

ALL accounts due the OREGON SENTINEL office, and remaining unpaid April 15th, will be given to Justices of the Peace for collection.

DOY BE IN A HERRY, GENTS.—Nothing is more manifest than the impatience of the victims of the Salmon river mania. Board is $16 per week in Portland; there is no feed in Willamette; the Columbia river is still ice-bound above the Dalles; the Columbia trail is impassible for animals; there are no supplies at Walla Walla, or in the mines, and more can be got there before the first of June; and nearly all of the horses, mules and cattle, used in the transportation business last summer, have perished this winter. You may tell them all this, but what does it avail? The "B" is on them, and they will go. If there were no other openings for them, they would jump into Rogon river, float down to the coast, swim around to the Columbia, and then, in a true Salmon-hunter, stem its impetuous current until they arrived at their golden destination.

JOSEPHINE COUNTY EXTERIOR MASS CONVENTION.—Our Union friends in Josephine county met in Convention at Kerbyville on Saturday last. They evidently had a good time. The Sailer Diggins Brass Band was in attendance, and notwithstanding the awful warning of our little Governor, played Yankee Doodle, and raked the consequences. We hope somebody will telegraph his Excellency that up to latest date nobody was hurt thereby.

Patriotic speeches were made by C. Sprague and H. L. Preston, Esq., and resolutions breathing the right spirit, were unanimously adopted. Our Union friends are enthusiastic, and confident that they can triumphantly wipe out the last vestige of secession in that county in the first Monday in June next.

BLACKWELL.—Jackson Walker, that prince of good fellows, came into our sanctum on Wednesday last, with the firm determination to make us unhappy. He not only showed us a large piece of black sand (over the left), but he exhibited for inspection some fine specimens of melted candlesticks (in a horn), taken out of his claim, in Newcombe's Gulch, Blackwell Diggins. The largest specimen was worth six dollars, the next twenty-three, and so on down to six dollars. Oh! Jackson! we shall ever forgive you for this furious attack on our sanctum; never! Mr. Walker says the miners are all doing well in the Blackwell Diggins.

Jewelry's Quartz Lapse.—This evidently rich lode is situated on Rogon river, near Yawoy's Ferry. The enterprising company owning it at present have ready for crushing about one hundred tons of rock, in every piece of which gold is visible to the eye. The quartz becomes richer as they get into the lode. The company have put up a quartz mill, and desire to commence crushing next week. We expect to hear of rich shipments of a golden harvest for all concerned. There is no question of empty richer in golden deposits than Jackson county.

JACKSON COUNTY EXTERIOR MASS CONVENTION.—Today is the time fixed by the Union men in this county for holding their Convention for the nomination of delegates to attend the State Convention, and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought before them. We hope to see a full attendance, but we fear that inasmuch as the weather is very inclement, and the roads so nearly impassible, that we shall be disappointed. H. L. Preston, Esq., of Josephine county, is in town, and will address the Convention.

REVENUE.—The two persons who were injured at Camp Baker, on the 20th inst., by the premature explosion of a cartridge, are fast recovering. Their injuries are not as great as at first supposed. One of them will be able to discharge his duties again. The sight of the other is not permanently affected, and amputation of the arm will not be necessary. We are obliged to Captain Herre for the above information.

WAGON ROAD EXPEDITION.—We are informed that the Wagon Road Expedition organizing at this place, intend to start on their mission sometime between the 15th and 20th of next month. If they succeed in establishing a possible wagon road from this place to the Powder and Salmon river mines, they will confer a benefit on Southern Oregon, of incalculable value. Col. John E. Ross, is Captain of the company. Success to them.

Capt. COVING COMPANY.—We understand that this Company is en route from Douglas county to Camp Baker. Capt. Coving has very nearly his full complement of men. This is the way we do up things in Southern Oregon.

IS LAKE.—The friends of Harvey Morgan, formerly of this county, will be pleased to learn that he owns a claim in the famous "Sink of Salmon." The pay-dirt is said to yield three pounds per day.

SENATOR NICHOLS AND DIVORCE.—This Senator in a recent debate on the Hetchum Hill bill.

THE most direct traveled route from the Pacific coast was not a safe one for a man to travel at all. His illustrious predecessor (Mr. Lane) when here as a delegate, drew mileage to the amount of $5,264, and then when Oregon was admitted and he was elected Senator, he drew $5,264 again as mileage for walking from the House of Representatives to the Senate. Yet he (Nichols) thought something was due to the members of the Pacific coast. He (Nichols) brought his family here last year, and it cost him $3,000 to get to New York. He might be told that he could have his wife at home. That was sometimes inconvenient, and by the laws of Oregon, if a man was absent a year from his wife she was entitled to a divorce. [Laughter.] He was willing, however, to submit to anything, to an exception, to enable the Government to prosecute the war. They could take away all his money if they pleased.

THOS. CROXTON, Pres't. J. C. BROWN, Sec'taries.

SEAT OF GOVERNMENT.—One of the questions to be submitted to the people at the coming June election, is the vexed question of the location of the seat of government for the State of Oregon.

CONGRESSIONAL.—Congress has appropriated one hundred thousand dollars for the construction of a Fort at the mouth of the Columbia River. All right.

Northern Items.

AN ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE.—A negro by the name of George attempted to assassinate Captain Gibson, agent of the Steam Navigation Company at the Dalles, on the 8th of January. The negro met Gibson in the streets, drew a pistol, and fired at the Captain twice. But one shot took effect; that entered the neck about two inches below the chin, and passing through, lodged in the back part of the neck. The wound is not supposed to be mortal.

LEGISLATION.—A large number of substantial buildings have been erected at Lewiston, notwithstanding the prohibition of the Indian Agent, Mr. Hutchings, the agent in charge of the Reservation, announces his determination to forcibly remove all of the buildings thus erected in violation of law.

GRAND RONDE TRAIL.—The Washington Statesman says this trail is a humbug; that all efforts to find a passable route through Grand Ronde Valley to the Salmon river mines have most signally failed. A reward of one thousand dollars is offered to any one who will point out such a trail.

DRUNKEN.—On the 14th of December, two men were drowned at "Isle of Pierre," above Priest's Rapids, Columbia river. The names of the parties lost are, Thomas Hunt, of Marion county, Oregon, and Fredrick Fisher, a sailor, of Boston.

SHOT.—A shooting affray occurred in one of the saloons of Walla Walla, on the 27th of December. A man, name not given, was shot in the hip; wound not mortal.

ARREST.—We learn by private letter that Mr. Kirkpatrick, of Linn county, has been appointed Indian Agent. Where the field of his operations is, we do not know.

ICE RUN.—The Columbia river is open to the Dalles, but ice-locked above. Several new boats will run upon the upper river as soon as the ice leaves it.

SECTOR.—Lieutenant McFoul, of Company A, California Volunteers, committed suicide at the Dalles, March 15th, by taking strychnine.

TIM DON.—The dog belonging to John Stevens, one of the missing John Day party, came into the Dalles after the return of the seventeen, and is in good condition.

PATRIOTIC COL.—The mercury stood, at Florence, on the 15th and 17th of February, at thirty degrees below zero.

MASS UNION CONVENTION AT KERBYVILLE. In pursuance of the call for a Union Mass Convention, a large and enthusiastic meeting assembled at the Court House, in Kerbyville, Josephine county, on Saturday, 23d March, at 1 o'clock P. M. After some stirring music by the "Sailer Diggins Brass Band," the meeting was called to order by Dr. B. S. Holton, who nominated Thomas Croxton, Esq., for President. The motion was seconded, and Mr. Croxton unanimously elected.

On motion, D. S. Holton and Jacob Merdianhall were elected Vice Presidents, and John C. Elder and Wm. F. May were appointed Secretaries.

On motion of Wm. M. Evans, a committee of five was appointed by the President, to draft resolutions. The President appointed Wm. M. Evans, Wm. F. May, J. V. R. Watt, George Todd and A. B. McElwain.

On motion of W. J. Matthews, a committee of three—W. J. Matthews, Jesse Randall and J. P. Todd—were appointed by the President to report names to the Convention for Delegates to the State Convention, to be held at Eugene City on the 5th day of April, and to form a temporary Central Committee.

Made by the hand. During the absence of the committees, the meeting was well entertained for about half an hour by a speech from C. P. Sprague, Esq.; after which, made by the hand.

The Committee on Resolutions reported the following, to-wit: Resolved, That while we regret the war that now prevails in our country, and while we favor peace, yet our great desire being for the prosperity and happiness of the American people, and as we believe that such prosperity can only be attained by the perpetuity of the Union of all the States, we deem it our duty to overthrow the Federal Government and dissolve our Union as destructive of the liberties of the people, and the ruin of their prosperity.

Resolved, That as true and loyal citizens regardless of former ties, we will unite during the time of our country's trouble, and pledge ourselves to encourage and support the Government in the maintenance of the Constitution unaltered, and in the enforcement of its laws.

Resolved, That we can recognize no neutral position to be taken in the politics of our country; that the only issue now before us is, Union or Disunion.

Resolved, That we will ever support the State Government in all their rights, as the most competent administrators of their domestic concerns, and the surest bulwarks against republican tendencies; and preserve the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the shelter-anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad.

The New Governor of Tennessee.

Time is the great avenger. A few weeks ago, Andrew Johnson dared not set foot in Tennessee. The crime of fidelity to the Union was unparadise in the eyes of perfidious traitors. Promises had failed to allure him from the path of honor at the nation's throat. Threats of personal violence, and actual and cruel persecution of those near and dear to him could not swerve him from the straight line of duty. Fair weather patriots, like John Bell, Andrew Fair and Thomas A. R. Nelson, succumbed to the fiery presence, and gave their voices for peaceful acquiescence in the destruction of the republic. But Andrew Johnson, who had never preferred special claims to favor as a 'concoctive' reloaded the brandishment of his halcyon of reason, and, though compelled to leave his home and his family at the mercy of a reckless despotism, clung devotedly to the standard of the Union. The rebels have led him back in Tennessee since secession was proclaimed there. Their atrocities have inflicted a dark stain upon a State which always enjoyed an honorable and chivalrous reputation. The savage malignity with which they have tormented Johnson, Brownlow, Maynard and others for the address of the President, has contributed powerfully to nerve the arms of the loyalists who have at last come to the rescue of their countrymen. Well may these people tremble before the prospect of retributive justice.

See the present writing, Andrew Johnson has probably established himself in Nashville, as military Governor of Tennessee, with the rank of Brigadier General. He is clothed with ample powers and supported by a large and victorious army. The enemy can offer but a feeble resistance to his authority. It will be his duty to rally around the President, to be his duty to rally the State, to give security to loyal citizens, to restore confiscated property to its rightful owners, and to arrest and punish, if possible, the leaders and abettors of the revolt in that Commonwealth. Johnson possesses abilities of no common order. He is rough and angular, but strong, earnest and circumspect, as most men are who have leaped their way from humble life to lofty station, with an unaided energy. He is thoroughly acquainted with Tennessee. He knows the obligations of the President. For two successive terms did the admirals of the "Machabe State man," as he was called, elect him Governor of the State, over such scores of old and wealthy families as Meredith P. Geary and Gustavus A. Henry. At home and in Congress, Johnson was a sturdy and able champion of all measures deemed to benefit the class of toilers from which he sprang. Now that he will have a fair opportunity to face the masses of Tennessee, he will not soon rally around the President, and his Government, as he formerly delighted to do. He comes back to them, surrounded with the halo of heroism and wearing the civic crown, well earned by patriotism, self-sacrifice and hard labor in the service of the Government. The State that holds the dead Andrew Johnson, and follows the lead of the living Andrew Johnson, can scarcely fail to reduce her old enemies.—Savannah Daily.

Gregorians should test the merits of Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the present of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has long been in demand at the mines. It daily now restores the tone of a changed stomach, imparts fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheers the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the chief of all standards. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry weather, and who is liable to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitters, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

The Monitor.

We presume that our readers will read with interest the following description of Ericsson's gun boat—the Monitor. It has successfully stood the test required by the Government. In its renowned contest with the Merrimack, it was struck 33 times with the heavy balls and shells of its antagonist, but was unharmed. It looks almost like a disposition of Providence that it should have been completed just in time to check the destructive career of the Merrimack.

The hull is sharp at both ends, the bow projecting and tapering to a point at an angle of eighty degrees, to the side inclining at an angle of thirty degrees to the vertical line. The hull bottomed, six and a half feet in depth, built tight, of 38 inch iron, one hundred and twenty-four feet long, and thirty-four feet wide at the top. Another or upper hull rests on, with perpendicular sides and sharp ends, five feet high, forty-one feet four inches wide, square headed and twenty-four feet long, extending over the sides of the lower hull three feet seven inches, and over each end twenty-five feet, thus serving as a protection to the pressure boiler and machinery. The sides of the upper hull are composed of an inner guard of iron, a wall of white oak, thirty inches thick, covered with iron armor six inches thick. When in lighting order the lower hull is totally immersed, and the upper one is sunk three feet six inches, leaving only eighteen inches above water.

The battery will draw ten feet of water. The interior is open to the interior of a in a shell. The deck covers the hull with the top of the upper hull, and is made proof. There will be no railing or outwork of any kind above the deck. The inclination of the lower hull is such that a ball, to strike in any part, must pass through at least twenty-five feet of water, and then strike an inclined iron surface at an angle of about forty degrees. It is therefore almost protected, yet so light as to give great buoyancy. Only three things are exposed above the hull. The mainmast, the funnel, and the smoke stack. The only entrance is at the top of the turret, which cannot easily be smothered, and even then but one man at a time can descend. Two commandments will be mounted on the turret.—New York World.

One of the nation's chaplains of the army on the Potomac, called on a colored noted for his profanity, in order to talk about the religious interests of his men. He was politely received, and beckoned to a seat on a chest. "Colonel," said he, "you have one of the finest regiments in the army." "I think so," replied the colonel. "Do you think you pay sufficient attention to the religious instructions of your men?" "Well, I don't know," replied the colonel. "A lively interest has been awakened in the minds of his servants, and ten men have been already baptized." This was a rival regiment. "Is that so, your honor?" asked the colonel. "Yes sir," "Sergeant," said the colonel, "to an attending orderly," "have fifteen men detailed immediately to be baptized. I'll be right back." The Chaplain took notes of the interview, and withdrew.

A Officer.—It has been rumored that some of the officers of the Missouri 15th, at Weston, are very intimate with certain ladies thereabouts of the seceder persuasion, and it is somewhat broadly hinted that unwarranted license is obtained for the rebels by this means. Whether this is so or not, we are unable to say; but we have heard an anecdote of Col. Bryant, of the Wisconsin 12th, which will do credit to the privates of the 12th had succeeded in "jacking" a lot of honey from the hive of a seceder, and the owner thereof made complaint to the Colonel, who asked whether the soldier abused or insulted the family in any way. Upon being answered in the negative, the Colonel remarked: "Well, I guess it's all right about the honey; but if I catch any of my boys with a seceder woman, I'll have him shot."—Lewistown Times.

"Do you like codfish balls, Mr. Wiggins?" Mr. Wiggins (hesitatingly) "I really don't know Miss, I never collect attending one."

APPOINTMENT.—Edward Shattuck has been appointed U. S. District Attorney for Oregon.

YREKA ROAD EXPEDITION.—The expedition organized at Yreka, for the purpose of opening out a wagon road from that place to the Powder river and Salmon mines, left Yreka on Friday, 21st instant. There were from 25 to 30 men in the company. They are soon to be followed by another company. They go fully furnished with all necessary tools to open out the road for the passage of wagons. Success to them.

The Yreka Journal of March 26th, says the company is blundering along in the mud, and may get through in time. We are of your opinion, Mr. Journal.

In his last message, Gov. Letcher says that Virginia has now in the field 70,000 rebels, and that the expenditures of the State since April last, have been six millions of dollars. He deplores the defection of Western Virginia, and the unhappy condition of Maryland, but declares that there can be no compromise with the Lincoln Government. The war is to be waged to the death.

ROMAN EYE BALSAM

For Inflamed Eyelids. COMMONLY CALLED SORE EYES. This Balsam was used for many years in the private practice of a celebrated oculist, with the greatest success. In cases where the eyelids are inflamed, or the ball of the eye thickly covered with blood, it acts almost like magic, and removes all appearances of inflammation after two or three applications. There is a numerous class of persons that are peculiarly exposed to accidents or diseases that weaken and inflame the eyes, and deprive them of their sight—such as miners, mechanics and other workers in metal—who, from the nature of their employments, are compelled to work in a cloud of dust and grit. Read the following evidence: BOSTON, Jan. 7, 1851.

Mrs. A. H. S. S. S. Your Roman Eye Balsam, which I was recommended to use for my daughter's eyes, has acted on them like a charm. Her eyes, which had for several months been very much swollen and inflamed, after a few weeks' use of the Balsam, were perfectly cured and well as ever. Yours truly, M. FOLEY.
