and no vessel will be disturbed or prevented entering this harbor, unless carrying hostile troops or munitions of war for Fort Sumter.

Judge Smalley, of the U. S. Circuit Court, in his charge to the Grand Jury today, declared South Carolina guilty of high treason.

It is believed that Major Anderson shot two mutineers at Fort Sumter last night, and it is rumored several more are in chains.

Washington, Jan. 15th. Personal friends of the President say it is absolutely decided not to reinforce Fort Sumter, because sending more troops there would produce irritation, etc.

Col. Hayne, Commissioner from South Carolina, has, it is understood, greatly moderated his views since his arrival here.

Col. Hayne, Commissioner from South Carolina, has, it is understood, greatly moderated his views since his arrival here.

BY TELEGRAPH.

To Yreka for the Oregon Sentinel.

San Francisco, Feb. 5th. The Overland mail arrived at Los Angeles last evening, at 7 o'clock, with mails and papers to the 17th ult.

A Washington correspondent says it is believed that South Carolina has already agreed to yield the forts at Charleston harbor and other Government property, provided Major Anderson is ordered back to Fort Monroe.

The following dispatch has been received by E. B. Lamar, President of the Bank of the Republic: "CHARLESTON, Jan. 14th.—Sir: Please have it authoritatively published that no flag and no vessel will be disturbed or prevented entering this harbor, unless carrying hostile troops or munitions of war for Fort Sumter.

Judge Smalley, of the U. S. Circuit Court, in his charge to the Grand Jury today, declared South Carolina guilty of high treason.

It is believed that Major Anderson shot two mutineers at Fort Sumter last night, and it is rumored several more are in chains.

Washington, Jan. 15th. Personal friends of the President say it is absolutely decided not to reinforce Fort Sumter, because sending more troops there would produce irritation, etc.

Col. Hayne, Commissioner from South Carolina, has, it is understood, greatly moderated his views since his arrival here.

Col. Hayne, Commissioner from South Carolina, has, it is understood, greatly moderated his views since his arrival here.

New York Senate, declaring that treason as defined in the Constitution really exists in one or more States.

The resolution passed by a vote of 28 to 1, and was immediately telegraphed to the President.

The arsenal at Catahouchee was seized by order of the Governor of Florida, on the pretext of the officer in command removing arms.

Letter writers report a difficulty between Gen. Scott and Senator Toombs. At a dinner party on the 10th, Toombs expressed the hope that the people of Charleston would sink the Star of the West.

Col. Hayne, on behalf of South Carolina, and Gen. Pickens, declared that the secession of South Carolina was a just and necessary measure.

The new gold diggings in the Nez Perce country are said to yield richly.

The Columbia was clear of ice on the 28th, and the river steamers had resumed their regular trips.

The wooden factory project is in good state of progress. The estimates, plans, and other details, are to be submitted at a meeting called for the 15th inst.

The Irish vigil of San Francisco have gotten up a gold medal as a present to Col. Crocker, of the 6th regiment, New York City, who refused to parade his command at the Prince of Wales' demonstration.

Mining Regulations.

Pursuant to call, the miners of Canon Creek precinct met in mass in Mr. May's saloon.

Article 1.—A creek claim shall be one hundred yards, and not more than two acres.

Article 2.—A bar and mill claim shall be one hundred yards, and not more than two acres.

Article 3.—Each claim shall front on the general direction of the creek, and extend back to an abrupt rise of the hill.

Article 4.—Each person shall be entitled to hold two claims, one by pre-emption and one by purchase.

Article 5.—Each miner, to make good his title, shall work at least one day in seven on his claim, when considered workable, providing health will permit.

Article 6.—No miner shall take more water than he or his company need for mining purposes.

Article 7.—All mining claims and water privileges shall be held by persons representing them, or by notice, or by a Recorder who shall be elected by the miners of this precinct to record the same.

Mrs. Wristow, an experienced nurse and female physician, has a soothing Syrup for children's teething, which greatly facilitates the process of teething.

It is much to be regretted that while in the enjoyment of health so little attention is paid by many to the preservation of an inestimable blessing.

Why is Quincy Hall at San Francisco, so popular? Because the prices there are irresistible arguments in its favor.

Why are so many customers constantly making purchases at Quincy Hall? Because a liberal advertising policy has made known to the million the facts that the establishment is the largest one in the city, and the goods offered, the best and the cheapest.

Why do the press say so many graceful things of Quincy Hall? They know it to be a permanent mart for superior clothing, conducted on the strictest business principles, managed throughout its operations with the punctuality of clockwork, and particularly deserving of the confidence of the public.

Why do the press say so many graceful things of Quincy Hall? They know it to be a permanent mart for superior clothing, conducted on the strictest business principles, managed throughout its operations with the punctuality of clockwork, and particularly deserving of the confidence of the public.

Why do the press say so many graceful things of Quincy Hall? They know it to be a permanent mart for superior clothing, conducted on the strictest business principles, managed throughout its operations with the punctuality of clockwork, and particularly deserving of the confidence of the public.

Why do the press say so many graceful things of Quincy Hall? They know it to be a permanent mart for superior clothing, conducted on the strictest business principles, managed throughout its operations with the punctuality of clockwork, and particularly deserving of the confidence of the public.