

THE OREGON SENTINEL. SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1861.

THE IRISH INTERPRETER.—It will never do for a son of Erin to know nothing. Such a one has never yet been found. Ask him what you please, and if Paddy hasn't an apt answer at his tongue's end, you may know that he is either stone dead, fast asleep, or deeply engaged in "ground sluicing" with a fine head of something that has the color and consistency of water, but without its insipid taste and rapid odor, to hold him in the process. Sir Patrick O'Penno made himself famous by never knowing nothing and always telling it, and we have now another pretty good instance of what a quick tongue is worth among a crowd in the pursuit of knowledge, where one is no better informed than the other. At a public house a few miles from town, last week a party of men not very well up in the matter of "loam larrin" were puzzling their brains to discover what "M. D." after the name of a physician meant. They had given the subject up in despair, when in came a "member from the Gem of the Sea." As a last chance the question was asked him. Quick as a flash, and with the utmost cool assurance, Paddy responded: "Wat dez the Docther put M. D. to his name for? Why, I thought every fool of you knowed that. M. D. is it? It means Money Down, to be sure? What ought it money?"

PEACH BLIGHT.—Last year, nearly the entire peach crop of this Valley was destroyed by early frosts, blight, and late cold damps. As a matter of course, those engaged in the culture of this delicious fruit will gladly hail and promptly apply whatever reasonable or known remedy may be suggested or given, calculated to prevent the destruction of the crop, or injury to the trees in the coming season. We therefore call the attention of all interested to a short paragraph on the fourth page of this number, in the "Farmers Department" column, copied from a California exchange, relative to the care of peach trees, which has had the merit of success in the instance mentioned, and may be a universal remedy. It is simple and harmless, at all events, and worth a trial. It would be a shame as well as pity if the peach crop of the ensuing year should fail, if timely care of the trees would ensure an abundance of healthy fruit. We request that if any try the remedy suggested, they will give us the benefit of their experience, in order that we may in turn lay it before the public.

MONK QUARTZ.—It would seem that in Winter months only our mining people search for or can find quartz veins. Since last Winter, up to a little more than a month ago, we believe there was not a single discovery made in this class of mining, but within the month just closed, we have had ten or several discoveries of veins, some of which promise to remunerate their owners quite handsomely. The last we have information from, is a lead found near Rogue River, about a mile below Hunter's (formerly Bethel's) Ferry. The finder is W. S. Jones, who has brought to this office a specimen of the quartz taken from the surface of the vein. It is a rotten brittle, easily disintegrated substance, with minute specks of gold here and there visible. Mr. Jones says that all he has prospected has paid much above average wages, and that as the shaft is sunk, the richer is the rock. The claim is close by that belonging to Oliver J. Evans, of which we have before spoken.

A FEAST.—The worthless hands of the "untutored wards of the Government"—Klamath, Modoc, Calapoos, and Shastas—that have infested this community for some months past, had a rare treat during the week at the expense of their over-indulgent guardian, furnished by Thos. Pyle, Indian Agent for this district, by orders from Superintendent Geary. One thousand pounds of flour and a whole beef was dealt out to them, and the receipt of the muck-a-muck was made the occasion of a small sized but very volubrious pandemonium. Some of them fed like wild beasts, and gorged until another mouthful could not be swallowed. We are glad to learn that Mr. Pyle has orders to send them off to their respective homes as soon as the rigors of Winter are passed.

FROM JOSEPHINE.—The mail rider reached here Wednesday evening with mails from Josephine, but nothing beyond there, the road over the mountains to Crescent City being altogether impassable. The carrier informed us that the roads were in bad condition between this and Kerbyville, yet he managed to come through with a stage-wagon, in one day. Slate Creek was still quite high, and the ford rather difficult. We could gather no news of special interest from that section. There had been more rain in Josephine than has fallen here.

TOWN ELECTION.—On Tuesday next the first regular annual election for town officers will be held. The officers to be elected are as follows: five Trustees, a Recorder, a Marshal, a Treasurer, and Street Commissioner. The polls will be held in the County building, and the hours of voting will continue from ten o'clock morning until three o'clock afternoon. Would it not be well to hold a meeting at the Court House this evening, to nominate a ticket?

TRIODES TRIP.—The stage from Yreka, which left that place at three o'clock Friday morning of last week, did not reach this place until five o'clock Saturday morning. No time was given the driver to rest, nor the horses; the passengers, mails and baggage for Yreka were got aboard at once, and away went the stage on the return trip. Who wouldn't be a stage driver?

CREDIT COURT FOR JOSEPHINE.—On Monday, Judge Prim commenced the February term of this Court at Kerbyville. The trial of Christian for killing Diddie at Williamsburg last Winter will be held at this term. Several of our citizens are at Kerbyville, as witnesses in the case.

COUNTY COURT.—Hon. J. C. Tolman, County Judge, will commence the March term of this Court on Monday.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—This body will meet at the County Clerk's office this evening at 7 o'clock.

Local Correspondence.

PHOENIX, February 27th, 1861. EDITOR SENTINEL.—Since I last wrote you from this place, the mines which are worked have continued to pay equally well as I then reported. A few days since some miners came here from the Sterling and Bunim diggings for the purpose of testing the richness of the placers in this neighborhood. In looking about they took a fancy to an enclosed field belonging to a gentleman living near here, and as miners generally do when they think it will pay, they pitched in with a heavy good-will, to the great annoyance of the owner of the field, who, with a partner, was mining in a gulch a few hundred yards off. The two waited upon the new comers and asked them if they intended prospecting there, advising them at the same time that it would not pay. Finding the strangers determined to persist in their mining, they determined to steady themselves by actual demonstration, they then declared that the field had been taken up for mining purposes several months back. To prove the truth of their assertions they went to the fence a short distance off and procured a rail having a large silver chip of paper dropped, which, on examination proved to be a notice establishing a claim to between five and six hundred yards, of rather second date, and which included the entire field. This exhibit astonished the disputants, as well as a few others, who had by this time arrived at the scene of action. It appears that the claimants had sunk a shaft in the field last summer, and finding flattering prospects, they had proceeded to sink in large scale. The silver, as the prospectors alleged, had been scattered their notice in the fence rail, having their claims ready for working when water was supplied. The Bunim and Sterling, and other thus accidentally let to the owner, not at all satisfied with this unique style of notification, however, and have stalked off claims which they propose to work. The claims of Gatum & Co., Davenport & Co., Columbus & Co., and a number of others whose names I do not remember, are paying well. All are at present plentifully supplied with water.

From the North. The Secretary of State has decided the authorities of Washington Territory cannot levy or collect taxes on San Juan Island. The Secretary of the Interior has rejected the claim of the Puget Sound Agricultural Company (Hudson Bay employees), and declared the lands occupied by them public domain. The reports from the mines in the Nez Perce country are flattering, and the emigration thither from all parts of the Territory and Northern Idaho is steadily increasing. The Portland Christian Advocate says that Ephraim Ford, of Yamhill, has become insane from religious excitement, and was sent to the Stockton (Cal.) Asylum by last steamer. Washington's Birthday Anniversary was appropriately observed in Portland. The Fire Department had a parade in full uniform. The Portland Times says that one of the U. S. army officers at Fort Vancouver—a Captain, and a Major by Hevet—has sent on his resignation. He is a native of Alabama. The people of Walla Walla had lung two Indians, who were among the perpetrators of outrages in that vicinity lately. A company of dragoons had taken two others and brought them to the Falls. A new Catholic Church was dedicated at Corvallis on the 17th ult.

THE FOURTH OF MARCH.—Monday next is the day fixed by our Government for the inauguration of the President elect of the United States. We trust that when the news to that date from Washington shall reach us, it will bring intelligence of the peaceful installation of Mr. Lincoln, and further give us great cause to hope that the Union will be seen again restored, full and intact, as it expected before the withdrawal of South Carolina. We far this glad hope will not be unfeared, yet we do altogether abandon it. But should disappointment come to us all in this, it will, at worst, be a source of gratification to learn that Mr. Lincoln's accession to the Chief Magistracy is not made the occasion of further dismemberment of the Confederation, or unhappily, the cause for the precipitancy of a bloody and relentless civil war. We must await with patience the arrival of the news, and be prepared for it, whether it shall be for weal or for woe.

Gov. FORT.—This erratic personage seems to delight in the strangest inconsistencies of conduct. It would be like tracing a labyrinthian puzzle to examine into his incongruities prior to 1850, when he won considerable distinction as one of the thirteen "Union saviors." Since then he has temporarily belonged to nearly every party or faction that has had ephemeral or enduring existence. The chief object of his life, however, has appeared to be antagonism to Gen. Jeff. Davis. To the attainment of all, he has recently dropped that eccentricity. He is now the most violent of secessionists, and has been nominated by that party as delegate from Davidson county, in the Tennessee State Convention.

NEWS-PERIAL.—The last number of the Oregon Democrat which reached us, contains the valedictory of Mr. J. M. Stepien as publisher, and the salutatory of Mr. W. G. Haley as editor and proprietor. Mr. Stepien pays a handsome tribute to the late editor, Mr. Malone, who is absent in California. The new editor pledges the paper to the Democratic cause. We wish him good fortune. The Portland Christian Advocate has come out in full new dress, with a neat and pretty head. Our best wishes to it.

THE "CONSTITUTION" DEFEND.—Not the Constitution however, but the Constitution newspaper, until recently published at Washington. The editor announces that he will remove his press and material South, and resume publication of a paper, which shall be devoted to Southern rights and interests. A new Administration paper, called the Confederation, has been established at the Federal City. It is strong for the Union.

UNION CELEBRATION.—The patriotic citizens of San Francisco got up a magnificent impromptu Union demonstration on the 22d February. The banking houses and business places were closed, and a general suspension of all business agreed to. The daily newspapers were not to issue on Saturday.

OREGON CENSUS.—The population of this State, as appears from the returns of the U. S. Marshal, on file at Washington, is about fifty-two thousand. The editor of the S. F. Bulletin, writing from the Federal Capital, compliments the Census Marshals for the faithful manner in which their duties were performed.

SWARD'S SPEECH.—On the first page you give the most important, most interesting portions of this great production, comprising about two-thirds of the whole speech. All party men will find in it much to admire, in the matter of lofty, sublime eloquence, however much they may dissent from the principles and sentiments expressed. Before its majestic light, Senator Baker's buncome, verbose effort pales as the glitter of mica in the shallow stream would in contrast to the lustre of a diamond in the Sun's bright rays.
