

Semi-Weekly Sentinel.

G. JACOBS, Editor.

To the efficacy and permanency of your Union, a Government for the whole is indispensable.

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 10, 1862.

Important Facts.

We collate the following important and interesting facts from various sources, but principally from an address delivered by Gen. Hiram Walbridge before the Common Council of the city of New York:

Over 50,000 ships are owned by the people of the United States. There are 20,000 miles of railroad completed in Uncle Sam's dominion, at a cost of $11,000,000,000.

The fruit and wine crop of the Mediterranean is annually valued at $7,500,000; in 1860 the grape crop of California was valued at $8,000,000.

Such is our country; such the beneficent results of a free and liberal Government. Its triumphant progress challenges history for a parallel.

In our minds eye we have often attempted to limn out our Oregon Jacobs, of the SENTINEL, but each successive attempt has been a failure.

Well, friend Newell, when you attempt to "limn" us out in your "minds eye" again, just paint us five feet and ten inches in height, moderately well proportioned, and decidedly handsome.

As to the policy of your projected convention, Mr. Mountaineer, we have some doubts. Would it not be exceedingly dangerous to assemble so much fighting stock in solemn conclave on questions of courtesy?

EATEN, BUT STILL ALIVE.—The son of Mr. Foster, in Clackamas county, reported by the Argus as killed and eaten by a panther, is now alive and well.

Is the Argus, by such items, doing justice to the northern portion of the State?

ENDED.—The Kirkpatrick controversy is ended. The Statesman of the 10th conclusively and triumphantly answers our last, and we retire from the arena.

Del Norte Matters--Copper Mines.

DEL. NORTE CO., CAL., Nov. 5, 1862.

Editor Sentinel: We have been blessed with one of the most delightful autumns for the transportation of merchandise into the interior that we have had for many years, and a much larger quantity has been shipped than in former years, giving evidence of your increased population and prosperity.

Copper, too, is looking up, and is destined ere long to become the most important branch of business in this county. It has "dragged its slow length along" for the past two years, with an occasional panic, only to fall back again into a state of inactivity.

The Alta Company having shipped about eighty tons of copper ore of superior quality, in small lots, has established the fact, in the copper market, that we have a rich copper region here; and the attention of capitalists and scientific men has already been to that fact, and they are wending their way hither to examine for themselves.

The Alta mine has plenty of the precious metal in sight. They intend to get a large quantity of the ore out this winter, and will make a heavy shipment in the spring.

The Occidental, which is owned and worked by Calaveras county men, it is said, has been proven a large and rich vein.

The Good Hope has been organized into a joint-stock company. Monied men of San Francisco have taken an interest in it, and have advanced $5,000 as a starter to develop it.

All are eclipsed, however, by the last two that have been organized into joint stock companies. They are done up in a most stupendous scale—for instance, the Excelsior, with a capital stock of $240,000, and the Mammoth Company, with a capital stock of $1,020,000.

Most of the stockholders of all these companies reside in San Francisco. Guthrie, of the Herald and Mirror, is President of the Mammoth. These latter companies appear to be based upon an entirely new principle, one of the features being calculated to encourage and protect the original locators, by making one-third of their stock unassessable.

Our enterprising artist, R. B. Randall, is preparing a magnificent map, showing the location of the copper region in this county. It is intended to have it lithographed.

By the last steamer, U. S. Marshal Rand, Postmaster Parker, Guthrie of the Herald and Mirror, and several other distinguished citizens of San Francisco, made a flying trip to this county.

Three Men Lynched at Lewiston. We copy the following from the Golden Age Extra of the 9th inst.

A short time since Mr. John G. Berry and his brother, were stopped on their way from Florence to Lewiston by three robbers and their money or their lives was the watchword—although well armed they could not see any chance of escape, and were thus compelled to surrender the amount of twelve hundred dollars to their foes.

Mr. Berry and brother laid their plan immediately to capture them. They laid their plan so perfectly and followed the robbers so closely, that with the aid of their friends, they caught them in the vicinity of Walla Walla, and brought them as far as Lewiston, and were on their way with the prisoners to Florence.

The crowd was increased to thousands, and upon Mr. Cole taking the chair, Mr. E. B. Waterbury was elected Vice President, and Mr. L. H. Thompson Secretary.

Others addressed the assembly, and a committee of twelve were appointed to guard the prisoners, and twelve other citizens volunteered to see justice done. The night was long, and the hours went slowly by.

The next morning the citizens met at an early hour and appointed a committee of fifty others to make the necessary arrangements for their trial. The committee consisted of our best merchants and citizens generally.

The prisoners were then conveyed back to the prison, and the Judge, Mr. Johns, and the Committee of fifty, appointed a guard of twenty-four to watch and protect the prisoners during Saturday night.

Returned.—We are at our post again—didn't bring much grizzly steak with us from the mountains, but have arranged to supply large quantities on contract.

Thus has closed the career of Nelson Scott, David English and William Peoples—their journey on earth is ended; their lives were short, because they sought to do evil. It may be truly said, the "way of the transgressor is hard."

to do evil. It may be truly said, the "way of the transgressor is hard."

The People have taken the Law into their own hands, and have determined to rid the community of all these Robbers, Murderers and Highwaymen.

On Sunday, at 12 o'clock, Nov. 9th, the citizens held a Coroners Inquest over the bodies, and have organized themselves into a permanent Committee, and people are now enrolling their names.

P. S. It will be understood that Mr. William Ford had charge of the prisoners, from Judge Oliphant, and faithfully did his duty. He was overpowered by some three hundred citizens, and at last was obliged to surrender the prisoners over to the people.

Another Man Hung.—News has just arrived that another man is hanging to a tree on the Florence road. His name is supposed to be Charles Harper. His body is near the forks of Sweetwater, near Lapwai.

McClellan and Burnside.—On the outside of this issue will be found a well-written article, taken from the San Francisco Bulletin, with the above head.

Burnside, his successor, is quite a young man, being only thirty-six years of age. He has had the advantage of a thorough military education, and is a careful, prudent and safe man.

The Oregon Sentinel says that Victor Smith is Collector at Astoria. Can it be possible that the Sentinel is totally oblivious of such a place as Port Angeles?

We acknowledge "the corn" Mr. Standard. But are you certain we are not right? Have you heard from that custom-house lately?

The Yreka Union.—A. J. Starling has become editor of this spicy little sheet. Judging from his salutatory, and the neat and spirited local news items to be found in the late numbers, we are of the opinion that he is "the right man in the right place."

Returned.—We are at our post again—didn't bring much grizzly steak with us from the mountains, but have arranged to supply large quantities on contract.
