Baby Grace.

The St. James Magazine for June has a poem of great originality, sweetness and power called " Baby Grace," a domestic tale, truthfu and touching as the "Vicar of Wakefield" itself. We give orief extracts below :

"What a prize In mother's eyes Was Baby, when first she heard its cries, When the undefiled Little stranger smiled

On a bosom white with maternity mild! What a pleasure, Without any measure Ran through her volus as she bugged her tree

Mother awoke from her vision of tears, With a pleading cry for help in her cars, And looked about her in tranced surprise, SALOON STOVES. Till the pale face flushed at the small thing' cries;

Speech of Governor Stanly.

(From the Newbern Progress.) The speech of Governor Stanly, which was livered at Washington, North Carolina, on the 17th of June, before the great Union mass meeting, was full of moderation and cloquence, and it may be pronounced one of the finest productions of the day. It was received with the utmost satisfaction both by the Federal troops and the citizens of the Old North State, who were present from seventeen
