TOWN AND COUNTY.

CHRISTMAS passed off, so far as we have learned, right merrily. All felt disposed to have a good time, and they had it. Young America, amid candies, nuts, apples, gingersnacks, and fire-crackers, was in all his glory. The older children went in on turkey and lager. Water was scarce, and not in much demand. The Jacksonville Brass Band made "Musie's voluptuous swell" roll over our town. The national airs were played in fine style, and all felt glorious under their inspiration. "Music has charms to soothe the savage breast," etc. We saw one that was pretty well "soothed;" but we rather think that "fire-water," not music, was the agent.

The principal business houses were closed at an early hour. There was no commercial sessions—no advance of sacks.

The Sunday School scholars had a fine festival. The Christmas Tree planted in the M. E. Church, produced all kinds of fruit. Young America viewed its ever-green branches, bending under the weight of curious fruits, with rollicking wonder. It was truly an object of beauty, and a glorious surprise to the children. The managers of this festival deserve the thanks of parents.

In the evening, a gay two-horse team, hitched to a dearborn wagon, went through the streets of the town at rather a furious rate. Huddled in the wagon, with the good looking young driver, was a bevy of lovely, mirthful and "ennosent skule gals." The driver had lost his hat, and his hair streamed wildly to the winds as he "set 'em deep," and finally dexterously checked their career. "Breathes there a young man with soul so dead" who, under similar circumstances, would object to paying a corporation fine.

The principal citizens of the town were serenaded at night, by a Band, under the direction of a jovial representative of the great American B-r-o-w-n family.

CRESCENT CITY.—We have been trying to get our papers to our subscribers at Crescent City regularly, but so far our efforts have failed. What or where the difficulty is, we do not know. The papers are regularly done up in single wrappers at this office, and directed, for example, thus: "J. H. Smith, Waldo, Oregon; care of C. C. Express." They are then packed together, and directed to "Waldo, Oregon." But it seems that, after this double trouble in packing, not half of them ever get through. We have sent a list of our subscribers at Crescent City to the Expressman, Mr. Evans, and he is at liberty to open the package at Waldo, and to compare the papers with the list sent him. If those of our subscribers at the City, or along the road, who have missed their papers, will hand in the probable number they have lost to our agent there, we will send on until they are satisfied.

THE TELEGRAPH.—We are informed by the gentlemanly telegraph operator at Yreka, C. A. Thomas, that the Oregon Telegraph wire was shipped on board the clipper ship "Noonday," and that she sailed from New York on the 25th of July last. The ship has not arrived at San Francisco yet.

We are fearful that no portion of the wire will be put up this winter. If any portion of it is landed at Crescent City in a short time, it possibly might be hauled to this place. But in all human probability, the Crescent City mountains will soon be blockaded with snow, and the wire, if landed there, must remain until next spring. We will inform our readers as soon as we hear anything definite about it.

ARREST OF A SECESSION.—A man by the name of Dunlap was arrested by Sergeant Moreton, of Co. C, at Phoenix, in this county, on Christmas, for harraging for Jeff Davis, drinking to the arch-traitor's health, and denouncing the Government. He was taken to Camp Baker, and asked to take the oath of allegiance. Refusing to comply with the request, he was, we are informed, put into the guard-house. Served him right. Quite an excitement was the consequence of this little episode.

THE BALL AT ASHLAND, on Christmas Eve, at Eber Emry's hotel, was a complete success. In the language of one of the gentlemen from this place who participated, they had "not only a happy, but a gloriously good time."

GEO. W. CORNWALL.—Mr. Goldsmith, banker of Yreka, informs us that this gentleman, whose mysterious disappearance excited some apprehension as to his fate, among his friends in Josephine county, was seen on the stage between Yreka and Red Bluff since we published the notice of his disappearance. Quiet your fears, gentlemen, and hunt no more; Cornwall is bound southward.

JACKASSES AND FOOLS.—It sometimes occurs that jackasses and fools undertake to write leaders for newspapers, and call themselves editors, without knowing or informing the people whether they live in a torrid or frigid zone. They should not put fire to the tinder, it might burn.—Intelligencer.

We wonder if that was intended for the man who wrote your military leader of last week.

W. LAWLESS.—This itinerant map pedler gets off, in the last number of the Intelligencer, some very choice billingsgate, and a good deal of bad grammar at the "pretended editor" of this paper. We repeat again, Union men, satisfy yourselves before purchasing maps of this itinerant, as to his proper latitude and longitude.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION.—The scholars of Mrs. McCully's school will give an exhibition at the Court House, on Tuesday evening next. The exhibition will consist of Charades, Dialogues, Declamations, etc. Parents especially, and the public generally are invited to attend. Exercises to commence about half past seven o'clock.

THE MINES.—We would be much obliged to our agents, or any other persons, in Josephine county, if they would give us information from time to time in regard to the mines in that county. The mineral resources of Southern Oregon ought to be better understood and more generally known than they are.

J. W. SULLIVAN.—This enterprising news agent, at San Francisco, has our thanks for late numbers of the Atlantic literary and pictorial weeklies. He has for sale "Harper's Pictorial History of the Great Rebellion." Price, per number, fifty cents.

NEW YEAR'S BALL.—Our friend, Louis Horne, of the U. S. Hotel, in this place, will give all those who wish to commence the New Year merrily an opportunity to do so, at his fine dancing hall, on New Year's Eve.

SHOT.—Wm. Kirby was shot by Tom Dean, in Yreka, on Wednesday night last. There is but little hope that Kirby will recover. He killed a man at Lewiston a few months since. Dean has not been arrested.

THE HOMESTEAD LAW.—We will give in our next issue this important law, together with some instructions, showing how persons wishing to avail themselves of its provisions can do so.

NEW YEAR'S BALL.—R. Benedict, of Applegate, announces to the lovers of dancing and good cheer, that he will give a cotillion party at his fine Hall, on New Year's Eve. Give him a call.

A. R. FLINT.—This gentleman has kindly consented to become our agent at Roseburg. Those wishing to transact any business with the office, can do it through him.

FOUND.—The horses stolen from the stable of Mr. Ames, near Bunkum, some time since, have been found.

SEWING SOCIETY.—This society will not meet at its next regular appointment.

Flour and Wheat.—The "Mill Combination" has exploded. The Eagle Mill property having passed into the hands of a receiver, has been rented, and will grind for toll, as formerly. The millers still ask $40 per M. for Flour, but purchases can be made outside at a less figure. On account of the scarcity of rain, and consequent delay in plowing, it is supposed that the next Wheat crop will be small. Large holders are firm in their demands at $1 per bushel.

Bacon and Lard.—Small lots of New Lard are being offered, in 40-lb. tins, at 12 1/2 cents per lb. Old Bacon dull at quotations. Butter—Fresh, in 2-lb. rolls, scarce.

HEIMSTREET'S

Inimitable Hair Restorative.

IT IS NOT A DYE.

But restores gray hair to its original color

by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves

no dressing. Heimstreet's inimitable coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process, but gives the hair a

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates the dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original hair-coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and la-adies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of D. S. BARNES,

Proprietor, New York.
