

POTOMAC AND BUTTERMILK.—An amusing story is told by some Dubuque boys of the "low life," about the changes which a certain passerby underwent about the time of the battle of Springfield.

One of the Dubuque officers, whose duty it was to furnish the guard with a password for the night, gave the word "Potomac." A German on guard, not understanding distinctly the difference between the P's and B's, understood it to be "Buttermilk," and this is being transferred to another, and will keep constantly on hand an assortment of the best.

Soon after the officer who had given the word, wishing to return through the lines, and approaching a sentinel, was ordered to halt, and the word demanded. He gave "Potomac."

"Not right—you don't pass mit me dish way."

"But that is the word, and I will pass."

"No, you stand!" at the same time placing a bayonet at his breast in a manner that told Mr. officer that "Potomac" did not pass in Missouri.

"What is the word, then?"

"Buttermilk, d—n you."

"Well, then, Buttermilk, d—n you."

"Dat is right; now you pass mit yourself about your pines."

There was then a general overhauling of the pass-words, and the difference between "Potomac" and "Buttermilk" being understood, the joke became one of the laughable incidents of the campaign.

How THEY FEEL TOWARDS US.—A correspondent of the New York Times, after examining certain documents of State Department, gathers from them, that the state of foreign feeling towards the American Government, is about as follows:

England entertains, or at least expresses no sympathy for us, but rather the reverse.

France has not been cordial, but has been less offensive than England.

Austria has been friendly, and from the outset has declared she would not recognize the rebel Confederacy.

Prussia, and all the German States, have been equally cordial.

Russia has been friendly, but anxious for the war to end.

Sweden and Norway has been friendly from the beginning.

Belgium is undecided but passive.

Holland is disposed to follow the lead of England, at a respectful distance.

Italy is full of warm sympathy for our Government and for freedom.

Spain, though not aggressive, has an evident leaning for the Jeff. Davis Republic.

Denmark is friendly.

The Pope, though he announces his government is not of this world, and he is concerned with spiritual affairs, yet, if he were to express an opinion, he, as a good Christian, will always be on the side of law and order.

When the telegraph poles were first stationed through the valley, a "Green" man drove into a village, and tied his horse to what he supposed was a spruce pole. He was accosted by a precocious urchin with—

"Mister! Mister! what have you done?"

"Done," said the fellow, "what do you mean? I hain't done nothin' as I know on."

"Why, yeth, you have, thir, you have just hitched your horse to the Magnetic Telegraph, and you'll be in New York in less than two minutes, if you don't look out."

The man untied his horse with nervous anxiety, and jumping into his sleigh drove hastily down the street.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Jones was traveling with his wife, and for a freak, was so glib in his behavior that madame grew uneasy and re-negated against his attentions as too marked for public observation. "The d—n!" said Jones, "we are married, I suppose?"

"Yes," said the lady, "but judging from your deportment, folks will think we ain't!"

"Well what of it?" said Jones. "Why, not much, certainly, to you," said the careful dame, "for you are a man; but we women have our characters to take care of." Jones was shocked into propriety for the rest of the journey.

KILLED, WOUNDED AND PRISONERS.—The New York Herald, of November 12th, has a carefully compiled exhibit of the killed, wounded and prisoners on both sides, during the war. From this it appears that the Union men have gained 46 battles; the rebels 32. The Union armies had 1,327 killed, 2,962 wounded, and 4,691 taken prisoners. Total killed, wounded and prisoners on the Union side, 8,980. Total killed, wounded and prisoners on the rebel side, 12,159.

A strict orthodox old gentleman in Massachusetts returned home one Sunday from church and began to extol his son upon the merits of the sermon:

"I have heard, Frank," said he, "one of the most delightful sermons ever delivered to a Christian society. It carried me to the very gates of Heaven."

"Well," replied Frank, "I think you had better have dodged in, for you will never get another such a chance."

Some people care little for curious objects. If they had the apple that Eve tasted in Eden, the apple that revealed to Newton the law of gravitation, and the apple that fell from his son's head, they would give them to the cooks to make dumplings.

An affectionate mother in this town is feeding her daughter on pickles to prevent her being eaten up by the young men who say she is "too sweet to live."

The boy who was caught looking into the future has been arrested for trying to see the show without paying.

Fine connections are apt to plunge you into a sea of extravagance, and then not to throw you a rope to save you from drowning.

It is who is false to present duty, breaks a thread in the loom, and will find the flaw when he may have forgotten the cause.

Why are the rebel leaders like turkeys? Cause when their necks are stretched there will be a general thanksgiving.
