

THE OREGON SENTINEL.

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON, SATURDAY, APRIL 13, 1861.

VOL. VI.—NO. 13.

$5 PER ANNUM.

THE OREGON SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY, BY JAMES O'MEARA.
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Office over Clagg's & Drum's Stables.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
(IN ADVANCE.)

One Copy, One Year..... $5 00
One Copy, Six Months..... $3 00
One Copy, Three Months..... 2 00

ADVERTISING RATES:

One Square of Twelve Lines or less, First Insertion, $1 00; and for subsequent insertions, $1 00.
Professional or Business Cards, Each Square, per annum, $30 00; for Six Months, $15 00; for Three Months, $10 00.
A liberal discount will be made to persons who advertise to the extent of four squares.
The number of insertions should be marked on the margin of advertisements.

D. WM. DOUTHITT,
Attorney and Counselor
AT LAW,
Jacksonville, Oregon.

BY APPOINTMENT,
NOTARY PUBLIC
For Jackson County.

Dr. N. Caldwell Boatman

Has permanently located in Jacksonville, and offers his professional services in the practice of Medicine, Surgery and Obstetrics.

Office at his residence, on California street, in the house formerly occupied by A. M. Berry.
Next door to Judge Peck's office.
Charges very reasonable. Calls attended to at all hours of the day or night.

L. H. DEWEY

Has opened a shop opposite Anderson & Glen's, on California street, in Dr. L.
Gann's building, for repairing WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, ETC.
All work warranted to give satisfaction.
Jacksonville, Dec. 22d, 1860. 491y

G. W. GREER,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, JACKSONVILLE DRUG STORE,
Oregon.

DR. JOHN HERRMOLD,

SURGICAL AND MECHANICAL
DEPARTMENT,
Jacksonville, Oregon.

All my work will be executed at greatly reduced prices, on cash only. (Oct. 20th-49)

JOS. H. BLEDSOE,

Attorney and Counselor at Law, Will practice in all the Courts held in Jackson and Josephine counties, and in the Supreme Court of the State. 241f.

REED & BERGEN,

Attorneys at Law,
JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

Will attend to any business confided to them in the several Courts of the First Judicial District of Oregon, and in the Supreme Court. 26.

R. WILLIAMS,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW, KERRYVILLE, OREGON.

THE MIXES.—We have special reports from Williamsburg, Applegate, Table Rock and Isberg diggings. At each district the miners are steadily employed, with water abundant and the average wages obtained. Mr.
A. Savage, of Table Rock mines, has shown us a $35 piece of gold and quartz taken from his claim last week. General reports from every all the other mining localities are favorable. One company at the Pleasant creek diggings had realized $10 per day to the hand from a new cut recently made, although right adjacent, a little while ago, the earth scarcely paid for washing.

SPECIAL REPORTS

Do not get satisfaction, no one will be made call at Funk's cigar store, or the Gallery on the Hill, and see his Pictures. 111f.

SEWING MACHINE

MATTRESSES, BEDDING AND TEXTS.
ON HAND and made to order. House Lining and paper hanging, by A. C. ALBERTS,
California Street, above Oregon.

Law and Collection Office.

Geo. H. WILLIAMS. A. C. GIBBS.
(Chief Justice.)
WILLIAMS & GIBBS.
Portland, Oregon.

B. F. DOWELL,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Jacksonville, Oregon.

Will practice in all the Courts of the 3d Judicial District, the Supreme Court of Oregon, and in Yreka, Cal.

SURGICAL HOSPITAL.

I am now prepared to receive patients in the Hospital on the corner of Third Street, back of the Union Hotel.

ASB OR GOOD SECURITY.

CHAS. B. BROOKS, M. D.
Jacksonville, July 28, 1860-264f.

GREAT REDUCTION!

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY, '61, the prices of WHEELER & WILSON'S
Sewing Machines
were reduced twenty per cent. on the Pacific coast.
A few of the best and cheapest machines made, at San Francisco rates.
E. F. SESSIONS, Agent.
Jacksonville, Jan. 12.

CAVEAT PEUILLA.

Who is it who wears tender things,
And talks of love and wedding rings,
And tells what pleasure marriage brings?
A Lover!

Who'll sigh, and yawn, and silence keep,
Or at the window take a peep,
Then on the sofa, down to sleep?
A Husband!

Who says, when married, he intends To give up smoke and giddy friends,
For that it is too much money spent?
A Lover!

Who stops out often late to dine,
And comes home—no, not worse for wine,
But scolds if you should dare repine?
A Husband!

Who'll spend upon you all he may,
Make presents almost every day,
And deem one smile full ample pay?
A Lover!

Who says how fast the money goes,
And how you do not do it in the pose,
He can afford to much for cloze?
A Husband!

Who says how long appears a day,
If ever he is forced to stay,
But even that short time away?
A Lover!

Who spends the autumn with a friend,
And will not one short letter send,
With all his worn-out clothes to mend?
A Husband!

Oregon and Washington War Debt.

We copy from the Sacramento Union, of April 2d, the Act in relation to the payment of the Washington War Debt, as passed at the late session of Congress. It was read to that paper by Pony Express:

AS Act to provide for the payment of the expenses incurred by the Territories of Oregon and Washington in the suppression of Indian hostilities therein, in the years 1855 and 1856.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the following sums, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and they are hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to defray the expenses incurred in the Territories of Washington and Oregon, in the suppression of Indian hostilities therein, in the years 1855 and 1856.

For the payment of volunteers embracing the first and second Washington regiments, and the three companies of minute men, numbered sixty, sixty-one and sixty-two, and the first and second Washington regiments and promiscuous companies, including the companies of Captain Strong and Captain Hays, after deducting $30,000 as ascertained by the Third Auditor of the Treasury in his report of the 7th February, 1860, made in pursuance of a resolution of the House of Representatives, passed the 8th of February, 1859; said claims to be examined and audited by the Third Auditor of the Treasury, who shall also audit volunteers the same pay and advances as were paid on officers and soldiers of equal grade at that period in the United States army serving in that country; provided, that payment shall only be made on receipt of the above named companies as shall be shown by satisfactory proof to have been engaged in actual service in the field for the period and in the manner claimed.

For the payment of claims for services, supplies, transportation, and so forth, incurred in the maintenance of said volunteers, $2,400, 000, to be paid upon the principles and agreements, the rates for services, supplies, transportation, and so forth, allowed and reported by the Third Auditor of the Treasury in his annual report of the 7th February, 1860; Provided, That said Auditor be and he hereby is authorized and directed to receive additional evidence as to the amount or value of supplies, transportation, and personal services, and to correct errors in the former report touching the same; and in cases where supplies were issued at points in either of said Territories, where similar supplies were not furnished for the regular army during the hostilities in which said volunteers were engaged, he shall allow for such supplies the price paid for similar supplies for the regular army at the most advantageous place, where army supplies were furnished during said time, adding thereto the cost of transportation to the place where such supplies were furnished to said volunteers; and provided further, That no compensation shall be made for the services of any person in more than one capacity for the same time; and all payments made in pursuance of this Act shall be received in full satisfaction and discharge of the claims upon which they are made.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That all claims for losses and other property lost or destroyed in said service shall be settled according to the Act approved the 31st of March, 1849, providing for payment of losses on property lost or destroyed in the military service of the United States.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That there be paid to Robert J. Atkinson, Third Auditor of the Treasury, for the duties he respects performed by him in the investigation of said claims, the sum of $1,000, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That, for the payment of claims provided for in this Act, the Secretary of the Treasury may, if he deem it expedient, issue to the claimants, or their legal representatives, bonds of the United States of a denomination not less than $50, redeemable in twenty years, and bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, with coupons aforesaid, and payable annually, or semi-annually, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Approved March 2, 1861.

A New York correspondent of a Philadelphia paper says:

"It is a good motherly woman, but she is a little bit of a lady in her appearance. At home, I take a hearty interest in her work, and she is a very capable woman. She has an ungovernable faculty for disordering. Out of doors her costume is a perfect study of the unique, and even experts are kept in a perfect agony of wonder as to where she could have purchased such a variety of an good, or had them made up so fantastically.

"I see an growing scandalous, let me say that the only lady who can approach M. A.
Greely in externalities, is the new President's Mrs. Lincoln. I saw her at the opera the other night, and despite all the elegant tosyism of the press about her beauty, etc., it is only truth to whisper that she may be, and no doubt is an excellent wife and mother, as well as a most estimable lady; but she's not a lady—this is her large, round, florid face, embellished with a forehead wreath of red flowers, well suggested that her husband was being a perfect agony of wonder as to where she could have purchased such a variety
of an good, or had them made up so fantastically.

Sharp Debate in the Senate.

The proceedings of the United States Senate, March 15th, were highly interesting.
Mr. Mason offered the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, The presence of military force constantly quartered at the seat of Government is a departure from all former usage of Government and dangerous to the rights and liberties of the people; therefore,

Resolved, That the President inform the Senate what number of troops of the Army are quartered in this city, the respective arms of service and purposes for which they were brought here; and further, that he inform the Senate when said troops are to be withdrawn, and if not withdrawn, what purpose they are maintained here, and whether it is his propensity to increase said force and to what extent.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Mr. Douglas' resolution in respect to forfeiture, many yards and other public property
in a sailing States was taken up.

Crittenden's Farewell Speech.

The following, taken from the Sacramento Union, is the latter portion of Crittenden's farewell speech, delivered on Sunday night, March 3d:

Now, in regard to the South and the border States, would I have them sent to the Union, and to the people. The North has given assurance of their sympathy for them, and justice will be done. I believe it. There are assurances given of kindness and patriotism that will be redeemed; that sympathy and kindness which exists in the North will attract others to it; its standard of Liberty and Justice will be raised from one end of the country to the other, and the people will gather around it until States shall come and make peace offerings to their brethren. That day will come, and it will be a happy day. I believe this, and I would have the South and the border States believe it. Our Northern fellows have invited themselves to conditionally accept of the Union upon these very conditions; that should at least be a guarantee to them, and in all this I recognize an spirit of kindness which should bind the hearts of Southern men.
I will say, I am for the Union; I am not for secession. No, sir. And as to my native State, I will say to her, more than to others, I do so very earnestly by the Union of the country, by the aid of our fathers, and by the necessity force us. You have given to the world long-continued evidence of your consistent patriotism and your fidelity to the Union. Stand by it. You have stood there before; why not now? You have literally founded your State upon a rock. Yes, sir, upon a rock that State is founded, and you stand upon it as a rock upon testimony to the Union. The stone upon which I stand is the monument to Washington here on his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union
after the adoption of the Constitution; she
will be the last to leave it." That sentiment
she has engraved upon marble, and it now
stands as a monument to George Washington
and to the Union. The stone upon which I
stand is the monument to Washington here on
his Kentucky marble font these words:
"Kentucky was the first to enter the Union