

ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last, Alfred Ball, who resides on Applegate, while out hunting was accidentally shot by Nat. Conklin, who was prospecting for gold bearing quartz, in the vicinity of Fowler's hole. It appears that Ball hearing the sound of a hammer concluded that he would see what was going on, and was making leisurely towards the sound when he was shot down. Ball had on a deer skin shot pouch, the only thing that was seen by Conklin, the brush being very thick, and supposing him to be a deer, fired, and the object fell. On going towards the spot, groans were heard, and to his horror, found that he had shot a man. The shot is a very severe one, the ball passed through the left shoulder and was extracted on the right. From Dr. Beak's words, we learn that the patient is in a very precarious condition.

DICKINSON'S SPEECH.—We need offer no apology to our readers for intruding, in this week's paper, the entire speech of Hon. Daniel Dickinson, delivered in Corvallis County, N. Y., on Tuesday, Sept. 3d. It is so exceedingly pertinent to the great question now before the people of the country, and meets the points at issue so clearly, so ably, so patriotically, so irresistibly, that it must find a response in the heart of every loyal American citizen. We invite the earnest attention of every reader of our paper to this masterly exposition of the true principles of American Democracy, by one who has been a life long Democrat. Read it carefully, and hand it to your neighbor. It is just the thing for the crisis.

TABLE OF DISTANCES.—Mr. Strong, of Telegraph notoriety, has furnished the Red Bluff Independent with the following table of distances, which will prove useful to the traveling public:

Table with 2 columns: Miles, Yards. Rows include distances from Portland to Oregon City, Salem, Albany, Corvallis, Eugene City, Roseburg, Cannonville, Jacksonville, Yreka, and total from Portland to Yreka.

Mr. D. E. STEARNS, made us a present of some very fine apples, that were grown on his farm on Wagner's Creek, a few miles above Florick. He has a fine orchard of fruit trees, some having already attained a height of thirty feet. Mr. Stearns will accept our thanks for his kind consideration.

LOOK OUT FOR FIRE.—It will be a miracle if our town escapes a general conflagration, unless more attention is given to the manner of adjusting stove pipes in dwelling houses and offices. We hope the late ordinance relating to this matter will be vigorously enforced.

WINE, MORGAN & CO.—Those enterprising gentlemen have brought the entire stock and wine house of Messrs. Andrews & Glenn, together with the full goods that are arriving daily, which they offer for sale at low prices for cash. We would call attention to their new advertisement in to days paper.

See advertisement of S. Maltese, fruit dealer and manufacturer, in to-day's paper. He can be found in the Eldorado building, on California street.

NEW SCHOOL.—Mr. Humphrey, who has the reputation of being an excellent school master, has opened a school in our town and has already quite a number of scholars.

PHOTOGRAPHS.—We have received from S. A. Hendrick of Clinton, Minn., well executed photographs of President Lincoln and Gen. McClellan.

GEORGE.—John Wintjen of the firm of Wintjen & Helms, left us on the 9th inst., on a visit to the Atlantic States and "der Pader land."

FIND.—Peter Britt, of this place, has succeeded admirably in bringing this luscious fruit to perfection.

GOVERNMENT MEALS.—A drove of Government mules passed through our valley yesterday, from Walls Walls on their way to Bendis.

John Neuber has just returned from San Francisco, with a well selected stock of watches and jewelry.

POSTAGE STAMPS.—Read the advertisement of the Postmaster in relation to stamps.

By A SHREWD MANEUVER $80,000 SAVED. Before martial law was established in St. Joseph, Missouri, a man of Scoussion outlaws had their evil eyes upon $80,000 in gold in the express office, and were preparing to pounce upon it, when the agent in charge of the gold was advised a plan to deceive them. The Omaha Advertiser says:

From the collar an old trunk, without a lock, and covered with moist cottons and dust, was brought forth. From the old clothes inside, one of the messengers quickly selected a suit more compatible with the appearance of the trunk than the one he usually wore. The treasure was then packed snugly inside, and an old piece of rope, carefully secured it, supplied the place of the lock and held the lid securely down. Hurrying down the street as fast as his clumsy boots would let him, our messenger, disguised effectually as an anxious chidder, secured a drayman, and telling him that times were getting rather tight in St. Joseph, he had concluded to go to Elwood, and that he had some baggage at the express office he would like to have taken over. The drayman went with him, and after a little parleying and begging the express agent to let the trunk go without the payment of a small charge alleged to be upon it, and while the back of the owner was turned, made fast to the drayman's eye his appearance and his trunk, and finally helped the owner load it, putting off the drayman, who was anxious to help, with "Never mind, it's no trouble." Walking down the middle of the street, behind the dray, our disguised messenger soon reached the river, and in a few minutes more was safely in Kansas. And thus, $80,000 in gold, hard gained, passed under the very eyes of the rebels at St. Joseph. Joined by another messenger, equally tough in appearance, a team was hired to bring them to Nebraska City, and from thence by stage they came to Omaha, bringing the same old trunk, with its load of treasure, strapped on behind as if it contained nothing but old clothes.

At a late meeting in St. Louis of the Irish citizens, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Resolved, That we the Irish citizens of St. Louis city and county, are unalterably attached to the American Constitution and Union, and are determined to defend and support the same against all assaults, whether foreign foes or domestic traitors.

They mean to raise tall students out in Wisconsin. An exchange says: "The Board of Education has resolved to erect a building large enough to accommodate five hundred students three stories high."

Jacksonville Prices Current.

Reported for the Sentinel—Corrected weekly. JACKSONVILLE, Saturday, Oct. 26, 1861. Apples.—The ruling price for this desirable fruit is from 5 to 7 cts. per pound. Yesterday for the first time this season, we noticed a load from Linn county that was packed with some care in small boxes, and not as heretofore in wagon beds. We are not aware of any winter fruit in market except a few boxes of Wine Saps.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Price. Rows include Wheat, Barley, Flour, Chickens, Corn Meal, Hay, Bacon, Beans, Potatoes, Onions, Turnips, Cabbage, Beans white, Green Apples, Dried Apples, Dried Peaches, Cheese, Eggs, Potatoes, Onions, Turnips, Cabbage, Beans white, Green Apples, Dried Apples, Dried Peaches.
