

The Floods.

On last Sunday, we were visited with a much more destructive flood than that of the previous week. On the night of Friday, 6th inst., a heavy rain set in, and continued to pour down heavily almost without intermission, until Sunday morning. This body of water pouring into the channels which were yet full from the flood of the preceding week, was too great for the ordinary bounds of the stream, and in consequence it spread over a considerable portion of the valley. The lower portion of our own town was submerged from the waters of Jackson Creek, and the Valley was converted into a group of numberless small islands and lakes. Jacksonville and immediate vicinity, has sustained no material damage; but from other portions of the county we learn that the losses have been very severe.

It is said that in Neal's Cañon, beyond Ashland, through which a stream of water was running, on Sunday, became clogged by accumulated drift logs, and backed up an immense body of water. Under the heavy pressure the dam gave way and the water rushed with irresistible velocity down the valley, carrying everything before it. By this torrent, we understand that Mr. Wm. Taylor lost his outhouses, grain, etc. We have not particulars as to the full extent of damage, but the loss must be heavy. The farmers along Bear River have suffered. One gentleman who owns a farm on that stream, tells us that, on Sunday, he stood by for a while, and watched his property, in fumes, float off at the rate of about one hundred dollars per hour. He lost a number of hives and several thousand rails, and without doubt, many others have been equally unfortunate.

There has probably been many heavy losses that we are unable to record, owing to the interruption of communication, even from portions of our own county. With the miners, the damages they have suffered will be more than repaired by the supply of water, which is indispensably requisite to their profitable labor. It is to be hoped that the miners may well enough to leave a margin of profit to the community over all losses.

The Rogue River bridge, which had weathered the first storm, was not able to withstand the latter. Its loss, up to the present time has effectively blocked communication north of us. We think it safe to say that there is scarcely a bridge left in its position over a single stream in the county.

Effects of the First Storm.

We have received the following items of interest from Crescent City and Smith River Valley, from which it appears that there was a terrific gale on the coast at the time. Snow fell on the mountains to the depth of five feet, which fell with a warm rain, being flood tide, Smith River rose to such a height that its banks gave way and a large body of water ran through the farms of Messrs. Gibson and Cabell and emptied into the lagoon back of Crescent City. At that place a small stream called Elk Creek empties into the ocean, on either side of which were a number of buildings. The water from Smith River caused the lagoon to run over into Elk Creek and increase it to that extent that the buildings referred to were swept away. On Front street, drift wood, most of which was heavy timber, supposed to have come from Humboldt and Trinidad, was piled up ten feet high; this together with tapping the lagoon so that it could run into the ocean, which labor was performed by the Indians, the city was saved, although the water is said to have been three feet deep in the buildings on that street. The wharf sustained considerable damage, one third of it was carried away in the middle, a large stick of timber was thrown with great force by the waves over the wharf and entered the warehouse of Deegan & Wall. The opinion prevails that the steamer Columbia is lost, as a variety of goods have floated ashore, some of which were marked "Noyah," Klamath Reservation. In the valley the loss has been far greater. A Mr. White lost his wife and two children; they had been taken from his home by the Indians in a canoe which capsized. Smith was saved by clinging to a log where he remained all night and was taken off by Indians; he lost his farm buildings and stock. Frank Gay, at the ferry, lost some of his stock, but saved his boat and his home by lashing it to a rock. Messrs. Gibson and Gay, with their families were four hours on a rock which stood three feet out of the water; even this place was very insecure as drift-wood threatened to sweep them off; Gibson lost all of his property; Cornelius J. White was at Gibson's house, with his family when the water reached it, they went to the barn from which they were rescued by Indians. Cabell lost his farm but saved his family by taking them to the Redwoods. The farms of Mr. Lockwood and Mrs. Benjamin were covered with water; the house of the latter was swept away. Otto, at Bradford's Ford lost his home. Mr. Baer lost fencing and 75 head of cattle; both Fisheries were swept away; Matthias Smith lost farm and stock including 200 head of fat hogs ready for butchering; he was sick at the time, but was saved by being taken up through the roof of his house. At Fort Dick on the lagoon, Mr. Yoman lost all of his fencing; John White lost his house, fencing, etc. Mr. Hale lost his ranch, house, barn, etc., and was taken out of the second story of his house while afloat. The Indians had to leave their camp which was on an island at the mouth of Smith river. Mr. Hall lost his saw-mill; one of his employees was on a stump twenty-four hours and when the current subsided, sawy aloft. A man by the name of Humboldt and another whose name our informant did not learn were drowned while attempting to go from the Bald Hills to Crescent City. Taken all together, the destruction of property in Smith Valley has been fearful. All of the bridges on the Crescent City road and two of the pack trails belonging to Mr. Gasquet have been swept away. Mr. Lewis will rebuild his bridge immediately, the one belonging to this place, unknown to our informant, was on the mountain last Friday; all the others were on this side, and will come in the earliest opportunity.

Bishop was appointed Constable of Elgin Precinct.

THE MINERS.—The miners at Sterling sustained but very little damage; a few flames were carried away and two or three claims filled up; the miners as a general thing are nearly all at work ground-slewing, and it is expected that the yield of gold this season will far exceed that of any former.

BANKUM A FEW MILES SOUTH OF STERLING.

Applegate, was completely overflowed, the ditches and flames are all destroyed and nearly all the claims filled up. We doubt very much whether the miners of Bankum will be able to do much this winter, as they have lost all their flames and sluice boxes and are unable to procure lumber to replace them. A large number of miners working on the banks of Applegate were entirely washed out. It is supposed that the miners in Josephine county have sustained severe losses.

THE PLACE TO RAISE A STAKE.—Quite a number of miners from California, on their way to Portland, have went to prospecting in ravines and gulches in this vicinity, which have been unworked and unclaimed for years, owing to the scarcity of water. It is an indisputable fact, that miners cannot during this winter do better than to go to work in the mining districts of Jackson and Josephine counties. The complaint has always been "No Water." Water they now have in quantities rather greater, probably, than is agreeable. Rich ground they have also, and we trust there will be no lack of hands to work it.

THE FOLLOWING OATH IS ADMINISTERED TO VOLUNTEERS, ON ENTERING THE UNITED STATES SERVICE, TAKEN FROM THE ARMY REGULATIONS OF 1857 AS PROMULGATED BY J. F. DAVIS, THEN SECRETARY OF WAR.

"I, A. B., do solemnly swear or affirm (as the case may be) that I will bear true allegiance to the United States of America, and that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies or opposers whatsoever, and observe and obey the orders of the President of the United States, and the orders of the officers appointed over me, according to rules and articles for the government of the army of the United States."

JACKSONVILLE DRUG STORE.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Dr. G. W. Greer, who is still carrying on the drug business, at the old stand known as Jacksonville Drug Store, in connection with his profession as physician and surgeon. Of the doctor's skill as a physician and surgeon we have personal experience, and cordially recommend him to the public.

MERRY CHRISTMAS BALL.—There will be a "Merry Christmas Ball" at the United States Hotel on Christmas night, given by the proprietor, Lewis Hume, which no doubt will be a pleasant affair. For further particulars see advertisement in another column.

MADE THE TRIP.—The Yreka Stage, came in last evening with the mail, by which we received two days later news from Sacramento and San Francisco, and dispatches from New York to the 26th.

ANOTHER RECRUIT.—From the San Francisco Herald we learn that Justus Steinberger has received a Colonel's Commission and is authorized to raise a regiment of volunteers for Washington Territory.

BURNED.—$45,000 worth of postage stamps (old style), 400,000 in number, and 175,000 stamped envelopes were burned in San Francisco on the 29th ult., by Postal Agent Watkins.

From the Yreka Journal, we learn that on Friday night last they were visited with an other good which they contended was only second to the time of Noah.

APPOINTMENT.—George T. Vinig has been appointed Clerk of Josephine Co. vice R. B. Morford resigned.

GOKE.—The bridge on the Klamath river and the one on the North Umpqua at Winchester.

LEAVE.—Ex Governor Hines of California, has recently imported two fine Alamas, Male and female from Chile.

The following notice was found posted on the bulletin of a Western post office, on Nick Williams' way:

Lost—a red hat. He had a white spot on the back of his head. A she-kaf. I will give five dollars to anybody who will bring him home.

Captain Truitt's company of Cavalry is nearly full, only a few more men wanted. Those wishing to join this company had better hurry along.

CLOVE AND DYNE TOOTHACHE DROPS. Complain no more of Aching Teeth. THESE DROPS have been extensively used by thousands, whose experience has proved that the Anodyne will give immediate and permanent relief, after the failure of every other remedy. It is pleasant to the taste and smell, and a few applications will entirely remove the pain and soreness from a decayed tooth, so that it may be filled and rendered as useful as ever. When the pain proceeds from the face, or from the gums around a tooth apparently sound, this Anodyne will give speedy relief by rubbing a few drops on the parts affected. It has only to become generally known to be as highly appreciated by the public as it is by the friends of the most distinguished practical Dentists in the city of New York. "Messrs. SANTS: Gentlemen—In the course of my practice I have extensively used your Clove Anodyne, with much success, for the relief of the Toothache, and as I constantly recommend it to my patients, I deem it but just to inform you of the high opinion I have of it over other remedies. I am, yours, very respectfully, M. LEVETT, Dentist." Price, 25 Cents per Vial. Prepared by A. B. & D. SANTS' Druggists, 100 Fulton street, corner of William, N. Y. For sale by REDINGTON & CO., San Francisco. B. H. McDONALD & CO., JUSTIN GATES & BROS., Sacramento. THOMPSON & GERRIE, Jacksonville.
