THE OREGON SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, -- JAN. 25, 1862.

THE WEATHER.—The storm-god seems to have it all his own way this Winter. On last Sunday morning there was about eight inches of snow on the ground, and some of our people were disposed to continue the exhilirating amusement of sleigh-riding which they had been enjoying for a few preceding days; but before night it began to rain most furiously, and it has been raining, sleeting and snowing, with short intermissions, ever since. The storms were as high on Wednesday and Thursday as they have been this Winter, and an immense amount of damage has been done. We understand that the Tannery, at Phœnix, has been swept out, and that the fine flouring mill at that place stands toppling over the water. The roads are so impassible all over the county, that we have received no intelligence of the amount of damage by this flood. Friday morning the sun shone out clear and beautiful, but by noon the sky was again clouded, with indications of more snow, of which there is two or three inches in the valley and plenty of it on the surrounding mountains. Let this kind of weather continue for some two or three months, and beef cattle will be a sight that it will do a man good to look at. Numbers of dead cattle lie rotting on the hills and in the valleys surrounding. Farmers, take care of your stock. It will be worth something in the Spring.

ROAD FROM JACKSON COUNTY TO THE SALMON RIVER MINES.—We publish to-day the proceedings of a meeting held in the Court House, Jan. 18th, to solicit information and ascertain, if possible, the practicability of a wagon road from some point in this Valley to the far-famed El Dorado of the North, to which all gold hunters are tending. Now, if it be true that a pack-train can go from this place to the Salmon river mines in fifteen days, as stated by Mr. Ballard, it is a matter of the first importance to the people of this county, and, in fact, to the people of Southern Oregon. From what little we know of the geography of the country stretching between this and Snake river, we are inclined to credit the statement of Mr. Ballard. After the Klamath Lake basin is reached, there can be but one low divide between that and Snake river.

We hope this thing will not be permitted to die for want of means and energy. Let the practicability or impracticability of this route be established. We solicit information on this subject.

BAD ROAD TO BE AVOIDED.—Mr. F. R. Hill, of Wilbur, Oregon, under date of Jan 10th, has kindly furnished us the following information: "I have no doubt but the people of Jackson county, and the public generally, will be glad to know that there soon will be a way opened to shun one of the very worst pieces of road in Oregon—that lying between Roseburg and Wilbur, a distance of nine miles—which, in fact is impossible from four to six months in the year. By the first of February there will be a new road opened, beginning at the hill half a mile north of Roseburg taking the Kirkland road, leaving Gen Lane's farm on the right, and following the west side of range of hills to the North Umpqua river, one mile and a quarter below the old ferry, at Winchester; thence to Wilbur, two miles. This route can be traveled at any season with loaded wagons."

WING DRIDGES.—We invite the attention of bridge builders, and bridge owners, who have suffered heavy losses by the floods of this winter, to the advertisement of A. S. Hallidie & Co., of San Francisco, to be found in our advertising columns. If it be true that bridges can be constructed of wire rope, that will successfully withstand such floods as we have had this winter, it is a matter of the first importance to the people of Oregon. Let this subject be fully examined before any more costly wooden structures are put up.

THE STATE REPUBLICAN.—We have received the second number of this paper, published at Eugene City, by H. Shaw & Co. It is for the Union, decidedly and emphatically; and we understand it is to be for a Union party. It is edited with ability, and presents a fair typographical appearance. We heartily wish it success.

ARMY REGULATIONS.—We have received from the publishers, J. B. Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia, a copy of the revised regulations for the United States Army, a work that every military man should possess, as "nothing contrary to their tenor will be enjoined by any Commander whatsoever."

MORE WAR BONDS.—From various sources, we learn that parties are in the receipt of bonds for articles sold during the last Indian war of 1855-6.

Be patient, your time will come soon, if your papers are in Washington and properly represented.

We have received a letter from I. K. Fowler, formerly of this place, who is now living in Yancton, Dakota Territory. He thus describes its Capitol: "The town embraces about fifteen dwellings, two stores, two saloons, one hotel, and another fine one nearly completed. Population, 100.

PERSONAL.—We have been very unwell during the week—scarcely able to be out of bed most of the time—hence we have paid but little attention to the paper, either in its selected or editorial matter; but we hope to be better and to do better in future.

ATTENTION FIREMEN.—The officers and members of the Jacksonville Hook & Ladder Company, are hereby notified that the election of officers will be held on Tuesday, February 4th, 1862, at 6½ P. M. By Order.

I. SACHS, Secretary.

FORT YUMA.—An arrival from Fort Yuma this week brings assurance of perfect quiet prevailing at the post and along the road. The political prisoners had taken the oath and been liberated; but it is reported that they sent letters to California by a traveler, which being intercepted, afforded evidence of hostile intentions. They were rearrested, and are now in close confinement at Fort Yuma.—Los Angeles Star, January 4th.

Citizens' Meeting.

At a meeting of the citizens of Jackson county, held in the Court House January 18, the following business was transacted:

Mr. Ballard, a gentleman acquainted with the country, gave it as his opinion that a pack train could go from this place to the Salmon river mines in fifteen days, over a good road, well supplied with grass, wood and water.

On motion of D. W. Douthitt, a Committee composed of Col. J. E. Ross, J. W. Hillman, Mr. McDaniels and Mr. Ballard, were authorized to form and organize a company of volunteers, to go over the route and report as soon as practicable.

Mr. I. D. Haines stated to the meeting that he had received a letter from Crescent City, in which the citizens of that place expressed a desire to co-operate with us, and were willing to subscribe men and money for the purpose of urging the measure through.

John Mathews gave some very important information respecting the feasibility of a wagon road over the mountains north of Mt. McLaughlin.

On motion of D. W. Douthitt, a subscription was opened which was readily and willingly signed.

On motion of H. Bloom,

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the County newspapers.

On motion of Mr. Sachs, the meeting adjourned.

J. W. HILLMAN, Secretary.

GREAT FLOOD IN SACRAMENTO.—The city of Sacramento was visited on Saturday last by a more severe flood than that of Dec. 9th. The water commenced rising on Thursday, and at 6 o'clock on Friday evening, the water stood 20 inches on the floor of the Union office. The water on Friday night was 20 inches higher than the flood of Dec. 9th. The water fell during the night of Friday, but commenced rising again Saturdy morning, and when the steamer Gem left on Saturday evening, the city was one vast lake, the water was two feet and a half higher than the former flood. The people are leaving the city as rats would a sinking ship. The legislature have adjourned to meet again on the 20th at Sacramento, if the flood retires, if not, the Legislature will meet at San Francisco.

Gov. Stanford delivered his Inaugural Address on Friday last. The document reflects great credit upon the Governor.

Mr. Shafter was elected President pro. tem of the Senate, and Barstow elected Speaker of the House.—Red Bluff Independent, Jan. 13th.

GEN. HUNTER IN MISSOURI.—The St. Louis correspondent of the S. F. Alta, relates the following:

For a long time past Platte county, in the Northwestern part of this State, has been infested with a gang of desperate marauders, headed by one St. Gordon. They have taken property and stolen horses from Union men and Secessionists alike, and pretended to act by authority of the County Court. An expedition recently left St. Joseph for the purpose of breaking up this nest of robbers, by order of Gen. Hunter. The spirit of the last mentioned officer may be inferred from his reply to a committee of Union citizens of Platte county to ask protection. The committee found Gen. Hunter at Leavenworth, on the 2d. He said to them: "Tell the Trustees of Platte county that unless they give up Gordon and his gang, and break up every rebel camp, I shall send Col. Jennison over there, with orders to burn every house in the county. I am getting tired of this whole subject."

Committee—Will you put that in writing?

Gen. Hunter—I will.

SENATOR MASON.—The Boston Journal, in noticing the arrival of Messrs Slidell and Mason at Fort Warren, says:

"It will be remembered that when the Union Committee from Boston visited Washington on last January, Mr. Mason, in reply to the wish expressed that he might again visit our city, said: 'I shall not go to Boston again except as an Ambassador.' That speech was prophetic in a sense not anticipated by the Virginian."

The Methodist Conference Female College at Jacksonville, Illinois, was burnt on Saturday, the 16th ult. The east wing of the building was saved with some little damage. The young ladies escaped with their effects, and nobody hurt. The above institution was perhaps the finest of the kind in the United States.

A schoolmaster asked one of his fair pupils, "Can you decline a kiss?" Dropping a perplexed courtesy, she modestly replied, "Yes sir; but I don't like to."

THE MARKET.—The market is destitute of butter, also all kinds of vegetables.
